

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Published every Saturday Morning, over Messrs. Josiah Brigham & Co's Store, in Hancock Street

NUMBER 40.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has on hand and

AT THE LOWEST PRICES,
an assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,
ALL WOOL and FANCY DELAINES;
Lancaster GINGHAMS;
Colored and Black ALPACCAS;
Mounting and Fancy Plaid LONG SHAWLS
Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;
White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed
FLANNELS;
Cotton Flannels;
An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.
Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc., etc.
invites the attention of those in want.

CALEB PACKARD,
Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, he would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. Former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, long which is the boiling, in the highest degree of perfection, every article of iron, brass, or copper, in any quantity. This is the only method of securing a plain dress, with the most admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chest and tastefully made piece of Cabinet furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the actions often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for dry use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely as its projectors intended it should be; viz: the best and most perfect ever constructed in a family. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from those before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, with facility to fill up, and are easily kept clean. One hundred of this stove have been sold the year and all have given the utmost satisfaction. For a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of BRITANIA SHEET IRON and Japaned Ware.

New England Air-Tight,

CHARLES HOLMES,
Quincy, Jan 12

W. Porter,

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31

Groceries, Crockery,

Glass Ware, etc.

THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that hereafter his business will be conducted on the

CASH SYSTEM,

and the credit system to be both unwise and unprofitable, and therefore he will offer his goods, consisting of

COFFEES, CROCKERY & GLASS WARE, which will not fail to suit the most economical, CASH ONLY.

He also manufactures all kinds of Cups, Valises, Fancy Boxes, etc., and offers for sale, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,

at the lowest prices.

JONATHAN WILLIAMS,
Quincy, Feb 16.

Wm. P. McKay & Co.,

195 WASHINGTON ST.,
BOSTON.

Herby invite attention to their elegant and extensive assortment of GOLD AND SILVER

WATCHES,
of superior English and Swiss culture.

JEWELRY,
and Silver Pencils, Thimbles, Spectacles, and Guard Chains; Gold Ear Hoops, Pins, Brooches, Rings, Watch Keys, Eye Glasses,
Bracelets, etc., etc.

ER-Forks, Spoons, Ladles, Napkin Rings, Fish and Fruit Knives, Knife, Fork and Spoon for children, etc., etc.

A large assortment of

FANCY GOODS,
which are sold faithfully and promptly REturned and Jewelry taken in exchange.

McKay, H. T. Spear, J. W. L. Brown,
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
Boston, April 21.

Salt Pork.

BEST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.,
Quincy, March 9th.

Notice.

W. LITCHFIELD have taken as a partner
DAVIS C. LITCHFIELD, on the 11th inst.

style of the firm will hereafter be

W. LITCHFIELD & CO.

ING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and done; and orders are respectfully solicited.

March 16th.

Beef and Pork.

Not put up by the subscribers, cheap as ought elsewhere.

Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on delivered to any part of the town free of
H. A. RANSOM & CO.

March 16th.

Paper Hangings.

100 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

March 24th

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOL-LARS and FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place where he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted
at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements
for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales,
sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, single paid, will receive early attention.
Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive
pay and requested to procure subscriptions:
JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Railway
GEORGE H. LOCKE, "Stone Quarries."
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY, Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT, New York City.

MISCELLANY.

A RACE ON THE BAHAMA BANKS.

BY NED BUNTLINE.

Fancy yourself, reader, cloud-borne over a boundless forest of thick-growing, broad-branched trees, each leaf, bud, flower and bough being formed of purplish golden light, which like diamonds in clear star-light glitters and sparkles in the dark blue of the night. Fancy your miniature chariot to be gliding along through these tree-tops of light, like a waving breeze; and as it moves rippling along, a gentle swell precedes it, breaking buds and flowers from the thin boughs. Look at each little gem of light sinking from your touch, and fancy if you can, that you hear a low,
sweet music, as of many water-drops beating upon thin pearl shells, while the growing red-branched coral in its island makings, crackles a merry castanet accompaniment! Can you point these wild fancies upon your mind's canvas? If so, you can fully appreciate a night-sail on the Bahama Banks.

Come, and seat yourself with me upon our arching bowsprit, and glance over the gilded prow of my swift-gliding craft, out upon the flashing waters. The sea over which we are sailing is about six fathoms in depth, and on the ocean-bottom, you will perceive a perfect forest of sea-fans, purple-branched, and interlaced with each other; a meadow of pinken coral, with here and there interspersed a dark chestnut-colored sponge, on which the mermaid seat themselves when they gather shells pearls, and wreck-gems, with which to deck their jettly locks, and contrast their peerless charms. Our vessel, built like a dolphin, seems to sit in the arms of the blue ocean as the dark pupil of a gray woman's azure eye floats in the soft iris which surrounds it. Aloft, from the thin peaks of our bending spars our banner floats, looking like a reflection of the azure star-lit sky, tinged with pink and white above it. Around, the horizon is measured by our eye-sight, and not even a speck is there to destroy its curvilinear grace. Above, beneath, around, all is as God has made it;
beautifull! unapproachably beautiful!

Another fancy, reader. Do you see yonder stream of slow-moving silvery light, a few fathoms in advance of our bows? It looks like a lengthened reflection of fire-flame cast upon the drifting current. It is a light which would flash fearfully quick and bright, were you or I to topple from our seat down into the gleaming waters. It is a shark! His rapid motion agitates the waters, which are filled with phosphoric animalculæ, causing his wake to look like a stream of silvery light. The shark keeps on, ever near us; he is hungry, and waits for a victim.

Now look within the spray-gemmed circle of our bows. Do you see here and there, like the quick, bright flashings of 'heat lightning' before a summer-night's shower, fast-moving rays of brightness? Behold the hues—how changeable! Now palish blue, now gold and green, and now pinken as the reflected smiles of sunset. 'Tis the merry dolphin sporting in our path.

Far out upon our larboard bow, do you not hear a sound like an arrow's rushing flight through the air? Observe the slender thread of flashing water rising between you and the blue, thread-like horizon, even as a draught-ray of the sun, linking sky and sea. It rises like a fountain jet, and then dissolving into a thin, smoke-like mist. It is the porpoise, gamboling in his awkward way; for all things leap with joy upon the 'Banks' in a 'right summer's night.'

In the fall of 1839, I took my last cruise upon the 'Bahama Banks.' I hope it may not be the last, for as a sick infant years for its mother's smile, so it longs for her gentle rockings, as it pines to hear her low, love-toned voice of kindness, so does my land-bound heart sicken for the flashing face of old Ocean, and its lofty heavings, and its wild converse! Oh

God! save me from dying on the land!

I have a strange, wild, yet I think pleasant theory; one which I never before have uttered, although in many a fevered hour at sea I have cherished it as a young lover cherishes hopes of future bliss. When a sailor dies, he is en-wrapped in many a snow fold, and if he be one of Liberty's sons, he is entwined in her own star-spangled drapery. Then, with heavy weights he is ballasted deep and well; God's holy blessing is invoked, and he is given to the ocean-sunlight. The waters open, bubble for a moment, and with a gurgling echo fall asleep again. The body sinks far down; down beyond the dominion of sharks or whales, or living things; down where the liquid mass becomes too dense to permit of decay or decomposition; too dense for it to sink further below, and the weight alone is so great to permit it ever to rise. There, in the blue depths of the sea, will it remain enveloped in an imperishable shroud, until Gabriel's trumpet shall sound the master-roll for all. Then, if he died in youth's blossom time, with the pencilings of beauty in his face, and the lines of grace in his manly form, even as he died, unaltered, in the freshness of life's spring, will he arise from his deep blue quiet grave, to meet the countless crowds who come from their dusty, mouldcurtained sepulchres of earth. Yes! even as he died; in youth's uncounted hours, or in the slowly-measured time of age, so will he rise at the last gathering. Wonder not, then, reader, that believing all this, that, I should pray for an ocean death and burial. But this is all foreign to the 'Race,' of which I am to spin my yarn.

On such a night, over such a sea, lighted up with phosphorescent flame, such as I have described in my commencement, we were sailing in the sloop-of-war Boston, in the latter part of September, 1839. I had the 'first watch' on deck, and was pacing up and down, counting my own footsteps, and thinking of Mrs. Bunt-line that was to be, when the look-out on the starboard night-head sung out, 'Sail ho! close aboard sir, on the weather bow!'

I raised my night-glass, and at once discovered the stranger. She was a corvette, like ourselves, and had apparently hove to, right in our track, for the purpose of speaking to us.—
In a moment after we had discovered her, our main-top-sail was hove back, and coming up in the wind, we found ourselves within hail. But an instant elapsed, when a full clear voice sang out through a trumpet, from the stranger:
'Sail ahoy! What ship is that? Where is she bound to, and where from?'

Our captain, who had hurried on deck, enveloped in his storm-jacket and sou'-wester, seized the trumpet and answered:
'The United States' sloop-of-war Boston, Captain Edward B. Babbitt, from a cruise to windward; bound to leeward. Who are you?
where from? and where bound to?'

'This is Her Britannic Majesty's sloop-of-war Nimrod, Lord Paget, commander; Rear Admiral Douglass passenger; bound to Vera Cruz. Will you keep company? Ours is the fastest sloop in the English navy; we have never been beaten in sailing.'

'Then, by the bloody turks! I'll try you!' said our old captain, who knew his ship better than I know my little Diego wife, and wanted to test the truth of the Englishman's boast.

As we squared away before the wind, the English officer again hailed our captain, and asked his opinion of the weather, stating at the same time that his barometer was falling.

I never trust them bloody things in this latitude, said Babbitt; 'I keep a good look-out, and leave the rest to luck; but we shall have a cap-ful before we reach the blue part of the Gulf.'
'Well, sir, crack on; we'll let the people at Vera Cruz know that you are coming. Be sure to come and dine with us on fresh grub when you get in,' said our English friend.

'Certainly, if you should get in first,' said the old man; 'but friend Johnny, look out for wily-warys,' as the land sharks call it. Aloft there, top-men! shake out the reefs in the top-sails, loose to 'gallant sails and royals; rig out the studding-sails booms, and pile on the rags!'
Two quarter-masters at the helm; all hands on deck to trim ship; tell the master's mate to heave the log!

The old skipper was in earnest; and our spars bending, and our hull creaking, as we leaped through the water, soon told what we were doing. The master's mate reported eleven knots, and then the skipper's eye began to lower.

Run aft the two forward guns; start ten of those water-tanks and set the ring-tail! I shouted he.

It was done, and the log was again hove.—
She ran thirteen-four, and was evidently doing herself justice. The Nimrod, in the first start off, had gained slowly, but now we gradually closed up, and finally passed her, while her full band played 'Britannia rule the Wave,' and drum and fife answered with 'Yankee Doodle.'

The wind was freshening, and both crafts were dragging a fearful press of sail, which with the heavy ground-swell, made us pitch and jump like dying whales. The night was not entirely clear, the sky being filled with light fleecy clouds, some of which, as they passed over the face of the moon, would throw dark shades upon the water, hiding the English ship completely from view. When the clouds cleared away, she would again appear close in our wake, her tall spars bending like reeds before the gale, her dark hull rising and falling on the foam-covered waves, now lifting as if to touch the sky, again sinking out of sight in the trough between the huge rollers.

Thus, during the night, we drove madly on,
heading out for the Gulf-stream, on our course for Vera Cruz. In the course of three or four hours sailing, we completely lost sight of the Englishman, he being left far in our wake, in spite of his premature boast. The Boston was one 'of the last war models,' and much faster than she looked to be.

When my watch-hour was out, the excitement of the race caused me to stay on deck, instead of seeking my berth, and I carelessly threw my sea-cloak around me after we had lost sight of the corvette, and cast myself down on the fore-castle. It lacked probably about an hour of day-light, and I was half asleep, when my ear caught a sound like the distant rushing of a mighty storm. I listened on instant, started to my feet, and looked around and aloft, but saw nothing; but the noise increased, and then—Great Heaven!—I saw it all. We were bearing down under full sail, with speed like the wind, upon boiling breakers!

'Hard down the helm! tack! sheets and braces! stand by to shorten sail!' I shouted with a voice that rang like thunder through the ship.

The helmsman obeyed; the ship came up in the wind, but the seamen were not quick enough at the braces; we were thrown flat back. The strain upon the lighter spars was immense. Studding-sail-booms, royal and top-gallant masts with their sails went by the board, and hampered up with broken spars and tangle rigging, we lay broadside to the sea, as a log upon the water.

Day-light began to pale the east, and fully showed us the horrors of our situation. We were drifting bodily upon the rocks, which were unbrooded in form, and we were near the spot known as 'Dead-Man's Reef.' There was no possible prospect of escape. Our men worked with the energy of despair to clear the wreck that we might endeavor to beat up to windward. But all appeared to be in vain; each moment swept us nearer the rock, from which, if we struck, death was inevitable.—
The Englishman saw, but could not aid us.
His slowness saved him. Even he had barely time to shorten all sail and haul his wind.

During all the terrors of our situation, Captain Babbitt had kept perfectly cool and collected;
but to me it seemed the forced calmness of despair. I was mistaken. He was one who never permitted danger to daunt or palsy his judgment. His quick eye caught one possible chance of escape; the only one on which hope for a moment might linger. We thought him crazy when he ordered the helmsman to 'put the helm up' and square the yards to go off before the wind. The rocks were right before us, the huge waves breaking against them, throwing sheets of foam hundreds of feet into the air, sounding like continued thunder in our ears. We were in the foam and flying through the midst of it right down upon the rocks. I tried to pray, but I could not; I looked for the sky, and the spray threw itself in rainbow-hued wreaths between my vision and the clouds. I dared not breathe, so sure did I feel our approaching destruction.

As we neared the rocks, our captain sprang aloft upon the fore-yard. His voice could not be heard, yet he pointed the helmsmen their course with his hand. I then saw his plan—Scarce as wide as our ship was the distance between two high rocks; one hand's breadth from our course would dash us to atoms; yet through this terrible pass, our ears deafened with the breakers' roar, our eyes blinded with foam, were we to pass, or to die!

Our suspense was dreadful, but it was short.
Like an eagle amidst rushing storm-clouds, we dashed into the gorge; one instant, and our very yard-arms grazed the high black rocks; the next, we were in safety! There was no cheering then; no word was spoken as we glided from the boiling danger into the calm sea under the rocks; but I believe that every man on board our craft uttered a prayer, even if he never had prayed before. It was a silent, yet oh! what a thankful moment!

We soon had new spars sent aloft and new canvass bent. We laid our course for Vera Cruz, under a press of sail, while our English friend had to beat up to windward, and work around the reef. The time thus gained, and our own speed enabled Captain Babbitt to pay off the 'wily-wary' with which he had answered the Englishman's boast.

We had been several days at anchor off the fort 'San Juan de Ulloa,' before the Nimrod made her appearance in the offing. When at last she dropped anchor in the harbor, the writ-ter of this article was ordered by Captain Babbitt to take a boat and go along side of her, bearing his respects to Lord Paget and Admiral Douglass, with an invitation for them to partake of some roast-beef and fresh fruit on board the Boston, at the usual dinner hour.
The desert was our skipper's 'wily-wary.'

THE DOCTOR'S FIRST PATIENT.

The caprice of fortune towards those who court her, and the humiliation she sometimes imposes as conditions of success, are rather old illustrated in the following history, which an old English physician gave recently of his personal experience, long time ago.

I had completed my studies, and taken my diploma, when I found myself in the great city of London, with twenty pounds in my pocket.

I took the lower part of a small house in an obscure street, at the back of some gorgeous square and laid out ten pounds in furniture, fixtures and drugs, reserving the other ten to pay my half year's rent.

'The first week I sold a few pennies' worth of rhubarb and magnesia; and lived on bread and milk. The next week was no better—nor the next—and as the month was coming to a close, I was determined to shut up shop and go as an assistant, when a servant came in for a shilling's worth of the best magnesia, and some smelling salts, and took my card.

'Next day he called again, and bought some powdered starch, and had a bit of talk with me. I had just cleaned my place and self, when in came in a hurry, my new friend the livery servant. He said his mistress wished to see me as soon as possible, on something very pressing. I asked him if I must go as I was. 'Put on your Sunday coat,' said he 'and go with me.'

I went with him to a great house in Port-mouth square, and was shown up stairs into a splendid drawing room. A middle aged lady of much suavity and graciousness soon entered and apologised for having sent for me, but hoped from what her servant said to me, I should not be offended.

I thought she little knew my feelings, to imagine I should be offended at being sent for, and assured her I was most happy to render any service in my power. She told me she had a favorite parrot that had broken its leg, and she had asked the doctor who attended her, to help to set it, and he had felt insulted at being thought a bird doctor. She said she had no intention to insult him, and only wished for information what to do. She told me that if I would set her bird's leg and charge her the same for setting her own were it broken, she would be most happy to employ me; I thought the terms proposed too liberal, but she insisted on no less, and I consented.

Some slips of white paper and a little tape, enabled me to set the creature's leg and I attended my first patient with an assiduity and carefulness which I have not since surpassed. A fortnight's services were rendered, and my patient restored. The lady now insisted on my making out my bill against her. I did so, and charged her what she had bade me—the usual sum for setting such a lady's leg. I trembled when I presented it to her. It was ten guineas. She thanked me and presented me with twenty, saying the other ten were for my modesty, civility and kindness.

She then remarked that she had an opportunity of making my acquaintance and esteem-ing my abilities, and it agreeable to me, she would engage me as her family physician, for her former doctor had had many hundred pounds from her, and might have shown a little kindness to her bird; but as he had made his fortune, he could do without her patronage, and she preferred to give it where it would be appreciated and serviceable.

I blushed, and unhesitatingly informed her that my residence and position were not equal to the station she was going to put me in.—
She told me all that would be bettered, and she said that I was deceiving of it. She bade me look out for a better residence, and promised she would help me to the necessary furniture and fittings. She told me the amount for medical attendance on herself and household was never less than eighty or a hundred pounds a year, and that she could secure several families.

I took a house—she did all that she promised and laid the sure foundation for my future prospects. She was my constant friend until she died, and left me something handsome in her will. I have retired from business, and my fortune all arose from setting that poor parrot's leg.

THE TRAITOR LOVER.

During the siege of Damascus, Derar was appointed to patrol round the city and the camp with two thousand horse. As a party of these were one night going their rounds near the walls, they heard the distant neighing of a horse, and looking narrowly around, descried a houseman coming stealthily from the gate Kelsan. Hating in a shadowy place, they waited until he came close to them, when, rushing forth, they made him prisoner. He was a youthful Syrian, richly and gallantly arrayed, and apparently a person of distinction. Scarcely had they seized him, when they beheld another horseman issuing from the same gate, who in a soft voice called upon their captive by the name of Jonas. They commanded the latter to invite his companion to advance. He seemed to reply and called out something in Greek; upon hearing which, the other turned bride and galloped back into the city. The Arabs, ignorant of Greek, and suspecting the words to be a warning, would have slain their prisoner on the spot, but, upon second thoughts, conducted him to Khaled.

The youth avowed himself a nobleman of Damascus, and betrothed to a beautiful maiden named Eudorea; but her parents, from some capricious reason, had withdrawn their consent to his nuptials; whereupon the lovers had secretly agreed to fly from Damascus. A sum of gold had bribed the sentinels who kept watch that night at the gate. The damsel disguised in male attire, and accompanied by two domestics, was following her lover at a distance, as he sailed in advance. His reply in Greek, when she called upon him was, 'that the bird is caught,' a warning, at the hearing of which she fled back to the city.

Khaled was not a man to be moved by a love tale; but he gave the prisoner his alternative, 'embrace the faith of Islam,' said he,
'and when Damascus falls into our power you shall have your betrothed; refuse, and your head is the forfeit.'

The youth paused not between a scimitar and a bribe. He made immediate profession of faith between the lands of Khaled, and thereforth fought zealously for the capture of the city, since its downfall was to crown his hopes.

When Damascus yielded to its foe, he sought the dwelling of Eudorea, and learnt a new proof of her affection. Supposing on his capture by the Arabs, that he had fallen a martyr to his faith, she had renounced the world, and shut herself up in a convent. With a throbbing heart he hastened to the convent, but when the lovely-minded maiden beheld him a renegade she turned from him with scorn, retired to her cell, and refused to see him more. She was among the noble ladies who followed Thomas and Herbas into exile. Her lover, frantic at the thoughts of losing her, remitted Khaled of his promise to restore her to him, and entreated that she might be detained; but Khaled, pleading the covenant of Abu Obediah, according to which all had free leave to depart.

When Jonas afterwards discovered that Khaled meditated a pursuit of the exiles, but was discouraged by the lapse of time, he offered to conduct him by short and secret passes through the mountains, which would insure his overtaking them. His offer was accepted. On the fourth day after the departure of the exiles Khaled set out in pursuit with four thousand chosen horsemen, who, by the advice of Jonas, were disguised as Christian Arabs. For some time they traced the exiles along the plains, by the numerous foot-prints of mules and camels, and by the articles thrown away to enable them to travel more expeditiously. At length the foot-prints turned the mountains of Lebanon, and were lost in their arid and rocky defiles.
The Muslims began to falter. 'Courage!' cried Jonas 'they will be entangled among the mountains; they cannot now escape.'

In the midst of the carnage and confusion, Jonas hastened in search of his betrothed. If she had treated him with disdain as a renegade she now regarded him with horror, as the traitor who had brought this destruction upon his unhappy countrymen. All his entreaties for her to forgive and be reconciled to him were of no avail. She solemnly vowed to repair to Constantinople and end her days in a convent.
Finding supplication fruitless, he seized her,
and, after a violent struggle, threw her on the ground and made her prisoner. She made no further resistance, but, submitting to captivity, seated herself quietly on the grass. The lover flattered himself that she relented, but, watching her opportunity, she suddenly drew forth a poignard, plunged in her breast, and fell dead at his feet.

STICKING TO ONE'S RIGHTS.

'How is it, John, that you bring the wagon home in such a condition.'
'I broke it driving over a stump.'
'Where?'
'Back in the woods, half a mile or so.'
'But why did you run against the stump?'
Couldn't you see how to drive straight?'
'I did drive straight sir, and that is the very reason that I drove over it. The stump was directly in the middle of the road.'
'Why, then, did you not go round it?'
'Because, sir, the stump had no right in the middle of the road, and I had a right in it.'
'True, John, the stump ought not to have been in the road, but I wonder that you were so foolish as not to consider that it was there, and that it was stronger than your wagon.'
'Why, father, do you think that I am always going to yield up my rights? For I am determined to stick up to them, come what will.'

THE GRAVE OF WORDSWORTH.

A letter in the Concord (N. H.) Statesman, written from Grassmere, the former residence of the poet Wordsworth, describes the church-yard in which Wordsworth is buried. It is near the material closely resembling Welsh slate—painted black, and no way differing from others in the enclosure. The earth upon the grave was a gentle, not an abrupt, rise, covered with thick, closely sown, luxuriant grass, on which were laid, by some traveller recently there, or the hand of family friends, a few unwithered flowers. Upon the slab is merely WILLIAM WORLEWORTH.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1850

John A. Green, Editor.

PARTICULAR NOTICE. All who owe us, are reminded that none have any authority to receive money without a written notice. Whatever payments are made after this warning, will not be recognized by us. Therefore, let all be aware, and only pay the proprietor, or his joint agents.

JOHN A. GREEN.

Quincy, Oct. 5th, 1850.

TIGER ENGINE. By mistake, reference to the warm reception of this company on their return from New Bedford, was omitted. In justice, we now add, that upon their arrival, they were received by the Niagara Engine Company, No. 1, at the South Depot, who escorted them to the Lyceum Hall, where an excellent entertainment was provided by No. 1. In the evening they were also escorted by torch light through several streets, and finally to their "head quarters." The Niagara members turned out in full ranks, more than forty strong, and with the excellent music of the Weymouth Band, elicited universal praise. Such acts of kindness from the company and their worthy Foreman, Washington M. French, are deserving of the highest thanks and should be reciprocated.

CONGRESS. The passage of the Texas, Utah and California bills by the House, appears to be a subject of general rejoicing. "All the clouds that lowered upon our House" are beginning to break away, and there is now a vista of blue sky.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF COAL MINES AT PICTOC. The Halifax papers of Sept. 15th, contain detailed accounts of the Albion Coal Mines at Pictoc, N. S. The accident happened on the previous Tuesday while the workmen were at breakfast. Thirteen acres fell, covering up all the mining machinery. It is thought that the mines will have to be totally abandoned.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT. Some doubt has been expressed as to the durability and strength of the material employed in the construction of the Washington Monument. This marble, the board of Directors report, has been tested by a powerful hydrostatic press, and the average of eight different blocks showed that the crushing force of the marble exceeds ten thousand pounds, equal in strength to the granites, and capable of sustaining a weight four times as great as the monument.

GREAT OX-TEAM—ORANGE COUNTY (VT.) FAIR. One of the most imposing features of this fair, was the "Ox-Team," from the town of Corinth. It consisted of one hundred and two yoke of oxen, with a very fine bull as leader, and one driver to each yoke, we believe. This team was headed by a large car placed on heavy wheels, filled with all the various kinds of agricultural products tastefully arranged, with a fine band of music, and in the centre, a high pole, with a splendid flag of the Union waving at its top. The car attracted great attention, and was loudly cheered as it moved. There was another ox-team, not quite as large, from Thetford, we believe, which numbered eighty yoke, their horns being decorated with small red banners. There was still another team "of the same sort," from West Fairlee, numbering some forty yoke.

TRIOBLE BREWING IN NEW MEXICO. A writer in the New Orleans True Delta, in a letter dated Brownsville, Sept. 5, says that Arista is preparing for resistance in case Almonte is elected to the Presidency, and the friends of Almonte in the interior are preparing for the same purpose in case of Arista's success. The whole of the State of Tamaulipas is in favor of Almonte.

A Bowery Whoy says that Mary Taylor "can sing the clothes off Jenny's back."

NOTICE.

A Card.

The Tiger Engine Company, No. 2, of Quincy, during their recent visit to New Bedford, for the kindness and attention shown them by Capt. A. Taber and Henry, Foremen of Engines in that city, would return their warmest thanks; also to the Engine Company who opened their house during their stay, and to every other individual of the Firemen's department who endeavored to give a "cordial welcome." Mr. Robbins of the Parker House, who amply and liberally provided—the editor of the Mercury who kindly noticed, and all others, (if their names are not recollected,) who contributed in the least degree to enhance the comfort, pleasure and interest of the excursion, will please accept the Tiger's cordial and hearty thanks. Per order of the Company.

F. A. LAPHAM, Foreman.

Quincy Lyceum.

The series of Lectures before the Lyceum the coming season, will be introduced by addresses from His Excellency, George N. Briggs and other gentlemen, FRIDAY EVENING next, (Oct. 11th,) at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Tickets of admission for the present season can be procured at the following places, viz: at the Quincy Book Store, at the office of Dr. Bugbee, and at the office of Daniel Baxter & Co.

The Lyceum Library has been removed to the office of Dr. Goodnow, where members can have access to it daily.

Per Order, D. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Whig Meeting.

The Whigs of Quincy are requested to meet at the Lyceum Room this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock, to choose Delegates to the District & County Conventions, to be held at Dedham, next Thursday, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Per Order of the Town Committee.

Free Soil Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Free Soil Club for the choice of officers, will be held in the Lyceum Room this (Saturday) Evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Delegates will be chosen to attend the County and District Conventions.

Per order Town Committee.

Democratic Meeting.

The Democrats of Quincy will meet at the Lyceum Hall on Saturday Evening, October, 5th at 7 o'clock P. M., to choose delegates to attend the District and County Conventions.

Per order Town Committee.

Temperance Meeting.

There will be a Lecture in the Town Hall, SUNDAY Evening, Oct. 6th, on the subject of Temperance and the Order of the Sons of Temperance, by Wm. H. White. The Public are respectfully invited to attend.

MARRIED.

In Quincy, Sept. 25th, by Rev. S. S. Kimball, Mr. William R. Dingley, and Miss Elizabeth E. Pierce, both of Quincy.

In Milton, by the Rev. S. S. Kimball, on the eve of Aug. 17, Mr. Constantine Bryant, and Miss Mary Ames, both of the above named town.

Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on TUESDAY, October 15th, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, the School House, recently occupied by the North District, Quincy.

Also, on the above named day, at 12 past 4 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a piece of land in the South District on the north side of School Street, being a portion of the land recently purchased of Mr. Jonathan Marsh, by the Town for the improvement of that Street. Conditions made known at sale.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Oct. 5th.

Road Notice.

NORFOLK SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners at Dedham September term, 1850.

On the petition of WARREN MANSFIELD and others, presented December term, 1849, praying that a new public highway be laid out in Braintree, in said county, from a point near the house of Samuel Penniman, on Liberty street, over lands of sundry persons named in said petition to a point near the house of Hosea W. Waite, on Hancock Street. The Commissioners, after causing due notice to be given to all persons and parties interested in the route of said proposed highway, and fully heard all said parties concerning the prayer of the petition, and now do adjudge that common convenience and necessity require said highway to be laid out as prayed for.

It is therefore Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Arnold's Tavern in said Braintree, on MONDAY, the fourth day of November next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to locate the same; and that an attested copy of this Adjudication and Order, be served upon the Clerk of said town of Braintree, thirty days at least before said day of meeting; that a like copy be published in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, in said County, the last publication thereof to be four days at least before said day of meeting, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Braintree fourteen days at least before the day of meeting aforesaid, that all parties and persons interested, may then and there appear and be heard, if they see cause.

By the County Commissioners, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original Adjudication on file and Order therein.

ATTEST, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Braintree, October 5, 1850. 3w

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community. At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Dress Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5.

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5.

if

Insolvent Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly chosen and appointed Assignee of the Estate of of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, an Insolvent debtor, and that the second meeting of his creditors will be held at the Commissioner's office in Roxbury on the eighth day of October, at three o'clock in the afternoon; at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

LINCOLN NEWTON

By order of the Commissioner of Insolvency

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Assignee.

Roxbury, Oct. 5th.

3w

Whitney Blankets and Comforters.

ALL sizes for sale

by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5.

if

QUINCY PATRIOT.

List for Advertising,

October 5.

A. Allen Martha M. Allen Julia A.

B. Baxter Josiah 2. Barrey Martin. Briggs Wm Mrs. Brown T B. Burke Ann. Bates Charles W. Blodget Saml W Mrs. Bailey Ann Y.

C. Connolly John. Clapp Mary L. Corroll Thomas. Cullinan Patrick.

D. Daily Owen. D-nahu Mrs. Denton Augustus. Darcy John.

E. Edwards C M.

F. Falmouth Eldridge. Faxon Lucy. Fisher Chandler.

G. Michael Glynn. Gray Stephen. Griffiths Robert.

H. Harmon Josiah 2. Houghton Mr. Hawkins James. Harmon Ebenezer.

K. Kane Edward Jr. King James.

L. Lucas Thos. Lyon Thomas.

M. McKenely E. Moore Alex W.

N. Newton Hulda. Newcomb Joseph. Nail P.

O. O'Brien James. O'Brien Arthur. O'Brien John.

P. Pearson Olive T. Pierce Wm B.

R. Reed Wm. Riley Chas. Redman Eli.

S. Smith H Mrs. Sires Eucius. Sawyer John H 2. Sian Kingman A. Sprout Geo A. Sheldon O A. Stevens Olive. Sheldon Eliza Miss. Smith Anselma. Shorten Benj.

T. Tirrell Mr.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

W. Washburn Thos.

Granite Stone Cutters Wanted.

50 OR 75 FIRST CLASS CUTTERS, can have immediate employment, and good wages, $2 per day for the months of October and November, and $1.75 per day for the balance of the season; or piece work if preferable to themselves. All tools found but Patent and hand hammers, and the wear of them will be paid for. None but good hands will be employed. Apply to ALEXANDER LAURENCE, Master of Masonry, U. S. Dry Dock, Brooklyn Navy Yard, New York, New York, Oct. 5th. 3w

Insolvency Notice.

NORFOLK SS. The fourth meeting of the creditors of THOS. S. LILLIS, of Weymouth, an Insolvent debtor, will be held before Francis Hillard, Esq., at his office in Roxbury, on MONDAY, Oct. 14th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

GILMAN THOMPSON, Assignee.

Weymouth, Sept. 27, 1850.

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

Of the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices. Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5.

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide; And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS AND SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirtings, Damasks, Table Covers, Napkins, Doilies, Shootings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASHMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

New Store, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

Oct. 5.

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28.

if

Flour Barrels.

A prime lot—for

POETRY.

[For the Quincy Patriot]
MY FATHER'S GRAVE.

When I am dead, I would be laid,
Where the trees their branches wave,
And the grass grows green 'neath the birchen shade,
Beside my father's grave.

Where is heard the robin's plaintive note,
And the nightingale's song at even,
And the morning lark, strains his tuneful throat,
As he soars aloft to heaven.

Where the stream glides down the mountain glen,
And the winds through the tall grass sigh,
Away from the noisy haunts of men,
I would that my rest should lie.

Where the wild rose sheds its fragrance round,
And the violet blooms so blue,
There let my resting place be found,
Beside that friend so true.

I could not rest on foreign soil,
Pillowed on stranger clay,
Though tired of life's incessant toil,
From those I love away.

But sweet, methinks, 'twould be to me,
When I resign my breath,
With my father to sleep, 'neath the greenwood tree,
The long, long sleep of death.

Then make for me a lowly bed,
'Tis the last kind act I crave,
And lay me down when I am dead,
Beside my father's grave.
W. A. Bacon, Detroit, (Mich.) Sept 12, 1850

"ALL THY WORKS PRAISE THEE."

The moonbeams on the billowy deep,
The blue waves rippling on the strand,
The ocean in its peaceful sleep,
The shell that murmurs on the sand,
The cloud that dims the bending sky,
The bow that on its bosom glows,
The sun that lights the vault on high,
The stars at midnight's calm repose:
These praise the power that arched the sky,
And robed the earth in beauty's dye.

The melody of Nature's choir,
The deep-toned anthems of the sea,
The wind that tunes a voiceless lyre,
The zephyr on its pinions free,
The thunder with its thrilling notes,
The peal upon the mountain air,
The lay that through the foliage floats,
Or sinks in dying cadence there:
These all to Thee their voices raise,
A fervent voice of gushing praise.

The day-star, herald of the dawn,
As the dark shadows fall away,
The tint upon the cheek of morn,
The dew-drop gleaming on the spray—
From wild birds in their wanderings,
From streamlets leaping to the sea,
From all earth's fair and lovely things,
Doth living praise ascend to Thee:
These with their silent tongues proclaim
The varied wonders of Thy name.

Father, Thy hand hath form'd the flower,
And flung it on the verdant sea,
Thou bad'st it open at summer's hour,
Its hues of beauty speak of Thee.
Thy works all praise Thee; shall not man
Alike attune the grateful hymn?
Shall he not join the lofty strain,
Echoed from heart of seraphim;
We tune to Thee our humble lays,
Thy mercy, goodness, love, we praise.

FAREWELL TO A FRIEND.

To souls less less formed than thine to feel,
Less little were the tale,
How feebly words the heart reveal!
Expression's power how frail!
But then the voiceless pang that rend
Thine own warm bosom tell How vain, how poor the aid these lend
To speak the heart's farewell.

The clouds that on the future rest,
And ardent hope restrain;
The thoughts that memory's lust suggest,
And parting turns to pain;
The fear that doubts all other love,
Save that we've proved so well:
Oh! these expression's power above,
Embitter a farewell!

A long farewell!—The feeling mind
Will own a tinge of sorrow,
Though sure the friend it has resigned
'Twill meet in smiles tomorrow.
Then what the pang when years must roll,
And life's stream cease to swell,
Nor bring the dear one of our soul,
To whom we bid farewell!

Farewell!—whatever may remain
Of fitful change for me,
Be not the oft-breathed prayer in vain
For weal to thine and thee.
Too late we met, too soon we part,
And friendship's dreams dispel;
Deem'd just to know each other's heart,
And say—a long farewell!

A NECDOTES.

A lady took umbrage at the use, by a gentleman, of a very common word, of which the primary and most obvious sense was unexceptionable, while its most remote and unusual signification was indicative. "I beg pardon," said the offender, apologetically. "I certainly did not mean what you were thinking of?"—a retort which was as philosophical as it was just and severe. "Of what fruit is cider made?" "Don't know, sir." "What a stupid boy—what did you get when you robbed widow Coffin's orchard?" "I got a hickin', sir."

Mrs. E. Hayden,
GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best
FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care.
—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glass; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without Bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Jagall's and Chapin's Supporters; English Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.
Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.
Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.
A. B. PACKARD has remodeled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of
HATS AND CAPS,
suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.
Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use.
Quincy, April 13.

Watches and Silver Ware.
THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of Gold and Silver WATCHES,
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.
His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with MR. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.
His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.
THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23.

Roberts' Great Southern and Western Route.
GENERAL Ticket and Freight Office, for all parts of the West, No. 54 Broad Street, Boston, up stairs. Passengers and Families going West, can be forwarded by this line, cheaper than by any other in the city.
A Catalogue of Routes, Places, Time and Rates of Fares from Boston. General Ticket Office for all parts of the South and West.
54 BROAD STREET
Trains leave Boston every day. (Sundays excepted) at 8 A. M., and 4 P. M., and New York trains, at 5 P. M.
A. J. ROBERTS,
General Agent, Office, No. 54 Broad Street, Up Stairs, Boston.
REFERENCES:
Isaac H. Wright, Navy Agent, Doane Street
Ruggles, Nourse & Mason, Quincy Hall Market
F. E. White, 22 Long Wharf.
Roberts & Garfield, Times Office.
Boston, May 25.

Thin Hats.
A LARGE assortment of Summer hats consisting of A PEARL, LEIGHORN, RUTLAND, STRAW, PALM LEAF, &c.
Also—A large assortment of fine Black Mole Skin Hats, Men and Boys' Cloth and Glazed Caps, &c., for sale at the lowest cash prices.
A. B. PACKARD
Quincy, June 22d.

Particular Notice.
PURCHASERS OF READY MADE CLOTHING, are respectfully invited to call at ROUGH AND READY HALL, and examine the Stock of GENTLE READY MADE CLOTHING, Just manufactured by the Subscribers for Spring Sales—and to which additions will be made throughout the season—all of which will be sold at the lowest prices, and satisfaction guaranteed.
By GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
ROUGH AND READY HALL,
Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 23d.

Red Ash Coat—Wood, Lime and Sand.
NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.
Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER.
JOHN L. SOUTHER.
Quincy, June 29.

Notice.
MISS PACKARD would inform the inhabitants of Quincy, that she proposes opening a School, in which will be taught all the English Branches, Drawing, Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, on the 15th of April. Terms, $5 00.
Quincy, March 23.

Potatoes.
150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 9th.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR
Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.
AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,
it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS
is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented. Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.
Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.
A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis, to every purchaser.
These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory
of the Agent in this town.
E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.
—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!
AND NOW OPENING,
NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.
JUST RECEIVED AT THE TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING Store, Quincy.
RUSSELL & CO.,
WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.
N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PAT. TALOONERY!
BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.
Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.
HATS, CAPS, & C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.
—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—
Quincy, March 23.

Periodical Agency.
GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Furniture.
HAVING enlarged my room I have added to my stock an assortment of FURNITURE, to which I would call the attention of all who are in want of any article in that line.
CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

Grass Seed.
JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 24th.

Seed Barley.
75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed cheap for CASH.
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 9th.

French Calf Boots.
MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy.
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.
A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.
J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, March 16th.

Crockery and Glass Ware.
JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy Sept. 1.

The Circassian Oil.
THIS OIL has now obtained a celebrity worthy its high intrinsic merits. The sales have steadily increased and in public estimation it surpasses all other preparations for the HAIR. The proprietor is constantly receiving testimonials of its great efficacy in restoring the hair in cases of baldness, and it has also been signally successful in curing the various scurfy affections to which the head and hair is subject. Parents will find the Circassian Oil an article of incalculable benefit to children, in laying the foundation of a Healthy and beautiful Head of Hair.
Manufactured and for sale by the proprietor, JOSEPH RICHARDS, Quincy. Also, for sale by Dr. WILLIAM B. BUGBEE.
For sale, wholesale and retail, by S. W. FOWLE, 135 Washington Street, and by Mrs. E. KIDDER & Co., 100 Court Street, Boston. Dec 15.

Let the Public Call.
THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.
By attention to business and promptness to orders, a liberal share of support is solicited.
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy, April 13th.

House Lots!
FOR SALE, a House Lot situated on Common Street, Quincy, having a good cellar, three steps and underpinning, two good wells of water and thirteen Fruit Trees upon the same.
Inquire of the subscriber, on Cross Street.
JOHN D. THAYER.
Quincy, June 23.

Bacon & Beef.
SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at
Any Store in Town for Cash.
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 24.

For Cash Only.
Wood. Wood. Wood.
FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.
Apply to
WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, April 20th.

Improved Washing Fluid.
THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.
Directions for Using.
1st. Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if you have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 minutes and wring out.
2d. Mix 1 1/2 pint of the fluid with 2 pailfuls or 5 gallons of water, and when warm put in the clothes and boil briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasionally with the stick. Take them out, drain off the fluid and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub the soiled parts a little in this first water—then rinse well in clear cold water and the washing is done.
3. The same mixture will answer for several lots. Or, if more is required, add a wine glass full of 1/2 a gill of fluid to each gallon of water.
4. Colored clothes and flannels may be washed in the first rinsing water.
For sale by D. BAXTER & CO.
Agents for the Manufacturer.
Quincy, August 31.

New Goods.
THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has now on hand and
AT THE LOWEST PRICES,
a good assortment of NEW STYLE
Fall and Winter Prints,
ALL WOOL and FANCY DELAINES;
Lancaster GINGHAMS;
Colored and Black ALPACCAS;
Mourning and Fancy Plaid LONG SHAWLS
Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;
White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed FLANNELS;
Cotton Flannels;
An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra. Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc., etc.
He invites the attention of those in want.
CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.
THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the

New England Air-Tight,
embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a choice and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without inability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.
Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japaned Ware.
CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter,
DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31.

Wm. P. McKay & Co.,
195 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.
Hereby invite attention to their elegant and extensive assortment of GOLD and SILVER WATCHES, of superior English and Swiss Manufacture.
JEWELRY.
Gold and Silver Pencils, Thimbles, Spectacles, Vest, Fob and Guard Chains; Gold Ear Hoops, Finger Rings, Bosom Pins, Watch Keys, Eye Glasses, Lockets, Bracelets, etc., etc.
SILVER—Forks, Spoons, Ladles, Napkin Rings, Butter, Fish and Fruit Knives, Knife, Fork and Spoon in sets for children, etc., etc.
Also—A large assortment of
FANCY GOODS.
Watches and Jewelry faithfully and promptly REPAIRED.
W. P. McKay, H. T. Spear, J. W. L. Brown.
N. B. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
Boston, April 21.

Salt Pork.
A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 9th.

Notice.
W. L. LITCHFIELD have taken as a partner and the style of the firm will hereafter be
W. LITCHFIELD & CO.
PAINTING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and promptly done; and orders are respectfully solicited.
Quincy, March 16th.

Beef and Pork.
A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be brought elsewhere.
Also—FRESH BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, March 16th.

Paper Hangings.
3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 24th.

Published
NUMBER 41.
JOHN A. GR.
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and FIFTY CENTS if not paid in advance. THREE DOLLARS if delayed until the end of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement previous to the payment of all arrearages of the proprietor. When their papers are discontinued, they will be sent to the time their subscription expires, and the subscriber will be held responsible for its paper as long as it is sent to the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place they may have ordered it, until legal contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and condensed at the customary prices. The advertiser required must be named on the advertisement, and they will be continued until charged for accordingly.
The privilege of annual advertisement, their own immediate business; and for the benefit of other persons, advertisements, and advertisements sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.
Business letters and communications Editor, postage paid, will receive attention. Single copies of the paper, Five CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE QUINCY PATRIOT.
The following gentlemen are authorized and requested to procure subscribers and to receive for them the subscription money.
JOSEPH BARBOCK, Quincy
GEORGE H. LOCKE, do
ORIN P. BACON, do
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, do
JOSEPH CLEVELY, do
SAMUEL A. TURNER, do N. B. OSBORNE, do
FREEMAN HUNT, do

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE TEMPTER AND THE TEMPTED.
BY J. T. HEADLEY.
It was morning—a bright, morning in autumn, after the Brandywine, and now the great sun were gilding the top which formed the great forest sight of the American encampment. The disastrous resolute conflict had well nigh ended of the bravest colonists, and the in-chief himself was dispirited and ken.

Hundreds of his brave company had bitten the dust, in that ill-fated day of his best officers had been energies of his Spartan band were winter was approaching, and the filled indeed with but gloomy soldiers were without shoes; a decent tent was left with the snow was frozen and rugged; and exposed, and many a rueful gash, bloody foot-print to be left behind.
But on that bright and lovely day in the edge of the forest, there royalist, but whose sympathies inclined towards the American, whose personal wealth had until him to pursue an inactivity, a tween the two parties. And yet a son in Washington's camp, a years, who had taken his musket the American force, some months the father had learned of the colonial army; he knew that he forced to retreat, and he came to hood of the army which had had hour or two to learn, if possible, the

He dared not approach too having reached the deep wood lay between him and the first mounted a knoll, from the summit had a view of the vanquished lined band who had comported so lately but a little time previous were now hastening towards the father's heart throbbed audibly, beyond him at the remains of the and questioned if his child were there late might have numbered the three hundred noble spirits who sacrificed but a few hours before battle. And as he strained his eyes down towards the camp, a white light came in view, and approached towards the forest.

The figure which bestrode this was commanding and graceful, and quickly noted that his loose chapman indicated him an American. He was soon at the verge of the turning, his steed aside, he secured to a tree, and disappeared within of the wood.

Who could it be? and what was at this hour, alone in the dark for turned slowly about, as the figure moved past him, and he rejoiced der did not observe him, for he by his curiosity.
The stalwart form, the proudly face, the solemn movement of greatly interested the watcher, who deep burthen weighed upon his he looked again, he saw that he low, and on his knees, the old George Washington send up a to the God of Battles, for the del country from war, oppression and dent supplication in behalf of countrymen!
A tear of sympathy gushed

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Published every Saturday Morning, over Messrs. Josiah Brigham & Co's Store, in Hancock Street.

NUMBER 41.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two Dollars and Fifty CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place where he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by letter, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK, GEORGE H. LOCKE, ORIN P. BACON, FISHER A. KINGSBURY, JOSEPH CLEVELY, SAMUEL A. TURNER, N. B. OSBORNE, FREMANT HUNT.	Quincy Railway: Stone Quarries, Dorchester, Weymouth, Abington, South Scituate, Salem, New York City.
--	--

MISCELLANY.

THE TEMPTER AND THE TEMPTED.

BY J. T. HEADLEY.

It was morning—a bright, cool, glorious morning in autumn, after the terrible battle of Brandywine, and now the grateful beams of the sun were gilding the tops of the trees which formed the great forest lying within sight of the American encampment below Princeton. The disastrous result of this memorable conflict had well nigh crushed the hopes of the bravest colonists, and the commander-in-chief himself was dispirited and heart-stricken.

Hundreds of his brave companions in arms had bitten the dust, in that ill-fated foray; many of his best officers had been cut down; the energies of his Spartan band had been crippled, winter was approaching, and the prospect was filled indeed with but gloomy promise. The soldiers were without shoes; scarcely a single decent tent was left with the army; the ground was frozen and rugged; and as the men were exposed, and many a rueful gash had caused a bloody foot-print to be left behind them.

But on that bright and lovely morning, within the edge of the forest, there sat an aged royalist, but whose sympathies had lately inclined towards the American interest, but whose personal wealth had until now induced him to pursue an inactivity, a neutrality between the two parties. And yet, this man had a son in Washington's camp, a mere boy in years, who had taken his musket and joined the American force, some months previously. The father had learned of the defeat of the colonial army; he knew that they had been forced to retreat, and he came to the neighborhood of the army which had halted but for an hour or two, to learn, if possible, the fate of his boy.

He dared not approach too abruptly, and having reached the deep wood which at last lay between him and the distant camp, he mounted a knoll, from the summit of which he had a view of the vanquished but still determined band who had comported themselves valiantly but a little time previously, but who were now hastening towards Princeton. The father's heart throbbed audibly, as he gazed beyond him at the remains of the gallant army, and questioned if his child were there, or whether late night have numbered his boy among the three hundred noble spirits which had been sacrificed but a few hours before on the field of battle. And as he strained his aged sight, far down towards the camp, a white horse suddenly came in view, and approached at length towards the forest.

The figure which bestrode this noble animal was commanding and graceful, and the old man quickly noted that his horse grey coat and chapeau indicated him an American officer. He was soon at the verge of the forest and turning, his steed aside, he secured the animal to a tree, and disappeared within the confines of the wood.

Who could it be? and what was his purpose, at this hour, alone in the dark forest? The man turned slowly about, as the figure of the stranger moved past him, and he rejoiced that the intruder did not observe him, for he could not satisfy his curiosity.

The stalwart form, the proud step, the manly face, the solemn movement of the stranger, greatly interested the watcher, who saw that a deep burden weighed upon his heart; and as he looked again, he saw that noble form bent low, and on his knees, the old man heard the GEORGE WASHINGTON send up a fervent prayer to the God of Battles, for the deliverance of his country from war, oppression and peril—an ardent supplication in behalf of his suffering countrymen!

A tear of sympathy gushed from the gray eye of the aged royalist, but as he dashed aside the falling drops, the brave warrior rose from his knees, and was slowly wending his way back, toward the spot where his steed was secured, when another figure from an opposite direction, suddenly hove in sight—and, halting, stood in the path of the American commander-in-chief.

In an instant, the hand of Washington clasped his sword hilt, and he would have drawn the blade from his scabbard, but the man who confronted him, motioned him in kindness, and the warrior stood in his tracks. Drawing himself up to his height, he gazed for a moment upon the face of the other, and quickly recognizing him, he exclaimed with evident surprise, "SIR WILLIAM HOWE?"

"The same—and by favor of his majesty commander of the British forces in these colonies."

"The tool of an unwise sovereign, who rolls in splendid extravagances and ease, while the poor colonists who should have been the objects of his especial regard, are starving throughout the land," quickly added Washington.

A truce to this, sir, replied the British General, quickly. "His majesty seeks to put an end to the contention and strife that unfortunately have existed too long here."

"You speak truly," exclaimed Washington, interrupting the general, and deeply interested in his words.

"On my honor, sir, the king would see this conflict speedily terminated; and I but repeat his words, when I say that he looks to Washington for this result—so desirable to the colonists and the mother land."

The American general advanced toward Sir William Howe—he looked into his eye—he measured his form, and a thousand emotions of hope, joy, fear, suspicion, momentarily thrust themselves upon the mind of the sagacious warrior.

What meant these words of encouragement? Was Sir William Howe insane? How came he there—in that forest, at so opportune a moment? The King—the British general—these assurances—the strange meeting—what boded all this mystery? But in his hand Sir William held a roll of parchment; and again he pressed upon the American general's notice the kindly intentions of his noble sovereign King George.

With a nervous movement, as if he distrusted the foul act himself, Sir William Howe raised the pure white scroll, and gazing intently into the face of Washington, he moved the outer covering of the parchment slowly, and with evident emotion.

"You may end these hostilities, sir; you may confer a permanent peace upon this portion of his majesty's dominions; you may crush the turbulence which has shown itself in these colonies; you may acquire a lasting name for yourself—if you accept the overtures which I am authorized to make from the king. Behold his signature!" added the general, as he exposed the contents of the parchment, and the eye of Washington fell upon the profile of his majesty, King George, to the commander-in-chief of the American army.

For an instant a film seemed to pass over his sight as he gazed upon that gilded document, bearing the sign manual and broad seal of the king upon its face—and the American general passed his hand to his brow, for he scarcely could believe himself awake. But the pang was momentary, and instantly recovering he found the document in his own hands, upon which he read the words—To our well beloved servant Duke GEORGE WASHINGTON, of Mount Vernon.

He started back—a groan burst from his lips, and in the next moment the parchment had been torn into a hundred shreds, and lay beneath the American warrior's feet.

Thus—thus, I answer your vile proposal, Sir William Howe! exclaimed the gallant Washington, contemptuously, as he stamped the fragments in the dust beneath his feet: and the British general quickly gave way before the excited, insulted man, whom he feared, as the latter moved forward to the outer verge of the wood.

"This may be my answer to your wicked master. The blood of a thousand martyrs in the cause of freedom—each one of whom were worthier than your loyal leader—call on the living to avenge the dead! The memory of Concord, Lexington, Bunker's Hill, and Brandywine, are fresh in our hearts, and we defy your cruel master's power, or his arts. And for myself, I crave no higher title than that of a patriot—I seek no reward but what I find in the consciousness of doing my utmost in the cause of freedom!"

"On your own head be the consequence of this contumely!" said the English general between his teeth, as he turned away; within five minutes, Washington had mounted his steed, and was quickly out of sight.

The aged man, who lay concealed beyond, an unexpecting but deeply interested spectator of this thrilling scene, returned to his quiet home.

"I have met George Washington," he said to his family; "I have heard him pray, and I have seen him beard the British lion. The man who can trample the offer of a dukedom under foot as he has done—cannot be a rebel. And within twenty-four hours, old as he was, he had joined his son in the American army under the command of the noble Washington!"

FASHIONABLE LIFE.

MRS. SWISSHELM, of the Pittsburgh Visitor thus talks "RIGHT OUT":—

"There are hundreds of girls in every large city who parade the streets in feathers, flowers, silks and laces, whose hands are as soft and white as uselessness can make them, whose mothers keep boarders to get a living for their idle daughters. Their mothers will cook, sweep, wait on tables, carry loads of marketing, do the most menial drudgery, toil late and early, with very little clothing, while their hopeful daughters spend their mornings lounging in bed, reading some silly book, taking some lessons in French, fixing finery, and the like. The evenings are devoted to dressing, displaying their charms and accomplishments to the very best advantage, for the wonderment and admiration of knights of the yard-stick, and young aspirants for professional honors—doctors without patients—who are as brainless and as soulless as themselves. After a while, the piano-pounding simper capitates a tape-measuring, law-expounding, or pill-making simper. The two ninnies spend every cent that can be raised by hook or by crook—get all that can be got on credit, in broadcloth, satin, flowers, lace, carriage, attendance, etc.: hang their empty pockets on somebody's chair, lay their empty heads on somebody's pillow, and commence their empty lives with no other prospect than living at somebody's expense—with no other purpose than living genteelly and spitting the neighbors.

This is a synopsis of thousands of street and ball-room belles, perhaps of some whose shining costume you have envied from a passing glance. Thousands of women dress elegantly in the streets, who have not a sufficiency of wholesome food, a comfortable bed, or fuel enough to warm their rooms. I once boarded in a 'genteel boarding house,' in Louisville; there were two young ladies and a piano in the house—hall and parlors handsomely furnished. The eldest young lady—the belle—wore a summer bonnet at ten dollars—a silk and blond concern that could not last three months—silk and satin dresses at two, three, and four dollars per yard, and five dollars a piece for making them, and the entire family, women, boy and babies, nine in all, slept in one small room, with two dirty bags of pine shavings, two straw bolsters, and three dirty quilts for bedding—no sheets, no pillow slips; and there, on the wall, hung the pea green and white satin, the rich silk and lawn dresses. These ladies did not work, but played on the piano, accordion, and at cards; and nearly broke their hearts the week we were there, because another, who I presume lived just as they did, called on them with a great clumsy gold chain on her neck. None of them had one: and Miss Lablinda, the belle, could eat no supper, and had a fit of the sulks to console her for the want of a chain."

A PARISIAN QUACK.

At the Theatre of the Varities there is an actress, one of the best in Paris, who has the misfortune to be exceedingly, deplorably thin—we might almost say, scrawny. A few months ago she heard of a doctor who it was said had succeeded in manufacturing a mineral water which had the power of making people grow fat. She went to him inquirer. "Doctor," said she, "what must I do to get fat?" "Take my waters." And I shall get fat?" "Immediately." The thin actress plunged into the doctor's baths and drank the water early and late. Three months passed away; but she grew no fatter. At last, she called the doctor and said: "Doctor, I don't grow fat." "Wait a little while," replied the doctor. "Will it be long?" "Fifteen days at the farthest. You see that big fat woman walking in the garden? When she first came here she was perhaps thinner than you." "What! I may hope." "Fifteen days at most," said the doctor. Two more months passed; the actress grew thinner and thinner. One day as she was taking her warm mineral bath, she heard a dispute going on in the bathing-room next to her own. "Decidedly, doctor," said the big fat woman above introduced—"decidedly, doctor, I don't get a bit thinner." "Have patience, Madame," said the doctor, "you see that very thin lady who sometimes walks in the garden?" "Yes." "Well, she is an actress from the Varities, whose excessive fat forced her to absent herself from the stage; she came to me, you see the result. Before fifteen days I promise you shall be thinner than she is." At these words the thin actress rose from her warm bath, dressed herself, and with a heart divided by grief and indignation, silently left the house, hoping, however, to keep her misfortune a secret—but in Paris, a secret is an impossibility, and some how or other, the story got out.

A SCENE.

A passenger for San Francisco, in the steamer Tennessee, writes to the New Orleans True Delta, as follows:—

The general health of the ship was excellent, but we lost three passengers off Panama of yellow fever. Oh, how terrible to die among strangers! I was told one morning, that a young man was dying among the steerage passengers. I went forward to the iron rod which separates the forward from the after part of the ship, and witnessed a sight that saddened my very soul. Hot poured the sun upon the crowded forecastle; a small awning in the centre, swarmed with emigrants to that Ophir, which some, alas, were never to reach, except in those fond dreams with which the imagination loves to cheat the soul. Upon a pallet, carelessly spread, lay an emaciated form, still in the prime of his first manhood, but consumed by fever to its last hold upon mortality. The burning fire upon his cheek was fast paling beneath the icy shadow which stands fast at the bedside of all humanity. Eyes before brilliant with the delirium of fever, now filled with tears of inexpressible agony, as, with returning reason, came also the consciousness of utter desolation; and strangers, who looked upon him with cold compassion or impatient selfishness, replaced the fearful fondness of a mother, or the wild agony of a beloved and loving wife. Instead of the darkened room, and the hushed footstep, an intolerable glare seared his glazing eyeballs, and the hot winds of the tropics snatched the breath from his parched lips. Oh, what unavailing regret, what agonizing reminiscences spoke in that pining glance! Speechless, yet eloquent, the soul took its farewell of earth, in one long look of pain; tears slowly escaped from the closing eyelids, one shivering sigh shook the feeble frame, and all was over. Hastily, strange hands prepared his burial, a stranger read the service for the dead, and he, who had dreamed only of the repose beneath the shady tree and the green sod, was launched without a sigh into the cold bosom of the pitiless deep. In an hour he was forgotten; the gaming tables were refilled, and the sounds of high betting and loud laughter, banished all solemnity from the place.

AN INTERESTING STORY.

Some thirty years since a lad of one of our Eastern States, of about ten years of age, was sent by his employer to carry a basket heavily laden with wares, to a purchaser. While staggering under its weight, up a somewhat steep hill, a gentleman of about thirty years, proffered his assistance, and beguiled the tediousness of the way by pleasant anecdotes, good advice, and kind words. They parted—eighteen years passed away—the senior of these two, now nearly fifty years of age, sat in his study with melancholy countenance and heavy heart. His door opened, and his young and fascinating daughter, just blooming into womanhood, entered to announce that a gentleman desired to see her father. "Show him in, my darling daughter, and do you, my child, leave us to ourselves." She obeyed. The old gentleman entered. "Well, sir," was his salutation, have you considered my proposition?" "I have, and have determined, happen what may, I will not force or sway by any act of mine, the will of my child. She shall be left to her own free choice."

"Then, sir, to-morrow, by three o'clock, your property must go into the hands of the sheriff, unless you find some friend to pay the twenty thousand dollars." This he said with a sneer, and coldly bowing, left the house. The poor father's heart was racked. "I am a beggar—my daughter is homeless—I have no friend to offer assistance in this hour of my severest trial."

In the midst of these bitter reflections, again his daughter entered, introducing a gentleman of some twenty-eight years of age—a stranger. "Am I in presence of Mr. G.?" was his opening remark; which being affirmatively answered, he continued by saying that he was a successful merchant of New York, had heard of the misfortunes of Mr. G., and came on purpose to ask the amount of his liabilities, that he might loan the necessary funds to relieve his wants. Nor was he shocked at the mention of the large amount of twenty thousand dollars. He handed him his check which was duly honored—the father was once more a happy man—his daughter was not homeless—he had found some friend to pay, despite the sneer of his hard-hearted creditor. "But pray sir," said the agitated father, "to what am I indebted for this munificent kindness, from an entire stranger?" "Perhaps you have forgotten," was the reply. "that some eighteen years since you aided a friendless boy, of ten years of age, to carry his loaded basket up a hill—that you gave good advice and kindly words? I am that boy. I followed your advice—I have lived honestly—I have gained wealth—and now, after many years, I have come in return to you, kind sir, the bread which you then cast so freely upon the waters."

A LEAF FROM THE DIARY OF A BLIND MAN.

MY MOTHER'S GRAVE.

The other day I visited my native town, after an absence of many years. Very cordial and sincere were the greetings of those that yet remain of my associates in early life. But time had wrought great changes in the home of my childhood. Many an object once familiar to touch, many a friend ever dear to my heart, was gone; the tree beneath whose shade I was wont to sit and wonder why the blessed sunlight, which shone so kindly upon all, should be denied to me; the rock by the sea-side, I had so often climbed that I might hear the rippling wave, the dashing spray, has been removed. It may be by the action of the elements, but more probable to suit the caprice or convenience of man.

And where, too, is the youth whose noble bearing and kindly heart made him the favorite of all? In early manhood he embarked on board a ship, to visit other climes, and was never heard of more. Where is the maiden, whose graceful form and sunny brow, whose sweet young face and bright blue eye made her the idol of her parents and the pride of all who knew her? Very brief and sad is her story—the pretty girl became the beautiful woman; loved with all the intensity of her noble nature, was deceived, betrayed, and died of a broken heart.

But there is one place ever dear to my memory—one little spot of earth, to which, in anxious manhood, my thoughts have often returned, and with a kind of tender sorrow. 'Tis the grave of my mother. Thither I repaired at the close of day, and though I saw not the light of the setting sun, I felt upon my heart the dreamy, quiet, holy influence of the twilight hour. Once more I stood where five and twenty years ago we laid the form of my venerated mother. The events of a quarter of a century seemed crowded into a moment. It is not strange that one for whom the material world has but few charms, should find a kind of melancholy pleasure in dwelling upon the only being he ever saw. Often, very often, have I endeavored to recall to my mind the form and face of her on whom I first gazed. And long since have I fancied I have done so. And now, in my silent contemplative moments, I see before my mind's eye a form, not graceful but fragile; a face, not beautiful, but serene and thoughtful; an eye, not brilliant, but tender and tearful. But that low, sorrowful voice, I can only recall when, in moments of high enthusiasm, I fancy I hear the whispering of angels. Around this ideal image cluster many holy memories, and upon it, hang, as it were, all my highest conceptions and noblest thoughts of a brighter world and a better life. And now, after so many years have elapsed, I find myself beside my mother's grave, gladly forgetting the poor experience of life, that I may dwell more intently upon her love. When on that day, the hand of destiny veiled from these eyes the blessed sunlight, and the dearest thing it revealed, her serene and thoughtful countenance, with many tears she pressed me to her heart, sadly exclaiming—"My poor boy is blind! Who will take care of him when I am gone?" And when she knew that she must die, placing her hand upon my head, she invoked the blessing of Him, who, though His ways be mysterious, doeth all things well. Oh! my mother! how often in the hours of sorrow, when forsaken by friends, assailed by calumny, or tempted by sin, have I turned aside that I might weep and pray, and think of thee. I was never haunted with dreams of greatness. Ambition rarely fires the blind man's heart. He knows full well that the misfortune that distinguishes him from his fellows, limits his sphere of activity and usefulness, and renders possible for him, only what is possible for all—a purer life. My I go on the even tenor of my way, and when my life on earth is ended, oh grant me but this boon, a place to rest beside my mother's grave.

Reader! hast thou a mother? Love and cherish her, for she is of more worth to thee than all the world besides. Is her spirit in heaven? go often and stand beside her grave, and meditate upon her virtues, and it shall do thee good. [B. B. Bowen.]

OFFICIAL.

THE BOUNTY LAND BILL.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Oct. 3, 1850.
The Congress of the United States, at its late session, having, in a spirit of justice and liberality, passed an act, "granting bounty land to certain officers and soldiers who have been engaged in the military service of the United States," the President has esteemed it no less a privilege than a duty to adopt all the means in his power to give prompt and efficient operation to this beneficent measure. I deem it proper therefore to announce to those entitled to the benefits of the law, that, with his sanction, I have caused all the necessary forms and instructions to guide claimants in applying for and obtaining their rights to be prepared, and they are now in the hands of the printer. At the earliest practicable moment, copies of these papers will be forwarded to each member of Congress, and to the clerk of the court of every county in the United States.

It will be his purpose to administer the law in such a manner as to make it what Congress designed it to be, a bounty to the soldier, and not to agents and speculators. The forms and the mode of proof have therefore been made as simple as possible, and every facility will be afforded to applicants to establish their just demands. Clerks are now engaged in preparing, from the rolls on file, certificates of service in order that those who have not received discharges or have accidentally lost them, may not be disappointed in obtaining their just reward.

The policy of this law in all its provisions is to discourage speculation in the claims of soldiers. The act provides, "that all sales, mortgages, letters of attorney, and other instruments of writing, going to affect the title or claim to any warrant herein before provided for, made or executed prior to the issue, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, nor shall such certificate or warrant, or the land obtained thereby, be in any wise affected by, or charged with, or subject to, the payment of any debt or claim incurred by such officer or soldier prior to the issuing of the patent."

In his judgment the issue contemplated in the body of the above recited clause of the law is the issue of the patent. Consequently, all sales, transfers, assignments, and incumbrances of soldiers' land claims made before the emanation of the patents, are void, and will be disregarded by the Government. Speculators are therefore admonished that they can acquire no rights by purchase which will be recognized by this department.

I feel it to be my duty, also, to warn this frank and confiding soldier against the arts and devices of agents, who will seek to exaggerate the difficulties of obtaining the land in order to enhance their own charges.

The evidence of service exists among the archives of the country. In nine cases out of ten, the only proof required, will be of the identity of the applicant, or of the marriage and widowhood, or heirship.

These are facts readily proven, and therefore, the difficulties will in most cases be merely nominal. And to remove even these slight obstacles, and to give more full and complete effect to the munificence of the Government, I beg leave respectfully to recommend to the proper authorities of each county and township to employ a suitable agent, at the expense of the county, to supervise the preparation of the applications and proofs of claimants. The ignorant and unwary would thus be protected from imposition, the poor soldiers from burdens they are not able to bear, and the Government from many embarrassments which may result from the awkwardness of incompetent agents.

In conclusion, I desire to say that great care will be used to guard against undue preferences of one class of applicants over others. With this view, at the proper time, a sufficient number of clerks will be employed to issue the certificates with the least possible delay, so that all may have an equal chance of making advantageous locations.

ALEX. H. H. STUART,

Secretary of the Interior.

All persons having claims for Bounty Land, Pensions or any other claims on the Government at Washington, are hereby notified, that by calling at the Post Office in Quincy, they may find a person well informed and prepared to prosecute such claims gratuitously and without charge.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.

This infamous law passed by the last Congress, has created a sensation here, at the North, not to be described. By every true lover of American Liberty and freedom, it is contemned and abhorred as one of the most iniquitous and diabolical ever pressed upon a free and enlightened people. Already attempts have been made by the Slave catchers of the South, in several of our cities and towns, to recover fugitives who have resided in them a number of years, as peaceable and quiet citizens; and in one or two cases have been successful. But the people of the North are aroused, and there is but one feeling among them, in which all parties partake—to use their utmost endeavors to have this atrocious law repealed by the next Congress. Spirited meetings have taken place, and are now taking place, in all the Free States; expressing in indignant terms, and passing resolutions against the law, and who are determined to oppose all measures taken by the Slaveholders of the South to reclaim and subvert our colored citizens, and reduce them to slavery again. We shall be mistaken in the people of Massachusetts, if they allow a single slave to be carried out of the State.

Tricks and traps of all kinds are practised by the Slave catchers—among them is one attempted in the city of Boston, on Thursday last, in the form of a Circular, issued by the owners of two runaway slaves. It is headed, "Stop the Thieves!" Look out for the Thieves!" and states that the negroes carried off a large lot of clothing, one hundred dollars in cash, and a silver watch. It may be that the negroes committed the theft charged to them—but there is no doubt that this is a fly for their recapture.

FIREMAN'S EXCURSION. The Eagle Engine Co. No. 12, of Boston, visited this town on Wednesday, for the purpose of target shooting. The riddled target showed that they were in earnest. About 3 o'clock, the company adjourned to the Hancock House, and sat down to an excellent dinner, provided by Mr. French. In the evening the Eagles were received by the Niagara Engine Co. No. 18, and Tiger Engine Co. No. 2, commanded by Capt. French and Laplante, and escorted through the principal streets and thence to the depot. The Eagles were accompanied by Flagg's Band.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT. Last Monday noon, James Glover, a son of Mr. Horatio N. Glover, residing at the "Farms" in this town, while out on a fishing in a boat, was accidentally drowned by the upsetting of it. He was a good swimmer, but the boat being some distance from the shore, he became exhausted, and was unable to reach it. He was about 21 years of age.

CENSUS.—We learn from the gentleman who has lately taken the population, etc., of this town, under a law of the United States, that he finds the number of inhabitants to be 5,017—of families, 1,001—and of houses, 740. The Census as taken by the Assessor last May, under a State law, make the number of inhabitants, 4,983.

From the same source, we get the following information in relation to Milton. Number of inhabitants, 2,241—families, 431—houses, 242.

DANCING.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Sawyer, who contemplates opening a School for instruction in this art. We have heard Mr. S. named as a good teacher, and hope he may meet with encouragement.

OSTERS.—The best quality of this epicurean luxury from New York, is constantly kept at the Hancock House Saloon, in this town; and served to customers in every style, to suit the most fastidious admirer.

Old Colony Rail Road.—For Alteration of time see this week's paper.

JENNY LIND'S CHARITY CONCERT.—The Concert given for the benefit of the poor, on Thursday evening last, at the Tremont Temple, was fully attended. The whole proceeds of the Concert, is to be distributed among the several Charitable Societies in Boston. Considerable fault is found with Mr. Barnum, on account of his regulating the price of tickets at three dollars each, as the standard price, and then selling some for a higher price; while some of the best seats in the house had been sold as low as fifty cents.

ENTERPRISE. We noticed, yesterday, that our friends, H. A. Ransom & Co., had procured a new Wagon for the transportation of their merchandise in this town. The zeal with which this firm prosecute their business, cannot fail to secure success. The Union Stores, lately established, must exert themselves and live up to their professions, as a regulator, they are needed. That success may attend the Union, is one of our wishes; and that H. A. R. & Co., may have a run of trade, commensurate with their activity, and the ease with which the wheels of their new wagon run, is another desire; therefore, drive ahead, and faithfully serve the public, is our advice to all.

THE ISAAC MEAD.—Capt. Brown, commander of the unfortunate bark Isaac Mead, which was run down at sea by the Steamer Southerner, on Saturday morning last, as already narrated, was always considered a most fortunate navigator, as the phrase goes. The Brooklyn Advertiser says:—"On board the bark were several particular friends of his family, who had passed a pleasant summer at the North, and were returning home. Capt. Brown had on board his eldest son, a promising youth, thirteen years of age, who had left school but a few days previous to the sad accident. On the morning of the 2d, he bid his affectionate mother good-bye, asking her to write to him in a few days. Poor boy! it never entered his head that his life was so uncertain! As soon as the vessel began to sink, he clung so to his father, and so remained until the last ray of hope was expiring, when father and son parted to meet again when the sea and earth give up their dead."

HAVANA, SEPT. 28.—The sentence passed on the 23d of August last, on the American prisoners of Concho, has been revoked, and another, inflicting severer punishments has been substituted. Capt. Rufus Benson, is sentenced to ten years, Joseph Anthony Graffius to eight years, and Thomas G. Hale to four years. In addition to the chain gang of the Spanish Arsenal Curran in Cadiz. Thus two more years have been added to the sentence; and they will be sent to a place where Spanish pride can be continually gratified by the sight of these unfortunate captives. Will the American government permit the sentence to be executed? The following individuals, comprising the crews of the two vessels, have been declared innocent, and will soon be released:—Nathan Dawson, Robert J. Burdoy, James Norris, James Herward, Daniel Blair, John Hamar and Andrew Finklar. The prisoners will soon sail for Spain.

HEAR THE MAD-MEN.—Messrs. Editors: "For good and sufficient reasons we thereto moving," I have determined hereafter to use No Northern Goods to carry any crop. No Northern Cloth for my Negroes clothing. No Northern Shoes, if others can be obtained. No Northern Soap, Candles, Flour, or Chio Bacon. No Northern Potatoes, Cabbage, Fruit or Hay. No Northern Butter, Cheese, or Preserved Fish. No Northern Refined Sugar.

And, in fact, nothing that is produced at the North that can possibly be procured from any other region—and I would respectfully suggest the same course to others that will be pursued by

A PLANTER.

Charleston Mercury, Sept. 30.

A letter from St. Louis, dated Oct. 6th says,—"The tide of emigration has almost ceased. The Mormon emigration, it is estimated, will be about 5,000. The register this season exhibits the number of emigrants as 37,500 men, 2,500 women, 600 children, 8,000 mules, 30,000 oxen, 7,000 cows, and 3,000 wagons."

RICHARD P. ROBINSON, the alleged murderer of Helen Jewett, and whose whereabouts was unknown, ever since his trial and acquittal in New York was seen in this city a few days since, as stated in some of their papers. It is said he has a flourishing farm somewhere off in the interior of Texas, where his family (a wife and three children) are residing. To this day he protests his entire innocence of the terrible crime laid at his door.

Jack Wade, now in confinement in Dedham jail, acknowledges that he was one of the parties who robbed the Worcester and Milton Bank, of about $32,000 and has given up 9,000 or 10,000 of the stolen money. A part of it he had buried at South Boston, and under his direction the place was found and the money recovered.

LITERARY SPLICER. Charles A. V. Putnam, Esq., the able editor of the Boston Museum, was married at Shrewsbury, on the 7th inst, to Miss Ellen T. Harrington, well known in the literary world for her beautiful productions.

Milton Jones was to be executed yesterday—the 11th, at Charleston, Illinois, for the murder of Joseph Miller, in May, 1849, while on a journey to Kentucky. The murderer is only 21 years old, was a member of the church, and respectfully connected. The murdered man was also young, lately married, and the two were intimate friends. The motive was a sum of money.

Foot and McCaffrey, the former convicted of murdering a young girl, and the latter of murdering Mr. Charles and Mrs. Ann Williams, were hung on Wednesday at New Haven.

A man entered the Suffolk Bank last Saturday afternoon, and, while the teller's back was turned, succeeded in obtaining a bag containing five thousand dollars in gold from the desk, and managed to escape with his booty.

OAK HALL BOSTON. This Clothing Establishment has become celebrated through the enterprise of Geo. W. Simmons, Esq., the proprietor. His admirable system of doing business, the small profit system, renders it an object for strangers visiting the city to make their purchases of him.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

N. P. Banks, Esq., of Waltham, will deliver the second of the course of Lectures the present season next Thursday Evening, commencing at half past seven o'clock precisely. Tickets of admission for the present season can be procured at the following places, viz. at the Quincy Book Store, at the office of Dr. Bugbee, and at the Store of Daniel Baxter & Co. The Lyceum Library has been removed to the office of Dr. Goodnow, where members can have access to it daily. Per Order, H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Niagara's Awake.

The Fire Members of the Niagara Engine Co. No. 1, are respectfully invited to meet at the Engine House, on Monday Evening next, at 8 o'clock, as there will be a Clam Chowder served up on the occasion. Per Order, JOHN F. PIERCE, Clerk.

I. O. of O. F.

A special Meeting of Mount Wollaston Lodge, No. 80, I. O. of O. F., will be held at the Lodge Room on Monday, 14th inst, at 7 o'clock P. M., to see what action the members will take in regard to the death of Dr. Joseph Ferris, an Californian.

ANTIPAS HARRINGTON, Sec. Gen.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Rodgers, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens; Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods. Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 4 Washington Street.

N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. W. M. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

D. R. ADAMS, 2m Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

DIED.

In Quincy, Sept. 30th; James McLernay, aged 25. October 7th (drowned); James H., son of Horatio N. and Martha T. Glover, aged 21 years. In Quincy October 5th; John Dorsey, aged 30. In this town October 10th; Ezekiah Bass, aged 78.

FRUIT TREES.

Special Notice.

THE Proprietor is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces almost every approved sort of American or Foreign origin extant, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or extent of variety.

SPECIAL CULTIVATION has been bestowed on the PEARS, and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are now ready for transplanting.

EXTRA SIZE TREES, with fruit buds, and well furnished with branches, and such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.

Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, &c., and at rates less than is generally charged for novelties.

SCISSOR for exportation and the home trade, can be had from fruit bearing trees, thereby ensuring correctness of nomenclature.

SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the corresponding dealer.

Address,—"The Superintendent of the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass.," or to the Subscriber, No. 2, Pearl Street, Boston.

MARSHALL P. WILDER. Grove Hall Coaches leave No. 41 Franklin Street, four times each day. Dorchester, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Sept. 30th, 1850. Taken on Execution, and will be sold at Public Auction at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on THURSDAY, the 31st day of October, 1850, at 9 o'clock A. M., all the right in equity which Harvey Field of Quincy in said County, Gentleman, has this day to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:

A certain lot of land containing about fifty acres, altogether, with a dwelling house, barns, and other out buildings thereon standing, bounded on the North West and South by the land of late J. Q. Adams, Esq., and on the old Plymouth road, being the farm where the said Field now lives, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff. Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850.

Boarders Wanted.

TWO or three persons can be accommodated with board in the centre of the village. Apply to the Office of the QUINCY PATRIOT. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK SS. Probate Office, October 5th, A. D. 1850. An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of RACHEL FAXON, late of Braintree in said County, Widow, deceased, having been presented for Probate by Barnabas F. Arnold, the Executor therein named, ORDERED, that the said Barnabas F. Arnold, notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate to be held at Roxbury, in said County on the twenty-sixth day of October, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate. Braintree, Oct. 12, 1850.

Apples.

BALDWIN and RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM. Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850.

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Dancing School.

A. SAWYER, of Boston, Teacher of Dancing and Waltzing, proposes opening a School in Quincy, at the Hall of the Hancock House, for instruction in the above art. All wishing to attend, are requested to meet on WEDNESDAY Evening, Oct. 16th, at 7 o'clock, when the terms will be made known. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

St. John's Potatoes.

50 BUSHELS, cheap for cash, and warranted not to rot. H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

List for Advertising.

October 5.

A

Ayres Nancy 2 Allen Martha M

B

Baxter Josiah 2 Barry Martin

C

Connelly John Clapp Mary L

D

Daily Owen Denton Augustus

E

Edwards C M Falmouth Eldridge

F

Faxon Lucy Fisher Chandler

G

Glover M L Guilley John

H

Houghton Mr Houghton James

I

Irish Edward Jr King James

J

Johnson John Long Geo

K

Kennedy E Moore Alex W

L

Lucas Thos Lyon Thomas

M

Madden John Mulgrum Dennis

N

Nash Rachel Mrs Newcomb Joseph

O

O'Brien James O'Brien Arthur

P

Pearson Olive T Pierce Wm B

R

Reed Wm Riley Chas

S

Smith H Mrs Sires Lucius

T

Tirrell Mr Washburn Thos

W

Willey Benj F Whig

Quincy, Oct. 5. WILLIAM B. BUGBEE, P. M.

DRY GOODS NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doeskins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirts, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVILL & CO.,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House. Quincy, October 5.

Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on TUESDAY, October 15th, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, the School House, recently occupied by the North District, Quincy.

Also, on the above named day, at 12 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a piece of land in the South District on the north side of School Street, being a portion of the land recently purchased of Mr. Jonathan Marsh, by the Town for the improvement of that Street. Conditions made known at sale.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer. Quincy, Oct. 5th.

Granite Stone Cutters Wanted.

50 OR 75 FIRST CLASS CUTTERS, can have immediate employment, and good wages, $2 per day for the months of October and November, and $1 per day for the balance of the season; or piece work if preferable to themselves. All tools found but Patent and hand hammers, and the weight of them will be paid for. None but good hands will be employed. Apply to ALEXANDER LAURENCE, Master of Masonry, U. S. Dry Dock, Brooklyn Navy Yard, New York, Oct. 5th.

Road Notice.

NORFOLK SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners at Dedham September term, 1850.—

ON the petition of WARREN MANSFIELD and others, presented December term, 1849, praying that a new public highway may be laid out in Braintree, in said county, from a point near the house of Samuel Penniman, on Liberty street, over lands of sundry persons named in said petition to a point near the house of Hosea W. Waite, on Hancock Street. The Commissioners, after causing due notice to be given to all persons and parties interested in the route of said proposed highway, and fully viewed all said parties concerning the prayer of the petition, and now do adjudge that common convenience and necessity require said highway to be laid out as prayed for.

It is therefore Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Arnold's Tavern in said Braintree, on MONDAY, the fourth day of November next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to locate the same; and that an attested copy of this Adjournment and Order, be served upon the Clerk of said town of Braintree, thirty days at least before said day of meeting; that a like copy be published in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, in said County, the last publication thereof to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Braintree, fourteen days at least before the day of meeting aforesaid, that all parties and persons interested, may then and there appear and be heard, if they see cause.

By the County Commissioners, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Attest, A true Copy of the original Adjournment on file and Order therein. Braintree, October 5, 1850.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Estate of the Goods and Estate of DAVID VINING, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to DAVID VINING, Administrator de bonis non. Weymouth, Sept. 30th, 1850.

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed Assignee of the Estate of JONATHAN BURGIN, (an Insolvent debtor), and that the second meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of Francis Hilliard Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency, on Saturday the fifth day of October, at ten o'clock in the forenoon—at which meeting Creditors may present and prove their claims.

A. CHURCHILL, Assignee.

Roxbury, Oct. 5th.

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds. Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th.

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States; being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS AND SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior luster and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins,

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merino's, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Cases, Linings, Shirts, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Boyles, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Corsets, and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASHMERES.

EMBROIDERED RIES.

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

SH

Road Notice.

of the County Commissioners at Dedham term, 1850.—
petition of WARREN MANSFIELD and presented December term, 1850, praying public highway may be laid out in Brain-county, from a point near the house of niman, on Liberty street, over lands of niman, on said petition to a point near Hoson W. Waite, on Hancock Street, persons, after causing due notice to be all persons and parties interested met, route of said proposed highway, and full-said parties concerning the prayer of the now do adjudge that common conveni-necessity require said highway to be laid out for

fore Ordered, that the County Commissioners at Arnold's Tavern in said Brain-county, the fourth day of November of the clock in the forenoon, and thence thence the same; and that an attested Adjudication and Order, be served upon said town of Braintree, thirty days at said day of meeting; that a copy be
of the clock in the forenoon, and thence in said County, the last publication there-three days at least before said day of ad that like copies be posted up in two or places in said Braintree, fourteen days before the day of meeting aforesaid, that all persons interested, may then and there be heard, if they see cause.

By the County Commissioners,
EZEK W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
of the original Adjudication on file
therein.

EZEK W. SAMPSON, Clerk. of the original Adjudication on file
therein.

Administrator's Notice.

is hereby given, that the subscriber has been appointed Administrator of the estate of said Estate of

DAVID VINING,
in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, and has accepted said trust. And all persons hands upon the Estate of the said deceased to exhibit the same, and all persons into make payment to D VINING, Administrator of bonis non.
th, Sept. 30th, 1850.

Assignee's Notice.

is hereby given that the undersigned been appointed Assignee of the Estate of JONATHAN BURGIN, debtor; and that the second meeting of
will be held at the office of Francis Hill, Commissioner of Insolvency, on Saturday of October, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting Creditors may present and claim.

A. CHURCHILL, Assignee.
Oct. 5th. 3w

Notice.

subscribers return their thanks to their
and the public generally who have favor-with their custom, and would say to those reaching goods, that we intend keeping of English, West India goods and all kinds.
of Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegwhich will be sold as low as can be bought for cash or credit.
or by the barrel or bag, as low as can be made delivered as usual.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Oct. 5th. 3w

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!
REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

at 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

the largest sales room in the United States

measuring 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

invite the attention of Purchasers to their

of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and va-

Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

Woolen and SATINS

quality, style and price, in new and beautiful novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses,

BLACK SILKS,

red silk, of superior luster and durability,

beautiful watered & plain Poplins,

LESS AND CLOAK GOODS,

in large and various, comprising all costs,

from the lowest to the most costly.

Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, ambies to match, in all colors and shades.

USE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Sherrings, Pillow Case Linens,

musans, Damask Table Covers, Napkins,

French, Linens, Blankets, Quilts, Comforts.

AD CLOTHES & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

the largest assortment in the city.

VERY AND GLOVES,

HATS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

kerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

Articles usually found in different stores

may be found in this Establishment, which will be fairly shown, and customers receiving the most respectful attention, and the goods at uniform low prices, as we own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

at Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors
below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.
The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin
board.
Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY
WARE, &c.
All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.
No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

Insolvent Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly chosen and appointed Assignee of the Estate of
LINCOLN NEWTON
of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, an Insolvent debtor, and that the second meeting of his creditors will be held at the Commissioner's office in Roxbury on the eighteenth day of October, at three o'clock in the afternoon; at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.
By order of the Commissioner of Insolvency
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Assignee.
Roxbury, Oct. 5th. 3w

Whitney Blankets and Comforters.

ALL sizes for sale
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply
to JOHN WHICHER.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. 3w

New Mouslin De Laines and Prints.

JUST received and for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid
Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great variety, for sale at the very lowest prices,
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,
OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices.
Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3w

Flour Barrels.

A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of
GENERAL JACKSON OGLE, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, laborer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to
WM. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.
Quincy, Sept. 28, 1850. 3w

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stetson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 28. 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels
Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 3w

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT,

NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 21. 3w

Wool Frocking.

200 to 300 yds of all WOOL FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKING ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 29. 3w

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camp's Spanish Lustral, or mediated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorion scalp rest; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 3w

Mous. De Laines.

NEW Styles just received, the best assortment in Quincy, and for sale at the very lowest prices by
GEO. SAVILL & Co., Washington St. Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 3w

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers,
twenty barrels extra Cider Vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. 3w

Insolvency Notice.

NORFOLK SS. The fourth meeting of the creditors of THOS S ELLIS, of Weymouth, an Insolvent debtor, will be held before Francis Hillard, Esq., at his office in Roxbury, on MONDAY, Oct. 14th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

GILMAN THOMPSON, Assignee.
Weymouth, Sept. 27, 1850. 3w

Exposition des Nouveautés

AT THE

LADIES' EXCHANGE,

192 Washington Street,
and 1 Hawley Street, Boston.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.,

RESPECTFULLY GIVE NOTICE

OF THE

ARRIVAL AND OPENING.

of their large importation of

Rich and Beautiful Goods,

For their Full Sales.

Being Selections from all the new and choice styles

of LONG and SQUARE

SHAWLS,

DRESS AND CLOAK SILKS,

Cashmere D'Esosse, Mousseline DeLaine, and all

other new Dress Fabrics. Cloak Goods,

Velvets, Thibets, Cashmeres and

Merinos; Embroideries;

Laces; Scarfs.

Mourning Goods,

of every description.

Hosiery, Gloves, etc., which are to appear this Season, in PARIS and LONDON.

—ALSO—

A COMPLETE STOCK OF

STAPLE GOODS.

Linens, Sheetings of all widths; Linen Shirts and

Frontings; Damask and Damask Cloths; Nap-

kins and Doilies to match; Blankets. Flan-

nels, Counterpanes, Cottons, Furnitures,

Table and Piano Cloths, and all other

HOUSE-FURNISHING ARTICLES

in all of which we are careful to have fabrics which will give satisfaction.

Having added a new building, One Hundred Feet

Long, two stories high, for our Wholesale Trade,

thus extending our Store through to Hawley street,

and entirely refitted our former Store, exclusively for our Retail Trade, we have now

THE LONGEST STORE

In the United States.

Being 250 feet by 31, and filled with the richest and best Selected Stock it has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers; and a price

has been added to each article which we feel assured will be perfectly satisfactory to the buyer.

ONE PRICE ONLY.

Geo. W. Warren & Company.

Boston, Sept. 21. 1850. 3w

LADIES

OF Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON.

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest

Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors,

ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMAN MERINOS

Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other

Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present

Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our

intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER

PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether

we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers

who daily throng our Establishment, shew.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by

the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of Importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular,

where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles

of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you

to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than

at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

POETRY.

(From the London Court Magazine) NIGHT.

Night sinks upon the dim grey wave,
Night clouds the spires that mark the town,
On living rest and grassy grave
The shadowy night comes slowly down;
And now the good and happy rest,
The wearied peasant calmly sleeps,
And closer to its mother's breast
The rosy child in slumber creeps.

Bur I!—The sentry musing lone—
The sailor, on the cold gray sea,
So sad a watch have never known,
As that which must be kept by me.
I cannot rest, thou solemn night!
Thy very silence hath the power
To conjure sounds and visions bright,
Unseen—unheard—in daylight's hour.

Kind words, whose echo will not stay,
Memory of deep and bitter wrongs;
Laughter, whose sound hath died away,
And snatches of forgotten songs—
These haunt my soul; and as I gaze
Up to the calm and quiet moon,
I dream 'tis morning's breeze that plays,
Or sunset hour, or sultry noon.

I hear again thy voice whose tone
Is more to me than music's sound,
And youthful forms forever gone,
Come in their beauty crowding round.
I start—the mocking dreams depart,
Thy loved words melt on the air,
And whether swells or sinks my heart,
Thou dost not know—thou dost not care!

Perchance while thus I watch unseen,
Thy languid eyelids slowly close,
Without a thought of what hath been,
To haunt thee in thy deep repose.
Oh! weary night! Oh! endless night!
Blank pause between two feverish days,
Roll back your shadows, give me light,
Give me the sunshine's fiercest blaze!

SONG OF THE EDITOR.

Dedicated to his delinquent "Patrons."
AIR—"Then you'll remember me."
When other bills and other duns
Their tales of woe shall tell,
Of notes in bank without "the funds,"
And cotton hard to sell;
There may, perhaps, in such a scene
Some recollection be
Of bills that longer due have been,
And you'll remember me!

When "hard up" customers shall wring
Your heart with hopes in vain,
And deem it but a trifling thing
To tell you "call again;"
When "calling" proves a useless task,
Without the "lawyer's" fee,
In such a moment I but ask
That you'll remember me!

THE SEASON.

Summer's gone and e'er!
Fogs are falling down,
And with sunset tinges,
Autumn's doing brown.
Boughs are daily rifled
By the gusty thieves,
And the Book of Nature,
Getteth short of leaves.

Round the tops of houses,
Swallows as they flit,
Give, like yearly tenants,
Notices to quit.

Skies, of fickle temper,
Weep by turns and laugh—
Night and Day together,
Taking half and half.

So September endeth—
Cold and most perverse,
But the months that follow,
Sure will pitch us worse!

A NECDOTES.

"Pappa," Why don't they give the telegraph wires a dose of gin?"
"Why, my child?"
"Because the papers say they are out of order, and mamma always takes gin when she is out of order."

"Mother sent me," said a little girl to a neighbor,
"to ask you to come and take tea with her this evening."
"Did she say at what time, my dear?"
"No, ma'am; she only said she would ask you, and then the thing would be off her mind; that was all she said."

An Irish student was once asked what was meant by posthumous works. "They are such works," says Paddy, "as a man writes after he is dead."

It is said, nowadays, that when a girl entices a young man to the altar, she draws the beau into a knot.

A young lady from the country being invited to a party, was told by her city cousin to fix up and put her best foot foremost, in order to catch a beau, "she looked so green in her country attire." The country lady looked comically into the face of her rather fa-tured relative, and replied, "better green than withered."

Mrs. E. Hayden,

GRATEFUL for the patronage
she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends
and the public an ENLARGED
STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT
DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glass
es; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain,
Ivory and silver, with and without Bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India
Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Blistering Paper, and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving
the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodeled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly,
where he is keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS
COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring
styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13.

Roberts' Great Southern and WESTERN ROUTE.

GENERAL Ticket and Freight Office, for all parts of the West, No. 54 Broad Street, Boston, up stairs. Passengers and Families going West, can be forwarded by this line, cheaper than by any other in the city.

A Catalogue of Route Places, Time and Rates of Fares from Boston. General Ticket Office for all parts of the South and West,
54 BROAD STREET.

Trains leave Boston every day. (Sundays excepted) at 8 A. M., and 4 P. M., and New York trains, at
5 P. M.

A. J. ROBERTS,

General Agent, Office, No. 54 Broad Street,

Up Stairs, Boston.

REFERENCES.

Isaac H. Wright, Navy Agent, Doane Street.
Ruggles, Nourse & Mason, Quincy Hall Market.
F. E. White, 22 Long Wharf.
Roberts & Garfield, Times Office.

Boston, May 25.

Thin Hats.

A LARGE assortment of Summer hats consisting of PEARL, LEIGHORN, RUTLAND, STRAW, PALM LEAF, etc.
Also—A large assortment of fine Black Mole Skin Hats, Men and Boys' Cloth and Glazed Caps, etc., for sale at the lowest cash prices.

Quincy, June 22d.

A. B. PACKARD

if

Particular Notice.

PURCHASERS OF READY MADE CLOTH-ING, are respectfully invited to call at ROUGH AND READY HALL,
and examine the Stock of

GENTEEL READY MADE CLOTHING,

Just manufactured by the Subscribers for Spring Sales—and to which additions will be made throughout the season—all of which will be sold at the lowest prices, and satisfaction guaranteed.

By GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
ROUGH AND READY HALL,
Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, March 23d.

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by
the subscribers

Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.

JOHN GLOVER.

JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29.

Notice.

MISS PACKARD would inform the inhabitants of Quincy, that she proposes opening a School, in which will be taught all the English Branches, Drawing, Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, on the 15th of April. Terms, $5 00.

Quincy, March 23.

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50
cts per bushel by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

LAST OPPORTUNITY

Hawes'

DAGUERRETYPE SALOON.

WILL remain at Quincy but a few days longer.
Those desirous of procuring good pictures, can here procure any style of picture they desire.

This establishment is provided with an apparatus and an operator that will make pictures of small children, a little quicker, and groups of families, and persons with light eyes as good as can be procured in the city.

All pictures taken at this Saloon that do not suit their friends, will be taken over without expense.
All are invited to call and examine specimens.

Quincy, Sept. 12th.

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle.

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air-Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleas-
ing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and DURABILITY, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.
Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town,
E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECON-
OMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.
JUST RECEIVED AT THE
TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING
Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can still BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PAN-
TALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly,
Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.

Quincy, Dec. 22.

Furniture.

HAVING enlarged my room I have added to my stock an assortment of FURNITURE, to which I would call the attention of all who are in want of any article in that line.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Oct. 20.

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

Quincy, March 24th.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 9th.

D. BAXTER & Co.

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANT-ED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Hancock St., Quincy.

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 16th.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Crocery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns.

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls,

and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1.

The Circassian Oil.

THIS OIL has now obtained a celebrity worthy its high intrinsic merits. The sales have steadily increased and in public estimation it supersedes all other preparations for the HAIR. The proprietor is constantly receiving testimonials of its great efficacy in restoring the hair in cases of baldness, and it has also been signally successful in curing the various scurfy affections to which the head and hair is subject. Parents will find the Cir-cassian Oil an article of incalculable benefit to children, in laying the foundation of a

Healthy and beautiful Head of Hair.

Manufactured and for sale by the proprietor, JO-SEPH RICHARDS, Quincy. Also, for sale by Dr.
WILLIAM B. BUGBEE.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by S. W. FOWLE, 138 Court Street, and by Mrs. E. KIDDER &
Co., 100 Court Street, Boston.

Dec 15

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.
By attention to business and promptness to orders
a liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy, April 13th.

RALPH LOWE.

House Lots!!

FOR SALE, a House Lot situated on Common Street, Quincy, having a good cellar, three steps and underpinning, two good wells of water and thirteen Fruit Trees upon the same.

Inquire of the subscriber, on Cross Street.

Quincy, June 13.

JOHN D. THAYER.

Bacon & Beef.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

Quincy, March 24.

D. BAXTER & Co.

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th.

Improved Washing Fluid.

THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.

Directions for Using.

1st. Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if you have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 minutes and wring out.
2d. Mix 1 1/2 pint of the fluid with 2 pailsful or 5 gallons of water, and when warm put in the clothes and boil briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasionally with the stick. Take them out, drain off the fluid and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub the soiled parts a little in this first water—then rinse well in clear cold water and the washing is done.
3. The same mixture will answer for several lots.
Or, if more is required, add a wine glass full or 1 1/2
gills of fluid to each gallon of water.
4. Colored clothes and bannels may be washed in the first rinsing water.

For sale by D. BAXTER & CO.

Agents for the Manufacturer.

Quincy, August 31.

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has now on hand

AT THE LOWEST PRICES,

a good assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,

ALL WOOL and FANCY DALAINES;
Lancaster GINGHAMS;
Colored and Black ALPACCAS;
Mourning and Fancy Plaid LONG SHAWLS
Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;
White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed
FLANNELS;
Cotton Flannels;

An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.
Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc, etc.
He invites the attention of those in want.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copland, it being more convenient and better adapted to his business; and also,
would tender his sincere
thanks for the liberal share of
patronage which he has received during the past year.

His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves,
among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a cheap and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz, the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great reponsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean.
Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-
INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter,

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31.

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by
the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy March 9th.

Notice.

W. & L. LITCHFIELD have taken as a partner
DAVID C. LITCHFIELD, on the 11th inst
and the style of the firm will hereafter be

W. LITCHFIELD & CO.

PAINTING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and promptly

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Published every Saturday Morning, over Messrs. Josiah Brigham & Co's Store, in Hancock Street.

NUMBER 42.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS and FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY, Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT, New York City.

MISCELLANY.

YARNS BEFORE THE MAST.

BY SAM RUFES.

"Hard down your helm, there! let go everything fore and aft," shouted the captain, as the ship struck hard on one of the Little Isaacs, where a strong current had swept her. In a moment, tanks and sheers were started, and royals, topgallant sails and topsails came down by the run. The passengers were very much alarmed, and for a few moments everything was in confusion. After thumping for several minutes with the swell, the ship appeared to have drifted over.

"Get the anchor over the bow, there, Mr. Barnacle," shouted the captain again.

"Aye, aye, sir," replied the mate.

The rattling of the chain cable, and the cry of the crew prevailed for some time, when the anchor was let go, and then all again was quiet. The ship was making water fast. The breeze that had died away, now sprung up again; the windlass was manned, the anchor catted, and we once more stood on our course, all hands being kept at the pumps. The next night we made Key West light, and ran in to repair damages. About ten days previous it had been blowing a norther, and a large English ship had been wrecked there.

One evening, an old wrecker, named "Uncle Billy," came on board to see us. "Uncle Billy," is as well known in Key West, as the light-house itself. He had been an old man-of-war's-man, and had been some years in the whaling service. He is a tall, raw-boned man, of a little over six feet in height, with a keen gray eye, and is known for his daring, and his generosity of heart. As we were sitting around the fore-castle, speaking of the late wreck of the English ship, Uncle Billy said,—

"Well my lads, I've seen many a shipwreck, and have been often wrecked myself in my day, but I have seldom seen as rough a time as when that ship was lost. There was a young girl on board, who had shipped as a sailor boy, that I saved from the wreck."

"Tell us that yarn," said Charley, who was fond of the romantic, as he handed a taut of grog to old Billy.

"Well, I don't mind," said Uncle Billy, wiping his lips, and taking a fresh chew of tobacco. "The gale set in in the afternoon," said Uncle Billy, "and after sun-down it blew so hard that it threatened to carry the houses off the key. A number of us were sitting in Antonio's coffee house, about 7 o'clock that night, and you could hear the roar of the surf breaking over the south beach, and when that is the case it blows something harder than a royal mudding sail breeze. As the gale whistled over the key, the booming of a cannon was suddenly heard. 'There,' cried Barney, an Irish sailor, who had been a smuggler on the coast of England, 'that fellow knows what whar he's got alongside by this time. Without heaving the blue pigeon' (the deep sea lead).—We all started to our feet and went down to the wharf to catch the direction of the sound of the guns, which were now frequently heard. 'She must be on the reef,' said I, 'and if so, she'll hardly hold together till morning. Who will go out with me to the wreck?' 'We will, answered a couple of lads that belonged to my little craft. And so they would, too, or where any other man dare go. 'Blazes,' cried Barney, 'are ye mad; is it to go out ye would, such a night as this? Be me sowl, I wouldn't go if her cargo was gold dust and I'd get half for salvage.' 'No,' said one of the lads, 'where there are lives to be saved, who ever heard of Barney the Smuggler lending a hand?' Barney gave the lad a black look and raised his hand, but it wouldn't have done for him to have struck the boy while I was by, and he knew it; so muttering to himself, he walked off. The booming of the cannon was still occasionally heard, as if imploring assistance.

'Well, boys,' said I, 'what say you, shall we try for the wreck?' 'We can't more than try,' said they, 'and if the surf is too bed we can come back.' So we started down to my little wrecker, and getting everything ready, we furled the foresail, took in all of the mainsail and jib but a couple of handfulls of canvas, and stuck her out. It was a dirty looking sky, and yet it was not a very dark night, though there was a wilderness about it which seemed to tempt one to go forth and encounter its dangers. There was a tremendous heavy sea on, and the ground swell only made it worse. The schooner behaved like a queen though, and rode the seas like a duck. We kept on, following the sound of the guns, but I did not want that for a guide though, for I knew just as well where the ship lay as if I had run her ashore myself. She was hard and fast on the wreckers' shelf. We stood off out of the breakers and ran outside the inner reef, into about six fathoms. I knew every inch of the ground, and thought I would run down along the reef to the shelf. It was too hazardous though, for the seas were so awful, that when our little craft would glide down from the cap of a mountain wave, it would almost take away your breath, and the lads with me said we had better run farther out, and then stick her in for the reef; so we wore the schooner and stood out. On the next tack we stood in, and caught a glimpse of the light of the ship. Our little craft struggled along under her canvas, and when a sea would meet her she would shake in every timber. It was a grand scene to look at. The whole reef was lit up for miles by the white-foam of the fearful breakers, as they chased each other rapidly, and dashed over the reef. We had run in now as close as we dared go.

"The wind howled through the rigging of the vessel, and the roar of the surf was so great that it was impossible to hear any thing; but now and then we thought we heard a faint murmuring sound of voices, as if screaming and calling for help. There lay the ship, with a terrific sea breaking over her and loosening the timbers every moment. The agony and distress that prevailed on board must have been terrible. It was a case of hopelessness, for we could not get near enough to render any assistance. It was a heart rending scene that reached the deepest lockers of the heart, and would have brought the salt water to the eyes of a pirate. For if you know," said Uncle Billy, with the milk of human kindness gleaming in his gray eyes, "what it is to see deep distress, and not be able to lend a hand—you can tell by dead reckoning how we felt that night."

"The gale did not seem to abate, and there was great danger of our little craft being swamped at every moment, so that the boys, as well as myself, began to think that we had better look to the safety of our own lives. It was impossible to board the ship, and it would have been madness to attempt it, so we hove round out of the surf as it were, and stood off and on until daylight. It was the most perilous night that I ever went through, and as during a thing as I ever did in my life, and I am sure I would never risk it over again, for at times it seemed as if we would go down in spite of us. At day-break the next morning, the gale had subsided, and the sea was fast going down. We stood in for the ship, and found her a complete wreck. Her masts and bulwarks were all gone, and she had struck amidships on the reef, she had broken her back. The sea was still very rough, and as we ran round to leeward, I discovered some of her mizen rigging hanging off her quarter deck. I hailed several times, but no one answered, so I told the boys to watch a chance and run under her quarter, and that I would catch hold of the rigging and try to board her. It was a dangerous thing, but with those two lads, I would undertake any thing most. As the sea lulled, we ran close to her, and I succeeded in getting in her mizen chains just as the schooner ran off again to keep out of the surf.

"When I got on deck, I found several of the crew, who had lashed themselves in the rigging, quite dead. I went down in the cabin, and found several ladies lying dead; some in their berths and others on the floor, which was covered with water. Two others, however, showed signs of life, and taking a flask of brandy from the bosom of my shirt, which I had brought with me, I applied it to their lips, which revived them. I then went forward, and found a lad and two sailors in the fore-castle quite dead. I also gave them some brandy, and chafed their temples, which soon brought them to, and with great difficulty I got them on deck. The ship had already nearly parted amidships, and it was clear that she would not hang together long. By great exertions I succeeded in getting the sailors and the boy aft, and then went and brought the two ladies on deck. How to get them on board my little craft, was my next trouble. There was no time to be lost, however, and I determined to try and drop them, one by one, into the schooner, as she ran alongside, for the sea was so high it would not do to keep the schooner a moment for fear of her bronching to. I hailed the boys and told them to look out for a chance to run alongside. I then made a rope fast to the mizen chains to support myself, and lifting one of the bodies over, held her so I could drop her in the schooner as she ran up. In this way I succeeded in getting them all on board, and jumped in myself, just as a heavy sea parted the ship. We then put a little more canvas on our craft, and ran in safe. Every one on the Key had given us up for lost, as they thought no small craft of our size could have lived that night. Well, the sailors and the ladies were all taken up to a house and well cared for. The little sailor boy was very sick, and during his illness the women discovered that he was a young girl. She told a sad story of her hardships, and how she was coming to this country in search of her brother. She is as pretty a black-eyed piece as you would wish to look at, and plays on the piano and sings like a lark. As I knew the poor thing had no money, I sent her up three or four ounces to buy things, for as long as I've got a shot in the locker, I wouldn't see any woman suffer. Old Mrs. Martin takes mighty good care of her, and the others have also got well, and they are only waiting for a chance to go to New York."

Old Uncle Billy's story was listened to with great attention, and after he finished, we all took another taut round, when Uncle Billy bid us good night, and we turned in.

ROMANCE IN SHIPWRECK.

Many interesting as well as painful incidents connected with the explosion and wreck of the Pulaski Steamer, (which occurred some ten or fifteen years ago,) are related by those who were saved from destruction. Amongst others, the following is told of a Mr. Ridge from New Orleans, and a Miss Onslow, from one of the Southern States—Two of the unfortunate who were picked up on the fifth day, about fifty miles from land. It is stated of the gentleman, that he had been sitting on the deck alone, for half an hour previous to the accident. Another gentleman, who was waking near him at the time of the explosion, was thrown overboard, and himself was precipitated nearly over the side of the boat and stunned. He recovered immediately, as he supposed, when he heard some one remark—"Get out the boat—she is sinking." He was not acquainted with a solitary individual in the boat. Under such circumstances, it is natural to suppose he would feel quite as much concern for himself as for any one else. He was consequently among the foremost of those who sought the boat for safety, and was about to step into it, when he discovered a young lady whom he recognised as one whose appearance had sundry times during the passage arrested his attention. Her protector was the gentleman who was walking on deck and thrown overboard. He sprang towards her to take her into the small boat—she, and he supposed she was with some other friend. During this fruitless search, the small boat shoved off. The night rang with the prayers and shrieks of the helpless and drowning. He turned away in despair, and tumbled over a coil of small rope. Hope, like the aspiring spark, brightened again. He caught up the rope—lashed together a couple of settees—threw them upon a piece of old sail, and a small empty cask, and thus equipped, launched upon the elements.

It was all the work of a moment. He believed death inevitable, and that effort was his last grasp for life. His vessel bore him up much better than he expected, and he was consoling himself with his escape, such as it was, while others were perishing all around him, when he discovered a female struggling for life almost within his grasp. He left his ark-swam but twice his length—seized his object—and returned safely to his craft, which proved sufficient to sustain them both, but with their heads and shoulders only above the water.

The female was the young lady for whom he had lost a passage in the small boat. She fancied their boat would be unable to support them both, and said—"You will have to let me go to save yourself." He replied, "We live, or we die together."

Soon after they drifted upon a piece of the wreck, probably a part of the same floor or partition, torn asunder by the explosion. This, with the aid of the settees fastened beneath it, proved sufficient to keep them out of the water. About this time, one of the small boats came towards them, but already heavily loaded. He implored them to take in the young lady. But she said no, she could not leave him. They were fairly at sea, without the least morsel to eat or drink, in a scorching climate.

Of the boat which bore them all in quiet and safety but a half hour before, nothing was to be seen but scattered pieces of the wreck. The small boats were on their way towards the shore; their own craft being light and lightly loaded, drifted far away from a scene indescribably heart-rending, and which he still shudders to think of.

At daylight nothing was visible to them but the heavens and a waste of waters. In the course of the day they came in sight of land, and for a time were confident of reaching it; but during the succeeding night the wind changed, and soon after daylight next morning it vanished again, and with all their lively hopes of escaping their dreadful dilemma. On the third day a sail hove in sight, but she was entirely beyond hailing distance. When found, they were sadly burned by the sun—starved and exhausted, though still in possession of their faculties, and able to move and talk. But their pain and suffering was not without its pleasure and enjoyment. The romantic part of the story of their expedition is yet to come, and there is no telling how much longer they would have subsisted on the same food that seems to have aided in sustaining them so well such a length of time.

The intrepidity he displayed—the risk he ran—the danger he incurred—and above all, the magnanimity he evinced in saving her life strangers as they were to each other, at the imminent hazard of his own, elicited from her at once the warmest and strongest feelings of gratitude toward him, and before the tortures of hunger and thirst commenced, kindled that passion which burns nowhere else as it turns in woman's bosom.

On the other hand, her good sense, her fortitude, and presence of mind at the most perilous moment, and particularly her readiness to meet and share with him the fate which awaited them, excited on his part an attachment which was neither to be disguised nor deferred. And there, upon the "waters wild," amid the terrors which surrounded them, and the fate which threatened them, in presence of an all-seeing God, did they pledge their mutual love, and declare if their lives were spared the destiny which misfortune had united, should then be made inseparable.

After their rescue, he informed her that a sense of duty impelled him to apprise her, that by the misfortune which had befallen them, he had lost every dollar he possessed on earth, (amounting to $25,000) that he was in "poverty to his very lips"—a beggar amongst strangers, without the means of paying for a single meal of victuals; and painful as was the thought of separation to him, he offered to release her from her engagement, if it was her choice to leave him. She burst into tears at the very thought of separation, and asked him if he thought it was possible for the poverty of this world to drive them to a more dreadful extremity than that which they had suffered thus together. He assured her of his willingness to endure for her the same trial again, and if the joy, more than he could express, which he felt at finding her so willing to fulfil her engagement, which, it is said, was soon after consummated. It was not till then that he was made acquainted with the fact that his lady-love was heiress to an estate worth $200,000.

TEMPERANCE ANECDOTE.

Rev. T. P. Hunt, the Temperance Lecturer, tells the following story:

A small Temperance Society had been started in a community very much under the control of a rich distiller, commonly called "Bill Myers." This man had several sons who had become drunkards on the facilities afforded by their education at home. The whole family were arrayed against the movement, and threatened to break up any meeting called to promote the object. Learning this, Mr. Hunt went to a neighboring district for temperance volunteers for that particular occasion. He then gave out word for a meeting, and at the same time found his friends and enemies about equal in numbers. This fact prevented any outbreak, but could not prevent noise.

Mr. Hunt mounted his platform, and by a few sharp anecdotes and witty sayings, soon silenced all noise, except the sturdy "Bill Myers"—the old Dutchman crying out, "Mister Hunt, money makes the mare go."

At last, Mr. Hunt stopped and addressed the imperturbable German. "Look here, Bill Myers, you say that money makes the mare go, do you?"

"Yes, dat ish just what I say, Mishter Hunt." "Well Bill Myers, you own and work a distillery, don't you?" inquired Mr. Hunt.

"Dat is none of your business, Mishter Hunt. But den, I ish not ashamed of it. I has got a still, and work it too."

"And you say money makes the mare go—do you mean that I have come here to get the money of these people?"

"Yes, Mishter Hunt, dat ish just what I mean."

"Very well—you work a distillery to make money, and I lecture on temperance to make money, and as you say, 'Money makes the mare go,' Bill Myers, bring out your mare, and I'll bring out mine, and we'll show them together."

By this time, the whole assembly was in a titter of delight, and even Myers' followers could not repress their merriment at the evident embarrassment of their oracle. In the mean time, we must premise that Mr. Hunt knew a large number of the drunkards present, and among them, the sons of Myers himself.

"Bill Myers, who is that holding himself up by that tree?" inquired Mr. Hunt, pointing to a young man so drunk that he could not stand alone.

The old man started as if stung by an adder, was obliged to reply: "Dat ish my son; but what of dat, Mishter Hunt?"

"Good deal, of that, Bill Myers; for I guess that son has been riding your mare, and got thrown to!"

Here there was a perfect roar from all parts of the assembly, and, as soon as order was restored, Mr. Hunt proceeded, as he pointed to another son;

"Bill Myers, who is that staggering about as if his legs were as weak as potato vines after frost?"

"Well, I suppose, dat ish my son, too," replied the old man, with a crest fallen look.

"He has been riding your mare, too, and got a tumble."

At this point the old man put up both hands in a most imploring manner, and exclaimed: "Now, Mishter Hunt, if you won't say any more, I will be still."

This announcement was received with a roar of applause and laughter, and from that moment Mr. Hunt had all the ground to himself.

A WALTZ WITH A HIPPOPOTAMUS.

There were four of them, three cows and an old bull; they stood in the middle of the river, and though alarmed, did not appear aware of the extent of the impending danger. I took the sea cow next to me, and with the first ball gave her a mortal wound, knocking loose a great plate on the top of her skull. She at once commenced plunging round, and round, and then occasionally remained still, sitting for a few minutes on the same spot. On hearing the report of my rifle two of the others took up stream, and the fourth dashed down the river; they trotted along, like oxen, at a smart pace as long as the water was shallow. I was now in a state of very great anxiety about my wounded sea-cow, for I feared that she would get down into deep water and be lost like the last one; her struggles were still carrying her down stream, and the water was becoming deeper. To settle the matter, I fired a second shot from the bank, which, entering the roof of her skull, passed out through her eye; she then kept continually splashing round and round in a circle in the middle of the river. I had great fears of the crocodiles, and I did not know that the sea-cow might not attack me. My anxiety to secure her, however, overcame all hesitation; so divesting myself of my leathers, and armed with a sharp knife, I dashed into the water, which at first took me up to my armpits but in the middle was shallower. As I approached Behemoth, her eye looked very wicked. I halted for a moment, ready to dive under the water if she attacked me, but she was stunned, and did not know what she was doing; so running in upon her, and seizing her short tail, I attempted to incline her course to land. It was extraordinary what enormous strength she still had in the water. I could not guide her in the slightest, and she continued to splash, and plunge, and blow, and make her circular course, carrying me along with her as if I was a fly on her tail. Finding her tail gave me but a poor hold, as the only means of securing my prey, I took out my knife, and cutting two deep parallel incisions on her rump, and lifting this skin from the flesh, so that I could get in my two hands, I made use of this as a handle; and after some desperate hard work, sometimes pulling, the sea-cow continuing her circular course all the time, and I holding on at her rump like grim Death, eventually I succeeded in bringing this gigantic and most powerful animal to the bank. Here the Bushman quickly brought me a stout buffalo-rhein from my horse's neck, which I passed through the opening in the thick skin, and moored Behemoth to a tree. I then took my rifle, and sent a ball through the centre of her head, and she was numbered with the dead. Cum gratias Agitur in South America.

WHO HAD A HAND IN IT.

The following squib was "perpetrated" in one of the public schools in Philadelphia county: I am not aware of its ever having appeared in print, and it's too good to be lost. It seems that a few hours exemption from mischief had greatly enlarged the bump of "trickery" in the upper stories of some of the young "ideas," and they took and sneered the balustrades from top to bottom with tar, and when the master came in, he very naturally laid his hand on it when he mounted the stairs. He was soon aware of his sad mishap, but said nothing about it until the scholars had been called in and had taken their seats, when he acquainted them with the fact, and said he would give any one five dollars who would inform him who had a hand in it. At this moment, up jumped a little red-headed urchin, who said:

"Thir, you seth you'll give any one five dollars who'll tell you who had a hand in it?"

"Yes."

"Now, thir, you'll not whip me, will you?"

"No."

"Well, thir, y— Now, you want whip?"

"You young scamp, I'll lick you if you don't tell pretty soon."

"Thir, y-o-u—O, I don't like to."

"Go on, or I'll skin you alive!"

"Well, thir, you had a hand in it!"

The master gave in, and forked over.

PUNCTUALITY.

Ah! that's the word—"punctuality!"—Did you ever see a man who was punctual, who did not prosper in a long run? We don't care who or what he was—high or low, black or white, ignorant or learned, savage or civilized—we know if he did as he agreed, and was punctual in all his engagements, he prospers; and was more respected than his shiftless, lying neighbor.

Men who commence business, should be careful how they neglect their obligations and break their word. A person who is prompt, can always be accommodated, and is therefore, "lord over another man's purse," as Franklin would say. Never make promises upon uncertainties. Although the best men may sometimes fail to do as they would, the case is extremely rare. He that is prompt to fulfil his word, will never make a promise where it is not next to a moral certainty that he can do as he agrees. If you would succeed, be punctual to the hour. Return borrowed money the moment you promised. In all things if you are thus prompt, we will risk you through life:—you will succeed—you cannot help it. Those who are prompt in their business affairs, are generally so in every department of duty.—You never know them to be late at church, to the polls or to bed. A promptness in every thing characterises them. May you be thus prompt.

Improved Washing Fluid.

THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.

Directions for Using.

Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 min. and wring out.

Mix 1 1/2 a pint of the fluid with 2 pailfuls of water, and when warm put in the clothes and briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasion, with the stick. Take them out, drain off the and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub solid parts a little in this first water—then rinse in clear cold water and the washing is done.

The same mixture will answer for several lots. More is required, add a wine glass full or 1 1/2 of fluid to each gallon of water.

Colored clothes and flannels may be washed in just rising water.

For sale by D. BAXTER & CO., Agents for the Manufacturer. Quincy, August 31.

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has on hand and

AT THE LOWEST PRICES,

an assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,

ALL WOOL AND FANCY DELAINES;

Lancaster GINGHAMS;

Colored and Black ALPACCAS;

Montreal and Fancy Plaid LONG SHAWLS

Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;

White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed

FLANNELS;

Cotton Flannels;

An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.

Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc., etc.

Invites the attention of those in want.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building formerly erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, at being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year.

Former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, which is the New England Air-Tight, and in the highest degree of perfection, every and quality requisite for any latitude. This represents itself externally in a plain dress, with and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a classic and tastefully made piece of Cabinet work. Internally, the location and capacity of the fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the smoke often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely the same as the one used in the best of the and most perfect, ever constructed in a family. The Flue, upon which the great responsibility of reputation of a stove depends, differ from any before used, and are of such construction and as to ensure the most perfect draught, with ability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. One hundred of this stove have been sold the year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of N. BRITAIN SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan. 12.

W. Porter,

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

LAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31

Salt Pork.

BEST ESTATE article of Salt Pork, packed by subscribers, for sale, by the barrel or smaller as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th,

Notice.

A. L. LITCHFIELD has taken as a partner

DAVIS C. LITCHFIELD, on the 11th inst.

style of the firm will hereafter be

W. LITCHFIELD & CO.

PAINTING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and

done; and orders are respectfully solicited

by, March 16th,

Beef and Pork.

me lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can bought elsewhere.

FRESH BEEF and PORK, constantly on and delivered to any part of the town free of

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, March 16th,

Paper Hangings.

400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th

atches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B.

FOSTER, 29 Tremont

OLD COLONY RAIL ROAD.

A majority of stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad, dissatisfied with the conduct of its former Board of Directors, put in one of their own selection, in hopes of raising the income and paying a dividend to its stockholders. Time enough has elapsed to speak of the principal laid down by the Board for its action, and of the effects likely to be produced by their control of the property of the Corporation.

Some of the principles sustained and carried out by the Board, are 1st, a high rate of passenger fare of three cents per mile.

2d, To limit and contract the accommodations of the travelling public require.

The withdrawing of accommodations to its travel, with the high rates of fare, have had a tendency to exasperate the people on the line of the road and branches. The taking off and putting on trains without due notice to the public, and otherwise pursuing the same vacillating course of management which has heretofore existed, has led the mass of the population to lose the confidence they may have had of any improvement or stability in its administration.

The present course is exasperating the whole public interested in the affair, to the highest degree—compelling citizens to move off the main line of road and its branches, to the city or on the line of other roads, where stability of purpose, and more reasonable rates of fare are to be found.

Some of the grievances which the public have to charge against its direction, are putting on trains and selling season tickets with the understanding of those who purchased that they shall have the accommodation they require.

It is well known that Abington is a town which contributes very largely to the gross income of the road. The people of the town have for two years desired more accommodation than has been usually granted them, by having an early and late train. The towns of Weymouth, Hingham and Cohasset, on the South Shore Railroad, are in the same condition as Abington, in regard to early trains.

The President of the Old Colony has at times given the accommodation asked for. In May of the present year, the early trains were put on at Abington and Cohasset which connected at Braintree and have taken in passengers from Quincy and Dorchester on their own road, and doing their own business.

The Mechanics, merchants and young men, are obliged to be in early and out late. Of these there are large numbers on the South Shore Branch, and at Abington and South Weymouth, who find it indispensable to have such a train or remove from the line of the main road or its branches.

The arrangement of trains upon this road are such, that within a few days, these late trains have been taken from Abington and South Shore Branch, leaving a large number of persons either to go home by the 4-1/2 P.M. train, or remove at once from Abington, South Weymouth, and the whole line of South Shore.

Neither is this all. The Directors have removed, or taken off, a train established nearly at the commencement of the existence of the road—the nine o'clock train from Boston to Braintree.

These vacillating movements, with the high rate of fare, are doing a wonderful work for the stockholder, surely.

If it is given that the road has increased the amount of its income the present year, it is enough to say, the present Directors are not entitled to any credit for the result when it is known one half of the surplus received were received in December, 1859, and the balance, and more, is from gravel, coal and mails, and from the Fall River and Cape Cod Roads under contracts made previously.

The bare facts that the bridge over the Neponset has increased in tolls, $100 per month in some months, over the last year; that no less than nine daily stages in addition to the last year, run from Dorchester and Milton—the Milton stage conveying over 50 passengers per day; and that a large number of families have removed from the main line of the road the present year, to say nothing of the branches—these facts are significant enough to any person but the Directors of the Old Colony Railroad, that they do not obtain nearly all the travel.

If any further comparison is necessary, we refer to the Fall River Railroad, which runs twelve miles over this road at the old established prices of 2 1/2 cents per mile—adding the present year thirty thousand dollars or more addition to all income of receipts.

Enough has been said to satisfy the most credulous in regard to the miserable policy pursued by the President and Directors of the Old Colony Railroad Company.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

OLD COLONY RAIL ROAD.—We would call attention of our readers to an article in our paper of to day in relation to the Old Colony Rail Road. The whole of which article is strictly true, and is a severe rebuke upon the weak, vacillating and inefficient manner in which the road is managed. It has always been a matter of surprise to us, why every effort on the part of the Directors of the Road, has been to depreciate the stock and incommode the travelling public. If the object be to reduce the value of the stock to such a low price that the Directors may purchase with the certainty of a rise under different management—we think that they had better be a little more careful, that the poor patient is not so reduced that he can never recover his former health.

The sudden change of the times of running the trains without due notice, and even with notice, is a great injury to the road, and drives people to other places where the rail roads are directed with more stability. Quincy it is well known has given to the road a large portion of support, and yet it seems that whenever to the very fertile imaginations of the Directors an opportunity has occurred to alter a train which would cause them inconvenience, it has been immediately altered. Whether such was the intention of the Directors, we cannot say—but their course has been such, that if they had that object in view they have succeeded wonderfully well.

Under the present management, the property of the road has been wasted, for when an auction of some land belonging to the Old Colony was sold in the town, some months ago—the cars which brought the auctioneer and others, stopped but a little over five minutes; during which time, the passengers left the cars for the land described—for bids made; land sold—passengers returned to the cars and the cars were on their way to some other station.—There were many persons desirous of purchasing, and hastened to the spot where the cars came along, but could not arrive in season to make a bid. It would be well for the Stockholders to inquire for whose benefit was this excessive haste.

We would call attention to the notice of Mr. Covert's Musical Entertainment, on Monday evening, as possessing some features rarely to be met with. Mons. Barneykey's performance on the Piano is astonishing.

Abortions Arrested.—The Springfield Republic, says,—"Dr. Judson H. Jaques, of Plainfield, Conn., and Dr. I. S. Sperry, of Hartford, a botanic physician, are in custody, charged with having caused the death of a young girl of Killingly, Conn., last Spring in an attempt to produce an abortion. The girl was missed at that time, and has not since been heard from. The alleged facts against the prisoners are, that the girl and her seducer came to Hartford and went on a house on the Albany road, where the two doctors and the brother of Dr. Jaques, (who lived in Manchester, but cannot now be found) attended her, and that she came to her death under their hands. The woman who kept the house, a Mrs. Stewart, has fled. A servant girl has revealed the story.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

Hon. Charles F. Adams, of this town, will deliver the 3d of the course of Lectures the present season, on next Thursday Evening, commencing at half past seven precisely.

Tickets of admission for the present season can be procured at the following places, viz at the Quincy Book Store, at the office of Dr. Bugbee, and at the Store of Daniel Baxter & Co.

The Lyceum Library has been removed to the office of Dr. Goodnow, where members can have access to it daily.

As quite a number of Volumes are missing from the Library, all persons who have books, taken out previously to its removal from Dr. Bugbee's, are requested to return them as soon as convenient, that it may be ascertained how many, and what books are gone.

Per Order, H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Great Attraction.

Mr. Covert will give a Musical Entertainment at Franklin Hall, in South Quincy, on Monday Evening next assisted by Mons. Barneykey, the great Pianist from Sweden, and companion of Jenny Lind.

Ards of Admission 12-1-2 Cents - To be had at the door.

MARRIED.

In Hingham, Oct. 10th, by Rev Mr. STEARNS, MR. THOMAS EUSTIS of this town, to Miss HANNAH WATERMAN, daughter of Martin Russell of that place.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Dress Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirts, Flannels, and

Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House,

Quincy, October 6.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Sept. 30th, 1850. Taken on Execution, and will be sold at Public Auction at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on THURSDAY, the 31st day of October, 1850, at 9 o'clock A. M., all the right in equity which Harvey Field of Quincy in said County, Gentleman, has this day to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:

A certain lot of land containing about fifty acres, altogether, with a dwelling house, barns, and other out buildings thereon standing, bounded on the North West and South, by land of late J. Q. Adams, East by the old Plymouth road, being the farm where the said Field now lives, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy Oct. 12, 1850. 3w

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.

By attention to business and promptness to work a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy, April 13th. 1f

House Lots !!

FOR SALE, a House Lot situated on Common Street, Quincy, having a good cellar, three steps and underpinning, two good wells of water and thirteen Fruit Trees upon the same.

Inquire of the subscriber, on Cr. Street.

Quincy, June 23. 1f

Judd's Medicated Liquid Ointment.

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. 1f

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,

Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE STORE in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain fire ten or twelve hours—are of very handsome appearance, and are sold at lower prices than any other stoves of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in Parlor Stoves ever made. It consists of a large air-heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 19th, 1850. 1f

CHARLES HOLMES.

NEW FALL & WINTER

WILLIAMS' GOODS.

MRS. A. J. KENSON, would tender her grateful acknowledgments to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBONS, FLOWERS, etc., etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—a good variety of Misses and Childrens

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

BONNETS altered, bleached and colored.

For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For dyeing and trimming, 25 cts.; unless extra work be added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone

Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the Will of

ISAAC S. SPAULDING,

late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, Stone Cutter, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ELIZABETH SPAULDING, Executrix.

Milton, October, 19th. 3w

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co.

(who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St.

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE.

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

Please call and examine the elegant Stock of

SHAWLS of all kinds,

SILKS " " "

DE LAINES " " "

PRINTS " " "

HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,

GLOVES and HOSIERY " " "

TRIMMINGS " " "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3m

Insolvency Notice.

TO Francis Hilliard, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency for the county of Norfolk.

Joel E. Holbrook, a creditor of DAVID HOLBROOK, an Insolvent debtor, having procured a claim against him, hereby petitions that the proceedings may be stayed, provided no objection is made by any party interested.

J. E. HOLBROOK.

Upon the foregoing petition—Ordered, that the said Joel E. Holbrook, give notice of the same, and of this order, by publishing said order once in the Quincy Patriot, and thereby notifying all parties interested to appear and show cause, if any; why said petition should not be granted, on the 26th day of October inst., at 9 o'clock A. M., at my office in Roxbury.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Commissioner.

Oct. 19. 1w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the goods and Estate of

ALEXANDER BLANCHARD,

late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, Marineer deceased, and has accepted said trust; and all persons having demand upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to LEUEL HUMPHREY, Administrator.

Weymouth, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3w

Boarders Wanted.

TWO or three persons can be accommodated with board in the centre of the village. Apply to the Office of the QUINCY PATRIOT.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 3w

Granite Stone Cutters Wanted.

50 OR 75 FIRST CLASS CUTTERS, can have immediate employment, and good wages, $2 per day for the months of October and November, and $1 75 per day for the balance of the season; or piece work if preferable to themselves. All tools found but Patent and hand hammers, and the wear of them will be paid for. None but good hands will be employed. Apply to ALEXANDER LAURENCE, Master of Masonry, U. S. Dry Dock, Brooklyn Navy Yard, New York.

New York, Oct. 5th. 3w

To Let.

THE House on Granite Street, belonging to EDWARD HALL. The place produces a large quantity of excellent fruit.

Apply at the House.

Quincy, Oct. 19. 2w

Road Notice.

NORFOLK SS.

A meeting of the County Commissioners at Dedham September term, 1850.—On the petition of WARREN MANSFIELD and others, presented December term, 1849, praying that a new public highway may be laid out in Braintree, in said county, from a point near the house of Samuel Penniman, on Liberty street, over lands of sundry persons named in said petition to a point near the house of Hosea W. Waite, on Hancock Street. The Commissioners, after causing due notice to be given to all persons and parties interested met, viewed the route of said proposed highway, and fully heard all said parties concerning the prayer of the petition, and now do adjudge that common convenience and necessity require said highway to be laid out as prayed for.

It is therefore Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Arnold's Tavern in said Braintree, on MONDAY, the fourth day of November next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to locate the same; and that an attested copy of this Adjourned Order, be served upon the Clerk of said town of Braintree, thirty days at least before said day of meeting; that a like copy be published in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, in said County, the last publication thereof to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Braintree, fourteen days at least before the day of meeting aforesaid, that all parties and persons interested, may then and there appear and be heard, if they see cause.

By the County Commissioners.

ATTEST, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true Copy of the original Adjourned Order on file and thereon.

ATTEST, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Braintree, October 5, 1850. 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator de bonis non of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to DAVID VINING, Administrator de bonis non.

DAVID VINING,

Weymouth, Sept. 30th, 1850.

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed Assignee of the Estate of

JONATHAN DURGIN,

(an Insolvent debtor,) and that the second meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of Francis Hilliard Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency, on Saturday the fifth day of October, at ten o'clock in the forenoon—at which meeting Creditors may present and prove their claims.

A. CHURCHILL, Assignee.

Roxbury, Oct. 5th. 3w

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. 1f

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide.

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS AND SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinoes, Tricots and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirts, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doilies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASHMERES.

EMBROID RIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

POETRY.

[From the Roslyn Plaiddealer.]

"The following beautiful lines were written by Hugh Peters, Esq., of Conn., on leaving his native land, in search of fame and usefulness in the west. On leaving home he expressed his irrepressible conviction, that he had passed his father's threshold for the last time. The mournful anticipations proved true. His body was lately found in the Ohio, near Cincinnati. He is supposed to have cast himself into the river, in a fit of melancholy delirium."

MY NATIVE LAND.

"My native land, good night"—Byron.

The boat swings from the pebbled shore,
And proudly drives her bow,
The crested sails roll up before,
You dark grey land I see no more,
How sweet thou seemest now!

Thou dark grey land, my native land,
Thou land of rock and pine,
I'm speeding from thy golden sand;
But can I wave a farewell hand
To such a shore as thine.

I've gazed upon the golden cloud,
Which shades thine emerald sod;
The hills which freedom's share hath plowed,
Which nurse a race that hath not bowed
Their knee to aught but God.

Thy mountain floods which proudly fling
Their waters to the fall;
Thy birds which cut with rushing wing
The sky that greets thy coming spring,
And thought thy glories small.

But now you've sunk to yon blue line,
Between the sky and sea,
I feel sweet home, that thou art mine
I feel my bosom cling to thine—
That I am part of thee.

I see thee blended with the wave,
As children see the earth
Close up a sainted mother's grave;
They weep for her they cannot save
And feel her holy worth.

Thou mountain land—thou land of rock,
I'm proud to call thee free;
Thy sons are of the pilgrim stock,
And neared like those who stood the shock
At old Thermopylae.

The laurel wreaths that fathers won,
The children wear them still;
Proud deeds these iron men have done,
They fought and won at Bennington—
And bled at Bunker Hill.

There's grandeur in the lightning's stroke
That rives the mountain ash;
There's beauty in the giant oak,
And rain bow beauty in the smoke
Where chrysal waters dash.

There's music in thy winter blast,
That sweeps the hollow glen;
Less sturdy sons would shrink aghast
From piercing winds like those that hast
To nurse thine iron men.

And thou hast gems,—aye living pearls,
And flowers of Eden hue;
Thy loveliest are thy bright eyed girls,
Of fairy form and elfin curls,
And smiles like Hermon's dew.

They've hearts like those they're born to wed;
A pilgrim from thy shore;
The wind goes by with hollow moan,
I hear it sigh a warning tone—
"You see your home no more!"

I'm cast upon the world's wide sea,
Torn like an ocean weed,
I'm cast away, far from thee,
I feel a thing, I cannot be—
A bruised, and broken reed.

Farwell, my native land farewell!
That wave has hid thee now—
My heart is bowed as with a spell,
This rending pang!—would I could tell
What ails my throbbing brow!

One look upon that fading streak
Which bounds yon eastern sky;
One tear to cool my burning cheek,
And then a word I cannot speak,
"My native land—good bye."

ANECDOTES.

A good joke is told of Barnum. It is not generally known that the receipts of the Lind concert in Providence were only some four or five thousand dollars. The citizens had previously boasted that they could get up a $10,000 concert; and after the auction sale, it was announced that the seats had brought over $8,000, when in reality, they brought only about one half that amount. During the evening, a gentleman was proceeding leisurely along towards the concert hall, when he met Mr. Barnum, with his hat in his hand, rushing through the street, apparently in a state of great excitement.

"Mr. Barnum, my dear sir, what is the matter?" hurriedly exclaimed the gentleman.

"I—I—I'm going after a magistrate!" said Peter T., as he struggled to get away.

"A magistrate? I want to take my oath!" "Your oath!—concerning what?" "Why," yelled Barnum, "I want to take my oath that I will never come to Providence again as long as I live!"

Mrs. E. Hayden,

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care.

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Potcelain, ivory and silver, with and without Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Igall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens;

English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. if

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

HATS AND CAPS,

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c. With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use.

Quincy, April 13. if

Thin Hats.

A LARGE assortment of Summer hats consisting of PEARL, LEGHORN, RUTLAND, STRAW, PAIN LEAF, etc.

Also—A large assortment of fine Black Mole Skin Hats, Men and Boys' Cloth and Glazed Caps, etc., for sale at the lowest cash prices.

Quincy, June 22d. A. B. PACKARD if

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.

Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.

JOHN GLOVER.

JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29. if

Notice.

MISS PACKARD would inform the inhabitants of Quincy, that she proposes opening a School, in which will be taught all the English Branches, Drawing, Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, on the 15th of April. Terms, $5 00.

Quincy, March 23. if

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 60

Quincy, March 9th. D. BAXTER & Co. if

LAST OPPORTUNITY

Hawes'

DAGUERRETYPE SALOON.

WILL remain at Quincy but a few days longer.

Those desirous of procuring good pictures, can here procure any style of picture they desire.

This establishment is provided with an apparatus and an operator that will make pictures of small children, a little quicker, and groups of families, and persons with light eyes as good as can be procured in the city.

All pictures taken at this Saloon that do not suit their friends, will be taken over without expense.

All are invited to call and examine specimens.

Quincy, Sept. 12th. if

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle.

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior to its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. if

Blacksmith's Coal.

JUST received and for sale, a cargo of prime Cumberland Coal, said to be superior to anything used for Blacksmithing, by EDWIN WOOD.

Quincy Point, July 27. 3mos

Thirty Dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House.

N. B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked.

In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. FELLOWS.

CHARLES HARDWICK, } Parish
CHARLES SPEAR, } Committee
HEZEKIAH PRINCE, }

Quincy, July 13th. if

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. if

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Despatch, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet, containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. if

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23. if

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.

Quincy, Dec. 22. if

Furniture.

HAVING enlarged my room I have added to my stock an assortment of FURNITURE, to which I would call the attention of all who are in want of any article in that line.

Quincy, Oct. 20. if

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

Quincy, March 24th. D. BAXTER & Co. if

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 9th. D. BAXTER & Co. if

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. if

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST RATE article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 16th. J. & H. H. FAXON. if

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co. if

Quincy Sept. 1. if

The Circassian Oil.

THIS OIL has now obtained a celebrity worthy of its high intrinsic merits. The sales have steadily increased and in public estimation it supercedes all other preparations for the HAIR.

The proprietor is constantly receiving testimonials of its great efficacy in restoring the hair in cases of baldness, and it has also been signally successful in curing the various scrofulous affections to which the head and hair is subject. Parents will find the Circassian Oil an article of incalculable benefit to children, in laying the foundation of a Healthy and beautiful Head of Hair.

Manufactured and for sale by the proprietor, JOSEPH RICHARDS, Quincy. Also, for sale by Dr. WILLIAM B. BUGBEE.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by S. W. FOWLE, 138 Washington Street, and by Mrs. E. KIDDER & Co., 100 Court Street, Boston. if Dec 15

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.

By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy, April 13th. RALPH LOWE. if

House Lots!!

FOR SALE, a House Lot situated on Common Street, Quincy, having a good cellar, three steps and underpinning, two good wells of water and thirteen Fruit Trees upon the same.

Inquire of the subscriber, on Cross Street.

Quincy, June 23. JOHN D. THAYER. if

Bacon & Beef.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

Quincy, March 24. D. BAXTER & Co. if

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS. if

Quincy, April 30th. if

Improved Washing Fluid.

THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.

Directions for Using.

1st. Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if you have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 minutes and wring out.

2d. Mix 1-2 a pint of the fluid with 2 pailsful or 5 gallons of water, and when warm put in the clothes and boil briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasionally with the stick. Take them out, drain off the fluid and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub the soiled parts a little in this first water—then rinse well in clear cold water and the washing is done.

3. The same mixture will answer for several lots. Or, if more is required, add a wine glass full or 1/2 a gill of fluid to each gallon of water.

4. Colored clothes and flannels may be washed in the first rinsing water.

For sale by D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 31. Agents for the Manufacturer. if

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has now on hand and

AT THE LOWEST PRICES,

a good assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,

ALL WOOL AND FANCY DELAINES;

Lancaster GINGHAMS;

Colored and Black ALPACCAS;

Mourning and Fancy Plain and LONG SHAWLS;

Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;

White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed FLANNELS;

Cotton Flannels;

An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.

Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc., etc.

He invites the attention of those in want.

Quincy, Sept. 22. CALEB PACKARD. if

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the New England Air-Tight, embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a choice and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to back or choke, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japanese Ware.

Quincy, Jan 12. CHARLES HOLMES. if

W. Porter,

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31. if

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale, by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

Quincy March 9th. D. BAXTER & Co. if

Notice.

W. & L. LITCHFIELD have taken as a partner DAVIS C. LITCHFIELD, on the 11th inst. and the style of the firm will hereafter be

W. LITCHFIELD & CO.

PAINTING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and promptly done; and orders are respectfully solicited.

Quincy, March 16th. 3w

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Published every Saturday Morning, over Messrs. Josiah Brigham & Co's Store, in Hancock Street.

NUMBER 43.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS. Two Dollars per annum in advance—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents if not paid till the end of six months—Three Dollars if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place where he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be stated on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to three or four insertions; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:
JOSHUA BABCOCK, Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, "Stone Quarries."
ORIN P. BACON, "Dorchester."
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, "Weymouth."
JOSEPH C. LEECH, "Bellingham."
SAMUEL A. TURNER, "South Scituate."
N. B. OSBORNE, "Salem."
FREEMAN HUNT, "New York City."

MISCELLANY.

(From the Christian Freeman.)

A NIGHT IN THE BELL INN.

About four and thirty years ago I was travelling through Denbighshire upon a mission which needed dispatch. I had in fact in my charge, some papers which were required for the legal preliminaries to a marriage, which was about to take place in a family of consideration upon the borders of that country.

The season was winter, but the weather delightful—that is to say, clear and frosty; and, even without foliage, the country through which I passed was beautiful. The subject of my journey was a pleasant one. I anticipated an agreeable visit, and a cordial welcome; and the weather and scenery were precisely of the sort to second the cheerful associations with which my excursion had been undertaken. Let me only, therefore, suggest, that I was predisposed for the reception of gloomy or horrible impressions. When the sun set we had a pleasant moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I thought that for the night at the little town of—; and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quaint little street—I dismounted, and directing the postilion to walk his pated horses leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep acclivity, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep; this little path, leading through fields and hedgerows, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I had not proceeded very far when I found myself close to the pretty old church whose ivied tower, and countless diamond window panes, were glittering in the moonbeams—a high, irregular hedge, overtopped by tall and ancient trees inclosed it; and rows of funeral yews showed black and mournful among the wan array of headstones that kept watch over the village dead. I was so struck with the glimpse I had caught of the old church-yard that I could not forbear mounting the little stile that commanded it—no scene could be imagined more still and solitary. Not a human habitation was near—every sound of life was reverently remote; and this old church, with its silent congregation of the dead, marshalled under its walls, seemed to have spread around it a circle of stillness and desertion that pleased, while it thrilled me.

No sound was here audible but the softened rush of waters, and that sweet note of home and safety, the distant baying of the watchdog, now and then broke by the sharper rattle of the carriage wheels upon the dry road. But while I looked upon the sad and solemn scene before me, these sounds were interrupted by one which startled, and, indeed, for a moment froze me with horror. The sound was a cry, or rather a howl of despairing terror, such as I have never heard before or since uttered by human voice. It broke from the stillness of the church-yard; but I saw no figure from which it proceeded—though this circumstance, indeed, was scarcely wonderful, as the broken ground, the trees, tall weeds, and tomb-stones afforded abundant cover for any person who might have sought concealment. This cry of unspeakable agony was succeeded by a silence; and I confess my heart throbbled strangely when the same voice articulated, in the same tone of agony,

"Why will you torment the dead? who can torment us before the time? I will come to you in my flesh, though after my skin, worms destroy this body—and you shall speak to me, face to face."

This strange address was followed by another cry of despair, which died away as suddenly as it was raised.

I never could tell why it was I was not more horror-stricken than I really was by this mysterious, and all things considered even terrible interpellation. It was not until the silence had again returned, and the faint rustling of the frosty breeze among the crisp weeds crept towards me like the stealthy approach of some unearthly influence, that I felt a superstitious terror gradually inspire me, which hurried me at an accelerated pace from the place. A few minutes, and I heard the friendly voice of my charioter hallooing to me from the summit of the hill.

Reassured, as I approached him, I abated my speed. "I saw you standing on the stile, sir, by the church-yard," he said, as I drew near, "and I ask your pardon for not giving you the hint before, but they say it is not lucky, and I called to you loud and lusty to come away, sir; but I see you are nothing the worse for it."

"Why, what is there to be afraid of there, my fellow?" I asked, affecting as much indifference as I was able.

"Why, sir, said the man throwing an uneasy look in the direction, "they do say there's a bad spirit haunts it; and nobody in these parts would go near it after dark for love or money."

"Haunted!" I repeated; "and how does the spirit show himself?" I asked.

"Oh! lawk, sir, in all sort of shapes—sometimes like an old woman almost doubled in two with years," he answered, "sometimes like a little child going along a full foot high above the grass of the graves; and sometimes like a big black ram, strutting on his hind legs, and with a pair of eyes like live coals; and some have seen him in the shape of a man, with his arms raised up towards the sky, and his head hanging down, as if his neck was broke. I can't think of half the shapes he has took at different times; but they are all bad; the very child, they say, when he comes in that shape, has the face of Satan—God bless us! and nobody's ever the same again that sees him once."

By this time I was again seated in my vehicle, and some six or eight minutes' quick driving whirled us into the old-fashioned street, and brought the chaise to a full stop before the open door and well lighted hall of the Bell Inn. To me there has always been an air of indescribable cheer and comfort about a substantial country hostelry, especially when one arrives, as I did, upon a keen winter's night, with an appetite as sharp, and something of that cease of adventure and excitement which, before the days of down-trains, and tickets, always in a greater or less degree, gave a zest to travelling. Greeted with the warmest of welcomes for which inns, alas! are celebrated, I had soon satisfied the importunities of a keen appetite; and having for some hours taken mine ease in a comfortable parlor, before a blazing fire, I began to feel sleepy, and betook myself to my no less comfortable bed-chamber.

It is not to be supposed that the adventure of the church-yard had been obliterated from my recollection by the suppressed bustle and good cheer of the "Bell." On the contrary, it had occupied me almost incessantly during my solitary ruminations; and as the night advanced, and the stillness of repose and desertion stole over the old mansion, the sensations with which this train of remembrance and speculation was accompanied became any thing but purely pleasant.

I felt, I confess, fidgetty and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped and roomy old apartment—I turned the face of the looking glass to the wall—I poked the fire into a roaring blaze—I looked behind the window curtains, with a vague anxiety, to assure myself that nothing could be lurking there. The shutter was a little open, and the ivied tower of the little church, and the tufted tops of the trees that surrounded it, were visible over the slope of the intervening hill. I hastily shut out the unwelcome object, and in a mood of mind, I must confess, favorable enough to any freak my nerves might please to play me, I hurried through my dispositions for the night, humming a gay air all the time, to reassure myself, and plunged into bed, extinguishing the candle, and—shall I acknowledge the weakness? nearly burying my head under the blankets.

I lay awake some time, as men will do under such circumstances, but at length fatigue overcame me, and I fell into a profound sleep. From this repose, I was, however, aroused, in the manner I am about to describe. A very considerable interval must have intervened. There was a cold air in the room very unlike the comfortable atmosphere in which I had composed myself to sleep. The fire, though much lower than when I went to bed, was still emitting flame, enough to throw a flickering light over the chamber. My curtains were, however, closely drawn, and I could not see beyond the narrow tent in which I lay.

There had been as I awakened a clanking among the fire-irons, as if a palsied hand was striving to arrange the fire, and this rather unaccountable noise continued for some seconds after I had become completely awake.

Under the impression that I was subjected to an accidental intrusion, I called out, first in a gentle and afterwards in a sharper tone,

"Who's there?"

At the second summons the sound ceased, and I heard instead the tread of naked feet, as it seemed to me, upon the floor, pacing to and fro, between the hearth and the bed in which I lay. A superstitious terror, which I could not combat, stole over me; with an effort I repeated my question, and drawing myself upright in the bed, expected the answer with a strange sort of trepidation. It came in terms and accompanied with accessories which I shall not soon forget.

The very same tones which had so startled me in the church-yard the evening before, the very sound which I had heard then and there, were now filling my ears, and spoken in the chamber where I lay.

"Why do you trouble the dead? Who can torment us before the time? I will come to you in my flesh, though after my skin, worms destroy this body; and you shall speak with me face to face."

As I live I can swear the words and the voice were the same I had heard on the occasion I have mentioned, but (and mark this) repeated to no one. With feelings which I shall not attempt to describe, I heard the speaker approach the bed—a hand parted the bed-curtains and then drew them open, revealing a form more horrible than my fancy had ever seen—an almost gigantic figure—naked, except for what might well have been the rotten remnant of a shroud—stood close beside my bed—livid and cadaverous—grimed as it seemed with the dust of the grave, and staring on me with a gaze of despair, malignity, and fury, too intense almost for human endurance.

I cannot say whether I spoke or not, but this infernal figure answered me as if I had.

"I am dead and yet alive," it said, "the child of perdition—in the grave I am a murderer, but here I am APOLOX. Fall down and worship me."

Having thus spoken, it stood for a moment at the bedside, and then turned away with a shuddering moan, and I lost sight of it, after a few seconds it came again to the bedside as before.

"When I died they put me under Mervyn's tombstone, and they did not bury me. My feet lie toward the west—turn them to the east and I will rest—may be I will rest—I will rest—rest—rest."

Again the figure was gone, and once again it returned, and said,

"I am your master—I am your resurrection and your life, and therefore, fall down and worship me."

It made a motion to mount upon the bed, but what farther passed I know not, for I fainted. I must have lain in this state for a long time, for when I became conscious the fire was almost extinct. For hours that seemed interminable, I lay, scarcely daring to breathe, and afraid to get up lest I should encounter the hideous apparition, for ought I knew, lurking close beside me. I lay, therefore, in an agony of expectation such as I will not attempt to describe, awaiting the appearance of daylight.

Gradually it came, and with it the cheerful reassuring sounds of life and occupation. At length I mustered courage to reach the bell-rope, and, having rung lustily, I plunged again into bed.

"Draw the window-curtains—open the shutters," I exclaimed as the man entered, and, these orders executed, "look about the room." I added, "and see whether a cat or any other animal has got in."

There was nothing of the sort; and satisfied that my visitant was no longer in the chamber, I dismissed the man, and hurried through my toilet with breathless precipitation.

Hastening from the hated scene of my terrors, I escaped to the parlor, whither I instantly summoned the proprietor of "the Bell," in propria persona. I suppose I looked scared and haggard enough, for mine host looked upon me with an expression of surprise and enquiry.

"Shut the door," said I.

It was done.

"I have had an uneasy night in the room you assigned, me sir: I may say, indeed, a miserable night," I said.

"Pray," resumed I, interrupting his apologetic expressions of surprise, "has any person but myself ever complained of—of being disturbed in that room?"

"Never," he assured me.

I had suspected the ghostly old practical joke, so often played off by landlords in story books, and fancied I might have been deliberately exposed to the chances of a haunted chamber. But there was no acting in the frank look and honest denial of mine host.

"It is a very strange thing," said I, hesitating; "and I do not see why I should not tell you what has occurred. And as I could swear, if necessary, to the perfect reality of the entire scene, it behoves you, I think, to sift the matter carefully. For myself, I cannot entertain a doubt as to the nature of the truly terrible visitation to which I have been subjected; and were I in your position, I should transfer my establishment at once to some other house as well suited to the purpose, and from the dreadful liabilities of this."

I proceeded to detail the particulars of the occurrences of the past night, to which he listened with nearly as much horror as I recited them with.

"Mervyn's tomb!" he repeated after me; "why that's down there in L—r, the church-yard you can see from the window of the room you slept in."

"Let us go there instantly," I exclaimed with an almost feverish anxiety to ascertain whether we should discover in the place indicated, anything corroborative in the authenticity of the vision.

"Well, I shan't say no," said he, obviously bracing himself for an effort of courage; "but we'll take Fawkes and James, the helper, with us; and please, sir, you'll not mention the circumstances, as has occurred to either on 'em."

I gave him the assurance he asked for, and in a few minutes our little party were in full march upon the point of interest.

There had been an immense black frost, and the ground, reverberating to our tread with the hollow sound of a vault, emitted the only noise that accompanied our rapid advance. I and my host were too much pre-occupied for conversation, and our attendants maintained a respectful silence. A few minutes brought us to the low, gray walls and bleak hedgerows that surrounded the pretty old church, and all its melancholy and picturesque memorials.

"Mervyn's tomb lies there, I think, sir," he said, pointing to a corner of the church-yard, in which piles of rubbish, withered weeds, and brambles were thickly accumulated under the solemn, though imperfect shelter of the wintry trees.

He exchanged some sentences with our attendants in Welsh.

"Yes, sir, that's the place," he added, turning to me.

And as we all approached it, I bethought me that the direction in which, as I stood upon the stile, I had heard the voice on the night preceding, corresponded accurately with that indicated by my guides. The tomb in question was a huge slab of black marble, supported, as was made apparent when the surrounding brambles were removed, upon six pillars, little more than two feet high each. There was ample room for a human body to lie inside this funeral pent-house; and, on stooping to look beneath, I was unspeakably shocked to see that something like a human figure was actually extended there.

It was, indeed, a corpse, and what is more, corresponded in every way with the infernal phantom which, on the preceding night, had visited and appalled me. The body, though miserably emaciated, was that of a large-boned, athletic man, of fully six feet four in height; and it was therefore, no easy task to withdraw it from the receptacle where it had been deposited, and lay it, as our assistants did, upon the tombstone which had covered it. Strange to say, moreover, the feet of the body, as we found it, had been placed towards the west.

As I looked upon this corpse, and recognized, but too surely, in its proportions and lineaments, every trait of the apparition that had stood at my bedside, with a countenance animated by the despair and malignity of the damned, my heart fluttered and sank within me, I recoiled from the effigy of the demon with terror, second only to that which had thrilled me on the night preceding.

Now, reader—honest reader—I appeal to your own appreciation of testimony, and ask you, having these facts in evidence, and upon the deposition of an eye and ear witness, whose veracity, through a long life, has never once been compromised or questioned, have you, or have you not, in the foregoing story, a well authenticated ghost story?

Before you answer the above question, however, it may be convenient to let you know certain other facts which were clearly established upon the inquiry that was very properly held upon the body, which in so strange a manner we had discovered.

I purposely avoid details, and without assigning the depositions respectively to the witnesses who made them, shall restrict myself to a naked outline of the evidence as it appeared.

The body I have described was identified as that of Abraham Smith, an unfortunate lunatic, who had, upon the day but one preceding, made his escape from the neighboring parish work-house, where he had been for many years confined. His hallucination was a strange, but not by any means an unprecedented one. He fancied that he had died, and was condemned; and, as these ideas alternately predominated, sometimes spoke of himself as an "evil spirit," and sometimes importuned his keepers to "bury him;" using certain phrases which I had no difficulty in recognizing as among those which he had addressed to me. He had been traced to the neighborhood where his body was found, and had been seen and relieved scarcely half a mile from it, about two hours before my visit to the church-yard! There were, further, unmistakable evidences of some persons having climbed up the trellis-work to my window on the previous night, the shutter of which had been left unbarred, and, as the window might have been easily opened with a push, the cold which I experienced, as an accompaniment of the nocturnal visit, was easily accounted for. There was a mark of blood upon the window stool, and a scrape upon the knee of the body corresponded with it. A multiplicity of other slight circumstances, and the positive assertion of the chamber-maid that the window had been opened, and was but imperfectly closed again, came in support of the conclusion, which was to my mind satisfactorily settled by the concurred evidence of the medical men, to the effect that the unhappy man could not have been many hours dead when the body was found.

Taken in the mass, the evidence convinced me; and though I might still have clung to the preternatural theory, which, in the opinion of some persons, the facts of the case might still have sustained, I candidly decided with the weight of evidence, "gave up the ghost," and accepted the natural, but still somewhat horrible explanation of the occurrence. For this candor, I take credit to myself. I might have stopped short at the discovery of the corpse, but I am no friend to "spurious gospels;" let our faith, whatever it is, be founded in honest fact.

[For the Quincy Patriot.] SCHOOL HOUSE DEDICATION.

The following is the Order of Exercises, at the Dedication of the new School House, in the North District, Quincy, October 10th, 1850.

SINGING HYMN:—TEN—America.

Glad hearts to thee we bring;
With joy thy name we sing;
Creation praises thee,
Thy bounty's full and free;
In all around we see Tokens of love.

Thou who in Heaven art,
To us that grace impart,
Our Savior knew,
May we his trust receive;
And us like him to live,
To thee our hearts to give,
Thou only true.

Giver of all our powers,
Now in life's morning hours,
May they be thine.
Thine may they ever be,
Pure, and from error free,
An offering worthy thee,
Parent divine.

Unite our souls in love;
Smile on us from above,
Till life be o'er.
Then gather us to thee,
Thy kingdom, Lord, to see,
In thine own fold to be,
Forever more.

PRAYER BY REV. W. W. DEAN.

ADDRESS BY R. VOSE, JR., THE TEACHER,
THE DESERTED SCHOOL-HOUSE.
Written by William S. Morton, Esq.
For the Dedication of the New School House in the North District in Quincy, Oct. 10th 1850.

In the morning of life, when the sun light of beauty,
Bliss, with its brightness, each thought of the soul,
The iris of hope glows our love and our duty,
And changing impressions our spirits control;
But when the soft lights of that spring time are faded,
And dreamings no more our young bosoms shall fill,
Our hearts with past memories will then be invaded,
And long and sad the school house that stands on the hill;—
That time honored school house, that lonely old school house,
That dear, humble school house that stands on the hill.

How oft, to that spot, in the years gone forever,
Our fathers gathered, when their bosoms were young,
When those walls, whose connection this day we shall sever,
Swelled sweet with the songs which in childhood were sung,
But forever no more in the long lapse of years,
The voices of children that did roof shall fill,
Ye memories not throbbings shall we leap the more,
Recalling the school house that stands on the hill;—
That time honored school house, that lonely old school house,
That dear, humble school house that stands on the hill.

Our thoughts, on our parents no dear should be dwelling,
For this spacious hall, which their kindness supplied,
But other emotions our bosoms now swell,
To scenes of the past and to memory allied.
Then deem not, fond parents, that gratitude's ember,
Has died in our hearts—you will pardon us when,
It glows in these fair walls, sometimes we remember,
That school house deserted, that stands on the hill;—
That time honored school house, that lonely old school house,
That dear, humble school house that stands on the hill.

ADDRESS BY SCHOOL COMMITTEE AND OTHERS.
Singing a Hymn, written by REV. WM. P. LEST, D. D., of Quincy.

When driven by oppression's rod,
Our fathers fled across the sea,
Their care was first to honor God,
And next to leave their children free.

Above the forest's gloomy shade
The Altar and the School appeared;
On that the gifts of faith were laid,
In this their precious hopes were reared.

Arm'd with intelligence and zeal,
Their sons shook off the tyrant's chain;
The rights of freemen quick to feel,
And nobly daring to maintain.

The Altar and the School still stand,
The sacred pillars of our trust;
And Freedom's sons shall fill the land,
When we are sleeping in the dust.

Before thine altar, Lord, we bend
With grateful song and fervent prayer,
For thou who wast our father's friend,
Wilt make our offspring still thy care.

CLOSING PRAYER:—LORD DISMISS US, &c.,
By REV. MR. RICHARDS, of Dorchester.

The day was fine, and the building well filled with spectators and pupils. The musical exercises under the direction of Mr. Vose of Dorchester, were well arranged. Miss Henrietta Baker, one of the pupils of the school, added much to the singing exercises by her successful efforts on the Seraphine. Mr. Vose occupied about forty minutes in his address, among other matters, embracing as it were, the history of the School District for nearly sixty years, and ably comparing past advantages with the present for education. He was listened to with deep interest, by all present. The address was well written, appropriate to the occasion, and eloquently delivered. The meeting also was favored by spirited extemporaneous addresses from Rev. Wm. W. Dean, Wm. S. Morton, Geo. Baxter, Geo. White, Esqrs., and others of the School Committee; also from Doct. E. J. Glover of Quincy, Rev. Mr. Richards and Doct. O. P. Barn of Dorchester. Mr. White in his remarks, dwelt at some length on the subject of popular education, and by their clearness and eloquence, he made a favorable impression on the audience. The new School-

Improved Washing Fluid.

THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.

Directions for Using.

1st. Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if you have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 minutes.

2d. Mix 1 1/2 pints of the fluid with 2 pailsful or 5 gallons of water, and when warm put in the clothes and boil briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasionally with the stick. Take them out, drain off the fluid and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub the soiled parts a little in this first water—then rinse well in clear cold water and the washing is done.

3. The same mixture will answer for several lots. Or, if more is required, add a wine glass full or 1 1/2 a gill of fluid to each gallon of water.

4. Colored clothes and flannels may be washed in the first rinsing water.

For sale by D. BAXTER & CO., Agents for the Manufacturer.

Quincy, August 31.

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has now on hand and

AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

a good assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,

ALL WOOL and FANCY DELAINES;
Lancaster GINGHAMS;
Colored and Black ALPACCAS;
Mourning and Fancy Plaid LONG SHAWLS;
Cashmere, SQUARE SHAWLS;
White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed
FLANNELS;
Cotton Flannels;
An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.
Bleached and Brown COTTONS, etc., etc.
He invites the attention of those in want.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chimney and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction, and adapted to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the last year and all have given the most satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CULINARY STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRASS, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter,

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy March 9th.

Notice.

W. & L. LITCHFIELD have taken as a partner

DAVID C. LITCHFIELD, on the 11th inst.

and the style of the firm will hereafter be

W. LITCHFIELD & CO.

PAINTING, GLAZING, &c., faithfully and promptly done; and orders are respectfully solicited.

Quincy, March 16th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, March 16th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 100 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 24th

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the corner of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 20 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Aquarium) informs the public that at the above establishment, he can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES.

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

house in question, is located on the corner of Hancock and Squantum streets, in this town. Dimensions:—32 feet long by 25 wide, and two stories in height; it was built by the late Mr. Sumner, under the direction of Mr. Luther Spear, Jr., of Dorchester. The model is taken from the School-house near the Rev. Dr. Storr's Church in North Braintree, affording neatness and convenience, with economy. The building with the exception of the second story is well finished. There are seats or chairs for sixty scholars, besides three ante-rooms of convenient size. The Teacher's desk and black-board are well arranged. By the contributions of certain inhabitants of the district, an eight-day clock is placed on the eastern walls of the school-room. Under the care of H. N. Glover, Esq., the faithful prudential committee, judicious fire apparatus has been selected, and the School-house furnished with every convenience for the comfort of the scholars. The building, exclusive of the land, (nearly 1-2 acre,) cost about $1500. X.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.—The Steamer Crescent City, arrived at New York on Tuesday last, bringing 15 days later news, and 442 passengers from California.

She brings $225,000 in gold as freight, and upwards of one million of dollars in the hands of the passengers.

The Tennessee arrived at Panama on the 4th, with one million of dollars on freight, 250 passengers, and the U. S. Mails. The following is from the Pacific News:—

"Since the sailing of the last Steamer, our city has passed through a financial crisis and excitement never before witnessed in our midst.

"One of the most extensive banking and trading houses here has failed, followed by a suspension on the part of two other houses, and one private banker. The run on the remaining banking houses was great, but without any disastrous results. Checks were promptly paid, with the exception of one house which closed on the second day. An extra session of the Legislature has been called for to consult on the financial embarrassment of California.

"The expedition to the Klamath and Umpqua rivers was highly successful, and much valuable and important information derived, including many new and rich discoveries."

In addition to the above, the steamer Philadelphia arrived on the 19th from Chingres, having as freight, and in the hands of the passengers, at least one million of dollars.

COMPLIMENT TO HOLMES.—The following is from Mr. James' Letter in the New York Courier & Enquirer, of Tuesday:—

"I can sit down and read the beautiful poem of Holmes, upon the old frigate Constitution, and almost share the enthusiasm with which he speaks of that gallant vessel. Without a tone of mean and pitiful jealousy; I can admit that it is one of the finest pieces of poetry in the English language, and does honor to the nation and the man."

A FIGHTING MAYOR.—The Mayor of Pittsburgh, has been arrested and held to bail, in the sum of $1,000, for assault and battery, false imprisonment, &c., of Messrs Sutton and Shore, of that city.

A MILLIONAIRE.—The editor of a paper down south, says, that he is "bitten by two million of mosquitoes every night." We don't envy him.

LADIES CLOAKS AND CLOAK GOODS.—It ought to be understood that Jewett & Prescott, No 2 Milk Street, Boston, are not in matters of this kind, and no one should risk a purchase in the city without previously becoming acquainted with their assortment.

Signora Parodi, the celebrated Italian Prima Donna, that created such a sensation on the London boards, when Jenny Lind was carrying every thing before her, is now on her way to this country, and is daily expected in the steamer Pacific, at N. York.

Gen. Geo. Washington Dixon, has been arrested at New Orleans, on a charge of theft.

MURDER AT PITTSBURGH.—A German named William Cuneo, killed Conrad Schaeffer, a tavern keeper, by stabbing him in the breast with a dirk-knife. They had quarrelled about family matters. Where's Joe Barker?

Geo. W. Simmons, the proprietor of the celebrated Oak Hall, is doing a business beyond all precedent in the clothing line. The cause of his success beyond his competitors, is, his prices are low, and people will patronize those who give them the most for their money.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH.—Shortly after the arrival of Jenny Lind at New York, a very painful event occurred, which we learn has very seriously effected her. It appears that in the house where apartments were provided for her, there was a superior mocking bird, whose powers of mimicry and song were such that he had silenced both the feather and feline circles there—canary birds and cats giving up all attempts to outmatch him in their respective notes. He was removed into the same room with Jenny, who was charmed with him. After finishing one of her simple songs, "Bob" tuned his pipes and gave out a very fair imitation; the admiration of Jenny was unbounded; she tried him in a snuff from the celebrated "cavatina" in "Il Puritani"; "Bob" after one or two leaps from perch to perch, spread his tail in ecstasy, filled his chest again, and ran over all those beautiful notes as accurately as if they were the mere echo of the thrilling notes of Jenny.

Mr. Barnum, who stood by, became alarmed; he knew the owner of the bird had too long a pocket to admit of a possible hope of his willingness to part with him, or even to enter into "an engagement" on any terms—and here was a bird equal to Jenny thus far. Jenny, however, seeing the consternation of her friend, sprang to the piano, and struck off in her best style, her celebrated "Swedish Echo Song."

"Schlimmt! was unter bell klingend Weighen!"—a laudable effort.

"Bob" listened—sprang to his water jar and took a sip—listened again—shook his feathers, and began. For a note or two he succeeded admirably; but when he came to that point where the voice of Jenny leaves the earth and turns a summer in the clouds, poor "Bob" faltered; he was seen to struggle hard, reeled, and fell dead in a lock-jaw. N. Y. Mirror.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—The New York Tribune publishes a letter from Mr. Snow, an officer of the Prince Albert, one of the English Exploring Expedition, who lately arrived at Aberdeen with despatches for the English government. Mr. Snow says:—

"I can but pen a hasty note to you at present, to accompany the letters which I have so much pleasure in forwarding from Lieut. De Haven, officers and crew of the 'Advance,' whom I had the great satisfaction of meeting, all well, in Barrow's Straits, off Prince Regent's Inlet. The 'Rescue' I afterwards saw, all well, in Wellington Channel. Particulars you will find in the English papers; but I shall send you, the moment I can, more minute information. I was on board the 'Advance' during the whole of the evening of Aug. 23, and greatly enjoyed myself. It was the first time that the American 'Stars and Stripes' had been seen so far North, and I confess, though not an American, but a thorough Englishman, that I was glad, as even proud, to see your noble flag there. I received the same unbounded and welcome hospitality there, that I had always met when I lived in New York, and the recollection of the evening among the officers of the 'Advance,' will never be effaced from my memory. The 'Advance' is admirably adapted for the service, and those who have her in their keeping, know well how to make her get on. Off Cape Riley, however, she unfortunately drifted on shore, while her commander was examining the place. When I landed there in a boat, I offered, in my commander's name, though without his orders, any assistance that we could render, but was thankfully told that they could manage very well. When I left they were at work leaving her off, a job which was, no doubt, very soon accomplished."

A CALIFORNIA GRAVEYARD.—A gentleman who has returned to New Orleans from California, having been absent from the States about 14 months; states that when he reached California, curiosity led him to visit a graveyard, where he found only eleven graves. Nine months from that time, he followed the remains of a friend to the same graveyard, and found that during the time intervening the two visits, there had been no less than fourteen hundred interred in the same yard.

GREAT DESPATCH. We saw last evening on the corner of Messrs. Warren & Co., 102 Washington Street, some beautiful Paris Cashmeres and Mousselines, which were re-ordered on the 4th of September from choice styles received and sold. The order was sent by the Europa to Messrs. S. Allain & Co., Paris; the cloths were bought and the goods sent to Havre, and from Havre to Liverpool, and came in the America, 5th Oct. steamer arriving early Thursday morning. Passing our Custom House with equal despatch, they were on Messrs. W. & Co's counters for sale in 44 days from the date of the order, which can be seen and substantiated, if any doubt this unprecedented tour de force.—Boston Transcript.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

Judge Woodbury will deliver the fourth of the series of lectures the present season, next Thursday Evening, commencing at half past seven o'clock precisely. The following question is assigned for discussion, viz:—

Is the "Fugitive Slave Bill," lately passed by Congress, constitutional, and if so, ought it to be repealed?

Tickets of admission for the present season can be procured at the following places, viz: at the Quincy Book Store, at the office of Dr. Bagbee, and at the Store of Daniel Baxter & Co.

The Lyceum Library has been removed to the office of Dr. Goodnow, where members can have access to it daily.

As quite a number of Volumes are missing from the Library, all persons who have books, taken out previously to its removal from Dr. Bagbee's, are requested to return them as soon as convenient, that it may be ascertained how many, and what books are gone.

Per Order, H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

MARRIED.

In this town, 16th inst., by Rev. Mr. Burdill, Mr. JOHN HOOVER, to Miss MELINDA J. SPARK. In the Village, on the 30th inst., by the Rev. W. W. DODD, Mr. FRANCIS WILSON, to Miss JANE A. BROWN.

Also, on the 20th inst., and by the same, Mr. HENRY A. FRENCH to Miss HARRIET O. PRAY.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. October 25th, 1850. TAKEN on execution, and will be sold by Public Auction on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, November 27th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., all the right in Equity which GEORGE R. MEAD of Dorchester in said county, Houses right, had on the 8th day of July last to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:—

A certain piece of land lying and situated in Dorchester, containing about one acre more or less, together with a dwelling house and other out buildings thereon standing, bounded northerly on Highland Street, easterly on land of John C. Cogswell, southerly on land of the town of Dorchester, westerly on High Street, being the Estate where the said Mead now lives, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.

By order of GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, Oct. 26. 3w

DORCHESTER AND MILTON Railroad Company.

A Meeting of the Stockholders in said Company will be held at the Lower Mill Depot, in Milton, on WEDNESDAY, the 6th day of November next, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

By order of the Directors, SETH D. WHITNEY, Clerk.

Milton, Oct. 25, 1850. 2w

Executor's Sale.

WILL be sold at Public Auction, at the residence of the late Dr. John Sullivan, (Gentleman) on TUESDAY, the 5th day of November next, at 9 o'clock, A. M.—a variety of Household Furniture, such as Chairs, Tables, Light Stands, Bedsteads, Feather Beds and Bedding, Looking Glasses, Crockery, Iron, and Tin Ware, 2 Cooking Stoves, 2 Air Tight Stoves—a variety of Kitchen Furniture.

Also—Two excellent Cows, one 5 year old Colt, perfectly safe for any lady to drive. A number of tons of English Hay, 1 Hay Cart, 2 Covered Wagons, and other articles too numerous to mention.

By order of the Executor, DEB. JOHN SPENSE.

L. G. HORTON, Act'g.

Quincy, Oct. 26, 1850. 2w

NEW FALL & WINTER

WILLIAMS' GOODS.

MRS. A. J. KENISON, would render her grateful acknowledgments to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBONS, FLOWERS, etc. etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—A good variety of Misses and Childrens trimmings.

SATIN, FLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

Bonnets altered, bleached and colored. For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work be added it will be so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the Will of

ISAAC S. SPAULDING,

late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, State of Massachusetts, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are invited to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ELIZABETH SPAULDING, Executrix.

Milton, October, 19th, 3w

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co.

(who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St.

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE.

The prices for all articles shown will be very low.

No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

Please call and examine the elegant Stock of

SHAWLS of all kinds,

SILKS " "

DE LAINES " "

PRINTS " "

HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,

GLOVES AND HOSIERY " "

TRIMMINGS " "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3m

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the goods and Estate of

ALEXANDER BLANCHARD,

late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, Marine deceased, and has accepted said trust; and all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to LEWEL HUPHREY, Administrator.

Weymouth, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3w

Thirty dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House.

N. B. In consequence of repeated depredations in and about this place, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. FELLOWS.

CHARLES HARDWICK, Parish

CHARLES SPEAR, Committee

HEZEKIAH PRINCE, if

Quincy, July 13th. 1f

To Let.

THE House on Granite Street, belonging to EDWARD HALL. The place produces a large quantity of excellent fruit.

APPLY AT THE HOUSE. 2w

Boards Wanted.

TWO or three persons can be accommodated with board in the centre of the village. Apply to the Office of the QUINCY PATRIOT.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 3w

Apples for Sale.

A SET of GREENING APPLES, for sale by JOSHUA BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 26. 3w

Musical Notice.

MR. BARNEKOV from Sweden, respectfully announces to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he will begin a course of lessons on the Piano, Organ, Guitar and Singing. Terms—For the Piano $15; for the Guitar, $12. Orders left at Mr. Geo. H. Merriam's, will be promptly attended to. If a number of voices could be got together, I should like to form a Society for producing Oratorios, such as Stabat Mater, and the Creation.

I shall begin the lessons week after next.

Quincy, Oct. 26. 1f

Wood at Auction.

WILL be sold at public auction, on Friday, Nov. 1st, at 1 o'clock, P. M., in lots to suit Purchasers, about 3 Acres of heavy growth of OAK & WALNUT WOOD—adjoining Babt's Pasture, and near the Sand Hole, (so called,) belonging to Francis Williams.

Also—Immediately after the sale of the Wood, the above LAND with 2 adjoining Acres, will be offered for sale by auction. Upon the 2 Acres, there is a young and thrifty growth of Wood.

Conditions at the Sale.

Quincy, Oct. 26. 1w

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to

JOHN WHICHER.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. 1f

NEW DRY GOODS Establishment! REMOVAL.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States

being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS AND SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Tibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doyles, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

Oct. 5.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-

Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cash-

meres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and

Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Sept. 20th, 1850. TAKEN on Execution, and will be sold at Public Auction, on the 31st day of October, 1850, at 9 o'clock A. M., all the right in equity which Harvey Field of Quincy in said County, Gentleman, has this day to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:—

A certain lot of land containing about fifty acres, altogether, with a dwelling house, barn, and other out buildings thereon standing, bounded on the North West and South, by land of late J. Q. Adams, Easterly on the old Plymouth road, being the farm where the said Field now lives, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy Oct. 12, 1850. 3w

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.

By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy, April 13th. 1f

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

TON MUSEUM,
ent Street, Boston.
AYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.
SEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best in the United States. It comprises no less than DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,
added the present year, besides the constant ation of articles, One Half of the celebrated S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, already immense collection to upwards of A MILLION ARTICLES, amount of objects of interest to be found together in America; and an entire HALL OF WAX STATUARY,
where, in length, filled to its utmost capacity with LAKES of the size of life, singly and in groups, of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which preparation for the last two years by a corps of qualified artists to be found in either the old comb and are so NATURAL, and LIFE-LIKE Mock Reality.
shoulder to shoulder, whether the figures do this act resemble. Among the most prominent will be found Fables of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER
the disciples, representing the conversation and the shown scene at the moment when he told them
THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.
THE PRODIGAL SON,
the clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving
father, and the scene of the prodigal's return.
THE CRUCIFIXION,
more than forty figures, a correct representation
according to the best received authorities.
Disputing with the Doctors;
the group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,
shows the Christian and Satan contending for the
THE SIAMSE TWINS,
two identical American women
SSACRE BY PIRATES of a merchantman in the India Sea. After a one of the warriors.

ERRORS OF SLAVERY,
d by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slaveholder, and their victims.
DER OF MISS MCCREA,
during the Revolutionary war, a thrilling group, characters of the Red Men.
INTERPRETANCE, evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a con fession.

Murdered by her Husband. of a School, a Miller's Shop, a Shoemaker's her's Shop, a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as figures of distinguished men, &c., with up Hundred of Cabinet Size,
the largest collection of Wax Figures in America.
of the above, and the immense collection of EASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES, all parts of the world, together with Immense of Nature and Artificial Curiosities.

Engravings and Statuary,
OIL PORTRAITS
Grand GROUP of all nations—Naval and Military and, Steamships, and various—Rare Coins and the, Corals, and Fossils.
EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,
preserved, from 1000 B.C. to the present
of Peruvian Mummies; LIVID PLASTER, and the skeleton of a man for the first, being evidently full each—the curious man.

EJEE MERMAID,
habited in most of the principal cities of America, 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of natives and other scientific persons, whose is of the existence of such an astonishing creature removed.
AND SWORD FISH, preservation, the whole forming a School of In struction with Amusement, that for extent and interest is the known world, and the whole to be seen for the first time.
OUT-EXTRA CHARGE,
limited to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which is decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand and they can witness the magnificent RICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,
Among which are:—THE NEWLY INVENTED and ad mirable, by a Company of Comedians and an ensemble, admitted to the SUPERIOR to any ever seen in the country, with the aid of and Scenic Arrangements, and superb cover seen in either Europe or Amer ica, and the most perfect adaptation that the Boston the being the most comfortable and genteel, is best Place of Amusement WILL! A single visit will prove the truth of this statement to be only 5 Cents to the Whole!!!
at 14 cent

Judd's Medicated Liquid Ointment.
FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a
smooth coating over them, impervious to air and
water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the mo tion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.
Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31. if

St. John's Potatoes.
50 BUSHELS, cheap for cash, and warranted not to rot. U. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. if

New Moasin De Laines and Prints.
JUST received and for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves.
A good assortment for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

New Fall and Winter Goods.
In great variety, for sale at the very lowest prices,
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

BAY STATE
Long and Square Shawls,
OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices.
Ladies are invited to examine them before pur
chasing.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

Flour Barrels.
A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

To Let.
 ONE half of a good House on Liberty
Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated
on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

Flannels.
WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels
Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVIL & Co. Washing ton Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.
NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
Boston, Sept. 21. 3m

Wool Frocking.
200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an
extra article, just received, and for sale as
cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCK ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 29. if

Preparation for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camille's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion
net rale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Mous. De Laines.
NEW Styles just received, the best assortment in Quincy, and for sale at the very lowest prices by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St. Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers,
twenty barrels extra Cider Vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Brooks' Railroad Express.
THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage,
thus far, and respectfully announces that he still con tinues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad station to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 ¢ each each.
All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton
& Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Broad Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Brier
ler's, will be promptly attended to.
Also—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick despatch.
THOMAS BROOKS.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3mos

Velvet Trimmings.
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trim
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Bay State Long Shawls.
AN Assortment just received of the different sizes
Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Quincy Washing Mixture.
THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have cal
ed it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart,
full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 3. if

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.
MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various arti cles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are: Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup;
Java Balaem, (a celebrated East Indian remedy)
Billings' Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balaem; Hal
den's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Bal
sam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.
Quincy, July 20. if

Exposition des Nouveautes
AT THE LADIES' EXCHANGE,
192 Washington Street,
and 1 Hawley Street, Boston.
GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.,
RESPECTFULLY GIVE NOTICE
OF THE ARRIVAL AND OPENING
of their large importation of
Rich and Beautiful Goods,
For their Fall Sales.
Being Selections from all the new and choice styles
of LONG and SQUARE
SHAWLS,
DRESS and CLOAK SILKS,
Cashmere D'Esosse, Mousseline DeLaine, and all
other new Dress Fabrics. Cloak Goods, Velvets, Tibets, Cashmeres and Merinos; Embroideries;
Laces; Scarfs.
Mourning Goods,
of every description.
Hosiery, Gloves, etc., etc., which are to appear this Season, in PARIS AND LONDON.
—ALSO—
A COMPLETE STOCK OF STAPLE GOODS.
Linen Sheetings of all widths; Linen Shirtings and Frontings; Damask and Damask Cloths; Nap
kins and Doilies to match; Blankets, Flan
nels, Counterpanes, Cottons, Furnitures,
Table and Piano Cloths, and all
other
HOUSE-FURNISHING ARTICLES
in all of which we are careful to have fabrics which
will give satisfaction.
Having added a new building, One Hundred Feet
Long, two stories high, for our Wholesale Trade,
thus extending our Store through to Hawley street,
and entirely refitted our former Store, exclusively for our Retail Trade, we have now
THE LONGEST STORE
In the United States.
Being 250 feet by 31, and filled with the richest and best Selected Stock it has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers; and a price has been affixed to each article, which we feel assured will be perfectly satisfactory to the buyer.
ONE PRICE ONLY.
Geo. W. Warren & Company.
Boston, Sept. 21. 15mos

LADIES
Of Quincy and Vicinity.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,
Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock o
NEW GOODS
which they now have, and are daily receiving, by every foreign arrival, suitable to the
AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.
Every variety of
SHAWLS,
from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid,
SILKS
of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.
FRENCH THIBETS
and
GERMAN MERINOS
Of all Grades.
FALL AND WINTER
DRESS GOODS,
Our usual Assortment.
VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.
Together with the Immense Variety of all other
Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present
Season.
Our long experience in the City Retail Trade ena bles us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our
intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest
EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers
who daily throng our Establishment, show.
Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by
the simple multiplication of business to such an ex tent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.
Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be sup plied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest pur
chasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular,
where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles
of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very
lowest market prices.
Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance
of that patronage which now enables us to refer you
to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bar gains at the present season.
TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.
Geo. Savil & Co.,
Dealers in
READY-MADE CLOTHING
OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT
ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.
—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!
Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

A CARD!!
J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the FALL AND WINTER
OF 1850.
He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths!!!
of various colors and qualities.
A great variety of PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of VESTINGS, &C.
He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS,
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING
DEPOT,
OF THE
Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.
JOHN DINEGEN
WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of
Fall and Winter Goods!!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN,
OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy color ed Cloths, of
ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN
Manufacture.
Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy
Dee-Skins
for Pants.
VESTINGS
of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIA'S
&c.
Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty
Garment of any description, are respectfully invited
to call and see for themselves.
Garments made to order at very short notice, and
by
THE BEST OF WORKMEN.
READY MADE CLOTHING of every descrip tion, and at prices to suit all parties.
ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.
Quincy, August 31. if

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,
No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.
IMPROVED AND RESTOCKED
For the Autumn Trade of 1850.
TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment
of
NEW SHAWLS,
SILKS, and CLOAK GOODS,
that will distance all competition, without exception.
We accordingly ask the attention of
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS
to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Sa tins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, in cluding the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris
Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marcelline Silks, and other Goods for trim
ming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Ale pines; and a large variety of similar goods.
To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.
JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2, Milk Street.
Boston, August 31. 3mos

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS,
Mantles and Scarfs.
in the latest and most approved styles.
Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls,
will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity,
at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State fabrics bear tickets corres ponding with the above cut, and they will also be dis tinguished from all other woolen shawls by their su perior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.
Orders solicited from all sections of the country,
and the same will be promptly attended to.
JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2 Milk Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, August 24. 3mos

Wood, Wood.
FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITTON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17. if

For Sale.
THE late residence of the REV. WM.
ALEX. near the Episcopal Church in
Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10
Exchange Street, Boston.
West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 21, 1850. 3m

To Let.
 A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

Pure Cider Vinegar.
BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

Dyer's Washing Fluid.
A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

Particular Notice.
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their custom ers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced
prices for cash only.
All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

New Goods.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Moulin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters;
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached,
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts. per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31. if

To Let.
 A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street,
recently occupied by the Widow Driven,
with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn.
Apply to SAMUEL COPLAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10. if

Flour Barrels.
200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by
J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

Cider Vinegar.
FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, August 17. if

House to Let.
 A good and convenient two story dwell ing house consisting of four rooms on the lower floor and five chambers, all con veniently arranged. The house has re cently been repaired and fitted up in nice order and is suitable for a genteel family, and well located to accommodate a gentleman doing business in Boston and wishing to reside with his family in the country, situated in the centre of the village, within fifty rods of the Old Colony Rail Road Depot in Quincy, with in five minutes walk of four churches and near the public schools, and is one of the most pleasant situ ations in the town. Application may be made to the subscriber.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
Quincy, July 13th. if

Apples.
BALDWIN AND RUSSETTS, of the first qual ity, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. if

Onions.
50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. if

Notice.
THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favor ed them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.
Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Yeg stables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.
Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.
N. B. Goods delivered as usual.
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. if

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets
FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sun days.
For Plymouth, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3/4, 8 1/2, 10 A. M.; 1 3/4
4 1/2, 6 1/4.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2,
P. M.
For Milton, W. M., 9 3/4 A. M.; 1, 2 3/4, 5 1/2,
P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1/4 A. M.; 3 1/4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1/2 A. M.;
3 1/2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3/4 A. M.; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4,
4 3/4 P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7 1/8, 8 1/2, 8 47, 11 04, A. M.
2 48, 4 12, 5 13, P. M.
The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth,
will not stop short of South Braintree.
JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. 15

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—
7 24, 8 23, 8 38, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16
P. M.

Attention All!
DIRECTIONS FOR USING
S. Crane's Patent
COMPOUND WASH MIXTURE.
Directions for Mixture in Soap Form.
1. Measure 15 gallons of water into a tub, and let it be as warm as the hand can bear. Rain, hydrant, or spring water should be preferred. The cleaning
2. Then add one pound of the hard soap, and make suds by dissolving it in the water.
3. Then put in all the white clothes, and let them remain in the suds twenty-five or thirty minutes;
during the last ten minutes, stir, move, and press them, with the hand on a stick, and rub the hands slightly, when much soiled, in the water. The clothes should have ample room, and not be crowded.
Afterwards wring the clothes—put them into a tub of clean hot water, and let them remain a short time;
rinse them as much as may be necessary in cold wa ter and add the bluing—wring and hang out to dry.
Colored clothes may be washed in the same manner, but rinsed only in warm or cold water. Five gallons of water and half a pound of the soap will answer for a small family.
For washing Painted Wood Work or Painted Walls, Iron Railings, Stone Steps, &c.—Prepare the necessary quantity of water, apply it with a soft flann el or sponge, and rinse with clean water, as above directed.
In this way, Steamboats, Painted Houses, Doors, Windows, Brasses, Knobs, Painted Inside Walls, may be washed and made beautifully clean. The cleaning of wood work, brasses, etc., in parlors or other rooms, can be done without removing the furniture or ex posed, by using a flannel wrung out of the preparation, and applying clean cold water afterwards; for bed bugs, use the Mixture undiluted, and they will be seen and felt no more.
In large boarding houses, it may be used for table and kitchen furniture—also for bathing, especially in sickness, when Rheumatism and Neuralgia, or stiff ness exists, rendering the skin soft, clear, and per fectly clean. For brusses, make a paste with Pum ice stone, and the pure Mixture in fluid form, and po lish.
For sale by HENRY A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, July 20. if

Watch & Jewelry Store.
THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C.
Redfern, where he will keep constantly on hand a good as sortment of Watches, Silver Spoons
Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear
Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens; Breast Pins, Specta
cles, &c.
Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy
Goods.
Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No 1
Washington Street.
N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Su perintendence of Mr. WM. B. LEARNED, who will give personal attention to the repairing of Watch es and Jewelry.
D. R. ADAMS.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 2m

FRUIT TREES.
Special Notice.
THE Proprietor is desirous of dispos ing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Haw thorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., with a view to improvements on the grounds the same season.
The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces almost every approved sort of American or Foreign origin, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or extent of variety.
Special Certificates have been bestowed on the PEAR, and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are now ready for transplanting.
Extra size TREES, with fruit buds, and well fur nished with branches, and such as will soon com mence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.
Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, &c., and at rates less than is generally charged for novelties.
Favors for exportation and the home trade, can be had from fruit bearing trees, thereby ensuring correct ness of nomenclature.
SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the ex perience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspond ent.
Address—"The Superintendent of the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass." or to the Subscriber, No. 2, Pearl Street, Boston.
MARSHALL P. WILDER.
Grove Hall Conches leave No. 11 Franklin Street, four times each day.
Dorchester, Oct. 12th, 1850. if

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK SS. Probate Office, October 5th, A.
D. 1850: An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of RACHEL FAXON, late of Braintree, in said County, Widow, deceased, having been pre sented for Probate by Barnabus F. Arnold, the Exec utor therein named;
ORDERED, that the said Barnabus F. Arnold do notory persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twenty-sixth day of October, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot.
S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.
Braintree, Oct. 12, 1850. 3w

POETRY.

STANZAS TO A LADY.

A form was in my early dreams
By day and night—
A presence fair and well defined,
An angel bright.
In thee that vision is renewed
(As genial sun renews the flowers.)
All beautiful as the haunting form
Whose memory lives thro' all my hours.

Within thine eye's blue depth of sea
An angel lies,
That seems to bid one strive to win
A kingly prize.
But, oh! unworthy and abash'd,
My action falters on resolve—
The riddle of thine April eyes
I cannot guess—nor dare evolve!

To praise the whiteness of the snow,
The light of stars—
To paint the morning walking through
The Orient's bars,
Were tasks of lighter pains, meseems,
Than telling all thy charms so rare—
Than painting beauties of thy face
While Love is reigning changeable there!

My hand hath never known the lays
What passion breathes;
My hand hath never bound the wreath
The lover wreaths;
But, oh! if heart and hand could frame
A song and wreath as pure as thou,
My soul would quick assay the task
To tell how deep I love thee now!

But I am humble—very poor—
So pass me by—
Erekindle not my soul of flame
With word or eye!
Should I love you—you so star-like?
Should all my days of dreaming be?
Still my soul rebels to prudence,
And daily, nightly dreams of THEE.

THE ILLS OF IDLENESS.

BY THE LATE THOMAS G. FESSENDEN.
What pains and penalties attend
The wight whose being's aim and end
Is wholly self enjoyment!
His easy chair becomes a rack,
And all Pandora's plagues attack
The wretch who wants employment.

He slum the exquisite distress
Which ever waits on idleness,
He flies to dissipation;
Drinks deep to keep his spirits up,
And in the merriment
Drowns health and reputation.

And now, in Fashion's vortex whirl'd,
A dandy of the gentler world,
He figures in the ton;
The wise man laughs, the simple stare,
To see the consequential air
The silly rake puts on.

Now drives his carriage about
To club, assembly, ball and rout,
To waste his time and treasure;
Gives sensual appetite the reins,
And takes illimitable pains
To seem a man of pleasure.

The course of life such fools pursue,
Now worry down the wandering Jew—
Worse off than galley slaves!
And then to one about the time
The man of virtue's in his prime,
Such sots are in their grave.

But if their days are lengthened out,
By dint of constitution stout,
In apathy and pain;
A ruby and carbuncled face
Displays the signal of disgrace
Like marks erst set on Cain.

Now dire paralysis and gout Parade their forces round about
The citadel of life;
In vain the doctor tries his skill;
His ultimate opponents still
Are victors in the strife.

Disease, remorse, with joint attack,
Now put at once upon the rack
Their bodies and their souls;
Victims of vice, they suffer more Than Montezuma did of yore
When stretched on burning coals.

ANECDOTES.

During the Jenny Lind excitement in Boston, the coachman who drove her from the cars to the Revere House, thus ridiculed the insane admiration which his "fellow citizens" were exhibiting—Mounting the steps of the hotel, he cried—"Here's the hand that lifted Jenny Lind out of the coach. Gentlemen, you can any of you have the privilege of kissing it for five dollars—children half price."

"Who made you?" enquired a lady-teacher, of a great lubberly boy, who had lately joined her class. "I don't know." "You ought to be ashamed of yourself. A boy fourteen years old! Why? there's little Dicky Filton—he's only three—he can tell I dare say. Come here Dicky—who made you?" "Dad!" replied the infant prodigy. "There!" said the teacher triumphantly, "I knew he'd remember." "Vell, he euzher!" said the staid, "I ain't but a little while ago since he was made!"

There is a lawyer down east so excessively honest, that he puts all his flower pots out over night, so determined is he that everything shall have its due.

"There are 210 bones in the human body."—Wonder if they reckoned that after a man had dined on shad?

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES.

Selected and Prepared with care

—Also—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are: STOUT DRINKING CUPS; Lough Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Mouth and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions.

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH. She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has removed his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

HATS AND CAPS,

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Book-Makers use.

Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Southern's Wharf by the subscribers.

Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.

JOHN GLOVER.

JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29.

Notice.

MISS PACKARD would inform the inhabitants of Quincy, that she proposes opening a School, in which will be taught all the English Branches, Drawing, Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, on the 15th of April. Terms, $5 00.

Quincy, March 23.

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 30

cis per bushel by D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

LAST OPPORTUNITY

Hawes'

DAGUERRETYPE SALOON.

Will remain at Quincy but a few days longer. Those desirous of procuring good pictures, can here procure any style of picture they desire.

This establishment is provided with an apparatus and an operator that will make pictures of small children, a little quicker, and groups of families and persons with light eyes as good as can be procured in the city.

All pictures taken at this Saloon that do not suit her friends, will be taken over without expense. All are invited to call and examine specimens.

Quincy, Sept. 12th.

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.

Quincy, Dec. 22.

Furniture.

HAVING enlarged my room I have added to my stock an assortment of FURNITURE, to which I would call the attention of all who are in want of any article in that line.

Quincy, Oct. 20.

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS J. GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

Quincy, March 24th.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 9th.

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Hancock St., Quincy.

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.

Quincy, March 16th.

Crochery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to

JOHN WHICHER.

Quincy, Oct. 5th.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL BURNING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 5, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PATTERNS.

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE

Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,

Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE STORE in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain fire ten or twelve hours—are of very handsome appearance, and are sold at lower prices than any other stoves of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in PARLOR STOVES ever made. It consists of a large air heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 15th, 1850.

Bacon & Beef.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

Quincy, March 24.

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th.

Whitney Blankets and Comforters.

ALL sizes for sale

by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5.

The Circassian Oil.

THIS OIL has now obtained a celebrity worthy its high intrinsic merits. The sales have steadily increased and in public estimation it supercedes all other preparations for the HAIR. The proprietors are constantly receiving testimonials

of its great efficacy in restoring

the hair in cases of baldness, and it has also been signally successful in curing the various scrofulous affections to which the head and hair is subject. Parents will find the Circassian Oil an article of incalculable benefit to children, in laying the foundation of a Healthy and beautiful Head of Hair.

Manufactured and for sale by the proprietor, JOSEPH RICHARDS, Quincy. Also, for sale by Dr. WILLIAM B. BUGBEE.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by S. W. FOWLE, 138 Washington Street, and by Mrs. E. KIDDER & Co., 100 Court Street, Boston.

Quincy, Dec. 15.

Improved Washing Fluid.

THE best and cheapest article yet discovered, warranted to give entire satisfaction or the money refunded. Price—40 cents per gallon.

Directions for Using.

1st. Soak the white clothes in warm rain water, if you have it; if not, in warm suds for 10 or 15 minutes and wring out.

2d. Mix 1-2 a pint of the fluid with 2 pailsful or 5 gallons of water, and when warm put in the clothes and boil briskly 20 minutes, pressing them occasionally with the stick. Take them out, drain off the fluid and put into a tub, adding sufficient cold water to make it comfortable for the hands. Wash and rub the soiled parts a little in this first water—then rinse well in clear cold water and the washing is done.

3. The same mixture will answer for several lots. Or, if more is required, add a wine glass full or 1-2 a quart of fluid to each gallon of water.

4. Colored clothes and flannels may be washed in the first rinsing water.

For sale by D. BAXTER & CO.

Agents for the Manufacturer.

Quincy, August 31.

New Goods.

THE subscriber having recently enlarged his Store and made an addition to his stock of Goods, has now on hand and

AT THE LOWEST PRICES,

a good assortment of NEW STYLE

Fall and Winter Prints,

ALL WOOL and FANCY DELAINES;

Lancaster GINGHAMS;

Colored and Black ALPACAS;

Mourning and Fancy PLaid LONG SHAWLS

Cashmere SQUARE SHAWLS;

White, Red, Yellow, and Blue Mixed

FLANNELS;

Cotton Flannels;

An assortment of BLANKETS, some very extra.

Bleached and Brown COTTONS, &c., &c.

He invites the attention of those who want

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Sept. 22.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building erectly erected by Mr. Samuel

Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also

would tender his sincere

thanks for the liberal share of

patronage which he has received during the past year.

His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves,

among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every

essential quality requisite for any latitude. This

Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet

Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely

what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family

Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility

and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction, with capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean.

Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the

past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER

ANDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of

TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

POETRY.

THE SLANDERER.

BY MRS. A. M. HUNTER.

G, search creation's wide domain,
From south to northern pole;
No being half so mean is found,
That e'er possessed a soul.

From house to house these demons go,
Their neighbors faults proclaim;
With falsehood dark and deep they strive
To blast the fairest name.

These treacherous foes are often seen
In sanctimonious guise;
While on their vile, deceitful tongues
The deadly venom lies.

E'en friendship's charm by them is riven—
The friends in whom we trust,
Of blinded by their slanderous tales,
Are scattered like the dust.

Perchance we meet—they know us not;
Their smile has passed away;
The heart that once with kindness beat
Is chilled in cold dismay.

'Tis then a deep and painful thrill
Seals through the wounded breast,
That seem to crush each noble thought
That e'er the heart possessed.

No poisonous winds that sweep the plain,
Can with their tongue compare;
For oft they pierce the silent tomb,
To wreak their vengeance there.

The bitter wrong may lie concealed,
May now securely sleep;
Yet slander, though it slumbers long,
Its sure reward shall reap.

THE LOVED AND LOST.

BY O. W. WHITTIER.

I shall not see again a brow
So pure and proud as thine;
It seemed an altar, formed to glow
Mid thoughts and dreams divine.

I shall not meet again an eye
So eloquent and bright;
The stars that gem the evening sky
Above recall its light.

I shall not hear again a voice may hear
Of such a soothing tone;
Or hark beneath a smile so dear
As thine, my lost, my own.

My beautiful, my cherished flower;
Thy footsteps' lightest fall
Stirred in my heart a magic power,
And made earth musical.

I know not why I yet live on,
Since thou art dead afar;
The glory of my life hath gone
With thee, my morning star.

But thou, my bird, hath spread thy plume,
In better, brighter spheres;
Far from the dreary shade of tombs,
The bitterness of tears.

BE GENTLE WITH THY WIFE.

Be gentle! for you little know
How many trials rise;
Although to thee they may be small,
To her, of giant size.

Be gentle! though perchance that lip
May speak a murmuring tone,
The heart may beat with kindness yet,
And joy to be thine own.

Be gentle! weary hours of pain,
Thy woman's lot to bear;
Then yield her what support thou canst,
And all her sorrows share.

Be gentle! for the noblest hearts
At times may have some grief,
And even in a pettish word
May seek to find relief.

Be gentle! none are perfect—
Thou'rt dearer far than I;
Then husband, bear and smile and bear—
Be gentle to thy wife.

ANECDOTES.

An elderly deacon, kindly inclined, and a very well meaning man, but, unfortunately, previous to his conversion with the church, addicted to the bad habit of profane swearing, from which he has only partially succeeded in breaking himself, on Sunday last took his seat in his pew in one of our fashionable churches. A rough boy had placed several pins with the ends sticking up in the cushion, and as soon as the deacon was fairly seated, he sprang up, hastily crying, "By Jesus!" loud enough for a number of persons who were in the vicinity to hear him. The mortification of the deacon, and the astonishment of those who heard the ejaculation, may better be imagined than described.

Coleman relates that a Scotchman slipped off the roof of a habitation sixteen stories high, and when midway in his descent through the air, he arrived at a lodger looking out of a window of the eighth floor, to whom (as he was an acquaintance) he observed, en passant, "Eh, Sandy, say a fa' as I shall hae!"

A chaplain was once preaching to a class of college boys about the formation of habits. "Gentlemen," says he, "close your ears against bad discourses." The scholars immediately clapped their hands to their ears.

An English jury, in a criminal case, is said to have brought in the following verdict: "Guilty, with some little doubts as to whether he is the man."

An Irishman, named Patrick Murphy, was lately fined twenty shillings in Liverpool, for keeping four pigs in his yard. He threatens to move to New York, where by law, they are allowed to keep pigs in their front yards.

One day, Night threw her mantle over the world and pinned it with a star—MAGNOLIA CLARK.

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES.

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without Bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; House Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions.

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH. She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS.

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.

Just landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER.
JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 20.

FRUIT TREES.

Special Notice.

THE PROPRIETOR is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces almost every approved sort of American or Foreign origin, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or extent of variety.

SPECIAL CULTIVATION has been bestowed on the PEAR, and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are now ready for transplanting.

EXTRA SIZE TREES, with fruit buds, and well furnished with branches, and such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.

Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, &c., and at rates less than is generally charged for novelties.

PEARS for exportation and the home trade, can be had from fruit-bearing trees, thereby ensuring correctness of nomenclature.

SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspondent.

Address,—"The Superintendent, of the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass.," or to the Subscriber, No. 2, Pearl Street, Boston.

Grove Hall Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin Street, four times each day.

Dorchester, Oct. 12th, 1850.

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS.

Mantles and Scarfs.

in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls.

will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State shawls bear ticks corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.

Orders solicited from all sections of the country, and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT.

No. 2 Milk Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, August 21.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schöner Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion rest-rile; Batchelor's instant hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider Vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels. Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE.

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and DURABILITY, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove. A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECON OMIST, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND. Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

Quincy, March 23.

HOT AIR

Quincy, March 23.

PARLOR STOVES!

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Quincy, March 23.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, in better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a choice and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan. 12.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES, LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c., At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31.

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town, free of expense.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver.

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's. STORE.....IN HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 45.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two Dollars and Fifty CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—Three DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription or advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereover he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates. Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, Five CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSPH CLEVELY,	Arlington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORN,	Salmon.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

[From the London Metropolitan Magazine.]

BEST MOTIVES.

The sun had sunk below the level of the lowest chimney-pot in St. James' Street, and the morning of that period was pretty far advanced, when the honorable Berkeley Fitzgibbon, the landowner, came in town, half-marched, half-cantered, into the Countess of Lockham's drawing room, and was graciously received by the lady Augustus, the youngest and sole unmarried of a blooming family of daughters. The beautiful blonde sat on a large ottoman, at a marquise table, busily engaged with a lithograph of Tagliani, a pile of shawls, and a bottle of transfer varnish.

"How very apropos you are come, Berkeley," she said; "you are such a clever creature—do tell me how to use this transfer composition."

"Upon my honor, lady Augustus," answered Fitzgibbon, "if you do me the honor to consult me, I fear I shall be selfish in my instructions."

"Selfish!" said lady Augustus, "how is that possible? it will be a work of charity."

"It," rejoined Berkeley, "you will apply my tuition, you may indeed call it a work of charity."

"Why now, Berkeley, I dare say you are getting up a fancy fair, for the poor Poles, or the Portuguese patriots, and you are going to ask me to supply you with workboxes and cigar-cases, and to take a stall. But now do tell me how to use this varnish properly."

"Why really, lady Augustus, unless it is applicable to animate as well as inanimate objects, I do not doubt my capabilities of instruction in its use; but it could be applied to the living, I would in all humility, entreat it might be used to transfer the image of a certain silent adorer to the gentle bosom of Nature's fairest creation."

"Ah! ah!" said the lady affecting to misunderstand him, "I see now it is a play, and not a fair, you are getting up; but what can I do in it?"

"O, indeed? you want me to rival Fanny Kemble—would my part be a long one?"

"I hope so."

"But I have such a horrid memory; I could never recollect a dozen lines. I could only be required."

"O, then," said lady Augustus, "I think I can achieve it; but do you mean me to go through the whole of this long part, with the exception of one word, in dumb show?"

"That were rather too hard," answered Fitzgibbon, "and word only is necessary, but as many more as lady Augustus pleases, may be superadded."

"But indeed I can't improve, Berkeley; so tell me," continued the lady, "exactly what you want me to say and do."

"Why, then, you must suppose that you are sitting in a drawing room, as now, by the side of an adoring lover, who has long sighed and admired in silence. Imagine him Unable longer to conceal his pain."

unfolding with passionate ardor, yet with trembling respect, the tale of his enduring love; then you must receive his declarations with some encouraging show of sympathy; and, when he thus takes your hand and swears, as I now do, 'by all my hopes of heaven, thy smiles are dearer to me than the breath of life,' and adds, 'O, speak! say, dare I believe I am beloved, or hope I may be? The lady blushed, and said nothing, and unheeded the table over with varnish, and affected a lack of comprehension."

"And now, Augustus," said Berkeley, resuming his proper character, "may I believe, or may I hope?"

"Not now," answered the lady, turning away her head; "not now, Berkeley—another day—tomorrow."

"To-morrow be it then," he said, "I obey," and having gracefully kissed the fair hand he still held, he withdrew.

Lady Augustus has not recovered from the perturbation which Fitzgibbon's declaration, although long expected, had created, when the Earl, her father, entered, and introduced to her notice, Barnaby Grampus, Esq., of Tokerhouse Yard, in the city of London, bill broker. "Augustus, my dear, my particular friend, Mr. Grampus," said the Earl, as he handed forth the dedicated Scot—"pray sit down, Mr. Grampus. Mr. Grampus, my dear, is just returned from Scotland—the lady bowed her head—"has been building a sea-terrace," continued the Earl, "on a very superb scale—delightful views, Mr. Grampus, I dare say. Coignaskellan Castle, near Loch Ness, I think. Augustus, you are very fond of Scott's novels, and of his 'Lady of the Lake,' and the descriptions they contain of the mountain scenery of Scotland—how should you like to visit the spots his genius has made sacred?"

"O, it would be delightful, papa," said Lady Augustus.

"I anticipated your answer, my dear. Mr. Grampus, however, was fearful you might view the prospect of a journey, or a residence among the rugged hills of Inver-shire, with dread."

"Mr. Grampus, papa! Mr. Grampus is very good, but—"

"Ah, yes—I see, my dear, continued her father, 'you don't understand me.' Well, I'll leave Mr. Grampus, for a few minutes to explain himself; and he left the room. This was explanation sufficient; the lady's comprehensive faculties were fully awakened, and she sighed as she mentally compared Fitzgibbon and Grampus, and with the mind's eye glanced alternately at Coignaskellan castle, Inver-shire and Curzon street, May Fair.

Grampus was an elderly gentleman—about sixty, say—standing about five feet four inches, of a thin, shrivelled frame, with a considerable bend at the hips, confessing to a pair of lank legs, enveloped in a wrinkled pair of drab kerseymeres breeches, the vile production of some Gaelic Schneiders, and a pair of boots with long brown leather tops, that would have given Holy the nightmare.

The upper part of his person was wrapped in a black coat and waistcoat, of a cut that a professor of geometry would have been puzzled to define, and of dimensions that made it doubtful whether the honorable gentleman, for he was a member, had not, by some mistake, encased him in a garment of the great rival receiver of the seven millions; and to this, a thick fat nose, a pair of small grey eyes, overhung by red bushy penthouse brows, and a thin sawtooth hatchet face, crowned with a scanty powdered crop of weak straight hair; and the outward man of Grampus is before you.

"Your ladyship," said the swain, when the Earl had quitted the room, "is no old surpise at your noble father's words, which I can well see your intelligence has richly interpreted into a declaration of my most respectful wishes for a nearer alliance with the Earl through your ladyship."

"I have certainly," said Lady Augustus, "so understood my father, and I feel sensibly the honor you do me, sir, but—"

"Ah! well, well," resumed Grampus, interrupting her, "I'll not hurry your ladyship in a matter of such importance, but I may be allowed to mention that I shall not object to add another thousand to the three thousand a year, and the castle that the Earl and myself had agreed on, as the settlement."

Four thousand a year and the castle! Lady Augustus brain was in a ferment. "But then, he's such a horrid creature—poor Berkeley—O, no, it's impossible—grace, elegance, taste, and Fitzgibbon, forbid it!"

"To-morrow, perhaps, your ladyship will be prepared to give me an answer," said Grampus. The lady curtisied an affirmative, and the bill broker went forth to do some discounts in a neighboring square.

"But, my dear mamma," said Lady Augustus, "I do love Berkeley, and he promises to give over play; besides, the old lord, my uncle, who died last week, has left him a provision."

"A mere thousand a year, my love," said the Countess, "not sufficient to find him in cards and cambrics; and his debts are enormous."

"How very unfortunate, mamma, for he's very handsome, now isn't he, and very accomplished?"

"But think my dear child," said her mamma, "of the settlement Mr. Grampus proposes."

"O don't trouble him, mamma! he looks as if he would take me into the city to live; he's a detestable creature; how can you expect me to think of him while Berkeley exists?"

"But, my dear Augustus, consult your prudence and good sense in this case; consider, my dear, your father's unfortunate losses will be known next week. We must then go on the continent to economise, and all chances of marriage will be lost to you, and what is worse, we cannot for some years support such an establishment as an unmarried daughter requires."

"Well, then, mamma, if I must be married, you must, indeed, let Berkeley have me, for I cannot, indeed, be that monster's said Lady Augustus, bursting into tears."

"Well, well, my dear, answered the Countess, don't weep—go to your room and dress; and as I shall not have another opportunity of speaking to you to-night, let me beg of you, once for all, to sacrifice some of your wishes to your prosperity."

The lady Augustus retired to her room accordingly, and wept till her maid, Jennie Jenkins, assured her she was looking almost unbearably pale, when she ceased to abandon herself to her grief, and gave herself up to her tire woman instead. The Earl and Countess had a dinner-party on that day, and among the guests were Fitzgibbon and Grampus; the former had been invited because he had ruined himself in so fashionable a manner, that nothing in the world of ton could be deemed complete unless he were in some manner mixed up with it; the latter gentleman had won his invitation three weeks before, by cashing a bill for the Earl, which the humane member of the humane Society would have shrunk from if the acceptor had been even starving. Lady Augustus was placed greatly to her mortification next to old mortality, and consequently had no opportunity of insinuating a syllable concerning her forlorn condition to her beloved Berkeley, or of exchanging a word or look of confidence with him; as soon, therefore, as her withdrawal could be tolerated, she pleaded a violent headache, and retired for the evening to ponder on her hard fate; and when at last she slept, to dream that a vampire in old Grampus' powder and top-boots was keeping his wedding festival in the midst of a snow storm, on a cairn three thousand feet above the level of the sea, and quaffing her blood out of a Highland quack—but I grow pedantic—the zig-zag steps of a woman's will through the mazes of a woman's heart? A short ten days had but elapsed, when a heavy of carriages beset the Earl's door—the servants all befooled, while ladies, befooled and befooled, and men in white gloves and waistcoats, 'discouraged sweet music' of a marriage; and as the clock struck two, Barnaby Grampus, Esq., and Lady Augustus Grampus, stepped into a travelling chariot and four, and were whisked along the new road, on their way to Coignaskellan Castle, while the Honorable Berkeley Fitzgibbon, in wayward mood, took wing for Paris, that seat of consolation to disappointed lovers. "Poor thing!" said the ladies to each other, when they met again at the Duchess of—'s déjeuner, what a sacrifice! but no doubt she was actuated by the best motives!—Oh, certainly!—undoubtedly, her father's immense losses!—the only means to save the family!—best possible motives!—kindest motives!—most affectionate motives!—most disinterested motives!—most filial motives!—in short, all lamented the match, but agreed that the lady acted from the most exemplary motives.

Truly, historians should have had hearts, but mine is soft and susceptible, and much it grieveth me to rob the Lady Augustus, Grampus of her triumph, yet it behooveth me to extenuate. Know then, gentle reader, from the few words that follow, how the marriage, which I have immortalised, was so unexpectedly brought about.

When Lady Augustus in the spirit of filial duty did as the Countess her mother desired her, consult her prudence and good sense, she plainly perceived that truly there were no more chances of marriage for her, after her father's ill luck should be known; she therefore plainly saw the necessity that existed for her either taking the powdered Strephon, or going off with Berkeley; and she was about making up her mind to the latter, when her maid entered the room, all in tears. "What is the matter?" inquired Lady Augustus.

"My lady," answered the handmaid, "I have lost my cousin Joe—he died this morning, my lady, and I've just seen him laid out."

"How could you think of seeing him laid out?" what a horrible idea!" said her mistress.

"O Lord, my lady!" answered the girl; "there was nothing horrible to look at, poor fellow, except that he had the thrush, but I didn't see him till he was dead."

"The thrush?"—what's that?"

"O law, my lady! don't you know what the thrush is? Why we all have the thrush at some time or other; most people have it when they're babies, and they do, are sure to have it when they're dying."

"Indeed!" said her mistress; "and what is it like?"

"O it's very dreadful, and very shocking, my lady; the most shocking sight your ladyship ever saw; the tongue swells out of the mouth, and turns all black, and looks so horrible, my lady, it's enough to frighten any one; and all they do don't have it when they're babies, are sure to have it when they're dying."

"How very dreadful, Jenkins! but are you quite sure of it?" asked Lady Augustus, turning very pale.

"O quite sure, my lady; every body knows it; and I saw my aunt Wiggins with it, when she died last Christmas, twelve months."

"You may go," said Lady Augustus; "I'll ring for you when I want you; and as her maid left the room, she walked up to her dressing glass and looked sorrowfully for a moment on her own beautiful face, then hastily quitting it hurried to the Countess' dressing room."

"Alam ma!" shrieked, in evident mental agony, as she entered the room hastily, "did I have the thrush in infancy?"

"Thrush!" said her mother in surprise; "no, my dear."

"No!" echoed Lady Augustus. "O what an unfortunate creature I am! And is it really true, my dear mamma, that unless we leave it then, it invariably comes in death?"

"What a very strange question, Augustus!"

"Tell me, tell me, my dear mamma, is it so? tell me, and deliver me of this horrid suspense."

"Why, yes, my dear, I believe it is; in fact, such is the case."

"Then," cried Lady Augustus, "my doom is sealed. No Fitzgibbon, the expectation of living to blast your sensitive taste with such a sight would embitter my existence! To be seen by you in such a condition at such an interesting moment; O dreadful! No, no, it's impossible! I renounce my happiness. Mamma, I tell you that old brute! And as the wheels were fairly articulated by the fair creature, she sank senseless and exhausted on the sofa. Reader, the rest is known; my task is complete.

GALLANT ESCAPE OF A HUNTED PATRIOT.

It may perhaps be remembered that, in consequence of riots in certain cantons of the department of the Drome a few weeks ago, a number of the National Guard, who were known to have been implicated, or who did not sufficiently exert themselves in maintaining tranquility, were disarmed. The disarming took place quietly, and without any attempt at resistance; but when steps were subsequently taken to secure the arrest of the rioters or conspirators, it was found they had all, or nearly all, escaped beyond the jurisdiction of the general officer commanding the districts where martial law is still in vigor. They had passed, in fact, into another department, and thus, for a space, baffled the zeal of the authorities.

It was, however, determined that the dangerous men should not be allowed to lurk near the scene of their former misdeeds.

The authorities were informed some days since that the greater number had found refuge in the department of the Ardeche, which, forming as it does part of the 8th military division, is not, as I have just mentioned, under martial law. Intelligence was also communicated that a clandestine manufactory of gunpowder on an extensive scale existed at Pouzin, in the house of a person named Soubeiran, who was remarkable for much energy of character, and desperate personal courage. This man was known to declare, that he would shoot any one, whether a police agent, or general, who should attempt to take him into custody. General Lapene, who commands the sub-division of the Drome, made arrangements for the arrest of the Ardeche, to effect the capture of Soubeiran, and the seizure of the gunpowder. It was in the execution of this project that an incident occurred which bears rather a close resemblance to an interesting passage in Sir Walter Scott's novel, of Rob Roy.

An expedition was regularly planned between General Lapene and the military authorities on the other side of the Rhone, and was to take place simultaneously on both banks. The attack commenced the 24th. At half past ten o'clock at night a strong detachment of the 3d Regiment of Horse Artillery and four companies of the 22d of the line left Valence, under the orders and direction of the Commandant of the place. This column was to be re-inforced, as it proceeded, by smaller detachments of the 13th and 17th of the line. It arrived at Pouzin, at four o'clock in the morning, after having invested the Communes of Crinas, Baix, and St. Laurent du Pape. The Prefect of the Ardeche, had previously arrived at the rendezvous; having under his orders several detachments of the gendarmerie of his department. At five o'clock that functional, accompanied by his men, proceeded to the residence of Soubeiran, knocked at the door, and summoned him, in the name of the law, to come forth and surrender himself a prisoner. No answer was made. Knowing the desperate character of Soubeiran, the Prefect had disposed of his men so as to cut off his escape, and four gendarmes were stationed at the door, two on each side, ready to seize him the moment he made his appearance; whilst the Prefect himself, a man of much determination, stood in front with a pistol loaded and cocked in his hand.

During the short silence that intervened a noise was heard inside, and close to the door, as of the loading of a gun, and the ringing of a steel ramrod in the barrel. After the lapse of some minutes, and when the Prefect was about to repeat his summons, the door was suddenly flung open, and Soubeiran in his shirt sleeves, a red silk handkerchief twisted round his head, his throat bare, and with sandals on his feet, stepped to the threshold, and presented himself before them. One hand grasped a blunderbuss, the other was extended forward. He evidently did not expect to see so many prepared to prevent his escape, and his surprise made him hesitate a moment. The hesitation, short as it was, in all probability prevented the shedding of blood; and the Prefect, profiting by it rushed at him in an instant, seized with one hand the arm which held the blunderbuss, and with the other put a pistol to his temples. At the same time he again summoned him to surrender. The gendarmes who were stationed at the door were in the act of advancing to enforce the capture, when Soubeiran, by a sudden and violent movement, freed himself from the grasp of the man who held him, drew back a few paces, (still with his face to his antagonist,) then turned quickly, still with blunderbuss in hand; leaped over a table and some chairs, burst through a door, the rebound of which impeded for a moment the pursuers, reached a window which hung over the water, and bursting through it, dashed into the Rhone, that was rolling turbid, cold and dark, below, and disappeared amidst its waves. The troops who were stationed outside, ran at once to the bridge, and twenty or thirty of the horsemen were in a moment on the opposite side, while others lined the near bank.

Once or twice the end of the handkerchief which bound the outlaw's head was seen in the uncertain light of day-break on the surface of the water; but Soubeiran himself was never since beheld. The troops watched long on both banks of the river, expecting to see him attempt to land. It was all useless. With respect to his fate there is some uncertainty. It is not known whether he perished in the dangerous current that shoots between the arches of the bridge, or whether he was able, by swimming for a considerable time under water, to find a shelter in the hollow of the rocks, that in that part hang over the stream; at all events, dead or alive, he has not since been seen or heard of.

In his house was found a manufactory of gunpowder, admirably organised; and a large quantity of which was perfectly ready for use; a part also made up into cartridges.

London Times.

A FLOGGING SCENE.

"Now men," he added, "you'll all admit the charge, you know the penalty. Strip! Quarter-master, are the gratings rigged?"

The gratings are square frames of barred wood-work, sometimes placed over the hatchways. One of these squares was now laid on the deck, close to the ships bulwarks, and while the remaining preparations were being made, the master-at-arms assisted the prisoners in removing their jackets and shirts. This done, their shirts were loosely thrown over their shoulders.

At a sign from the captain, John, with a shameless leer, advanced and stood passively upon the grating, while the bare-headed old quartermaster, with grey hair streaming in the wind, bound his feet to the cross-bars, and stretching out his arms over his head, secured them to the hammock nettings above. He then retreated a little space, standing silent.

Meanwhile the boatswain stood solemnly on the other side, with a green bag in his hand from which taking four instruments of punishment, he gave one to each of his mates; for a fresh 'cat,' applied by a fresh hand, is the ceremonious privilege accorded to every man-of-war culprit.

At another sign from the captain, the master-at-arms, stepping up, removed the shirt from the prisoner. At this juncture, a wave broke against the ship's side, and dashed the spray over his exposed back. But though the air was piercing cold, and the water drenched him, John stood without a shudder.

The captain's finger was lifted, and the first boatswain's mate stepped forward, and with the nose of his cut with his left hand, and then sweeping them round his neck, brought them with the whole force of his body upon the mark. Again, again, and again, and at every blow, higher and higher rose the loud purple bars on the prisoner's back. But he only bowed his head, and stood still. Meanwhile some of the crew whispered among themselves applause of their shipmate's nerve; but the greater part were breathlessly silent as the keen scourge hissed through the wintry air and fell with a cutting wiry sound, upon the mark. One dozen lashes being applied, the man was taken down, and went among the crew with a smile, saying, 'D—n me! it's nothing when you're used to it! Who wants to fight?'

The next was Antoine, the Portuguese. At every blow he surged from side to side, pouring out a torrent of involuntary blasphemies. Never before had he been heard to curse so freely. When cut down, he went among the men, swearing to have the life of the captain. Of course this was unheard by the officers.

Mark, the third prisoner, only cringed and coughed under his punishment. He had some pulmonary complaint. He was off duty for several days after the flogging; but this was partly to be imputed to his extreme mental misery. It was his first scourging, and he felt the insult more than the injury. He became silent and sullen for the rest of the cruise.

The fourth, and last, was Peter, the mizen-top hand. He had often boasted that he had never been degraded at the gangway. The day before, his cheek had worn its usual red, but now no ghost was whiter. As he was being secured to the gratings, and the shuddering and creepings of his dazzlingly white back were revealed, he turned round his head imploringly; but his weeping entreaties and vows of contrition were of no avail. "I would not forgive God Almighty!" cried the captain. The fourth boatswain mate advanced, and at the first blow, the boy, shouting 'My God! Oh, my God!' writhed and leaped so as to displace the gratings, and scatter the nine tails of the scourge all over his person. At the next blow he howled leaped and raged, in unendurable torture.

"What are you stopping for, boatswain's mate?" cried the captain. "Lay on!" and the whole dozen were applied.

"I don't care what happens to me now!" wept Peter, going among the crew with bloodshot eyes, as he put on his shirt. "I have been flogged once and they may do it again if they will; let them look out for me now!"—Herman Melville's 'White Jacket.'

THRILLING INCIDENT.

While a British man-of-war was cruising in the river Tagus, a shot was fired from Fort Julien, on a stormy occasion, which frightened a boy, (the captain's son,) to such a degree, that he jumped overboard, from his mother's arms. The lady precipitated herself into the water, in the vain hope of saving her child; and the marine who was on sentry, had, with the rapidity of lightning, thrown down his musket, cast off his heavy chaco and boots, and dashed after them. The quartermaster followed, and seeing him, the marine, who was a most powerful swimmer, struck out after the boy who had already been swept down a considerable distance by the current, leaving the lady to her care as being in the least danger. We give the balance of the story as the quartermaster tells it:

I soon reached her; she was struggling desperately in the water; I approached cautiously, and endeavored to get behind her, for I had before experienced the dreadful clutch of a drowning person. I had extended my arm to seize her by the hair, when the current, aided perhaps by some volition on her part, suddenly whirled her round towards me, and I was grasped round the body. We sank at once; and being deprived of the use of my arms, I found, that although we occasionally rose to the surface, we should both inevitably be drowned unless I could succeed in disengaging myself. I struggled energetically, but in vain. Only one chance remained: I dived downwards, taking the lady with me. Downwards, still downwards we went, still the same unrelenting hold. I shall never forget the agony of that descent. I held my breath so long that a sense of suffocation came upon me, and my chest seemed as if the weight of a ton had been placed upon it. I would have given the world for one mouthful of air, but to rise again to the surface, unrelieved of my burden would have been madness. Thus thought I flashed through my brain like lightning, and I struggled on almost despairingly. At length we reached the bottom, and I clutched a large stone which was embedded in the mud, to prevent our being swept down by the tide. How long we remained there I know not; to me it seemed an age! reason was beginning to depart, and imagination to usurp her throne; I felt no longer the suffocating sensations I had experienced during the descent; a delightful hush was creeping over me, and visions of green fields, birds singing, and children playing, came to renew me of the happy days of childhood. A few moments longer and I should have been beyond all self-control, but at length I felt the lady relax her hold; she had become insensible, and began to float down the stream. With a powerful effort I recalled my wandering faculties, and saw that I might yet save her. I seized her by the hair, a few vigorous strokes brought us to the surface, and visions of heaven, but in my joy, I was much exhausted, and should soon have lost my precious burden had not assistance been near. Immediately on the alarm being given on board, the cutter had been manned, and pulled speedily to the place where we had been observed to sink. For two or three minutes they cruised about the spot, expecting to see us rise to the surface; but finding their hopes disappointed, they were about to pull after the marine, who had quietly turned himself upon his back, and resting the child upon his breast, allowed himself to float down the river, confident in his own ability to keep himself afloat until one of the boats should reach him. A few strokes had already been given by the cutter in his direction, when I appeared once more, struggling to sustain my lovely, and now insensible burden. A cry of joy was uttered by the first man who perceived us; like a thing of life the cutter swept round, and we were speedily drawn on board. The cutter went round again, and darted off in pursuit of the marine, who was by this time far down the river; and truly there was necessity for increased exertion, for a new and frightful danger was now impending.

A brig was seen advancing directly upon the floating marine, who, from his position in the water, was utterly ignorant of her approach. "Pull for heaven's sake, pull men!" exclaimed the first boatman, who was nearest to the cutter. "The brig will run them down!" and noisily with his apparel answered; the crew bent to their oars like madmen, until the cutter seemed almost to fly through the water. We gained rapidly upon them, but they were as rapidly nearing the brig. Every heart beat fast with hope and fear. The first lieutenant stood up in the bottom of the cutter, and shouted to the brig to alter her course, but the few men on board that vessel who were attracted by the noise perceiving no cause for so much outcry, only gazed in stupid wonderment at his frantic gesticulations. It was fast becoming evident that we should not reach the marine in time, and all who were not pulling watched with throbbing hearts for the expected collision. Meanwhile the marine floated calmly along, utterly unconscious of his danger, until the end of the brig's jib-boom appeared above his head. Instantly he threw himself upon his side, and grasped the child in the arm farthest from the vessel—the next moment she was upon him, and he disappeared beneath her bows. But a few seconds elapsed until we swept past the brig and the victims, when to our extreme surprise, the gallant fellow was seen still struggling in the eddy of the vessel. An arm had been broken by the concussion, but with the remaining arm he still grasped the child, and managed to keep himself afloat. They got into the cutter and rowed back to the Ma-jestic, where all the sufferers were put into cots, and attended with the most anxious solicitude by the surgeon. A month after the occurrences which have been related, the ship's company was assembled upon the quarter-deck, when the captain addressed the marine and myself as follows:—

 "My brave fellows, you have laid me under a debt of gratitude, which I shall never be able to repay; but my inability shall not prevent me from acknowledging the magnitude of the obligation. I have now called you upon the quarter-deck of this ship, to thank you, warmly and sincerely, for preserving all in this world that renders life dear to me. I reported your gallant, your noble conduct to the Admiral commanding on the station, who thought so highly of it, that he immediately forwarded the details to the Admiralty. Their lordships, to mark their sense of your distinguished conduct, have commanded me to present to one of you a boatswain's warrant, and to announce to the other his immediate promotion to the rank of sergeant."

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

A short time since a scene took place in the Champ Elysees, almost unrivalled in the annals of romance. The tenor Borsari, who has had a most magnificent success, and in Italy in particular, has taken advantage of a cange to visit Paris. He was walking under the trees in the Champ Elysees, near the Seine, when he caught sight of an old man, neatly dressed, dragging forth from an old fiddle some faint sounds, to which none listened. Borsari started, struck his hand upon his forehead to collect his thoughts, and then leaving the ladies rushed up to the poor musician. "Ecco mi; it's me," said he in a ringing voice. "The old man raised his head in astonishment. 'Don't you recognize me, Giacomo?' I am Borsari, your pupil, he to whom you opened up the musical career, who owes to you his reputation and his fortune." Borsari said the violinist. "Ah, now I remember. You have fulfilled my predictions, you have collected gold and fame, I am pleased at it in the midst of my misfortunes." "My poor master what has reduced you to this extremity?" Then the old man told his history. He had become an impresario. He had, at the head of a troop of singers, gone through the Isles of Greece, but misfortune had everywhere been his fate. After a miraculous escape from shipwreck, he got sick. Incompletely cured, he came to Paris, to an old pupil, a body who was kind to him, but who suddenly died. Giacomo then went into the orchestra of a little theatre, but at last, reduced to the last extremity, he came to play in the Champ Elysees. While the old man spoke, Borsari was feeling his pockets. All he found was a couple of pounds. Suddenly he took a bold resolution. "Giacomo, do you recollect the great air of la Calomnie?" "Yes," "Can you execute the accompaniment?" "Somewhat." "Begin!" At once, in a ringing, splendid voice, Borsari commenced this magnificent piece. A crowd collected—the singing voices were deserted, carriages drew up, and a fashionable audience descended from them. At the sight of such an audience the old man roused himself; his bow directed by a firm hand, drew forth delicious sounds. The audience were struck with admiration, and the setting sun seemed to transport every one to Italy. When he ended, the tenor took round his hat. No one refused. Gold poured in as well as silver; and when he had emptied his own purse amongst the heap of gold, he gave it to the old man, exclaiming, "Giacomo, this is an account, I shall see you again."

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN BOSTON.—About half past two o'clock, Tuesday morning, the extensive Freight Depot, of the Maine Extension Rail Road Co., was discovered to be on fire; and, in less than fifteen minutes, was entirely enveloped in flames. The second story was occupied by Messrs. Harrod & Fernald, dealers in Mahogany—who lost their entire stock, valued at $40,000—on which there was about $18,000 insured.

The Depot was about 500 feet in length, 50 in width, and two and a half stories high; it was erected about four years since, at a cost of $33,000. We understand that the Corporation have insurance on their losses for some $20,000 only—about equally divided between the building and freight. The whole loss by the fire cannot be far from $450,000. Fortunately the amount of freight in the building was considerably less than usual than on other days of the week.

A large quantity of lumber in the yard in the rear was also consumed. The brilliancy of the flames, which shot upwards to a great height, illuminated the whole north part of the city, and was noticed many miles distant in the country. The easterly wind fell in a dense mass directly upon the railroad track, and required much labor to clear it before the train for Portland could pass in the morning.

At the Annual Meeting of the QUINCY CHARITABLE SOCIETY, held at the house of Israel W. Munroe, Esq., on Monday the 4th inst., the following persons were chosen officers for the year ensuing:

ISRAEL W. MUNROE, President,
 LLOYD G. HORTON, Vice President,
 MISS MARY M. FREDERICK, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:
 James M. Wade, Benjamin Curtis, Mrs. Benjamin Curtis, Mrs. Eleazer Frederick, Mrs. Elijah Baxter, Miss Ann Bass, Miss Ann Curtis, Mrs. John Faxon.

SUSAN S. MARSH, Secretary.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—From Rome we learn that the Pope intended to nominate Bishops for Liverpool, Birmingham, and all the populous cities of England and Scotland. The French army of occupation was to be reduced to 5,000 men.

SPAIN.—Accounts from Madrid state that the Ministerial crisis appeared to be adjourned, but every one was of opinion that the respite would be a short one. The Cabinet was making great efforts to get over the 1st of November, the period of the opening of the Cortes. The troops which sailed from Cadiz, on the 8th October, for Havana, formed an effective force of 65 officers, and 1,204 rank and file. General Concha, the new Captain-General, was to embark with fresh reinforcements on the 15th for Havana.

SCHLESWIG.—From the seat of war the only intelligence is that of a minor misfortune that befell an Holstein outpost yesterday; an officer and twenty-five men, on field duty on the south bank of the Treene toward Schwabstedt, were surprised during the night by a Danish patrol and made prisoners. A very careless look out must have been kept at the post; but as the whole party is captured no inquiry can be instituted.

The following is the only account of the actual extent of the damage done to the town of Friederichstadt that has yet been given:

"The place is now nothing but a heap of ruins, for the few buildings the flames have spared, are so shattered by the heavy balls and shells, that they also, are little better than fragments. All the eastern part of the town is burnt, and the southern portion as far as the market place—only something of what is called the back town remains. The ferry, the house on the island, the Town Hall, churches, chapels and schools have all fallen a prey to the flames. No inhabitants remain in it. The three great locks by which the Treene was connected with the Eyder, are shattered by shot; the corn mill and another mill, are also destroyed; in a word, Friederichstadt has ceased to exist."

The news from other parts of the Continent is of no importance.

CALIFORNIA.—The steamship Empire City, arrived at New York on Wednesday morning, bringing 20 days later news, 900 passengers, and a large amount of gold.

San Francisco has again been visited by a destructive fire, consuming over 150 buildings. The San Francisco papers give the following account:

"The buildings were mostly of wood, and the flames spread rapidly, owing to the want of water. The fire was cut off towards Montgomery street, thereby saving the most valuable part of the city. The City Hall, though in imminent danger, escaped. It is thought the great destruction of property might have been prevented had there been an Engineer to direct operations by blowing up a few of the buildings. The loss would have been far less. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, and several arrests have been made."

"The office of the Pacific News was entirely consumed. Loss $30,000."

"The Picayune office also lost heavily, but will be able to commence again soon."

"Signor Rossi, of the Italian Theatre, lost every thing."

"The following are the streets burned:—On Washington half the block between Kearney and Dupont, and half the block between Kearney and Dupont, on Jackson st., from Dupont nearly to Montgomery, both sides on Pacific st., both sides from Dupont to Montgomery, Dupont st. from Jackson to Montgomery, Kearney st. from Washington to Pacific. A large number of the blocks bounded by Kearney, Washington, Montgomery and Pacific st., were also destroyed."

"The total loss altogether is not far from half a million of dollars."

"The California left San Francisco on the 2d of Oct., and the New Orleans on the 5th, and had both arrived at Panama; the California Courier of the 5th says, the amount of gold shipped by the California last Monday, was one million eight hundred thousand dollars, and probably the passengers carried three hundred thousand dollars more. Besides this, the sailing vessels must have taken five hundred thousand."

"So that we may safely set the amount down, including one hundred thousand to be shipped to-morrow by Adams & Co., and two hundred thousand carried away by foreigners, as two millions nine hundred thousand in six days."

"The hopes of the people are raised high in the expectation of hearing by the next steamer of the admission of that State into the Union."

"The accounts from the overland emigrants are of the most painful character. A requisition on the Collector of San Francisco for an advance of $100,000 has been suggested, and it is likely the distressed citizens will resort to that means of alleviation of their difficulties."

"We are pleased to notice that the improvements in the city of San Francisco are progressing very rapidly, and by the time the rainy season sets in the streets will be substantially planked. The weather was rather pleasant in most parts of the country. There had been a great deal of rain, and it was said to have been extremely cold in the mountains."

Messrs. Adams & Co. have $100,000 by the Empire City, and $200,000 in the Cherokee, which is hourly expected.

(For the Quincy Patriot.)

The Free Soil citizens met in the Town Hall, Wednesday Evening, and voted to unite with the Democrats in the coming State Election, "for the purpose of effecting reforms in the State Government—such as, a Lien Law to secure the wages of mechanics—the Secret Ballot—a change in the Law of Assessment of Taxes, by which every man shall be allowed to claim his right of Suffrage at any proper time before an election—a Plurality law in Congressional Districts—that Common Schools be protected from the encroachments of Harvard College, and others."

Joseph W. Robertson, and George White, were chosen the candidates of the two parties.

Edwin Marsh, James M. Wade, Edward A. Spear, Ebenezer Fisher, Bela Badger, George Newcomb, Thaddeus Churchill, Lewis Wood, Seth Adams, Joseph Field, Charles Mitchell, George S. Whiting, Albert Pratt, George Spear and James Bradford, were chosen a rallying and vote-distributing Committee.

QUINCY, NOV. 6, 1850.

OUR FRIENDS are referred to Jewett & Prescott's, No. 2 Milk Street, Boston, where will be found an assortment of Shawls, Silk and Cloak Goods, fully characteristic of the establishment in point of quality, styles and low prices.

"ONE OF THE LIONS." OAK HALL, Boston, has become one of the LIONS of the city. When a stranger visits Boston, he must see the State House, the Fountain, Bunker Hill Monument and OAK HALL, to be satisfied with his visit. By extensive advertising, Mr. Simmons has made his establishment as well known as Boston itself.

The marriage of Mr. Cooper and Miss Staves is announced. The result will probably be barrels.

IMPARTIALITY OF THE LAW. When Professor Webster, either accidentally or intentionally killed Dr. Parkman, he was indicted and convicted for murder, and hung. Apparently the whole of the enlightened city of Boston said this was right, and talked proudly and largely of the supremacy and the impartiality of the law.

A few days ago, an Irishman in the neighboring town of Braintree, levels his musket, in broad daylight, and in the presence of a number of witnesses, at a fellow countryman, and shoots him dead on the spot. People begin very eagerly to enquire whether this was actually a case of murder, as though it was doubtful whether shooting men down in the street was a felony or only excusable homicide. The culprit was indicted for manslaughter, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to six months imprisonment in the House of Correction; and the people say nothing about it; if, after this, a man is so unreasonable, as to doubt the impartiality of our judicial tribunals, in the administration of criminal laws, we shall be tempted to regard him as something worse than an incurable lunatic.

FUGITIVE SLAVES IN CANADA. The fugitive slaves are pouring into Canada so fast that the Canadians seem not to care it much. The Ambassador for the last four or five days by an influx of the colored population from the States, whose advent, though honorable to the province as a land of liberty, could be very beneficially dispensed with by the peaceable inhabitants of this frontier. On this side, sable clouds of emigrants are disembarked from every boat that stops, and between 100 and 200 have already arrived at this port. A like rapid influx continues at all points along the frontier."

CAPT. TAGGART'S FLYING MACHINE, made a successful ascent from Jersey City last week, but, without the captain. It alighted the same evening at Huntington, (L. I.) and by accident, was particularly consumed by fire.

EXPENSIVE.—The cost of Kendall's forth coming work on the Mexican War will be $35.

The Map with the pecked-toe-boots, is at Providence, as well as usual.

AUCTION SALE.—Attention is called to the large lot of Carpentry, Linen, etc., which will be sold on Tuesday next, [see Advertisement.] This property was bought a few months since for a public house, consequently has not been much damaged, and will be sold at a bargain. All who wish to purchase, should call and examine the articles offered, and as the sale is positive, they will be sure to buy.

AS IGNORANT A TEMPT. The other day, a copy of Webster's trial neatly bound in leather, and lettered in gold, was received at the Philadelphia Post-office directed to one Baker, a mail robber, who has been in confinement some months, and who had made several attempts to escape, in consequence of which he was placed in irons. The gorgeous binding of so common a book, having excited the suspicions of the jailer, the covers were cut up, and two saws about eight inches long, such as are used by mechanics in sawing iron, were brought out, and with which Baker would not doubt have soon effected his escape. No doubt had he succeeded, that henceforth he would have sought, that Webster's trial contained more "wise saws," if not "modern instances," than any book lately published, not excepting Tupper's "Proverbial Philosophy."

We would call the attention of our readers to the alteration of time, in running trains on the Old Colony Railroad. See advertisement.

FASHION PLATES, OR LADIES' WAISTS. Mrs. Swissheim, of the Pittsburg Visitor, comes down on Magazine Fashion Plates, in this way:

"We know women who are dying, dying by their own hands, and piously saying their prayers every day, and for their death the magazine publishers are accountable at the bar of the Eternal. They are murdering them as truly as ever David slew Uriah by the sword of Amalekites. No human agency can teach these victims of fashion plate mongers, that the long whalebones sticking down into their sides, the tight strings tied around the small of the back, and weight of skirts dragging on them, are crushing their lives out, and dragging them to their graves. They will not believe they are entailing misery, and misery and death upon their children. But yet, many of them do know it, and with all their vaunted love for their offspring, would rather see their little ones suffer ten thousand deaths than they themselves should fail to look 'like Prometheus in my picture here; a long sided funnel set in a jug.'"

HOW THE VERMONTERS UNDERSTOOD IT. At the representation of the tragedy of Velasco the other night, a tall Vermontier in the "Family Circle," who had evidently just come down, when Fenn and Miss Davenport were called out, and a gentleman in the boxes threw Miss D. a bouquet, exclaiming, "so as to be overheard by those in the vicinity y; 'Gosh ninety! if my gal loved me half as well as that are pretty gal loves that smart chap, and didn't leave off loving me arter I'd killed her daddy, too, and then another feller should give her a posy, right afore my face, wouldn't I get riled? Why, if I had him up in our village, I'd knock him across Connecticut river, over into Hampshire, quicker'n lightning I'd strike a henlock tree." Transcrip.

BALLOONING EXTRAORDINARY. Each succeeding steamer brings accounts of the fool-hardy feats of an aeronaut who makes weekly ascents from the Hippodrome, in Paris. This adventurer has made ascents seated upon a poney, a donkey, and an ostrich, and his wife has also made an ascent on a poney. At the last ascent of M. Poitevin, of which we have an account, his balloon carried, besides the aeronaut, three young women, who were suspended from the car. They had wings affixed to their shoulders, and appeared as if flying in the air. Their ascent was hailed with shouts by the immense concourse of persons assembled, but a feeling of terror seemed to predominate at seeing the women suspended in mid-air, without anything apparent to support them. After being about an hour in the air, they alighted in safety on a plain near Villejuif.

ST. LOUIS. About six years ago the city of St. Louis was said to contain something over 40,000 inhabitants, and some of the accounts then given of its advance in previous years, seemed really incredible. Now, it is thought the census soon to be finished, will show a population of 90,000 or 95,000! And the growth and greatness of St. Louis seem but just commencing. The immense trade from Missouri, from the Indian territories, from New Mexico, from Illinois, from the extreme East, from Wisconsin and Minnesota, make its level on a busy day, the repository of produce and merchandise of almost every possible kind.

BANK FORGER SENTENCED. At Lowell, on Monday, George Owen, of Boston, convicted of forging the name of the President of the Bunker Hill Bank to a check for $1,500, and offering the same was sentenced to six years in the State Prison. He is also a candidate for additional punishment for similar attempts on the Freeman's and Boylston Banks of this city.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

Rev. Thomas Starr King will deliver the fifth of lectures the present season, on Thursday Evening next, commencing at half past seven precisely.— Question for discussion:—
 "Is the 'Fugitive Slave Bill' recently passed by Congress constitutional, and if so, ought it to be repealed?"

Whig Meeting this Evening.
 The Whigs of Quincy are requested to meet at the Lyceum Room, this evening at 7-12 o'clock, to nominate Candidates for Representatives to the next General Court, and to transact any other business that may come before the meeting.

Per order of the Town Committee.

MARRIED.

In Milton, Oct. 30th, by Rev. S. S. Kimball, Mr. JOHN WILMAN to Mrs. HARRIET F. WILLIAMS, both of this town.

DIED.

In this town, Nov. 3d, Widow MARY GORDON, aged 70 yrs. New Hampshire and Vermont papers please copy.

Drowned in Quincy, Oct. 7th, JAMES H. GLOVER, son of Horatio N., and Martha T. Glover, aged 21.

(For the Quincy Patriot.)

OBITUARY. Seldom does an event happen, which seems to carry with it feelings of a deeper gloom.—One in the morning of life, is the full vigor of health and strength, has been suddenly cut down. One is fully adequate to express the deep sorrow of his loved ones. One who was a stranger to disease; one whose prospects of a long life were much more hopeful than many of his age—one whose affectionate disposition, won for him the love and esteem of all with whom he became acquainted. Of him it can with truth be said, that he never had an enemy. But in an unexpected moment, when he thought not, death's angel was hovering o'er him, waiting to bear his happy spirit to the bosom of his God. To those who knew the departed best, no words of the writer are fully adequate to express the deep sorrow of your hearts. For my part, I can say that I had no truer friend, and save those of my own immediate relatives, was there one whom I more tenderly loved; and his modest retiring disposition—his virtuous habits and high moral character, secured the friendship of all who knew him.

But he is gone—gone from the embrace of fond parents, gone from the caresses of loved brothers and sisters, gone from the love of her, that aged grandparent whom he so dearly loved, and for whom he was ever ready to perform the many kind acts of affection, gone from all he held dear on earth—gone to meet his God. Yes, my dear friend thou hast gone, never again shall I feel thy warm and friendly grasp; never again shall I behold thy smiling face; never again shall I listen to that sweet familiar voice. But thou wilt not be forgotten. No, affection's hand will rear the stone and plant the flower, and as around thy grave we gather, hope with prophetic finger, shall point us to the shores of a glorious immortality and tell us that thou art here.

R. V. Jr.

QUINCY HALL Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN
 Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap.

Do, SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest patterns ever introduced in this market. Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

French and German Broadcloths!
 of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for Promenades or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest patterns ever introduced in this market. Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is ever been offered to our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

A complete assortment of MEN AND BOYS' CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Dr. C. S. Mann,
 MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,
 HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,
 Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.

Nov. 2.

LARGE SALE OF CARPETING, LINEN &c.
 At Auction.

Will be sold at Public Auction, at the Hancock House in Quincy, on TUESDAY, NOV. 12, at 2 o'clock P. M.

A large lot of WOOLLEN, COTTON and OIL CARPETING, and TABLE SPREADS.

Also, a lot of TABLE LINEN, NAPKINS, TOWELS, SHEETS and PILLOW CASES, with many other articles to numerous to mention.

The above articles are nearly new,—were purchased in June last, for the NORFOLK HOUSE in Dedham, and have been but little worn. Purchasers in want of good articles, are requested to examine the above Stock. They will be arranged and can be examined the day before the sale.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Nov. 9d.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
 ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE

OF THEIR STOCK.
 HAVING
 Pledged themselves to the Public, That their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!
 RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,
 —AND—

MARK DOWN

OUR STOCK
 TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
 FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.
 Nov. 2.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of RACHEL FAXON, late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to BARNABUS F. ARNOLD, Executor.

Braintree, Nov. 3d, 1850.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of JOSEPH FERRIN, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stenographer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to SARAH S. FERRIN, Administratrix.

Quincy, Nov. 4.

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to JOHN WHEICHER, Quincy, Oct. 5th.

Town Meetings.

Norfolk ss. To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy, Greeting:

IN the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are required to vote in town affairs, to meet at the Town Hall in said Quincy, on MONDAY the eleventh day of November next, at half past eight o'clock in the forenoon, to act on the following articles, viz:

1st. To choose a Moderator.
 2d. To know if the Town will establish as a town way, a private way two rods wide, from Pearl Street, 29 rods in length, to Mt. Pleasant.

And you are further required to warn the inhabitants of said Quincy, qualified to vote in town affairs, to meet at the Town Hall on MONDAY, the eleventh day of November next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purposes, viz: First, to determine whether the Town will send a Representative or Representatives to the next General Court.

Second—To bring in their votes on one ballot, the Selectmen, for a Representative to the 22d Congress for the eighth District—for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor, of the Commonwealth—for three Senators for the County of Norfolk, and (if the town vote to send) a Representative, or Representatives to the next General Court.

Hereof, fail not, and make return of this warrant with your doings thereon, unto the Town Clerk, before the time named for said meetings.

Given under our hands and seals, at Quincy, this twenty-sixth day of October, A. D., eighteen hundred and fifty.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen of GEORGE MARSH, } Quincy.
 ELIJAH BAXTER, }
 A True Copy—ATTEST:—SETH ADAMS, Constable.

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Administrator's Sale.

PURSUANT to a license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling house, with about 1 1/4 of an acre of Land, situated on Cemetery Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogle, deceased.

Conditions made known at the time and place of Sale.

Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.

Quincy, Nov. 9, 1850.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Norfolk ss. Probate Office, November 4th, 1850. An instrument purporting to be the last Will of HEZEKIAH BASS, late of Quincy in said County, Cordwainer deceased, having been presented for Probate by Lemuel Brackett, the Executor therein named,

ORDERED, that said Lemuel Brackett notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury in said County, on the twenty-third day of November, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Nov. 9.

Judd's Medicated Liquid
 FOR closing wounds without sewing smooth coating over them, imperious water, much superior in its healing properties to other plaster, and so elastic as not to irritate a point; an excellent remedy also for Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. I. Quincy, August 31.

Ladies' Cashmere and Gloves.
 A good assortment for sale low by JOSEPH BRIGHAM, Quincy, Oct. 5.

New Fall and Winter
 IN great variety, for sale at the very low price, by JOSEPH BRIGHAM, Quincy, Oct. 5.

BAY STATE
 Long and Square Sha

OF the best styles, for sale at the low price. Ladies are invited to examine them, chasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Quincy, Oct. 5.

Flour Barrels.
 A prime lot—for sale by H. A. RANSO Quincy, Sept. 14.

To Let.
 ONE half of a good House on Street, the other half Capt. Stevenson. Also a good Barn, with three acres of land on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike a mile south of the Episcopal Church. DANIEL B. Quincy, Sept. 28.

JEFFREY R. BRACK
COMMISSION MERCHANT
 NO. 40 STATE STREET (Up Stairs.) BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 21.

Brooks' Railroad Exp
 THE subscriber returns thanks to the Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage, and respectfully announces that times to convey passengers to and from stations to Quincy Point and Braintree 12 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite the depot, will be promptly attended to. Also—Will carry Letters and Parcel despatch.

Quincy, Sept. 14.

Velvet Trimmings
 JUST Received, an assortment of Velvets, Fancy Colors, and for sale by GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Wash Street, Quincy, Sept. 3d.

Bay State Long Sha
 A Assortment just received of the best Styles and Qualities, which will be lowest prices, by GEORGE SAV

GREATLY
REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.,
SOURCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, PUBLICLY, THAT THEY COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON
THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR
TO SUBMIT TO A

EAT SACRIFICE
OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING
and themselves to the Public,
the "One Price" should be as LOW or than the same goods could be bought under circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY to a

HEAVY LOSS!
THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.HIS EVENING
WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,
—AND—
MARK DOWNOUR STOCK
PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL
WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO., PARTICULARLY SEE CIRCULARS.
2. 6w

Executor's Notice.

CE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has in duly appointed Executor of the Will of RACHEL FAXON.

trainee, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all personal property to make payment to BARNABUS F. ARNOLD, Executor.
Nov. 24, 1850. 3w

Administratrix's Notice.

CE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Estate of

JOSEPH FERRIN,
Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stonecutter, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all personal property to make payment to SARAH S. FERRIN, Administratrix.
Nov. 24, 1850. 3w

For Sale.

first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply
JOHN WHICHEA,
Oct. 5th. 1f

Town Meetings.

ss. To either of the Constables of the of Quincy.

name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are required to warn the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified to vote in town affairs, at the Town Hall in said Quincy, on MONday, the eleventh day of November next, at half past six o'clock in the forenoon, to act on the following articles, viz:

1st. To choose a Moderator.
2d. To know if the Town will establish as a town private way two rods wide, from Pearl Street, in length, to Mt. Pleasant.
3d. To know if the Town will send a Representative to the next General Court.
4d. To bring in their votes on one ballot to decide, for a Representative to the 22d Congress, for the eighth District—for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor, of the Commonwealth—for Senators for the County of Norfolk, and (if the vote so send) a Representative, or Representatives to the next General Court.
5th. To fail not, and make return of this warrant to the Town Clerk, before the time named for said meetings.
6th. Under our hands and seals, at Quincy, this sixth day of October, A. D., eighteen hundred and fifty.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, Selection of GEORGE MARSH, of ELIJAH BAXTER,
the Copy—Attest—SETH ADAMS, Constable.

FOLK SS. Quincy, October 23th, 1850.
assuant to the above warrant, I hereby notify the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, as therein expressed, to meet at the times,
and for the purposes therein named.

SETH ADAMS, Constable.

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House,
very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.
Nov. 9th. 1f

Administrator's Sale.

SUANT to a license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling with about 1 1/4 of an acre of Land, situated on High Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogle, deceased.

General Jackson Ogle, deceased.
General Jackson Ogle, deceased.
General Jackson Ogle, deceased.

Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.
Nov. 9, 1850. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

ss. Probate Office, November 4th, 1850.
Instructing and to be the last Will of

HEZEKIAH BASS,
Quincy in said County, Cordwainer deceased, has been presented for Probate by Lemuel Brackett, Executor therein named.

ORDERED, that the said Lemuel Brackett notify persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury in said County, on the third day of November, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the paper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.
Nov. 9, 1850. 3w

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle.

For closing wounds without sewing; forming a
smooth coating over them, impervious to air and
water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31. 1f

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid
Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 1f

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great variety, for sale at the very lowest prices,
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 1f

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,
Of the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices.
Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 1f

Flour Barrels.

A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 1f

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty
Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Sieverton. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braitree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 28. 1f

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.

NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 21. 3m

Brooks' Railroad Express.

THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage
thus far, and respectfully announces that he still continues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad station to Quincy Point and Braitree Neck, for 12
1/2 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton
& Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Brooks'
Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Brier-ley's, will be promptly attended to.
ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick
despatch.
THOMAS BROOKS.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3m

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trim-
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes
Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

Quincy Washing-Mixture.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and
sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart,
full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this
will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 3. 1f

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are: Whigman's Vegetable Syrup;
Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy);
Billey's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Hol-
den's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Any-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.
Quincy, July 20. 1f

Apples.

BALDWIN AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 1f

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 1f

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.
Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.
Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.
N. B. Goods delivered as usual.
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. 1f

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17. 1f

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM.
ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in
Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. MAWES, No. 10
Exchange Street, Boston.
West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braitree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Nov. 9, 1850. 3w

LADIES
of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.,
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of
NEW GOODS
which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the
AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.
Every variety of
SHAWLS,
from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS
of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.
FRENCH THIBETS
Of all Grades.

GERMAN MERINOS
Of all Grades.
FALL AND WINTER
DRESS GOODS,
Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present
Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our
intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers
who daily throng our Establishment, show.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by
the simple multiplication of business, to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular,
where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles
of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance
of that patronage which now enables us to refer you
to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than
at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that
at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,
Dealers in RA DY-MADE CLOTHING
OR
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT
ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.

—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!
Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 129.
JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors
below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.
The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin
board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY
WARE, &c.
All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 1f

A CARD!!

J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the
FALL AND WINTER
OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are
FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths!!!
of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of VESTINGS, &c.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments
for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 1f

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS,
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING
DEPOT,
OR THE Braitree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN
WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very
choice and select Stock of
Fall and Winter Goods!!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN,
OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of
ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN
Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy
Doc-Skins
for Hats.

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN
and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS,
&c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty
Garment of any description, are respectfully invited
to call and see for themselves.

Orders made to order at very short notice, and by
THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all tastes.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.
Quincy, August 31. 1f

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,
No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.
IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED
For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment
of
NEW SHAWLS,
SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS;
that will distance all competition, without exception.

We accordingly ask the attention of
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS
to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris
Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and
dresses; Marcelline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and velvets; Crapes Shawls; Bombazines; Ale-
pines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that
the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWEETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2, Milk Street.
Boston, August 31. 3mos

NEW FALL & WINTER
MILITARY GOODS.

MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgements to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBONS, FLOW-ERS, etc. etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—a good variety of Misses and Childrens
trimmings
SATIN, PLYMOUTH AND VELVET HATS, made
to order.
Bonnets altered; bleached and colored.
For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.
For lining and trimming, 25 cts.; unless extra work
be added—if so, price accordingly.
Grave clothes and Mourning-goods, constantly on hand.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone
Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Flour Barrels.

200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. 1f

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. 1f

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 1f

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first-rate article for washing clothes. For sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 1f

NEW DRY GOODS
Establishment!

REMOVAL.
GEORGE HILL & CO.
Have removed to their new and splendid
Wholesale and Retail Establishment
Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON.

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States
being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;
And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their
large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS
Of every description, in entire new designs, both long
and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,
Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS
Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,
Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.
Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.
DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs
and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.
Merinos, Thibets, and Cashmeres, with Velvets,
Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.
Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens,
Shirtings, Damasks, Table Covers, Napkins, Doyles, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.
EMBROIDERIES,
The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,
Ladies', Gents' and Children's;
Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores
may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers
may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at quadruple the prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.
NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON.
Oct. 5. 3m

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of
DRY GOODS,
well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-
Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cash-
meres, Alpaccas,
and a great variety of
DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS, Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected
Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
a few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy, October 5. 1f

Particular Notice.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced
prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to
call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. 1f

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Moulin De Laine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Gingham in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters;
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts. per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31. 1f

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street,
recently occupied by the Widow Driver,
with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10. 1f

Let the Public Call.

THE subscribers, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship, will vie with any other establishment.

By attention to business and promptness to orders
a liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy, April 13th. 1f

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets
FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10,
1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—
For Plymouth, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braitree, 7 3/4 A. M.; 1 3/4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1/2 A. M.; 3 P. M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3/4 A. M.; 1, 2 3/4, 5 1/2,
P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1/4 A. M.; 3 1/4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1/2 A. M.;
3 1/2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3/4 A. M.; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4,
4 3/4 P. M.
Braitree for Boston, 7 1/8, 8 1/2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M.
2 48, 4 12, 5 13, P. M.
The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braitree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. 1f

Trains

POETRY.

(For the Quincy Patriot.)
THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

Written for the occasion, by F. M. ARLINGTON of Weymouth, and sung by MR. CANTERBURY, at a dinner given by Gilman Collamore, Esq., to the Independent Company called the Boston Fusiliers, (of which he was formerly a Lieutenant,) on the occasion of presenting them with a new Standard, painted by Curtis, on which were the arms of Massachusetts—an Indian with his bow and arrow; present, Gen Wells and other invited guests.

Tune—Wreaths to the Chief.
Guardian of Freedom, of Justice and Virtue,
Citizen soldiers of Liberty's soil,
Victory's pledge a Columbian presents you,
Guard it from insult, and shield it from spoil.
Should the shrill battle cry
Ring through your native sky,
Then to this Standard undaunted repair,
Where every shot must tell,
Let the foe mark it well,
Bid him behold it, behold and despair.

Hail! Massachusetts, America's favorite,
Long may the blessings remain on your head;
Curs'd be the wretch who would plunder thy birthright
And famish the knave who would sell it for bread.
Strong be your warrior's bow,
Ne'er may he miss your foe;
Sure winged his dart as the arrows of fate,
Cheer'd be your patriot hearts,
Cherished your liberal arts,
Pillars and wreaths in the Temple of State.

Liberty, long'er your brave fathers would her,
Room'd a poor wand'rer oppress'd by despair,
Washington sought and successful pursued her—
On you he bestowed her, protect her with care.
Ne'er be her blooming charms
Clasp'd in a traitor's arms;
Long may she bless our American shore,
Till she departs the world,
Still be this flag unfurl'd,
When she expires may time be no more.

Strong be the links in the chain of the Union,
Ne'er may we Washington's precepts forsake;
Long may we live in this blessed communion,
And scorn'd be the slave who the compact would break.

Now to the Commonwealth,
Now to our Chief's health;
Now to our newly crown'd sister of Maine,
Hail to the stripes and stars,
Ne'er may our gallant tars
Nail to the mast the strip'd hunting in vain.
The above was written some years since, I do not remember precisely, between 20 and 30—or soon after Maine became a state.

(For the Quincy Patriot.)
MY MOTHER'S GRAVE.

BY S. C. G.

That lonely grave is dear to me,
Though over it no willows weep,
Far underneath this flowery sod
My parents' mouldering ashes sleep.
No splendid monumental stone,
No bright exotics here are found,
And nothing costlier marks the spot,
Than simple wild flowers climbing round.
No epitaph with sounding words,
The virtues of the dead to tell,
Is needed, in a daughter's heart
Those virtues are remembered well.
Strangers now live where once we dwelt,
And soon forgot will be our name;
Changes all other things have felt,
But this dear grave is still the same.

THERE MUST BE SOMETHING WRONG.
BY ELIZA COOK.

When earth produces free and fair
The golden waving corn;
When fragrant fruits perfume the air—
The fleecy flocks are shorn;
While thousands move with aching head
And sing the ceaseless song,
"We strive, we die, oh, give us breath!"
There must be something wrong.
When wealth is wrought as seasons roll,
From off the fruitful soil;
When luxury from pole to pole
Reaps fruit of human toil;
When from a thousand, one alone
In plenty rolls along—
The others only gnaw the bone—
There must be something wrong.

And when production never ends,
The earth is yielding over,
A copious harvest oft begins,
But distribution—never!
When millions work to fill
The wealthy coffers strong;
When hands are crushed that work and till,
There must be something wrong.

When poor men's tables waste away
To barrenness and drought,
There must be something in the way
That's worth the finding out.
With surfeit o'er great table bends,
While numbers move along,
And scarce a crust their board extends—
There must be something wrong.

ANECDOTES.

A correspondent, in a recent letter, tells a good story of an old sea-captain in a storm, who, when the terrified passengers persuaded him to petition heaven for a cessation of the tempest, preferred the following brief request: "Oh, Lord! I haven't been in the habit of calling on thee often; and if you'll just shift the wind from east to a little more sou', I won't trouble you again."

An Irishman writing a sketch of his life, says he early ran away from his father, because he discovered that he was his only uncle!

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Mrs. E. Hayden,
GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best
FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care.

—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Grain's, Legal's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.
Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of
HATS AND CAPS,
suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c., &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use.
Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.
Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER.
JOHN L. SOUTHER.
Quincy, June 29.

FRUIT TREES.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
THE Proprietor is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces almost every approved sort of American or Foreign origin, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or extent of variety. SPECIAL CULTIVATION has been bestowed on the PEAR, and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are now ready for transplanting.

Extra size TREES, with fruit buds, and well furnished with branches, and such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices. Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, &c., and at rates less than is generally charged for novelties.

Schools for exportation and the home trade, can be had from fruit bearing trees, thereby ensuring correctness of nomenclature.

SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspondent.

Address:—The Superintendent of the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., or to the Subscriber, No. 2, Pearl Street, Boston.
MARSHALL P. WILDER.
Grove Hall Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin Street, four times each day.
Dorchester, Oct. 14th, 1850.

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS,
Mantles and Scarfs,
in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls, will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State fabrics bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolsen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors. Orders solicited from all sections of the country, and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2 Mill Street,
BOSTON.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; "Toupin's" Chlorine hair restorer; Batchelor's instant hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider Vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels, Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at E. O. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives the Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE, it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented. Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove. A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—
SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order, Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY! AND NOW OPENING, NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N.B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—
Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE

Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,

Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE Store in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain fire ten or twelve hours—are of very handsome appearance, and are sold at lower prices than any other stoves of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in Parlor Stoves ever made. It consists of a large air heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 10th, 1850.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. ROBERTS, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 1 Washington Street.

N.B.—The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. W. B. LEARNED, who will give personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. ROBERTS, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 1 Washington Street.

N.B.—The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. W. B. LEARNED, who will give personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Removal.
THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the

New England Air-Tight.

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan. 12.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31.

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap, as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, March 24th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new water.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the corner of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 22 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of Gold and Silver WATCHES.

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING of WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEREMY B. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FINE RATE FOR WARRANTED, BY W. S. UNDERWOOD, Hancock St., Quincy.
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 16th.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the numbers free from any expense for postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

PUBLISHED E
NUMBER 16.

JOHN A. GORDON
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance.
LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the month—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the first of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be received previous to the payment of all arrears; the option of the proprietor. When subscribers' papers discontinued, they will give no effect at the time their subscription expires; subscriber will be held responsible for the loss of his paper so long as it is sent to his address. Post Office, Tavern, or any other place, he may have ordered it, until legally notified.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously placed at the customary prices. The number required must be marked on the advertisement; wise they will be continued until ordered charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisements is their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of others, as well as advertisements, and advertisements of any agent in them, must be paid for at the time. Business letters and communications to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention. Single copies of the paper, Five Cents.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and requested to procure subscriptions:
JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Row.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, "Stone"
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY, Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORN, Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT, New York.

MISCELLANY.

THE FIRST PRIZE.

BY CAPT. BOLSTROP.
It was on a warm and sultry afternoon, tropics, that a clean built looking frigate, Baltimore model, was slowly foaming her way, the bosom of the broad Atlantic on her bound voyage.

The sun was just about quenching its heat beneath the blue waves of the ocean, thro' just bright glare over the immense expanse of water.

All was quiet on board the White Cloud, hands had knocked off from their work, I was set that could catch a breath of wind, long tapering of the yards were trimming beautiful precision that gave evidence of judgment, in the man who commanded it, we shall take by the hand and introduce reader, by the name of Capt. Ben Bolstrop.

Capt. Bolstrop was a very large man, of fifty years of age, and was cool, dispassionate and experienced.

His mate was a young man, a native of but who, in addition to the natural endowments of the Yankee class, had received the advantages of a liberal education, at a time when his family were in circumstances; a position which they held in the most disinterested friendship for them, the most disinterested friendship for them, the most disinterested friendship for them, the most disinterested friendship for them.

Disgusted at the duplicity and faithless former companions, the proud and youth now proud because of his poverty, misanthrope; he visited no where, shunned and felt alone in the world. In this mood, he suddenly formed the intention of "following," as it is called, and shipped on board a vessel bound for the East Indies.

At the time our story opens, Robert Renshaw, twenty-six years of age; he had traveled and had stored his mind with a variety of and useful knowledge, which he every of immense utility to him. By a judicious selection of various adventures which he had from time to time on his voyages, he had sufficient property to place his beloved comfortable circumstances beyond the want.

As we before stated, the sun was just brightening the horizon with its last rays, hands on board the brig we have just visited, roused by the cry of "sail ho!" from the main.

"Where away?" said the captain.
"Four points on the weather bow, sir," the man.

"I can't see clearly sir; but should judge a large two topsail schooner, very rakish a great spread of canvas."

"Mr. Renshaw! take this glass, jump-rigging, and see what you can make of her."

"Aye, aye, sir;" and away went the man rigging to the main-top-mast cross-trees, long and steady look he confirmed the "look-out," and gave it as his opinion was an armed craft.

"She must have us sir," said the mate, has turned her course and standing for us."

"Very well," replied the Captain, "with wind than there is now, he could not do before twelve o'clock; there is no moon and I do not think that it will breeze up, we shall have plenty of time to prepare, if prove to be our enemy."

"Yes sir," said Renshaw, "but she is a sweep."

"True! I did not think of that; but the Mexicans would be too lazy to use them, unless it is to run away with."

Night fell, and a thick mackerel sky overpread the whole heavens, shutting star and betokening a lively breeze for the

"I have a proposition to make, if you please, Renshaw, addressing the Captain."

"Out with it, sir."

"It is this:—we have no craft of that our navy, neither have the English or French must then be a Mexican or a pirate; in case she is well worth taking; the night is dark."

"Mr. P. has engaged it for the whole evening," she pettishly replied, and rising and taking his hand, they took their station upon the floor.

"I remained thunderstruck, and rooted to the spot, until I saw the eyes of my hated rival fixed upon me, and throwing off the spell that bound me, I assumed a proud cold look, and passed from the hall. As I swept by the dancers, Eveline paused a moment when just beside me, and bending close to her ear I whispered: 'Eveline, farewell forever!'

"She turned slightly pale and then asked 'When?'

"To night, I join the army for Mexico," I firmly answered.

"A deep flush passed haughtily across her brow, and then waving her hand gracefully, she replied, 'Go!' and again glided through the mazes of the dance.

"I rushed from the spot, and never paused until I had entered the recruiting office and offered myself a candidate for the army.

"Are you a good moral man, of well regulated habits," asked the sergeant.

"I can give a hundred certificates if necessary," I hastily replied.

"I rather think you will do," said the officer, with a smile, and he enrolled me as a soldier.—

"When do you wish to leave?"

"Now—to-night—to-morrow—any time," I eagerly answered.

"Promptness is a good quality, you'll make a fine soldier. Get ready to start at eight o'clock in the morning, for Newport, Ky.

"I will be ready," and rustling from the room I hastened home, packed up my things, and threw myself down upon the bed to sleep. But it was impossible. Heavy thoughts were crowding my mind with lightning speed, and I resolved to depart the next day without a single soul farewell.

"I know you will deem it strange for me to hurry off without bidding adieu to father or mother or sister or brother, but feeling the deep respect which I held for my father's advice would prevail, and I should be induced to remain at home, I made the resolve and carried it out. The next morning I was at the office by seven o'clock, was furnished with a suit of regimentals, and departed for the railroad depot, to start for Wheeling. As I hurried along the street, who should turn a corner but Eveline, and we met for the last time on earth. I informed her of my intention, and without manifesting any disposition of regret at my departure, she gently said,

"Good bye, and may good luck attend you," and glided away.

"A new idea was added to my desire to hasten from such scenes, and I had soon left the town for Ohio. I will not weary you with further details, as my health is failing fast. Suffice to say, I arrived in Mexico, and here I am perishing by inches upon the battle field.

"Here," he continued, "is a ring," taking one from his finger, and presenting it to me, which was given me by Eveline as a token of our marriage contract. I have worn it ever since, and as I daily told her, "it shall leave me but with my death."

"Take it to her when you get back, and if she be unmarried, give it to her, and tell her he who sent it, never forgot her for a moment, even in his dying hour, and is lying beneath the clouds of a foreign soil. This bible give back to my father, and tell him I have studied its precepts; to my mother and sister, say that I sent them a son's dying love, to my brothers, beware of human strife."

"He faltered in his speech, and then murmuring 'I am going,' pressed my hand feebly, and expired. I dug a lone grave upon the field, and laid him down to rest, and left him to "sleep his last sleep," until that day when all shall be summoned to a final account.

"One year rolled on, and how checkered by passing events. Chlapuette had fallen, the city of Mexico was taken, and peace, three glorious peace had waved her pinions over the land of war. The volunteers were joyfully hastening home, and among the rest, I once more trod my native land, a free man again: in heart and soul. A spell of sickness at first confined me several weeks, but at length I rose weakened and feeble from the bed, and my physicians recommended a change of air. I travelled into Virginia, and one evening entered the town of G—ch. I enquired for the family of my friend, and was directed to a large fine-looking building upon the principal street. I advanced, and rung the bell, and anxiously waited for an answer. At length the door opened, and an old, gray-headed man stood before me, the lines of his furrowed face marked by care, and his whole appearance betokening one who had a secret grief at heart.

"M—, I presume?" said I bowing.

"The same, sir, won't you walk in?" replied the old man politely.

"I entered the house, and was soon seated in the parlor, when the old man started to leave the room.

"I have something of importance for your private ear," I said hastily.

"He turned toward me, and taking the Bible from my pocket, I held it up to view. Quicker than thought the father sprang forward, caught the book in his hand, and murmured, as the tears fell slowly over his aged cheeks.

"My son, my son, you bring news of him?"

"I do, but it is very bad," I answered, my voice trembling as I spoke, and I retold to him the scene upon the battle field.

"When I had finished, the old man clasped his hands in silent agony, and raising his eyes towards the ceiling, exclaimed in deep and fervent tones, 'God's will be done!'

"At this moment a young lady, of pale and care worn countenance, entered the parlor, and raising, I said:

"Miss Eveline—, I believe?"

"The same," she calmly replied.

"She passed speaking, and as her eyes glanced to the ring, which I silently presented. She stretched forth her hand, grasped it convulsively, then fell suddenly forward on her face, and lay upon the carpet, the blood issuing rapidly from her mouth. The terrible ordeal had broken a blood vessel, and her spirit passed untroubled to another world.

"A plain marble slab in the grave yard of the town of G—ch, upon which is engraved the lone word 'Eveline,' marks the last resting place of the betrothed of the DYING VOLUNTEER.

Cincinnati Nonpareil.

"A Yankee and a Southerner were playing poker on a steamboat.

"I have not seen an ace for some time," remarked the Southerner.

"Well, I guess you have," said the Yankee, "but I can tell you they are." One of them is up your shirt sleeve there, and the other three are in the top of one of my butes."

"CALVIN CHESTING has been elected a member of the Massachusetts Legislature. Query—Will the Coalition party be drilled according to 'Camp Bazaar' tactics?—Herald.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16 1850

John A. Green, Editor.

THE STATE ELECTION.

The Election in this town on Monday last, passed off very quietly, and the result we give below:—

For Governor:

George N. Briggs,	272
George S. Boutwell,	189
Stephen C. Phillips,	126
Robert Rantoul, Jr.,	1—Charles F. Adams, 1.

For Lieutenant Governor:

John Reed,	269
Henry W. Cushman,	190
Amasa Walker,	127

For Representative to Congress:

Horace Adams,	248
Samuel H. Whalley,	205
Edgar K. Whinaker,	137
Adam Curtis, I.

For Senators:

Marshall P. Wilder, (Whig),	268
Lysander Richards, "	270
William H. Carey, "	267
Samuel Warner, Jr., (Union),	317
Alva Morrison, "	322
Edward L. Keyes, "	305

Ezra W. Wilkinson, 4—Artemas Brown, Ebenezer Eaton, Henry Wood and Bradford L. Wales, 1 vote each.

For Representatives to General Court:

Whole number of ballots,	500
Necessary to a choice,	296
Bryant B. Newcomb, (Whig),	272
Israel W. Munroe, "	266
Joseph W. Robertson, (Union),	269
George White, "	220

William S. Morton, 53—George Marsh, 52—George Newcomb, 12—Elijah Baxter, 3—John A. Billings, 3—Edward Eaton, John T. Burrell, G. L. Gill, Joseph Crane, Joseph N. Brown, Truworth C. Horn, Abel Wright and Bryant Newcomb, 1 vote each.

SECOND BALLOTING.

For Representative to General Court:

Whole number of votes,	571
Necessary to a choice,	286
Joseph W. Robertson, (Union—elected),	287
George White, "	248
Bryant B. Newcomb, (Whig),	245
Israel W. Munroe, "	241

William S. Morton, 40—George Marsh, 38—George Newcomb, 6—Elijah Baxter, 3—John A. Billings, 3—Abel Wright, 2—Albert Pratt, Lewis Bass, J. T. Burrell, T. C. Horn, John Arnold, Samuel Baxter, Edward A. Spear, George Nightingale, G. L. Gill and L. Goodridge, 1 vote each.

The meeting about 8 o'clock in the evening was dissolved. We are informed that another attempt to fill the vacancy in the delegation of the town to the ensuing General Court, will be made on the fourth Monday of this month.

TOWN MEETING.

The following town business was transacted on Monday last; Maj. Thomas C. Webb having been chosen Moderator:—

Voted.—To establish as a Town Way, a private way two rods wide, from Pearl Street, twenty-nine rods in length, to Mount Pleasant.

Voted.—To dissolve the Meeting.

PREMIUM. Among the premiums of the late Mechanics' Fair, no one was more justly deserved, than that for the best Tooth Powder and Wash, awarded to Dr. John A. Cummings, whose skill and enterprise in every department of his profession are unquestionable. Dr. C.'s Premium Wash and Powder have been used to the best advantage, and we do especially recommend their use to all our friends.

THE RESULT. It appears by the returns, the democratic and free soil parties of this State have elected 24 of the 40 members of the Senate. In the House the coalition party have already chosen 180 members, and the whigs 109. The vacancies to be filled are against the whigs. Of the members of Congress, only three are chosen—1 whig and two free soil whigs.

Hon. Horace Mann, the worthy successor of the lamented Adams, has been triumphantly re-elected.—The coalition ticket for Senators has been chosen.

A THRILLING SCENE. The tiger scene described below, occurred at Toronto a few days since:—

"An affair occurred at our exhibition on Tuesday last, of the most intensely exciting and terrific description, and which, but for the interposition, daring and presence of Van Amburg, would certainly have resulted in the horrible death of our old friend, Signor Hydralgo. The circumstances were as follows: At about nine o'clock, Hydralgo went into a cage in which had been placed our largest Panther, the Bengal Tiger, the African Lioness, the spotted Leopard, a Cougar, and the Hyena. The exhibition proceeded, under his control, and the audience was to be both delighted and interested at the daring of the 'Tamer.'"

The performance had progressed very nearly to its close, when from some unaccountable cause, the Tiger became sulky and refused to leap. He struggled with a whip, which so enraged the furious beast, that breaking through all discipline, and with one bound and a yell of fury that terrified the audience, he rushed upon Hydralgo, and brought him to the floor of the cage. He could do nothing—he had lost all control over the brute. Everything was in confusion, women fainted, others screamed in terror, children cried, and the men seemed paralyzed. It would have been all up with poor H., had not Van Amburg, who was on the other side of the arena, rushed to the spot, in an instant he was in the cage, and in less time than it takes me to write it, he had the enraged animal under his feet in perfect subjection, and released his friend from his perilous situation, fortunately more frightened than hurt. Van Amburg's presence of mind, his courage and intrepidity are deserving of all praise, which he received in three hearty cheers from the audience. For the time it lasted, about two or three minutes, it was the most exciting scene ever witnessed."

By the latest intelligence from New York, Washington Hunt is conceded to be elected governor, by a very small majority.

COMMENDING IN BROADWAY. The N. Y. Express, of last Saturday Evening says:—

The Herald, having assailed John Graham, the late democratic candidate for District Attorney, with unusual vindictiveness and personality, Mr. Graham took his vengeance this morning, by inflicting a personal chastisement upon James Gordon Bennett. Our informant who was present, says the parties met at the corner of Broadway and White street; Mr. B. coming down town, and Mr. Graham going up. Mr. Graham put himself in front of Mr. Bennett, and said:—"I am John Graham," and forthwith gave him a blow in the face. Mr. B. retreated and raised his cane to strike back. He was, however, knocked down, and received several blows which drew blood. Mr. Graham also used a crowbar very freely. The Police went promptly to the spot, and separated the parties. Our informant saw Mr. Graham get into a Broadway stage, and left B. upon the corner of the street, protected by the Police of the city.

As the blazing meteor which it descends to the earth is only a stone, so men of genius are often dull and inert in society.

Ex-Governor Ford died at his residence at Peoria, Illinois, on the 6th inst.

NOTICE.

Union Meeting.

The Democratic and Free Soil citizens of Quincy, are requested to meet at the Town Hall this Evening at 7 o'clock, to adopt measures to complete our Representation to the General Court. Per order, MANY CITIZENS.

Quincy Lyceum.

Mr. Simon Barrows of Dorchester, will deliver the sixth of the series of Lectures the present season, on Thursday evening next, commencing at half past seven o'clock. Subject—Geology. H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

The Annual Meeting of the Washington Total Abstinence Society, for the choice of officers, and other business, will be held in the Lyceum Room, next Saturday evening, 23d inst., at seven o'clock.

Thanksgiving Ball.

All citizens, who may feel disposed to make arrangements for a Ball on Thanksgiving Evening, Nov. 28th are requested to meet at the Hancock House, this Evening, at seven o'clock, to adopt preparatory measures. It is to be hoped that a goodly number will attend, in order to make such preparations as become the ball festivals of this day in "old times."

MARRIED.

In this village, on the 7th inst., by the Rev. W. W. Dean, Mr. JOHN GREEN to Mrs. SARAH CHESTING.

Estate of Simon Williams.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 15th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two to four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH, JAMES D. HOLLIS, Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n106w

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Notice of Insolvency.

NORFOLK. Quincy, Nov. 11th, 1850. The third meeting of the creditors of HARRY FRENCH of Quincy in said County, Insolvent Debtor, Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the 24th day of November, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All those interested in said meeting, are requested to be present.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Assignee. Nov. 16. 1w

House For Sale.

A one story and a half house, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of ALPHEUS HUNT. Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

Black Writing Ink.

AT THE QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found A new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers. 3w

Pork & Lard.

THE best of Pork & Lard for sale at 8 cts. per lb by J. & H. H. FAXON. 1f

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for Baking, viz:—Peach water; Rose water; etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc. Also—Sweet Marjorana, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c. Quincy, Nov. 16. 1f

Board in Quincy.

A gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot. Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

CASH

PAID FOR OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS, PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS, Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk, COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c. BY—A. B. PACKARD.

To Let.

HALF of a house in front of Mr. Alden French's. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Nov. 16. 3w

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO., ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING Pledged themselves to the Public, That their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT TO A HEAVY LOSS! RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX, —AND— MARK DOWN OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO. FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS. Nov. 2. 6w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of RACHEL FAXON, late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to BARNABUS F. ARNOLD, Executor. Braintree, Nov. 24. 1850. 3w

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of JOSEPH FERRIN, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stonecutter, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to SARAH S. FERRIN, Administratrix. Quincy, Nov. 2. 3w

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND. Quincy, Nov. 24th. 1f

Administrator's Sale.

PURSUANT to a license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling house, with about 1-4 of an acre of Land, situated on Cemetery Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogle, deceased.

Conditions made known at the time and place of Sale. Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator. Quincy, Nov. 9. 1850. 3w

QUINCY HALL Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike. Special Notice. JOHN DINEGAN

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER CLOTHING.

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS and comes very cheap. Also, SEVERAL splendid pieces of French and German Broadcloths!

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for lastly Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market. Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want. Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is ever been in our store to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS and DRAWERS. GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c. A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS' CLOTH CAPS. Quincy, Nov. 9th. 1f

Dr. C. S. Mann.

MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY, HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET, Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq. Nov. 2. 6w

Blank Books

Of every size, ruling and style of binding, are now offered for sale at the Quincy Book Store. All in want are invited to call and examine our assortment. C. GILL & CO. Quincy, Nov. 16. 3w

BOSTON MUSEUM, Tremont Street, Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING. THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises not less than SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS, to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Hall of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, swelling the already immense collection to upwards of HALF A MILLION ARTICLES, the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY, OVER HUNDRED FEET in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality, and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated tableaux of CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that One of their number betrayed him.

THE PRODIGAL SON, returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION, composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors; a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE, in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMSE TWINS, and their beautiful American Dressmaker's Shop, &c., as well as a Representation by nine figures, of the MASSACRE BY PIRATES of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY, as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS MCCREA, by the Indians during the Revolt known as; a thrilling group showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTemperance, and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a Woman Murdered by her Husband. Also, groups of a School—Milliner's Shop—A Shoemaker's Shop—A Barber's Shop—A Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size, rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES, obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities.

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary, OIL PORTRAITS of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriotic Statesmen, and Divines—Rare Coins and Medals—Shells, Corals, and Fossils.

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES, and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire Family of Peruvian Mummies; the DECK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID, which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1839, '40, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creature were entirely removed.

Elephants and Oorang-Outangs; ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, and the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that to extent and interest is unequalled in the known world—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

SAW AND SWORD FISH, all in life-like preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that to extent and interest is unequalled in the known world—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

Without EXTRA CHARGE, visitors are admitted to the persons Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

A CARD !!

J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the
FALL AND WINTER
OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths !!!

A great variety of PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments
for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS,
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING
DEPOT,
ON THE
BRAINTREE AND WEYMOUTH TURNPIKE.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very
choice and select Stock of
Fall and Winter Goods !!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN,
OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored
Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN
Manufacture.
Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy Doe-Skins
for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN
and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIA'S
&c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty
Garment of any description, are respectfully invited
to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and
by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. if

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment
of

NEW SHAWLS.

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception.

We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloths and Sacks, latest patterns; Tricot Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woollen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marcelline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Craple Shawls; Bombazines; Ale-
pines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2, Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

NEW FALL & WINTER

MILINARY GOODS.

MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful
acknowledgments to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBANDS, FLOW- ERS, &c., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

BONNETS altered, bleached and colored.
For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work
be added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone
Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 10th. 2m

Flour Barrels.

200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. if

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

LADIES

of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.,
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of
NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the
AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of
SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and
GERMAN MERINOS

Of all Grades.
FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.
VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND JACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.
Together with the Immense Variety of all other
Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present
Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our
intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers
who daily throng our Establishment, show.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make out place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular,
where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles
of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance
of that patronage which now enables us to refer you
to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than
at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that
at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in
READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand !!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices !!!

Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. if

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors
below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin
board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY
WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. if

Judd's Medicated Liquid Ointment.

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a
smooth coating over them, impervious to air and
water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31. if

Flour Barrels.

A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty
Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated
on the Braitree and Weymouth Turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 28. if

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.

NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
BOSTON.

Brooks' Railroad Express.

THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage
thus far, and respectfully announces that he still continues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad Station to Quincy Point and Braitree Neck, for 12
cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton
Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Brooks' Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. B. Bies-ler's, will be promptly attended to.

ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick
despatch.

THOMAS BROOKS.
3mos

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trim-
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Bay State Long Shawls.

A Assortment just received of the different sizes
Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Quincy Washing Mixture.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have
used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, all directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this
will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 3. if

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are Whitehead's Vegetable Syrup;
Jawa Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy);
Belling's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Hol-
den's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Bal-
sam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.

Apples.

ADAMS AND RUSSETT'S, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. if

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. if

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping
a good assortment of English, West India goods and conceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. if

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite Wharf, Quincy Point,
Quincy, August 17. if

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM.
T. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in
Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10
Exchange Street, Boston.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk ss. Probate Office, November 4th, 1850.
An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of
HEZEKIAH BASS,

late of Quincy in said County, Cordwainer deceased having been presented for Probate by Lemuel Brackett, the Executor therein named,

ORDERED, that the said Lemuel Brackett notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury in said County, on the twenty-third day of November, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.
Nov. 9. 3w

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply
to JOHN WHICHER.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. if

NEW DRY GOODSEstablishment !*REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.
Have removed to their new and splendid
Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States,
being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their
large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

S HAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long
and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,
Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.
Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.
Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs
and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets,
Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens,
Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Fritins.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,
The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents', and Children's;
Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores
may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers
may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention
and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.
NEW STORE, NOS. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON. 3m

Oct. 5.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.
At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-
Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cash-
meres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of
DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS, Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.
Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all
wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, October 5. if

Particular Notice.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced
prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to
call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

Quincy, Sept. 7th.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
if

New Goods.

DANIEL RAYT & C.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Muslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters;
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;
Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31. if

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street,
recently occupied by the Widow Driver,
with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10. if

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied
by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the work-

POETRY.

(For the Quincy Patriot.)
THE PORTRAIT.
BY W. P. A.

What is this? and whence its charm?
Is it a living form we see?
But if so, then there's sure no harm
In saying "it will thus speak to me."
Alas! 'tis but a colored line
Which seems a human face divine.

And is it nought but form and lines?
Can shadows thus our spirits move?
No, 'tis the secret soul that shines
Through outward symbols that we love.
The pencil dips in magic tints,
With angel skill the spirit paints.

And while in pictured beauty here
We love to trace the likeness true,
How should our souls to God appear!
Should they not bear his image too?
Ah, how do they with him compare!
He seeks his heavenly likeness there.

SUNRISE COMES TO-MORROW.

True it is that cloud and mist
Blot the clear blue weather;
True that lips that once have kissed
Come no more together.

True that when we would do good,
Evil often follows;
True that green leaves quit the wood,
Summers lose their swallows.

True that we must live alone,
Dwell with pale dejections;
True that we must often mourn
Over crushed affections.

True that Man his queen awaits,
True that, sad and lonely,
Woman, through her prison-grates,
Sees her tyrant only.

True the rich despise the poor,
And the poor desire
Food still from the rich man's door,
Fuel from his fire.

True the plaint—but, if more true,
I would not deplore it;
If an Eden fade from view,
Time may yet restore it.

Evil comes and evil goes,
But it moves me never;
For the Good—the Good—it grows,
Buds and blossoms ever.

Winter still succeeds to spring,
But fresh Springs are coming;
Other birds are on the wing,
Other bees are humming.

I have loved with right good will,
Mourned my hopes departed, Dreamed my golden dream, and still Am not broken hearted.

What if cherished dreams must fade?
Faith will never leave us;
God preserves what God has made—
Nor can truth deceive us.

Let in Light—the holy Light!
Brothers, fear it never;
Darkness smiles, and Wrong grows Right—
Let in Light forever!

Let in Light! Where this shall be Safe and pleasant duty, Men in common things shall see Goodness, Truth and Beauty.

ANECDOTES.

Mr. C. of Newburyport, was one of the irascibles. Many a story is told of his fretful temper. One winter his son, who kept a grocery in that town, was elected a representative to the state legislature. The store was left in charge of the old man and a boy. One day whilst the boy was gone to dinner, the old man happened to have a flood of customers, all at a time; one had wanted a cent's worth of soap put up in a paper; another a cent's worth of milk and wanted to borrow the measure to carry it home in; while a little girl was waiting for a cent's worth of black pepper, which the old man was trying to put up for her; the paper was too small, and in putting it in an envelope, he got some of the titulating powder in his eyes, which started the tears, and the temper which had been brewing and simmering during the whole operation, now burst forth: "I wish the girl's coat was in tophet!" growled he. "What in thunder did they choose my son for? yes, and he was a fool to accept it too, to go and leave his shop with me to take care of—pretty doings!" Here a little boy came in for a cent's worth of vinegar, in a hurry. "A cent's worth of vinegar?" drawled out the old man. "Yes, sir, a cent's worth of vinegar." And a-d old store was sunk in Meville river, with the whole gin'ral coat inside out; I do, by thunder.

A country clergyman, by his dull monotonous discourse, set all the congregation asleep, except an idiot, who sat with open mouth listening. The parson enraged, and thumping the pulpit, exclaimed: "What! all asleep but this poor idiot?"

"Aye," quoth the natural, "and if I had not been a poor idiot I would have been asleep too."

An elderly gentleman, accustomed to "indulge," entered the room of a friend, where sat a grave Friend by the fire. Lifting a partial green spectacles upon his forehead, rubbing his eyes, and calling for brandy, he complained that his eyes were getting weaker and weaker, and even spectacles did not seem to do them any good. "I'll tell thee friend," said the Quaker, "what I think. If there was to wear thy spectacles over the mouth for a few months, thy eyes would get sound again."

"I say Pat," said a Yankee to an Irishman, who was digging in his garden, "are you digging out a hole in that onion bed?"

"No," said Pat, "I'm digging out the earth and laying the hole."

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care.

—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Looch Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, Ivory and silver, with and without Rubber and Box Wood; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingham's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Blistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., near of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 29.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making it the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,
suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers use.
Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.
Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER,
JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29.

FRUIT TREES.

Special Notice.
THE Proprietor is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass., with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces almost every approved sort of American or Foreign origin extant, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or extent of variety.

Extensive cultivation has been bestowed on the PEAR, and many thousands of truly vigorous trees are now ready for transplanting.

Extra size TREES, with fruit buds, and well furnished with branches, and such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.

Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, &c., and at rates less than is generally charged for novelties.

Scenes for exportation and the home trade, can be had from fruit-bearing trees, thereby ensuring correctness of nomenclature.

Selections, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspondent.

Address:—"The Superintendent of the Nurseries at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass.," or to the Subscriber, No. 2, Pearl Street, Boston.

MARSHALL P. WILDER,
Grove Hall Conches leave No. H Franklin Street, four times each day.
Dorchester, Oct. 12th, 1850.

BAY STATE SHAWLS.

Mantles and Scarfs.
in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls,
will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice the quality of the goods, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.

Orders solicited from all sections of the country, and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2 Milk Street,
BOSTON.

Preparation for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Luster, or medicated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorine; and the famous "Bachelors' Instantaneous Hair Dye;" Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider Vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Flannels.
WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels, and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air-Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,
it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS
is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is upped, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory
of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—
SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,
NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE
TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND,
Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.
HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—
Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE

Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,

Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE STORE in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain the heat or cool down, as desired, and are sold at lower prices than any other stove of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in PARLOR STOVES ever made. It consists of a large air heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 19th, 1850.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Redford, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 1 Washington Street.

N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. WM. B. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.
D. R. ADAMS.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year, his former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, March 24th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400
rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 229 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver
WATCHES,
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100
BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.

D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

French Call Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.

J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 16th.

Crocker and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

Potatoes.

150
BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by

D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.

Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.

200
TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

PUBLISHED

NUMBER 47.

JOHN A. G.

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid in advance. THREE DOLLARS if delayed.

No subscription nor advertisement is received until the payment of all arrears is received. When their papers discontinued, they will get effect at the time their subscription is terminated. A subscriber will be held responsible for his paper so long as it is sent to his Post Office, Tavern, or any other place he may have ordered it, until legally contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and concisely, at the customary prices. The number required must be marked on the advertisement; they will be continued until charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisement their own immediate business; and all for the benefit of other persons, as advertisements, and advertisements sent in by them, must be paid for at the Business letters and communications. Editor, postage paid, will receive early.

Single copies of the paper, Five.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and to procure subscriptions for the Quincy Patriot.

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy
GEORGE H. LOCKE, Stoughton
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester
FISHER V. KINGSBURY, Weymouth
JOSEPH CLEVELY, Hingham
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem
FREDMAN HUNT, New York

MISCELLANY

MARTHA WASHINGTON.

BY CATHERINE ALLEN.

The wife of Washington must be subject of interest to the women. Her own virtues, apart from the nation of her husband, have made her remembrance and esteem. She was respect, a model of her sex.

The maiden name of Lady Washington was Martha Danbridge, and she was born in a family in the County of New York, in 1752. She grew up to be amiable; and at sixteen was married to the district. Accomplished, at day; peculiarly fascinating in manner, she was sought in marriage by many admirers; and she finally became hand, at the age of seventeen, on Colonel Parker Custis of her native children were the fruits of this marriage of whom survived the mother.

While yet in the full bloom of life, Custis was left a widow. With a fine, and unusual charms of person, soon again besieged by suitors. But any impression on her heart, until tained her twenty-sixth year, she eventually made the acquaintance of then a Colonel in the service of Virginia, George W. Parke Custis, a biography of her life, has given a romance of the first interview between Mrs. her future husband.

"It was in 1758," says her biographer, an officer atired in a military uniform, tended by a body servant, tall and his chief, crossed the ferry called over the Pamunkey, a branch of the river. On the boat touching the New Kent side, the soldier's progress rested by one of those personages of beau ideal of the Virginia gentleman regime—the very soul of kindness and humanity. He would hear of no expense officer's part for declining the invitation to his house.—In vain the colonel's important business at Williamsburg; the lady insisted that his friend must be there by the very least. He promised, to introduce him to a young and ing widow, who chanced then to be of his dwelling. At last the soldier, at discretion, resolving however, his journey the same evening. The ed to the mansion. Mr. Chamber sent Col. Washington to his room among whom was the beautiful Mrs. Tradition says that the two were pressed with each other at the first; it may be supposed that the conversation upon scenes in which the whole of a deep interest—scenes which have fresh from his early fields, quietly describe; and we may fancy earnest and rapid interest the fair is bear did seriously incline; or how wily rhetoric of her eyes "beamed admiration upon the manly speaking morning passed; the sun sank low in 2000. The hospitable host smiled as colonel's faithful attendant, Bishop, orders, holding his master's spirit the gate. The veteran waited and at the delay. "Ah, Bishop," says ter, describing the occurrence, "the urchin in the drawing room more potting George and all his governors! sphynx, he had hidden the important from the soldier's sight, shut up his the summons of the tell-tale clock playing such mad pranks with the br in Christendom, that it fluttered w cess of new found happiness!"

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's. STORE.....IN HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 47.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents if not paid till the end of six months—Three Dollars if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereover he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, Five Cents.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	"Stone Quarries,
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Rossmouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY,	Hingham.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

MARTHA WASHINGTON

BY CATHERINE ALJAN.

The wife of Washington must ever be a subject of interest to the women of America. Her own virtues, apart from the exalted position of her husband, have made her worthy of remembrance and esteem. She was, in every respect, a model of her sex.

The maiden name of Lady Washington was Martha Danbridge, and she was born of an honorable family in the County of New Kent, Va., in May, 1752. She grew up beautiful and amiable; and at sixteen was already the belle of the district. Accomplished, at least for that day; peculiarly fascinating in manners; and possessed of a graceful and pleasing countenance, she was sought in marriage by numerous admirers; and she finally bestowed her hand, at the age of seventeen, on Colonel Daniel Parker Custis of her native county. Two children were the fruits of this marriage, neither of whom survived the mother.

While yet in the full bloom of beauty, Mrs. Custis was left a widow. With an ample fortune, and unusual charms of person, she was soon again besieged by suitors. But none made any impression on her heart, until she had attained her twenty-sixth year, when she accidentally made the acquaintance of Washington, then a Colonel in the service of Virginia. Her grandson, George W. Parke Custis, in a Biography of her life, has given a romantic account of the first interview between Mrs. Custis and her future husband.

"It was in 1758," says her biographer, "that an officer attired in a military undress, and attended by a body servant, tall and military as his chief, crossed the ferry called William's, over the Pamunkey, a ferry of the York River. On the boat touching the southern or New Kent side, the soldier's progress was arrested by one of those personages who give the beau ideal of the Virginia gentleman of the old regime—the very soul of kindness and hospitality. He would hear of no excuse on the officer's part for declining the invitation to stop at his house.—In vain the colonel pleaded important business at Williamsburg; Mr. Chamberlayne insisted that his friend must dine with him at the very least. He promised as a temptation, to introduce him to a young and charming widow, who chanced then to be an inmate of his dwelling. At last the soldier surrendered at discretion, resolving however, to pursue his journey the same evening. They proceeded to the mansion. Mr. Chamberlayne presented Col. Washington to his various guests, among whom was the beautiful Mrs. Custis. Tradition says that the two were favorably impressed with each other at the first interview. It may be supposed that the conversation turned upon scenes in which the whole community had a deep interest—scenes which the young hero, fresh from his early fields, could eloquently describe; and we may fancy with what earnest and rapid interest the fair listener "to hear did seriously incline;" or how "the heavenly rhetoric of her eyes" beamed unconscious admiration upon the manly speaker. The morning passed; the sun sank low in the horizon. The hospitable host smiled as he saw the colonel's faithful attendant, Bishop, true to his orders, holding his master's spirited steed at the gate. The veteran waited and marvelled at the delay. "Ah, Bishop," says a fair writer, describing the occurrence, "there was an urchin in the drawing room more powerful than King George and all his governors! Subtle as a sphinx, he had hidden the important dispatches from the soldier's sight, shut up his ears from the summons of the tell-tale clock, and was playing such mad pranks with the bravest heart in Christendom, that it fluttered with the excess of new found happiness!"

Mr. Chamberlayne insisted that no guest ever left his house after sunset; and his visitor was persuaded, without much difficulty, to remain. The next day was far advanced when the enamored soldier was on the road to Williamsburg. His business there being dispatched, he hastened to the captivating widow.

The marriage that followed the acquaintance thus romantically begun, took place in 1759, and was attended by all the beauty and wealth of the neighborhood. After the ceremony, Colonel and Mrs. Washington repaired to Mount Vernon where they took up their abode. By this union, an addition of about one hundred thousand dollars was made to the fortune of Washington, an accession which rendered him one of the most opulent gentlemen of the Old Dominion. Engrossed with each other, the young couple continued to reside on their estate, until the war of independence breaking out, Washington was summoned to the field to lead his country's armies. Mrs. Washington, however, even now would not consent to part entirely from her husband.—She accompanied him to Cambridge, and remained until the evacuation of Boston, when the army moving on to New York for an active campaign, she returned for awhile to Virginia.

After this, it was her custom to spend her summers at Mount Vernon, rejoining the General as soon as the army went into winter quarters. At the close of each campaign, accordingly, an aid-de-camp, was despatched to escort her to her husband. Her arrival at camp was always a season of rejoicing. The plain chariot, with the neat postillions in their scarlet and white liveries, was welcomed as the harbingers of rest and cheerfulness. Her example was followed by the wives of the higher officers. Thus every winter, something like society was established at head-quarters, when the smiles and affection of woman relieved, for a season, at least, the gloom of disaster and despair.

Lady Washington was accustomed to say that it ever had been her fortune to hear the first cannon of the opening and last at the closing of all the campaigns of the war of independence. During the terrible winter of 1777-8, she was at Valley Forge. The privations to which she had to submit may be judged from a letter she wrote to Mrs. Warren, in which she says:—"The General's apartment is very small; he has had a log cabin built to dine in, which has made our quarters much more tolerable than they were at first." Think of a woman of Lady Washington's fortune and position, dining now-a-days, for a whole winter, in a log-cabin;—During this awful season, this august female sought out the most distressed of the soldiers, and alleviated their sufferings, as far as possible out of her private purse.—Such was a lady of the olden time! Instead of lounging idly at home in luxury, she shared fully her husband's trials; instead of exhausting her wealth on selfish indulgence, she divided it with the hungry and the sick.

The Marquis de Chastellux, who visited the United States after the alliance with France, thus describes the Camp life of General and Lady Washington:—"The head-quarters at Newburgh consist of a single house built in the Dutch fashion, and neither large nor commodious. The largest room in it, which General Washington has converted into his dining room, is tolerably spacious, but it has seven doors and only one window. The chimney is against the wall, so that there is, in fact, but one vent for the smoke, and the fire is in the room itself. I found the company assembled in a long room which served as a parlor. At nine supper was served, and when bed-time came I found that the chamber in which the General conducted me was the very parlor spoken of, wherein he had made them place a camp-bed; we assembled at the breakfast next morning at ten, during which interval my bed was folded up; and my chamber became the sitting room for the afternoon; for American manners do not admit of a bed in the room in which company is received; especially women. The smallness of the house, and the inconvenience to which I saw the General and Mrs. Washington had put themselves to receive me, made me apprehensive lest M. Rochambeau might arrive on the same day. The day I remained at head quarters was passed either at the table or in conversation."

When at Mount Vernon, both before and after the war, Lady Washington, like a wise housewife, busied herself in superintending personally her domestic affairs. As that was a day when cotton factories were as yet unknown, every household had to do most of its own spinning; and Lady Washington kept sixteen spinning wheels constantly going. She was accustomed frequently to wear fabrics thus made. One of her favorite dresses of this home manufacture, was of cotton, striped with silk, not weighing quite a pound and a half. Her coachman, footman and waiting-maid were all dressed in domestic cloth. She was economical without being niggardly, and this from principle. She knew that in consequence of her station, she was looked up to, to be imitated; and she wished to show an example of moderation. Even when Washington was President, she continued this praise-worthy conduct. As late as 1776, Mrs. Wilson enquired for pocket handkerchiefs at a fashionable store in Philadelphia, was shown some pieces of lawn, of which Lady Washington had just purchased; and the information was added that she paid six shillings for handkerchiefs for her own use, but went as high as seven shillings for the President's.

Her ease and elegance of manner, joined to her affability, rendered her, when the wife of the Chief Magistrate, beloved by all. Mrs. Ellet says of this portion of her life, "The establishment of the President and Mrs. Washington was formed at the seat of government. The levees had more of courtly ceremonial than has been known since; but it was necessary to maintain the dignity of office by forms that should inspire respect. Special regard was paid to the wives of men who had deserved much of their country. Mrs. Robert Morris was accustomed to sit at the right of the lady of the President, at the drawing rooms; and the widows of Greene and Montgomery, were always handed to and from their carriages by the President himself; the secretaries and gentlemen of his household performing those services for the other ladies. In this elevated station, Mrs. Washington unspoiled by distinction, still leaned on the kindness of her friends and cultivated cheerfulness as a duty. She was beloved as few are in a superior condition. Mrs. Warren says, in reply to one of her letters, 'your observations may be true, that many younger and graver ladies consider your situation as enviable; yet I know not one, who, by general consent would be more likely to obtain the suffrages of the sexes, even were they to canvass at election for the elevated station, than the lady who now holds the first rank in the United States.'

She did not long survive her august husband. Less than two years after his death, she was attacked by a fatal illness, and feeling her end approaching, she called her grand-children around her, discoursed to them of religion, and amid the tears of her family, quietly resigned her life into the hands of her Creator. Her death took place on the 22d of May, 1802; and she was buried beside her husband.

Lady Washington is a model for the imitation of her sex. Her abilities were superior, her heart kind, and her conduct under the control of Christian principle. The gentle dignity of her manner inspired respect without creating enmity. In her youth, and even in mature womanhood, she was distinguished for personal loveliness.—Ladies' Journal.

A THRILLING INCIDENT.

In 1807, a young Polish officer, being with the division that was advancing on the Vistula, obtained leave to visit his father, whom he had not seen for years, but whom he hoped to find in the paternal mansion, situated in a wild part of the country, but not very far from the route which his corps was taking. He was, however, surprised by the night, as he was still riding through a forest of firs which seemed interminable. He therefore put up at a small roadside inn, where there were two ladies put up—a mother and her daughter—two Polish ladies, who were hurrying to meet the husband of one of them, a colonel in Jerome Bonaparte's army. They were in a great state of alarm, the conduct of the people about the place having roused their suspicions. At their request, the Pole took up his quarters in a room from which their chamber entered, so that no one could reach them without passing by him.

The room he thus occupied was on the first floor, and at the top of the stair-case, from which access was obtained by a trap-door.—This trap, the officer shut, and fastened by a wooden bolt belonging to it. Then, telling the ladies to fear nothing, he placed his sword and pistols on a table beside him, and resolved to keep good watch. About midnight, he heard steps on the staircase. No answer was made to the challenge he immediately made; on the contrary, some one tried to force the trap. The officer observing a hole two or three inches square in it, passed the muzzle of one of his pistols through it, and fired. There was the sound of a body rolling down the staircase.—the attempt was soon after renewed; this time, however, differently. A hand appeared through the hole, and grasped the bolt. The bolt was even half withdrawn, when the Pole, with a single blow, severed the hand from the body it belonged to. There followed groans and horrid imprecations; but nothing more took place that night. In the morning, a squadron of French cavalry arrived, and the ladies were placed in safety. Not a single person was found at the inn. The officer continued his way to his father's house. One thing, however, had much struck him; the hand he had cut off was very small, delicate and white; moreover, one of the fingers wore a ring of considerable value. The ring he took possession of with a strange, uncomfortable feeling of coming evil, which increased as he went on. Arrived at his father's house, he was told that his parent was ill, and in bed. He was, however, soon introduced to his presence. The old man was evidently suffering great pain; but he conversed with his son for some time, with tolerable composure. Suddenly, however, by a convulsive movement, he threw off the bed-clothes, and the officer, to his horror, saw that his father's right hand was wanting. "It was then, you! and this is your ring!" he cried, in an agony of conflicting passions, as, throwing the jewel on the floor, he rushed out of the house, mounted his horse, and rode off at full speed. A few weeks afterward, he sought and found his death amid the bloody snows of Prussian Elau.

THE LAW OF PROGRESS.

"The earth moves," said Galileo. And he was imprisoned for saying it. Yet the earth had swept around the sun for ages before his birth, as it has for ages since his death. It took the world a long time to believe the truth of the great mathematician's assertion, and it has taken it longer to learn that not only the earth moves, but also that its inhabitants are moving ever onward. It was in 1610 that Galileo first taught the Copernican system, but it was not until 1721, that John Vito, of Naples, announced the law of human progress. But it was not then received, nor was it in the ages that had gone before, nor is it scarcely now, though centuries have since passed. Men have so long looked backward for a golden age, have so long been accustomed to view things magnified by the mists of centuries, that they cannot believe that the things around them, exceed those which are passed. Yet during all this long period of unbelief in human progress the race has moved steadily on in the attainment of moral and mental excellence. To the ear of the true philosopher the steady tramp of mankind up through the long dark ages of error and ignorance to the light of a more perfect day, is recognizable over all the confusion of temporary retrocessions, and the quiet of momentary pauses. We stand at the head of the race. All that has been gathered in the past is ours. From the summit of six thousand years we survey the whole progress of man. We observe what errors have been discarded, what tyrannies become obsolete, what prejudices been dissipated. And we may also see the remnants of wrong that still cling to us, and look hopefully to the future for their dispersion. This is the great encouragement to the reformer. He knows that the cause of humanity cannot go backward. Though the world may hug its delusions, and cling to the remnants of a past barbarism, yet the truth and the right must conquer. Though conservative souls repose in the full conviction that the height of all excellence in human institutions has been attained, and regard all advances as hazardous and presumptuous, yet he knows that there is a higher excellence to come, which shall yet be felt and acknowledged.

THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL.

His Excellency, George N. Briggs, of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, has issued the following Proclamation—appointing a day to be observed for "Public Thanksgiving Praise and Prayer."

"God is great, and great is His goodness to the children of men." Scarcely have his mercies been more distinguished to any people than to the people of Massachusetts, from their origin to the present time.

Early in their history, our fathers acknowledged His beneficence in their solemn assemblages, on days set apart for that purpose.

Taught by their precept, and stimulated by their example, I do, with the advice and consent of the Council appoint THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, to be observed by the people of this Commonwealth, as a day of Public Thanksgiving, Praise and Prayer.

Let all classes of our citizens cease from unnecessary pursuits and avoid those recreations and amusements inconsistent with proper religious observance of the day.

Let them assemble in their places of public worship, and, recounting the numerous mercies of the past year, unite in songs of praise to their Divine Author.

The sound of war has not been heard in our land. And though during the year God has in His inscrutable wisdom, suddenly struck down the honored, wise and just chief magistrate of this Republic, the high authority with which he had been invested by the people of thirty States, quietly devolved upon his constitutional successor, without commotion or bloodshed.

The vast, complicated machinery of the general government after receiving such a sudden and violent shock, moves on without jarring or disorder. Such a spectacle in the history of government demands our grateful acknowledgments to Him who holds in His hands the destiny of nations. General health and plenty have prevailed in our own Commonwealth. In the workshops, and on 'change, amidst the peaceful pursuits of agriculture, in the busy marts of trade, and among the robust and hardy adventurers of the sea, who bring up from the depths of distant oceans the materials for lighting up the homes of their countrymen upon the land, a success and prosperity have rewarded the enterprise of our varied industry and business, which evince an overruling and smiling Providence. The systems of education and philanthropy wisely founded by our fathers and faithfully carried on by their children under the blessings of Heaven have diffused their healthful influence upon those whom they were intended to benefit.

But the most precious of all the mercies vouchsafed to us by the BENEFICENT of men, are those which flow from the BIBLE and the GOSPEL of His Son.

Free from government restraints, these we enjoy in unrestrained liberty. The only obstruction to their full fruition is to be found in our own perverseness.

Let those who anticipate with delight the approaching thanksgiving festival in the happy domestic circle, and in homes of health and abundance, remember that there are near them abodes of destitution and sorrow, to whose sad and lonely inmates this joyous anniversary will bring no joys, unless they are permitted to share in the liberality and kindness of the fortunate and benevolent. The SAVIOR of the world never forgot or neglected the widow, the fatherless and the poor.

Grateful to our common FATHER for the past and present bounties of His Providence, let us humbly and earnestly entreat Him to continue to us those blessings, social and religious, which we have hitherto enjoyed. Let us in a spirit of devout piety, pray that He would give us strength and permanence to all those institutions of ours, designed to secure the true interests of the people, to diffuse the benefits of education and learning, to improve private and public morals, and to make us a virtuous and happy community.

That whilst participating so largely in His temporal mercies, He would give us spiritually riches, and make us the humble and sincerely followers of His Son. That He would bless our whole country, continue to it that liberty and union which were purchased at so great a price, and cause those who govern it to be just men, and to rule in His fear. That He would restore to the people of the nations, those rights and that freedom, of which they have been wrongfully deprived by the fraud or the violence of those who oppress them. That He will break the rod of oppression everywhere.

That the period may soon arrive when the door of Providence shall be opened for the peaceful termination of slavery and its attendant evils.

That He would remove from the hearts of rulers and people, the spirit of war, and implant in its place a love of peace and its arts.—That by His transforming grace He would mould the hearts and the characters of all those who profess the name of CHRIST into the immortal image of a just barbarism, yet the truth and the right must conquer. Though conservative souls repose in the full conviction that the height of all excellence in human institutions has been attained, and regard all advances as hazardous and presumptuous, yet he knows that there is a higher excellence to come, which shall yet be felt and acknowledged.

PARISIAN MOTHERS.

A few days after the birth of children they are sent into the country, and placed under the care of some peasant woman, who, for a monthly stipend, agrees to return them in good order at the end of one or two years. The parents make resolutions about going out frequently and surprising the nurse. But the road is long and the time precious; after a little time their vigilance is relaxed and long months glide away between the visits. The nurse has her own affairs to attend to; and bandages the child up from head to foot in the approved style, draws the curtains around the cradle, which she pushes up in a dark corner, and sallies forth to visit neighbors, or to labor in the fields. He may strengthen his lungs by crying or sleep, as he may choose, until her return. The same nurse has not unfrequently four or five children under her care at the same time, managing to eke out miserably the deficiency in their nourishment with soup, pan, and mashed potatoes. When the mother comes, a few months afterwards, to see her cherub-checked boy, with the dimples on his plump little hands, she does not recognize him in the waif-like creature, with livid marks under his eyes, and long thin bluish fingers, which is presented to her. Then comes a flood of bitter tears, forced out by the sting of remorse; this is followed by a severe rating of the negligent nurse, who does not fail to retort on the indifferent mother. The severe clothes by the father's taking the child to some other nurse, and visiting it more frequently. The child often falls to the ruggedness of his hard treatment; the mortality among child en at nurse runs to a fearful ratio. But imagine the child to have reached the age when custom requires his return to the house of his parents, that is to say, of one or two years.

For a month or two previous, he has been well fed and petted by the nurse, whose conscience as well as interest, leads her to take this unusual pains. He reaches his father's house a stranger, and is afraid as he passes up the grand staircase and sees so many eyes fixed on him. He clings to his nurse's side, and begs her to take him home with her.—When she leaves him he is inconsolable, and, for many a long day cries to get back to his mother in the country. He will not believe the fine lady who now takes care of him is his mother, for he has never seen her before. It seems to us that the love between a mother and her child thus brought back to her can never become so beautiful as it is in countries not so far away from nature by a false civilization; and that to this cause may be traced the almost entire absence among the Parisians of what we call "happy family circles." The child is too apt, as he grows up, to repay, with interest, the indifference of his parents towards him in his infancy. And if we seek for the cause of the great difference in physical development among the people, those of certain classes being, almost without exception, handsome and vigorous, and those of others, stunted and meagre asague patients, may we not find a sufficient one in the custom just described.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23 1850

John A. Green, Editor.

AMERICAN ART UNION.

As the following article answers the purpose, we extract it from the well filled columns of our friend Earle's paper—The Massachusetts Spy—

"Only four weeks hence, viz. on the 30th of December, the annual distribution of the prizes of this Institution will take place in New York city. The collection of paintings already exceeds in value forty thousand dollars, and it will be still further extended in proportion to the number of subscriptions yet to be received. The paintings as a whole, are superior to any former collection. Among them are the following:

The Dream of Arcadia—by Cole—cost $800.
Thantopsis—by Durand—cost $750.
The Knight of Sayne—by Leutze—cost $800.
Disputed Game—Fox and Hawk—by Hinkley, of Milton, Mass.—cost $500.
Don Quixote and Sancho Panza—by Glass—cost $700.
The Death of Bayard—by Nahl—cost $500.
Coast Scene—Storm passing off—by Huntington—cost $450.

There are many other pictures of a high order of merit, several hundred in number, by such artists as Leutze, Durand, Huntington, Church, Kensett, C. P. Cranch, &c.

The inducements to subscribers for this year are, among others,

First, a chance of drawing a prize from the hundreds of those magnificent Paintings, all of which have been selected with reference to artists merit.

Secondly, each subscriber will receive Engravings, the cost of which, if executed for a private publisher, would at least be sold at four times the price of a member's subscription. These engravings consist of a print from the fine line engraving (size 2 1/2 by 1 3/4 inches) from Mrs. Leslie's celebrated picture of June Page, Slender and Shallow, a scene from the Merry Wives of Windsor;—and a set of five engravings, (size 7 1/2 inches,) from paintings by the following eminent artists: The Dream of Arcadia, by Cole; Dover Plains, by Durand; The Image Breaker, by Leutze; The New Scholar, by Edmunds; The Card Player, by Wood-vill.

Thirdly, To a share in the distribution of Statuettes, Medals, and other works of Art.

Membership secured on the payment of $5 to the Honorary Secretary, JOHN A. GREEN, of Quincy, who has the certificates duly attested.

NORFOLK COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES.

We glean from various sources the following list of gentlemen, designating the party to which they belong, who have been elected Representatives to the ensuing General Court:—

Bellingham, Martin Rockwood. Freesoil.
Branford, Caleb Stetson. Democrat.
Franklin, William Aspinwall. Whig.
Canton, Charles Edicott. Freesoil.
Cohasset, Thomas Stoddard. Whig.
Dedham, E. Wilkinson. Democrat.
Dorchester, N. F. Safford, and Edward Sharp Whigs.
Dover, Ralph Sanger. Whig.
Foxboro, Martin Torrey. Freesoil.
Milton, Jason Reed. Whig.
Quincy, Joseph W. Robertson. Democrat.
Randolph, E. S. Corant. Democrat.
Roxbury, Joseph N. Brewer, John L. Plummer, J. M. Keith, John S. Soper, Theodore Dunn, S. M. Allen. Whigs.
Sloughton, Albert Monson. Freesoil.
Walpole, Palmer Morey. Whig.
Weymouth, B. F. White, (Freesoil) and Elias Hunt (Democrat).

In Franklin, Medfield, Medway, Nerdham, Sharon and Wrentham, no choice was effected. An attempt will probably be made in all these towns to elect on Monday next, as also to choose additional one in this town.

THANKSGIVING BALL.—The return of this Annual Festival is to be enjoyed in the evening by a dance at the Hancock House, in this town. The managers have already been selected from right source, and aided by the counsels of those who have seen these times many years ago, nothing short of social and pleasant hours of enjoyment can be anticipated. Already many have joined, and more are making preparations to unite. The Music will be excellent, and the Snapper equal to the best that can be prepared. To all who may wish to close this time-honored Festival by tripping the "Light Fantastic toe" to music all evening, should fail not to attend the Thanksgiving Ball, in this place, on that evening.

UNION NOMINATION.—Quite a large for such a purpose, composed of members of the Democrat and Free Soil parties, was held at the Town Hall last SATURDAY evening, John Hardwick was Chairman, and William R. Brown Secretary; After remarks of gentlemen from each of the parties, a marking took place for a Candidate, for Representative and George Marsh having received more than a majority, was declared the Union Candidate.

DEATH OF RICHARD M. JOHNSON.—This eminent individual died at Frankfort, (Ky.) on the 19th inst. at the age of about seventy years. He represented Kentucky as member of Congress during twelve consecutive years; and, as Col. of a volunteer regiment of great distinction, under General Harrison against the Indians and British, on the North-West territory, in the war in 1812. From 1819 till 1829 he was a member of the United States Senate. In 1836 he was elected to the Vice Presidency with Van Buren. At the expiration of his term he retired to private life. He possessed high abilities and was universally respected by all who knew his character.

ANOTHER GREAT VOCALIST EXPECTED.—Miss Catherine Hays, a distinguished Irish vocalist, who has already attained great fame and the highest musical honors from the Italians, is expected in this country at some future day though at what precise time is not known. Miss Hays has performed before some of the most acute and exacting musical audiences in England, where by her talents as an actress, and her abilities as a singer have been generally acknowledged. Her acting in La Sonnambula, her favorite piece, has been received with the most enthusiastic excitement, the whole house rising to testify their appreciation of her great vocal and histrionic powers. N. Y. Evening Post.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11. The trial of Gen. Chaplin for slave stealing has preliminary commenced to day at Rockville, Montgomery county, Md. The jury will be sworn to-morrow morning. Geo. R. Richardson, attorney general of Maryland, and Mr. Bowe were present for the prosecution, and Messrs Pitt, Radcliff and Brewer for Chaplin. The court house was crowded, and considerable excitement prevailed. Thomas Moody, one of the party charged with kidnapping Edmund Mitchell, on election night, was bailed out of jail to day, and at 9 o'clock to night was shot dead by William Stewart a bosom friend of Mitchell's, in the gallery of the Front Street Theatre.

NOTICE.

The Annual Meeting
OF THE WASHINGTON TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY, for the choice of Officers and other business, will be held in Lyceum Hall, this, SATURDAY Evening, 23rd inst., at six o'clock.
T. KELLOGG, Secretary.

Notice.

The WARD CITIZENS of Quincy are requested to meet at the Lyceum Room this Evening, at 7 o'clock, to nominate a Candidate for a Representative to the next Legislature.

Per Order of the Town Committee.

MARRIED.

At Dorchester, Nov. 17, by the Rev. Mr. Pike Mr. Charles Hayden, of Quincy, to Miss Elizabeth Stoddard, of Dorchester.

Town Meeting.

Norfolk ss. To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy,

IN the name of the Commonwealth, of Massachusetts, you are required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the town of Quincy, qualified to vote in Elections, to meet at the town Hall, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the twenty-fifth day of November, inst., at two o'clock in the afternoon, to act on the following Articles, viz:—

Article 1st.—To determine if the Town will send a Representative to the next General Court.

Article 2nd.—To bring in their votes to the Selectmen for a Representative, (of the town vote to send.) Hereof fail not, and make return of this Warrant, with your doings thereon, to ourselves at the time and place of Meeting, as aforesaid.

Given under our hands and seals at Quincy, this eighth day of November, in the year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen of
GEORGE MARSH, } Quincy.
ELIJAH BAXTER, }
A true Copy—ATTEST: SETH ADAMS, Constable.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, November 18, 1850.
Pursuant to the above Warrant, I hereby notify and warn the inhabitants of the town of Quincy qualified to vote in Elections, to meet at the time, place, and for the purposes therein named.

SETH ADAMS, Constable

NOTICE TO VOTERS!

The Subscribers give notice that they will be in Session at the Selectmen's Room, on SATURDAY, the 23rd inst., from 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of correcting the List of Voters.

Also, on MONDAY, the 25th inst., from 1 until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the same place and for the same purpose.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen of
GEORGE MARSH, } Quincy.
ELIJAH BAXTER, }
Quincy, November 18, 1850.

Removal.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year, his former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality required for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japanese Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan. 12.

Wool Frocking.

200 to 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29.

Crockery and Glass Ware.
JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy Sept. 1.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

WILL be sold by order of the Probate Court, on MONDAY, the 26th day of December next, at one of his rooms, in the afternoon, on the premises, so much of the Estate of Charlotte G. Coleman, late of Braintree, deceased, as will produce the sum of Five Hundred and Thirty Seven Dollars and Seventeen Cents—for the payment of her just Dues, Legacies and charges of Administration, with incidental expenses.

Said Estate consists of about 3 Acres of LAND, with a DWELLING HOUSE and other Buildings thereon.

Also—About five acres of PASTURE LAND, all situated in Braintree, near the head of Navigation, on Monakut River, and the East Braintree Depot, on the South Shore Rail Road; and formerly the residence of William Coleman, late of said Braintree, deceased.

The said DWELLING HOUSE is partly new and can be occupied by two Families—and the whole Estate is very valuable, several creditors being in the possession of an excellent SCHOOL, the MEETING HOUSE, and the Rail Road Depot. Also—Two PENS in the Episcopal Church in Quincy.

The Conditions of the Sale will be twenty per cent. of the purchase money to be paid at the Sale, and the remainder in thirty days, at the delivery of the deed.

NOAH FIELD, Executor.

Weymouth, Nov. 18, 1850.

Wood at Auction.

Will be sold by public auction, in lots to suit purchasers, on FRIDAY next, November 29th, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, a large quantity of excellent wood, of very large growth, (principally oak) standing on land of heirs of Captain Josiah Bass, about one half mile west of Ebenezer Harmon's—adjoining land of the heirs of Dea. Jeddiah Adams.

Inquire of JOSIAH or LEWIS BASS.

L. G. NORTON, Auctioneer.

Quincy Nov. 25, 1850.

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851.

Magazines.

FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's Petersons, Godey's Lady's Book, &c., for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851.

Estate of Simeon Williams.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Boatmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH, DAVID N. HOLLIS.

Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Notice of Insolvency.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Nov. 11th, 1850.
The third meeting of the creditors of HARRY FRENCH of Quincy in said County, Insolvent debtor, will be held at the office of Francis Billiard, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the 22d day of November, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All those interested in said meeting, are requested to be present.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Assignee.

Nov. 16.

House For Sale.

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

Black Writing Ink.

AT the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers.

Nov. 16.

Pork & Lard.

THE best of Pork & Lard for sale at 8 cts. per lb by

J. & H. F. FAXON.

Nov. 16.

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for cooking, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjorans, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. Townsend, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

To Let.

HALF of a house in front of Mr. Allen French's.

Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy, Sept. 21.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.,
ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS,
AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR
TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING
Pledged themselves to the Public,
That their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!
RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING
WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,
—AND—

MARKDOWN OUR STOCK.

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL
THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.
GEO. W. WARREN & CO.
FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.
Nov. 2.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

RACHEL FAXON.

late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to BARNABUS F. ARNOLD, Executor.

Braintree, Nov. 2d, 1850.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

JOSEPH FERRIN,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stone-mason, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

SARAH S. FERRIN, Administratrix.

Quincy, Nov. 2.

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Administrator's Sale.

PURSUANT to a license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling house, with about 1 1/4 of an acre of Land, situated on Cemetery Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogle, deceased.

Conditions made known at the time and place of Sale.

Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.

Quincy, Nov. 9, 1850.

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.
On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN
Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS and comes very cheap.

Also, very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts. Also, Several splendid pieces of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasteful Promenades or Business Coats.

French and German Broadcloths!

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market.

Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS' CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Dr. C. S. Mann,

MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,
HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,

Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.

Nov. 2.

Blank Books

Of every size, ruling and style of binding, are now offered for sale at the Quincy Book store.

All in want are invited to call and examine our assortment.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ disputing with the Doctors; a characteristic group of seven figures.

Christ's Last Supper, with his Twelve Disciples; presenting the contemplation and agony of the chosen ones at the moment when he laid them that Use of THEM SHOULD BEYOND HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON, returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION, composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ disputing with the Doctors; a characteristic group of seven figures.

Christ's Last Supper, with his Twelve Disciples; presenting the contemplation and agony of the chosen ones at the moment when he laid them that Use of THEM SHOULD BEYOND HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON, returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION, composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ disputing with the Doctors; a characteristic group of seven figures.

STON MUSEUM,
Front Street, Boston.

WAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best of its kind in the United States. It contains no less than SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS, and has been called the "great storehouse of the nation."

PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,
A million articles, of objects of interest to be found together in no other place, and an entire

HALL OF WAX STATUARY.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Work Reality.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

THE PRODIGAL SON.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

THE CRUCIFIXION.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Disputing with the Doctors;
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

THE GAME OF LIFE.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

THE SIAMSE TWINS.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

MASSACRE BY PIRATES.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

ORDER OF MISS MCCREA.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

INTERFERENCE.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Be Murdered by her Husband.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Hundred of Cabinet Size.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Engravings and Statuary.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

OIL PORTRAITS.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

FEJEE MERMAID.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

phantoms and Orang-Outangs;
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

AW AND SWORD FISH.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

ATRIAL ENTERTAINMENTS.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

PEDESTAL PLACE OF AMUSEMENT.
The figures of the great men of the world, and of the most interesting events of the world, are here to be seen in the most perfect manner.

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle.
For closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31. 3f

Flour Barrels.
A prime lot—for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3f

To Let.
ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 28. 3f

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.
NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 21. 3m

Brooks' Railroad Express.
THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage thus far, and respectfully announces that he still continues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad station to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 1/2 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton & Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Brooks' Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Brierley's, will be promptly attended to.
ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick despatch.
THOMAS BROOKS.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3m

Velvet Trimmings.
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 3f

Bay State Long Shawls.
AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 3f

Quincy Washing Mixture.
THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 3. 3f

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.
MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are: Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy); Hulse's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.

Quincy, July 20. 3f

Apples.
BALDWIN'S AND RUSSETT'S, of the first quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. 3f

Onions.
50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 3f

Notice.
THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that they intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Veg. staples, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.
Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.
N. B. Goods delivered as usual.
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. 3f

Wood, Wood.
FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point, by WHITTON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17. 3f

For Sale.
THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy, Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.
West Woods'lock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.
A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. 3f

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk ss. Probate Office, November 4th, 1850.
An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of HEZEKIAH BASS,

late of Quincy in said County, Cordwainer deceased having been presented for Probate by Lemuel Brackett, the Executor therein named, ORDERED, that the said Lemuel Brackett notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury in said County, on the twenty-third day of November, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.
Nov. 9. 3w

For Sale.
ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to
JOHN WHICHER.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. 3f

LADIES
Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.,
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of NEW GOODS which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.
Every variety of SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS
and
GERMAN MERINOS
Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER DRESS GOODS,
Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND JACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, as usual, is supplied with the latest styles, and we are enabled to purchase as a resort for the shrewdest and choicest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.
Geo. Savil & Co.,
Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING
OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT
ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.

—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Quincy, Sept. 28. 3f

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 179.
JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Cords consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.
No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 3f

A CARD!!
J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the FALL AND WINTER OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN Broadcloths!!!

A great variety of PANT GOODS, together with good styles of VESTINGS, &c.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3f

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS,
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,
ON THE
Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN
WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN Manufacture.
Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy Doc-Skins for Pants.

VESTINGS
of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS, &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.
Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.
READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.
Quincy, August 31. 3f

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,
No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.
IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED
For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,
SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,
that will displace all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS
to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Salins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Shaks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Alpines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2, Milk Street.
Boston, August 31. 3mos

NEW FALL & WINTER MILLINERY GOODS.
MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgments to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBANDS, FLOWERS, etc. etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—a good variety of Misses and Childrens trimmings.

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

Bonnets altered, bleached and colored.
For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.
For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work be added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.
WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Flour Barrels.
200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. 3f

Cider Vinegar.
FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. 3f

Pure Cider Vinegar.
BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3f

Dyer's Washing Fluid.
A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 3f

NEW DRY GOODS
Establishment!
REMOVAL.
GEORGE HILL & CO.
Have removed to their new and splendid
Wholesale and Retail Establishment
Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States, being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

S HAWLS
Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,
Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS
Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,
Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.
DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.
Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.
Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirts, Drawers, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doyles, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.
EMBROIDERIES,
The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
Ladies', Gents' and Childrens';
Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.
NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON. 3m
Oct. 5.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.
THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,
well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas, and a great variety of DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS, Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.
Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy.
A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy, October 5. 3f

Particular Notice.
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. 3f

New Goods.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Moulin De Laine, a good assortment, very low; Prints and Ginghams in great variety; Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters; Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors; Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31. 3f

To Let.
A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10. 3f

Let the Public Call.
THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment. By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy, April 13th. 3f

Old Colony Railroad.
Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets
FALL Arrangement, commencing September 19, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—
For Plymouth, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3/4, 8 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4, 3 1/4, 4 1/2, 5 1/4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1/2 A. M.; 3, 6 P. M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3/4 A. M.; 1, 2 3/4, 5 1/2, 8 1/2 P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1/4 A. M.; 3 1/4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1/2 A. M.; 3 1/2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3/4, 8 A. M.; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4, 4 3/4 P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7 1/8, 8 1/2, 8 40, 11 04 A. M., 2 45, 4 12, 5 13 P. M.
The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.
JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. 3f

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—
7 34, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39, 5 16 P. M.

Thirty dollars Reward.
THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and maliciously or maliciously damaged said House.

N. B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of the key being found at E. S. Vellow's.

CHARLES HAWKINS, } Parish
CHARLES SPEAR, } Committee
HEZEKIAH PRINCE, }
Quincy, July 13th. 3f

Musical Notice.
MR. BARNEKEY from Sweden, respectfully announces to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he will begin a course of lessons on the Piano, Organ, Guitar and Singing. Terms—For the Piano $15; for the Guitar, $12. Orders left at Mr. Geo. H. Moxham's, will be promptly attended to. If a number of voices could be got together, I should like to form a Society for producing Oratorios, such as Stabat Mater, and the Creation.

I shall begin the lessons week after next.
Quincy, Oct. 26. 3f

Apples for Sale.
A few barrels of very good BALDWIN, RUSSETT & GREENING Apples, for sale by JOSHUA BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 26. 3w

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!
AT THE OLD STAND,
Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St No. 224 WASHINGTON.)
Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES
Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,
which can be exposed for sale.

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

Please call and examine the elegant Stock of SHAWLS of all kinds, SILKS, DE LAINES, PRINTS, HOUSE KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds, GLOVES and HOSIERY, TRIMMINGS.

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.
GEO. W. PETTES.
Boston, Oct. 10th, 1850. 3m

Letter Paper.
FOOLSCAP, Note & Bill Paper, Envelopes, Steel Pens and Holders, Black and Blue Ink, all of the best quality, now selling at the lowest prices for Cash, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 24. 3w

Beautiful
FAMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
The public attention is invited to this new and excellent lot of Bibles, being the best ever offered in this town, and sold on favorable terms.

Quincy, Nov. 24. 3w

For Sale.
SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH HAY by CHARLES P. THRELL.
Nov. 2. 3f

1851.
THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy Nov. 24. 1850. 3w

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's. STORE.....IN HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 48.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS,
AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON
THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR
TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING
pledged themselves to the Public,
that their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY
SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!
RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO
THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX.

MARKDOWN OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL
THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.
GEO. W. WARREN & CO.
FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.
Nov. 25. 6w

Agriculturist's Guide
AND Almanac for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850. 3w

Brown's
ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account
Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850.

Magazines
FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's
Petersons, Godley's Lady's Book, &c., for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850. 3w

Estate of Simeon Williams
NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Boatmaker, deceased, Insolvent, and six months from the 10th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street
in said Braintree, on the third Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two to four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS.
Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n166w

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Notice of Insolvency.
NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Nov. 11th, 1850.
The third meeting of the creditors of HAR-VEY FRENCH of Quincy in said County, Insolvent debtor, will be held at the office of Francis Hilliard, Esq. Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the 22d day of November, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All those interested in said meeting are requested to be present.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Assignee.
Nov. 16. 1w

House For Sale.
A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of
ALPHEUS HUNT.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

Black Writing Ink.
AT THE QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found
a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quan-
ties to suit purchasers.
Nov. 16. 3w

For Sale, or To Let.
A new and convenient Dwelling House,
very pleasantly situated, on Common
Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to
SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Nov. 9th. 1f

Administrator's Sale.
PURSUANT to license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling house, with about 1.4 of an acre of Land, situated on Cemetery Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogle, deceased.
Conditions made known at the time and place of Sale.
Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.
Quincy, Nov. 9, 1850. 3w

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.
MRS E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—
Peach water; Rose water; etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.
Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory,
Thyme, &c.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 1f

Board in Quincy.
A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSHIP, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 2m

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOL-LARS and FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.
No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place, whereover
he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the lowest prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and
charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, or for the sale of goods, or for the promotion of any enterprise, or in any way, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive advertising and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELAND, Brighton.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT, New York City.

MISCELLANY.

PETER WINCH.

THE MAN WHO ALWAYS HAD A PENNY.

There lived in a little village near Redcar,
in the South Riding of Yorkshire—a village celebrated for its east wind and gravelly soil—a poor but industrious laborer, named Peter Winch—He was a strong-boned, sinewy man, and stood five feet ten inches tall, and worked from six in the morning till six at night, summer and winter. His usual work was in the limestone quarries and gravel-pits; and sometimes when work was slack there, in consequence hard frost or a heavy fall of snow, he drove a team, broke stones in the road, carted ice for the fishmongers of Redcar, or swept snow and chopped dead wood in gardeners' grounds, while the frozen-out gardeners were begging in the town. In one or the other, Peter Winch always worked twelve hours a day—often fourteen hours, never less than twelve—and he had done this ever since he was ten years old. He was now in his forty-eight year. By dint of his constant labors, he had always contrived to live with honest independence, as an English laborer should. In the very worst seasons he had never once applied to his parish for relief; he always paid his way, never borrowed; hated to run in debt for the least thing; and from a feeling of providence in his mind, not knowing what might happen in this world, made it a rule never to spend his last penny.

Peter Winch, when a young man had often wished to be married; but he was always prevented, by being unable to see his way, in the matter of bread and cheese and clothing.
Young men of the working class—scarcely ever seem to think, before hand, of how they should support a wife and family. But Peter Winch was a very strange man, for a poor man in this exercise of discretion and common sense. "Those above," thought Peter Winch, can afford to be imprudent, and trust to their friends, or their good luck; but a hard-working man like me, has no friends that can help him,
and as for good luck, he never expected it.
By working twelve hours a day and sometimes fourteen, I have always been able to support myself without any obligations, without any debts at all—in short to obtain sufficient food, and clothing and lodging and stand quite clear in the world. But, in doing this I have been quite unable to save a shilling. And this very time I have only a penny in my pocket. 'Tis true I want for nothing except a wife, but what a want that is! Yet how can I venture upon such a wagon-load of fresh needs as would be sure to follow?—such a long string of cares and sleepless nights! It makes me have so many thoughts, that sometimes there seems enough of them to fill a chutch. And, if Maria Brown had not such pretty eyes and little black curls all around the back of her neck, I certainly never would think of it."

Peter bought the ring the day after his great soliloquy; and honest, hard-working, independent, prudent, poor Peter Winch, was married to Martha Brown. It was not done upon the strength of the penny in his pocket; he did not deceive himself, and knew that he was acting very imprudently—it was the strength of his feelings that carried him away. He, therefore, determined to risk all his future life upon those pretty eyes, and little black curls. Nevertheless, Peter had not been deficient in sense as to his choice. Martha was a healthy, strong, hard-working, cheerful young woman, who would rather be a help than a burden to a working-man. She was five-and-twenty years of age. Peter Winch was thirty. Among the working-classes, an unmarried man, sound in limb, and of the age of thirty, is almost unprecedented. Such a personage as an old batch-lor, is unknown among the working classes.

With what ease does such a sentence drop quietly out of the pen; but what a world of destruction and misery it involves!

Peter, however, had made a good choice.
He and his wife worked hard, morning, noon, and night, and by this means, not only paid his way and supported his wife and three children, without spending his last penny, but they would have been happy and even comfortable, only for a misfortune. It was a misfortune that was sure to bring many others upon them.
He and his wife had contrived to grind on pretty well, notwithstanding the three children—but there came three more children—and there came the measles, and the small pox, and the whooping cough, and Martha was often ailing, and could not work, and one child broke its leg, and the eldest girl fell down stairs with the baby in her arms; and the doctor came,
and an unusually cold winter came, and Christmas came—with several bills.

While Peter had been a single man, he never owed a penny—his daily work of twelve hours had always prevented that. While his wife continued well, and strong, and they had only three children, Peter had still contrived to pay for every thing weekly, so that he ran no scores.
Now it was quite impossible to help it. Besides, he of late felt quite unwell himself, and had pains in his joints, and once or twice, giddiness in the head. He did not "lay by,"
however, or cease his work for a single day;
he was too poor to afford to be ill, so long as long as he could stand; he therefore continued to work his twelve hours a day as usual—sometimes fourteen. He often came home so tired that he sank down upon the bed unable to take off his clothes. In the morning, up before six as usual—and at it again. He paid everything as far as he could, and when it came to his last penny, he replaced that in his pocket saying, with a melancholy smile, "Well, you do not belong to me, because I owe you to the baker and the doctor, but I will keep you honestly for them, and pay as soon as I can."

And Peter Winch did in a few years contrive to pay every penny he owed, and kept one over for himself. He and his wife made a little joke about this fancy of his, about always having a penny. Peter said it made him feel "independent like," and as if he was not quite reduced to the last extremity.

Peter was now in his forty-eighth year; this was stated at the commencement of his story, and we have thus regularly brought him down that period. From ten years of age he has ground his way through life in gravel-pits, in stone quarries, on hard-roads through winter and summer, and amidst breast-biting east winds; driving teams, carting ice, and pottering about frozen gardens, twelve and fourteen hours a day; never asking any relief from the parish —always paying his way with credit to himself and being considered a pattern for all working men in his parish. As the reward of all this, he has always been able to obtain the bear means of existence—and to wear the uncommon feather in his cap, of having a penny to spare after paying for everything. He has had a beautiful time of it!

Peter Winch was forty-eight. We have said that he was a strong-boned, sinewy man; that he had originally possessed an equally strong constitution, the constant hard labor of eight-and-thirty years is a sufficient proof.
However, bone and muscle must wear out, as well as bricks and mortar; and the strongest constitution cannot be expected to set at complete defiance the ungenial influences, gravel-pits, east-winds, and the variety of labors performed by the mortal machinery of poor Peter Winch. This man, being now only in what with anything like fair wear and tear, would have been the prime of his life and strength, began to display signs of a rapid breaking-up—His constitution went first. He often felt unwell, he was quite unable to work more than six or seven hours in the day; his breath grew short—He next found that lifting great weights hurt him; and somehow, after a few hours carting gravel, he actually had pains in his loins and back. One day, while carrying a sack of potatoes, he fell down; he could give no reason for it. The winters were colder than they used to be eight or ten years ago, and he was obliged to give up carting ice—he always took such bad colds and coughs by standing about with wet feet. Even the wind—the east one—seemed to get right into his chest, under his shirt—he could not make out what was coming to him. Poor, hard-worked, honest, worn-out, daily laborer! he did not know that it was premature old age who had come to him.
Somehow he could not work as he once did.
He would pause at times, and look down upon his feet; and resume his spade or pickaxe with a sigh.

He was taken ill one afternoon, and unable to work next day. As he sat in his chair by the fire, being in his forty-ninth year, the light came up in his face, and showed that it was all of deep lines, and pits, and hard grains.
He looked like a dry, tanned, worn-down old man of ninety. He sat silently in this way a few days; he would not send for a doctor; he said it was all no use.

As Peter Winch was unable to work, and as he had never been able to lay up money, because of his family, and because of his honest payment of his way, and because he never would apply to the parish for relief, he was now obliged to run into debt; his family could not live without doing so. Peter paid away all that he had, even to his last penny—then began the bills and borrowings. He had always held up his head, and had never yet applied to the parish; his wife was now obliged to apply for out-door relief, and the overseer at the workhouse told her that they should be admitted into the house. Peter quietly refused to go in, and a few days afterwards he died—he had said he knew it was all over with him when he parted with his last penny. It was not because of parting with it—this would have been absurd—he far too strong-minded a man for this; it was because the parting with his very last penny marked in his mind, the final failure of a whole life of unremitting laborious toils and honest endeavors—the only product of which had been the day by day and week by week, means of existence, which he had worn himself out in earning. All his vitality had been exclusively devoted to gravel-pits, and roads, and every other kind of hard work that fell in his way; and he had no time for the chance of his mind's fair growth—no time for domestic affections and little amusement—no time for a quiet communion with God; his his whole physical, mental, moral, and spiritual nature had been kneaded into dust and clay—such is the result of a life—of how many lives!

Moreover, Peter Winch was a man out of the pale pity, being in his circumstances, by reason of his unremitting assiduity, a degree above the great majority of his class. He never troubled his parish, and he always had a trifle on hand (say a penny,) beyond his actual and immediate necessities. Who would pity such a man?

After his death the parochial authorities, having directed that his wife and children should be admitted into the workhouse, caused a little wooden board, painted white, to be erected over his grave, with the following inscription:—

Here lies the body of Peter Winch;
born 1796, died 1845.
He was a laborer, whose constant hard work,
from boyhood to the end of his life, enabled him to support himself and family throughout various periods of domestic trouble, without once asking for parochial relief;
to act uniformly as an honest, upright man,
and a Christian,
and always to have money in his purse.
His whole life is an example for all working men. Go ye and do likewise, so shall ye find your reward in the kingdom of heaven. Amen.
Where else, poor upright, worn out Christian laborer, canst thou hope to find thy reward—a reward more worthy of thy noble patience than mere daily bread?

FOLLOWING THE FASHION.

The most laughable incident connected with Queen of Song (Jenny Lynd) is said to have taken place at the Irving House, on the first day of her arrival in the City of Gotham. As the gong rang for dinner there was a perfect stampede among the female boarders of the house, to obtain the earliest possible scrutiny of the various articles of dress, ribbons, comb, or hairpins, with which the Swedish Nightingale might be pleased to adorn herself on this, her first appearance, before the young and blooming females of America. Judge, then, of the surprise and mortification of every lady present when the unaffected songstress, entered the room dressed in the simplest manner possible, and nothing to prevent her flowing locks from falling on her graceful sloping shoulders, but a few plain hair-pins. As she entered the room and took her seat at the table, there was almost an unanimous exclamation of—What no comb on the back of the head! O, how unfortunate that I should not have known it, so that I might have left mine in my room and used a few pins instead."

On Jenny's retiring to her room, she immediately addressed her dressing maid as follows:
"Sussey, dear, I noticed that all the ladies present at the table to-day, had their hair dressed with great taste and care, and fastened behind with a large comb—and as I do not wish to appear odd or eccentric while sojourning among so good a people, you will please go out shopping to-day, dear, and obtain me a large comb with which I can fasten up my hair behind, American fashion."

With a determination to be behind the fashion no longer than could possibly be helped, something over a hundred females were busily engaged during the most of the day, in so dressing their hair that without the assistance of combs, should appear a la Jenny Lind.

As Jenny entered the room, the next day, what was her surprise and mortification, on noticing that, instead of every lady having a large comb in the hair, as on the day previous, the hair in every instance, was fastened up in true-roll hair-pin style.

The mortification of the female boarders,
however, was still greater than that of Jenny—to think that the entire part of the afternoon of the previous day, and some three hours previous to the ringing of the gong on the present occasion, had been devoted to the subject of hair dressing, (the Irving in fact, having been transformed into a six-storied Barber shop,) and after all, the Nightingale had made her second appearance in a comb, of precisely the same pattern that they had cast aside as useless and unfashionable, but twenty-four hours previous.

PRACTICAL JOKER.

When the celebrated "Copenhagen Jackson" was British Minister in this country, he resided in New York, and occupied a house in Broadway. Neil Mc Kenron one night at a late hour, in company with a bevy of rough riders, while passing the house noticed it was brilliantly illuminated, and that several were waiting at the door.

"Hallo!" said our wag "what's going on at Jackson's?"

One of the party remarked that Jackson had a party that evening.

"What?" exclaimed Neil, Jackson have a party, and I not invited? I must see to that." So stepping to the door, he gave a ring which soon brought the servant to the door.

"I want to see the British minister!" said Neil.

"You must call some other time, said the servant, for he is now engaged at a game of whist and must not be disturbed."

"Don't talk to me in that way," said McKenron, "but go and tell the British Minister that I must see him immediately on special business."

The servant obeyed, and delivered his message in so an impressive a style as to bring Jackson to the door forthwith.

"Well," said Mr. Jackson, "what can your business be with me at this time of night, which is so very urgent?"

"Are you Mr. Jackson?" asked Mr. Neil.

"Yes sir, I am Mr. Jackson."

"The British Minister?"

"Yes sir, I have a party."

"A large party, I presume?"

"Yes sir, a large party."

"Playing cards? I understand."

"Yes sir, playing cards."

"Ah, well," said Neil, "as I was passing, I merely called to inquire what's trumps."

GOLDEN RULES OF LIFE.

All the air and the exercise in the universe, and the most generous and liberal table, but poorly suffice to maintain human stamina if we neglect other co-operatives—namely, the obedience to the laws of abstinence, and those of ordinary gratification. We rise with a headache, and we set about puzzling ourselves to know the cause. We then recollect that we had a hard day's lag, or that we feasted overbounteously, or that we stand up very late; all events, we incline to find out the fault, and then we call ourselves fools for falling into it.
Now, this is an occurrence happening almost every day; and these are the points that run away with the best portion of our life, before we find out what is for good or for evil; how instantaneously the blush will cover his cheek, when he thinks of the egregious errors he has unknowingly committed! say unknowingly, because it never occurred to him that they were errors until the effects followed, that betrayed the cause. All our sickness and ailments, and a brief life, mainly depend upon ourselves—
There are thousands who practice errors day after day, and whose prevailing thought is that every thing which is agreeable and pleasing cannot be hurtful. The sloth man loves his bed; the toper his drink, because it throws him into an exhilarative mood; the gourmand makes his stomach his god; and the sensualist thinks his delights are imperishable. So we go on, and at last we stumble and break down.
We then begin to reflect, and the truth stares us in the face, how much we are to blame.—
Canadian Agriculturist.

THE THIEF AND THE KING.

A Hindoo thief was once convicted and condemned to die, but he hit on the following expedient to escape the penalty of the laws. He sent for the judge and told him he had a secret to disclose to the king, and when he had done so he would be ready to die. The king sent for him to know what the secret was. He told him that he knew the art of producing trees that would bear gold. The king accompanied by the prime minister and the thief, came with the thief to a certain spot where he commenced his incantations. The thief at length produced a piece of gold, declaring that if planted, it would produce a tree, every branch of which should produce gold.

"But," said he, "this must be put in the ground by a person perfectly honest. I am not so, and therefore pass it to your Majesty."

The king replied—"When I was a boy I remember taking something from my father, which, although a trifle, prevents my being the proper person. I pass it therefore to my prime minister."

The latter said—"I receive the taxes from the people, and as I am exposed to many temptations, how can I be perfectly honest? I therefore give it to the priest."

The priest pleaded that he received the sacrifices, and was equally exposed.

At length the thief exclaimed; "I know not why we all four should not be hanged, since no one of us is honest."

The king was so pleased with the ingenuity of the thief, that he granted him a pardon.

It is related of worthy divine, that he preached politics to his congregation for such a length of time that even the oldest church members forgot all about the gospel and fell into a profound ignorance with regard to creeds, forms of worship, and church regulations. After the clergyman's death, the elders of his flock went to consult a celebrated divine about obtaining a successor.

"What is your creed?" asked the divine.

"Our creed?"

"Yes, your principles; what are they?"

"Oh, we are all Democrats but two."

"I mean what is your platform; your church?"

"Oh!" exclaimed one, "that is principally oak."

Unmarried young ladies, read this, and never let slip a fair opportunity to get doubled. Swe-denborg says, that "though the virgins he saw in heaven were beautiful, the wives were incomparably more beautiful, and went on increasing in beauty evermore."

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

THE PICTORIAL BROTHER JONATHAN.

FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

This great Holiday paper has just been issued, and we must acknowledge that we are delighted with the appearance. It certainly presents the grandest display of large and beautiful engravings we ever saw collected together. The country girl in New York is a picture of enormous size occupying and going across two entire pages of the paper. The spirited group of portraits, surrounding President Taylor's Death Bed, and the grand tableau of "The Sewing Girls Dream of Love and Pleasure," go to make up the remaining outer pages. These are the principal features, while the inner pages are full of choice Holiday reading, illustrated in the most ample and costly manner. We are informed that over one hundred thousand copies of the Holiday Brother Jonathan are usually sold; and this extensive sale accounts for its astonishing cheapness, viz.—12 cents per copy, or ten for one dollar. Wilson & Co., New York, are the publishers.

NORFOLK DISTRICT MEDICAL SOCIETY.—This Association consisting of all the members of the Massachusetts Medical Society Residing in the County of Norfolk, was duly organized at Dedham, on Tuesday, the 23rd instant. The following gentlemen were chosen its Officers.

President—Dr. Stimson, of Dedham.
Vice President—Dr. Howe, of Weymouth.
Secretary—Dr. Jarvis, of Dorchester.
Treasurer—Dr. Woodward, of Quincy.
Librarian—Dr. Dickerman, of Medford.
Committee of—Dr. Mann, of Foxboro.
Supervision—Dr. Stone, of Wrentham.
 Dr. Jarvis, of Dorchester, was chosen to deliver an Address before the Society at its meeting on the second Wednesday in May next.

THE FIRST POSITIVE SLAVE LAW.—The Fugitive Slave Bill of 1793, on which that of the present year is founded, passed the Senate unanimously. In the House of Representatives, the vote on the passage was, yeas, forty-eight, nays, 7. Twenty six Northerners voted yeas, five nays; twenty two Southerners voted yeas, and two nays. Among the yeas, were the names of Fisher Ames, Elbridge Gerry and George Leonard, of Mass. George Thatcher, of Mass., voted nay. President Washington approved the bill.

NORFOLK COUNTY SENATORIAL VOTE.—On the Whig ticket, Wilder had 4457—Richards 4515—Garey 4525. On the coalition ticket, Keyes had 4752—Warner 4986—Morrison 4944. The latter are elected.

CAUSES OF FAILURE IN BUSINESS.—A writer in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine enumerates the following causes of failure among business men. The leading one is an ambition to be rich by grasping too much it defeats itself. Another cause is aversion to labor. The third cause is an impatient desire to enjoy the luxuries of life before the right to them has been acquired in any way. Another cause is want of some deeper principle for distinguishing between right and wrong, than reference merely to to what is established as honorable in the society in which one happens to live.

PRESIDENT FILLMORE AND THE SLAVE LAW.—A letter has been written to the owner of the fugitive slave, William Crafts, whose arrest has been attempted in Boston, by the President of the United States in reply to one which he had received. President Fillmore says he has no thought of waverling from his duty in this or any other case, but will to the utmost of his ability, firmly and faithfully perform it. If the proper officers, who are appointed to execute the laws, be found incompetent, he will remove them, and when in extreme cases the laws of the United States be opposed by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by ordinary judicial proceedings, it would be his duty to call forth the military and use the army and the navy. But so far, he has seen no occasion for such forcible resistance.

HEAVY RAILROAD DAMAGE.—This case for assault and battery, was tried before the Supreme Court of Rhode Island, and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $10,000. The action was brought for an assault upon the plaintiff while a passenger in the Stonington train by the defendants, who were officers in the cars. Not liking the plaintiff's complaints of the smoky appearance of the cars, they threw him out injuring him severely.

APPOINTMENT.—Atticus Newell, of Brookline, has been appointed a Trial Justice for Norfolk County.

SUPPOSED INCENDIARY.—Nathaniel Curtis, a carpenter, who was arrested several days ago, supposed to have set fire to a barn in Randolph, has had an examination before Aaron Prescott, Esq., and was bound over in the sum of eight hundred dollars for trial at the next term of the Court of Dedham, for want of which he was committed.

JUDGE APPOINTED.—It is announced, that Judge George T. Bigelow of the Court of Common Pleas, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Supreme Court of this State, occasioned by the resignation of Associate Justice Wilde, who was the oldest Judge on the bench, as also in years, being over eighty years old. A better selection than Judge Bigelow could not have been made.

LOSS OF U. S. SHIP YORKTOWN.—This sloop of war was lost on the north side of St. Jago, Cape Verde Islands, on the 25th of September. No particulars are given except that the crew were saved

To supply London daily with milk, 60,000 cows are required, yielding 100,000 gallons.

Two men at Alton, (N. H.), at a husking, undertook to amuse the company by seeing which could eat the most of a great variety of food, including dried apples. One of them died the next day and the other the following day.

More than sixty expeditions have been despatched from England to explore the Arctic regions, from the time of John Cabot and sons, in 1497, to that of Sir John Franklin in 1846.

The next United States Senate will stand about 42 democrats to 20 whigs. There will be a majority in the House against the administration of forty or fifty.

The British Government have appointed a gentleman of color to the Consulate of Liberia. He is represented to be a highly accomplished man.

David Paul Brown, Esq., of Philadelphia, an ardent anti-slavery man, has written a letter on the Fugitive Slave Law, which he thinks is better than the one of 1793, and counsels no resistance to it.

Theodore Parker compares some men who grow suddenly rich, to cabbage growing in a violet bed; they smother the violets, but are, after all, nothing but cabbage heads.

A boy, aged sixteen, was lately tried at the Old Bailey, London, and sentenced to seven years transportation. When only six years of age, he was a most expert pick-pocket, and his mother had been in the habit of lending him out to a gang of thieves at half-a-guinea per day!

It is reported, that a preacher of the Orthodox faith, in a neighboring town, whose name is "a tower of strength" in the Church, recently prayed that his people might be strengthened to resist those laws of man, which conflict with "the higher law."

It is stated that an illuminated dial is to be placed on the old South Church in Boston.

It is finally settled that Hunt, whig, is elected Governor of New York, by a majority, according to official returns, of two hundred and sixty-eight. The rest of the state officers chosen are democrats.

The Lieut. Gov. Church, (democrat) is elected by about seven thousand majority! The Representatives to the next Congress, are seventeen whigs, and seventeen democrats. In the present Congress, whigs thirty-two, democrats 2.

In Paris there is a large house in the city fitted up for the reception of cats, dogs, birds, &c., when attacked by disease, and where they are nursed and physicked according to rule. They have a class of practitioners who confine themselves exclusively to the cure of these animals, and fortunes are made in the way of business by members of the profession.

Ensign H. Kellogg, Esq., Speaker of the last House of Representatives, has been re-elected from Pittsfield. Hon. M. P. Wilder, the popular President of the last Senate, has been defeated.

The last engagement of Jenny Lind, at Trippler's Hall, New York, has, like the former, proved a successful one. The "fair songstress" is about to pay our southern and western neighbors a visit.—She has our best wishes.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.
 Hon. Edward L. Keyes of Dedham, will deliver the seventh Lecture before the Lyceum, on the 1st of December, at 7 o'clock, commencing at half past seven o'clock. Question for discussion—Is the Fugitive Slave Bill recently passed by Congress constitutional—if so, ought it to be repealed.
 H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

NOTICE.—A Meeting of the "Union Board" of officers of the Washington and Quincy TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETIES will be held at the house of George Fullin, on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, Dec. 4, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

A full attendance is desirable, as business of importance will come before the Meeting.

JAMES M. WADE, Secretary.

EXHIBITION OF THE INDUSTRY OF ALL NATIONS.

The Committee appointed by his Excellency the Governor of this Commonwealth for the Industrial Exhibition to take place in London, in May, 1851, having just received instructions from the Central Authority at Washington, would invite the attention of their fellow citizens to this great exposition of Arts, Industry and Genius.

In conformity with the request of the "Central Authorities," at Washington, the undersigned would respectfully solicit contributions from the Agriculturist, the Manufacturer, the Mechanic, and from all the industrial classes in every department of human labor throughout the Commonwealth; so that the citizens of Massachusetts, known for their inventive genius and productive skill may be fully and honorably represented at this assemblage of the industry of the world.

As the time is limited to Dec. 10th, beyond which no applications can be received all persons intending to be contributors, are requested to give immediate information of such intention. The products of the farm, the garden and the dairy, the forest and the mine, the factory and the workshop, the laboratory and the studio, will be here represented; and not only articles possessing the merit of novelty, rarity and high excellence, but also those of more humble pretensions, which are calculated to promote the well being of mankind, and are as often met with in Massachusetts, will be contributed to this great Industrial Exhibition.

The Committee are happy to state that the United States Government have concluded to commission a frigate or steamship to convey to London such productions of our country as are destined for the Industrial Exhibition, and if desired, to return them in the same vessel. A portion of the Marine in the Revenue Service will also be employed to take the articles from the various points along the Atlantic coast to the port of embarkation for England, all free of charge; and that, by an order of the British Government, no duty will be laid on any production, unless sold in that market.

The Massachusetts Committee is divided as below, into Sub Committees for the examination of articles in the various departments to be submitted to them for approval, and will attend to that duty with all possible despatch:

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

No 1—Henry N. Hooper, Erasmus B. Bigelow, Boston

No 2—John Aiken, Andover.

No 3—William A. Burke, Lowell.

No 4—Edward Riddle, Charlestown.
 No 5—Alexander De Witt, Oxford.
 No 6—Charles Stearns, Springfield.
 No 7—David Carson, Dalton.
 No 8—Marshall P. Wilder.
 No 9 and 10—Samuel L. Crocker, Taunton.
 The time for the departure of our German non-resident is not yet fixed, but as no article can be admitted to the Exhibition after the first of March, it will be necessary that all productions should be forwarded, from this port as early as the 10th January.

A circular detailing all necessary information, will be sent to all post-paid applications.
 Communications may be addressed to the Secretary, at Boston, or to the members of the Committee in the several districts in which the contributors reside.
 Per order the Executive Committee,
 MARSHALL P. WILDER, Chairman,
 HENRY N. HOOPER, Secretary.

MARRIED.

In this village, on the 28th inst., by the Rev. W. W. Dean, Mr. Nathan C. Hunt of Hingham, to Miss Rebecca W. Ford of this place.

On this joyous occasion, we were liberally remembered by our friends, who have our wishes that the fond time which made them as one through the journey of life, may in succeeding years realize their most ardent anticipations, and continue after
 'Life's fitful dream is o'er.'

Also, on the evening of the same day, Mr. David Griner to Miss Sarah Ann Reed, both of Boston.
 In Milton, on the morning of the 15th inst. by Rev. S. S. Kimball, Mr. Daniel G. Corlies of this town, to Miss Maria L. Whittier, of Milton.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. November 26 1850.
 TAKEN ON execution, and will be Sold at Public Auction on the premises, on MONDAY, December 30th, 1850, at 4 o'clock P. M., all the right in Equity which CHARLES DUNMORE, late of Dorchester, in said county, Gentleman, deceased, had, and the same which his Heirs and Administrators, now have, to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:

A certain piece of land lying at the Lower Mills, Village, in said Dorchester, containing one fourth of an acre more or less, with a dwelling house and stable thereon standing, bounded northerly by the Old Tavern Estate, of the late Benj. Bass Leeds, deceased, easterly by Washington street, (so called) southerly by land late of said Leeds and westerly or northerly by a passageway leading from Baker's Chocolate Mill to H. Crane's Blacksmiths shop, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.
 GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff.
 Quincy, Nov. 30. 3w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribers has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of ZACHARIAH KINGMAN, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to KINGMAN TERRELL, Executor
 Weymouth, Nov. 30, 1850. 3w

Administrator's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Good and Estate of DAVID LITTLEFIELD, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to FREEMAN LITTLEFIELD Administrator.

 South Weymouth, Nov. 30. 3w

Wood at Auction.
WILL be sold at public auction, on THURSDAY next, Dec. 5th, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, all the Wood standing on the Babal Pasture, belonging to the Adams School Fund. The Wood is near the Town Road, very easy of access, and about one-fourth of a mile from William Task's house. Those who wish to purchase their fuel cheap will do well to attend the sale.

By order of the Supervisors.
 L. G. HORTON, Aucr.
 Quincy, Nov. 30. 1w

Potatoes.
500 BUSHELS of Irish Red Potatoes of extra quality and free from rot. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
 Quincy, Nov. 30. 4w

Executor's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of HEZEKIAH BASS, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Cordwainer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to LEMUEL BRACKETT, Executor.

 Quincy, Nov. 30 1850. 3w

Musical Notice.
 MR. NEWELL will open a School for the study and practice of Vocal Music, at the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Dec. 4th, at seven o'clock.

Mr. B. F. Baker will be present on that evening, and it is proposed to have a Social Song. The Singers are generally invited to be present and take part in the exercises of the occasion.
 Mr. Newell will give his attention to the rudimental exercises in his course of instruction; also, devote a portion of time during each lesson to the more approved style of performing Church Music. If desirable, occasional Lectures will be given by a competent teacher on the use and correct manner of performing upon various instruments.
 Gentlemen, $1.50—Ladies, $1.00.
 Quincy, Nov. 30. 1w

Magazines

FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's Petersons, Godey's Lady's Book, &c. for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.
 Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851. 3w

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.
MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for Baking, viz:—
 Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.
 Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.
 Quincy, Nov. 16. 1f

QUINCY HALL Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN
 Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER
 CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS and comes very cheap.
 Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Suits. Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!
 of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tarty Promenades or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.
 SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market. Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.
 A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING
 of a superior quality, to suit all in want.
 Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.
 Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS.
 Quincy, Nov. 9th. 1f

Dr. C. S. Mann,
 MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,
 HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,
 Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.
 Nov. 2. 6w

CASH
 PAID FOR
 OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
 PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
 Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
 CORDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.
 —BY—
 A. B. PACKARD.

To Let.
 HALF of a house in front of Mr. A. French's.
 Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.
 Quincy, Nov. 16. 3w

Flannels.
WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.
 Quincy, Sept. 21

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
Notice of Insolvency.
NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Nov. 11th, 1850.

The third meeting of the creditors of HARVEY FRENCH of Quincy in said County, Insolvent debtor, will be held at the office of Francis Hilliard, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the 22d day of November, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All those interested in said meeting, are requested to be present.
 GEORGE H. FRENCH, Assignee.
 Nov. 16. 1w

House For Sale.
 A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.
 Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

Black Writing Ink.
AT the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers.
 Nov. 16. 3w

For Sale, or To Let.
 A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.
 Quincy, Nov. 9th. 1f

Administrator's Sale.
PURSUANT to a license from the Hon. Probate Court, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 25th, 1850, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a dwelling house, with about 1-4 of an acre of Land, situated on Cemetery Street in Quincy, and being late the property of General Jackson Ogde, deceased.
 Conditions made known at the time and place of Sale.
 Wm. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.
 Quincy, Nov. 9, 1850. 3w

Estate of Simeon Williams
NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JOHNATHAN FRENCH,
 DAVID N. HOLLIS.
 Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n125w

BOSTON MUSEUM, Tremont Street, Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.
THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS, to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, swelling the already immense collection to upwards of HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; but an estimate of the NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY, One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, by the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFE LIKE as to lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER
 with his Twelve Disciples; representing the conversation and denials of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that One of them should betray him.

THE PRODIGAL SON,
 returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,
 composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the most received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;
 a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE.
 In which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMSE TWINS,
 and their beautiful American wives.
 Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES
 of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Sea. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY.
 As exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slaveowner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS MCCREA.
 by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTemperance.
 and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a Wife Murdered by her Husband.

 Also, groups of a School—a Miller's Shop—a Shoemaker's Shop—a Barber's Shop—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size, rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,
 all of the most perfect and beautiful, including the most valuable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,
 OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Bible Scenes and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,
 and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire Family of Peruvian Mummies;

 the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,
 which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creature were entirely removed;

Elephants and Oorang-Outangs;
 ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,
 all in life-like preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
 In Addition to which, and WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE, visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,
 GREEN RIVERS EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, permitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements, the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America; thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and generous, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement
 IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

25 Cents to the Whole!
 1850, Sept. 11. eopt

Judd's Medicated Liquid

FOR closing wounds without sewing, smooth coating over them, improving water, much superior in its healing properties to any plaster, and so elastic as not to irritate a point; an excellent remedy in Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. J. Judd.
 Quincy, August 31.

Flour Barrels.

A prime lot—for sale
 by H. A. RANSOM
 Quincy, Sept. 14.

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Street, the other half on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike a mile south of the Episcopal Church.
 DANIEL
 Quincy, Sept. 28

JEFFREY R. BRACK

COMMISSION MERCHANT

NO. 40 STATE STREET
 (Up Stairs.)
 BOSTON.
 Boston, Sept. 21- 3m

Brooks' Railroad Express

THE subscriber returns thanks to the Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage, and respectfully announces the return of the express to convey passengers to and from stations to Quincy Point and Braintree 42 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Needham & Adams street, Quincy Point, or at Mr. Milliners Store, Quincy Centre, opposite, will be promptly attended to.

ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels despatch.

POETRY.

RAIN ON THE ROOF.

When the humid showers gather
Over all the starry sphere,
And the melancholy darkness
Gently weeps in rainy tears;
'Tis a joy to press the pillow
Of a cottage chamber-bed,
And to listen to the patter
Of the soft rain overhead.

Every tinkle on the shingles
Has an echo in the heart,
And a thousand dreary fancies
Into busy being start;
And a thousand recollections Weave their bright hues into woe,
And I listen to the patter
Of the soft rain on the roof.

There in fancy comes my mother,
As she used to, years ago,
To sursey the infant leechers
Ere she left them to the law.
I can see her bending o'er me,
As I listened to the strain
Which is played upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain.

Then my little seraph sister,
With her wings and waving hair,
And her bright-eyed cherub brother,
A serene angelic pair;
Glide around my wakeful pillow
With their praise or mild reproach,
As I listen to the murmur
Of the soft rain on the roof.

And another comes to thrill me
With her eyes delicious blue,
I forget as gazing on her,
That her heart was all untrue;
I remember that I loved her
As I may ne'er love again,
And my heart's quick pulses vibrate
To the patter of the rain.

There is naught in art's bravuras
That can work with such a spell,
In the spirit's pure, deep fountains,
Whence the holy passions swell.
As that melody of nature—
That subdued subduing strain,
Which is played upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain.

WORK.

Attend, oh man,
Uplift the banner of thy kind
Advance the ministry of mind;
The mountain height is free to climb,
Toil on—Man's heritage is Time!
Toil on!

Work on, and win!
Life without work is unenjoyed;
The happiest are the best employed—
Work moves and builds the mightiest birth,
And grasps the destinies of the earth!
Work on!

Work, sow the seed;
Even the rock may yield its flower,
No lot so hard, but human power,
Exerted to one end and aim,
May conquer fate and capture fame!
Press on!

Press onward still!
In nature's centre lives the fire
That slow, though sure, doth yet aspire;
Through fathoms deep of mould and clay,
It splits the rocks that bar its way!
Press on!

If nature, then,
Lay tame beneath her weight of earth,
When would her hidden fire know birth?
Thus Man, through granite fate must find
The path—the upward path—of Mind!
Work on!

Pause not in fear;
Preach no desponding, servile view,
What'er thou wilt at thy Will may do;
Strengthen each manly nerve to bend
Truth's bow, and bid its shaft ascend!
Toil on!

Be firm of heart;
By fusion of unnumbered years
A Continent its vastness rears!
A drop 'tis said, through flint will wear;
Toil on, and nature's conquest share!
Toil on!

Within thyself
Bright morn, and noon, and night succeed;
Power, feeling, passion, thought and deed;
Harmonious beauty prompts thy breast,
Thine angelic love and God hath blest,
Work on!

Work on, and win!
Shall light from nature's depths arise,
And thou whose mind can grasp the skies,
Sit down with fate, and idly rail!
No—onward! Let the Truth prevail!
Work on!

ANECDOTES.

An Irish peasant was carried before a magistrate on the charge of having stolen a sheep, the property of Sir Garrett Fitz Maurice.
The Justice asked him if he could read. To which he answered, "a little."
"You could not be ignorant then," said Mr. Quorum, "that the sheep belonged to Sir Garrett, as his brand, G. F. M. was on them."
"True," replied the prisoner, "but I really thought the letters stood for Good Fat Muttons."

A lady asked her physician whether snuff was injurious to the brain? "No," said he, "for nobody who has any brains takes snuff."

Mrs. E. Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care.

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do.; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; House Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Distilling Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH. She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodeled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

HATS AND CAPS,

—ALSO—

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use.
Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood Lime and Sand.
NOW landed, and for sale on Southern's Wharf by the subscribers.
Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER,
JOHN L. SOUTHER.
Quincy, June 29.

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS,
Mantles and Scarfs.
in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls, will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State fabrics bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.
Orders solicited from all sections of the country, and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2 Milk Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, August 24.

Preparation of the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorion Gustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Hauite vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

WILL be sold by order of the Probate Court, on MONDAY, the ninth day of December next, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, so much of the Estate of Charlotte G. Coleman, late of Braintree, deceased, as will produce the sum of Five Hundred and Thirty Seven Dollars and Seventeen Cents—for the payment of her just Debts, Legacies and charges of Administration, with incidental expenses.

Said Estate consists of about 3 Acres of LAND, with a DWELLING HOUSE and other Buildings thereon.
Also—About five acres of PASTURE LAND, all situated in Braintree, near the head of Navigation, on Moniquot River, and the East Braintree Depot, on the South Shore Rail Road; and formerly the residence of William Coleman, late of said Braintree, deceased.

The said DWELLING HOUSE is partly new and can be occupied by two Families—and the whole Estate is very valuable, from its location being in the vicinity of an excellent SCHOOL, the MEETING HOUSE, and the Rail Road Depot. Also—Two PEWS in the Episcopal Church in Quincy.
The Conditions of the Sale will be twenty per cent. of the purchase money to be paid at the Sale, and the remainder in thirty days, at the delivery of the deed.
NOAH FIFIELD, Executor.
Weymouth, Nov. 18, 1850.

Wood at Auction.

Will be sold by public auction, in lots to suit purchasers, on FRIDAY next, November 29th, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, a large quantity of excellent wood, of very large growth, (principally oak) standing on land of heirs of Captain Josiah Bass, about one-half mile west of Ebenezer Harmon's—adjoining land of the heirs of Des. Jedidiah Adams.
Inquire of JOSIAH or LEWIS BASS.
L. G. NORTON, Auctioneer.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and DURABILITY, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.
Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.
A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory
of the Agent in this town.
E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,
JUST RECEIVED AT THE
TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING
Store, Quincy.
RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.
Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.
HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of very article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—
Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE
Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,
Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE STORE in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain fire ten or twelve hours—of very handsome appearance, and are sold at lower prices than any other stoves of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in Parlor Stoves ever made. It consists of a large air-heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 10th, 1850.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Redfern, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens; Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.
Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No 1 Washington Street.

N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. W. M. B. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

D. R. ADAMS.
Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location, and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draft, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATIS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, March 9th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver
WATCHES,
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.
THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST RATE article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 16th.

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FLOCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 20.

Crocery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

PUBLISHED EVERY

NUMBER 49.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS
AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO AB-DON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM,"
TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE

OF THEIR STOCK.
HAVING

Pledged themselves to the Public that their "One Price" should be as LOW as the same goods could be had under any circumstances, they now CHER-ISHLY SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM
TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX
—AND—
MARK DOWN

OUR STOCK
TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDER-ESTIMATED.

FOR PARTULARS SEE CIRCULAR
NO. 22.

Brown's
ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850.

Agriculturist's Guide
AND Almanac for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850.

Crockery and Glass Ware
JUST added to our previous assortment, choice patterns of Tea and Dining Setts, Wash-
and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 1.

Head in Quincy
A Gentleman and his wife, or two single men, can have pleasant rooms and house of Messrs. J. B. & M. Townsend, depositee Hall, nearly opposite the depot.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

Judd's Medicated Liquid
FOR closing wounds without sewing; smooth coating over them, improving water, much superior to its healing properties, and so elastic as not to imposition of a joint; an excellent remedy also Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 bottle. Sold by Mrs. E. H. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31.

Flour Barrels.
A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 14.

To Let.
ONE half of a good House
Capt. Stevenson. Also a good Barn, with three acres of Land on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike,
a mile south of the Episcopal Church.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 25.

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT
COMMISSION MERCHANT
NO. 40 STATE STREET
(Up Stairs)
BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 21.
Velvet Trimmings.
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Wash-
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Bay State Long Shawl
AN Assortment just received of the different Styles and Qualities, which will be Street prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Wash-
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Quincy Washing Mix
THIS article has been tested by upward of a hundred families, and all equal to anything of the kind which used; therefore, the subscriber will manage it at 25 cents per gallon, or 3 cent
full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the market will not be so firm, as clothes will wash longer and be whiter; consequently will new be bought.
ELISHA PA
Quincy, August 3.

Cholera, Dysentery,
MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale a cure for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Among which are Whitehead's Vegetarian Balm, a celebrated East India Balm, Summer Cordial, Arnold's Baden's Dysentery Cordial, Jayne's Cam-erame; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other
the same diseases
Quincy, July 20.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's. STORE.....IN HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 49.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS,
AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON
THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR
TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING
Pledged themselves to the Public,
That their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY
SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX.

MARKDOWN

OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL

THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.
No. 22. 6w

Brown's
ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account
Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1850.

Agriculturist's Guide
AND Almanac for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy Nov. 25, 1850. 3w

Crockery and Glass Ware.
JUST added to our previous assortment, new and
choice patterns of Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls,
and Ewers.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy Sept. 1.

Board in Quincy
A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 2m

Judd's Medicated Liquid Ointment.
FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a
smooth coating over them, impervious to air and
water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the movement of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.
Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31. 1f

Flour Barrels.
A prime lot—for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. 1f

To Let.
ONE half of a good House on Liberty
Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated
on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 25. 1f

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.
NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 21. 3m

Velvet Trimmings.
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trim-
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

Bay State Long Shawls.
AN Assortment just received of the different sizes
Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the Street prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington corner, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

Quincy Washing Mixture.
THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and
sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart.
Full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by it will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 3. 1f

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.
MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup,
Java Balsam, (a celebrated East India remedy),
Billings's Summer Cordial, Arnold's Balsam, Hol-
den's Dysentery Cordial, Jay's Carmine Balsam, Ann-Cholera Drops, Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for
the same diseases
Quincy, July 20. 1f

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOL-LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped
previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place where he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted
at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and
charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements of the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, entirely by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.
Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.
Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive advertisements and requested to procure subscriptions:
JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELLY, Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT, New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE MOTHER'S DREAM OF HEAVEN

Three beautiful children made glad the home of a happy mother. Her love for them was intense, and her heart never failing. They were in her thoughts all the day long and in her dreams by night. The youngest of these children was a boy. He had large, deep blue eyes, and his long lashes, when he slept, lay upon his cheeks like the lashes of a woman. Something in his face ever awakened in the minds of those who gazed upon him, thoughts of heaven, and many said of him that he was but a stranger here and would soon return to his own. And such thoughts came sometimes to the happy mother, and then her heart trembled and grew faint.

At last, what had been feared, befel the child.
The Angel of Death came and removed him from his earthly abode to his heavenly dwelling place, and the stricken mother bowed her head and would not listen to the voice of consolation.

"God is good," were the words of one who sought to comfort her, "and he afflicts us in loving kindness."

"I will not believe it," replied the weeping mother. "It is not good to take from me my precious boy."

"He is with the angels—think of that. The great problem of his life is solved, and it is well with him. There is neither doubt, nor fear nor anxiety on his account, for he is safe in the everlasting habitations of our Father in Heaven."

The mother listened, and the consoler went on.

"No more grief, no more sorrow, no more pain! Think of that. Let not your thoughts droop with feeble wings about the dark and gloomy grave. He is not there. But let them rise on swift and many pinions to the beautiful dwelling place of the angels. His decaying body alone fills the grave; but his pure spirit that gave life and beauty to its earthly tenement, has gone to his better home. Would you have him back again? Had you the power, with a word, to call him to earth, would you speak that word, now that he has escaped the long trial and suffering that comes to all who have to make the journey of life? No, I am sure you would not."

The tears of the mother ceased to flow, and she bent near to him who spoke and listened more intently. He went on.

"All children who die, are raised up in heaven and received by angels, who love them with the utmost tenderness. Your dear boy though he has been taken from an earthly mother, has already found a heavenly one. And you have not really lost him, for he is present in your thoughts, and you love him with even a deeper affection than before. To part with him is hard, for our natural feelings cling to those we love, and their removal brings excruciating pain. But our natural feelings have in them the taint of selfishness, and it is needful that they should be elevated and purified; or rather, that they should die, in order that spiritual affections may be born. And what are spiritual affections? The love of things good and true for their sake. And such affections are not born unless natural affections are laid in the grave. The death of such affections are always accompanied with pain; but the birth of corresponding spiritual affections will be with joy. The deep sorrow you now feel is a natural sorrow. Your heart is aching for its loss; and, even while reason and religion tell you that this removal from earth to heaven is one of infinite blessedness to your boy, you mourn his loss and will not be comforted. But, it is for you to look up and feel an exquisite joy in the thought that you have added one to the company of God's angels. It may not be now;

it cannot be now, for the smiting of your natural affections is too recent, and the waters of afflictions must flow for a time. And it is good that they should flow forth, in order that spiritual consolation may flow into your heart from heaven. But, this influx of healing waters must depend on yourself. You must be willing to look up and to seek comfort from the only source whence it springs. You must be spiritually glad that your child has gone to heaven—that is glad for his sake, and for those who are made happier in heaven for his sake, and for those who are made happier in heaven
by his presence. There is such a gladness—but it thrills in the region of the mind far above the place where natural affections move—and it is full of that interior delight which fills the hearts of angels."

In the night following as she lay slumbering on her pillow which was wet with tears, a sweet dream, that was not all a dream, came to her.
She saw before her a company of angels, surrounded by infants and little children—the latter dressed in white garments with flowers blushing amid their clustering curls. They were in a garden, and the children were sporting with one another; and, ever as they drew near or touched the flowers that were springing around them, each blossom glowed with a new and living beauty. Eagerly the mother looked for her precious boy, for she knew that he was in this company—and as she looked intently, one of the angels who held a child by the hand, separated herself from the rest, and approached her. She knew her sweet one in an instant; and oh! inexpressible delight! she knew the angel also. It was her own mother!
Her mother who had been taken to heaven when she was only a child, but whose gentle loving face had ever remained pictured on her memory.

Oh! the exquisite joy of that moment. Her own mother was now the angel-mother of her beautiful boy. How sweet the smile that beamed upon her from eyes seen only in dreams for years! And, as her lost darling sprang into her arms and laid his head upon her bosom, a voice of exquisite melody whose tones had come from afar off, many and many a time, since childhood, said—

"Daughter, be comforted! He was too pure, too gentle, too frail for earth. Life would have been a scene of pain and suffering; he would have been severely tried and tempted of evil, and, perchance, might have fallen by the way. Therefore, in mercy he was removed to this heavenly land, where there is no evil to tempt, no pain to afflict, no grief to bow the stricken heart. Sorrow not for him, for all is well. He has been committed to my care, and I will love him with a tenderness made deeper for the love that is felt for you. A little while longer, and you will be called home. I will keep your darling safe for you until that time."

An angel's kiss then warmed the mother's cheek, and she awoke. Heavenly light and heavenly music were in her chamber. Slowly the light faded, and the music grew fainter and more distant; not outwardly but inwardly distinct; and, as she hearkened after it, bending her spirit towards heaven, she still heard the sounds; and, even yet she can hear them when earthly grief is hushed and her mind is elevated into heavenly tranquility.

From that time, joy mingled with the mother's sorrow. She believed the dream. To her it was no fantasy, but a vision of things that were. She had a treasure above, and her heart was there also. Love's golden chain had extended its links and the last one was fastened in heaven. Daily, hourly, momentarily, she missed the one that was away, and longed again to hear the sound of his happy voice, and to look upon his beautiful face; but she knew where he was, and that it was well with him;
and she dried her tears and patiently bore her affliction.—Golden Grains from Life's Harvest Field, by T. S. Arthur.

BREAD PUDDING vs. PLUM PUDDING.

The editor of the Evansville Journal writes as follows on being presented with a piece of bride's cake:

With the wedding notice in another column we received from the fair hand of the bride a piece of elegant wedding-cake to dream on.— Well, we put it under the head of our pillow, shut our eyes sweetly as an infant, and blessed with an easy conscience, soon snored prodigious. The god of dreams gently touched us, and lo! in fancy we were married! Never was a little editor more happy. It was "my love, dearest, sweetest," ringing in our ears every moment. Oh! that the dream had broken off here. But no, some evil genius put it into the head of our ducky to have pudding for dinner, just to please her lord. In a hungry dream we sat down to dinner. Well, the pudding moment arrived, and a huge piece almost obscured from sight the plate before us.
"My dear," said we fondly, "did you make this?"

"Yes, love—ain't it nice?"

"Glorious—the best bread pudding I ever tasted in my life."

"Plum pudding, ducky," suggested my wife.

"O, no, dearest, bread pudding, I always was fond of 'em."

"Call that bread pudding!" exclaimed my wife, while her pretty lips curled slightly with contempt.

"Certainly, my dear—reckon I've had to eat enough at the Sherwood House to know.
Bread pudding, my love, by all means."

"Husband, this is really too bad. Plum pudding is twice as hard to make as bread pudding, and is more expensive, and a great deal better. I say this is plum pudding, sir, and my pretty wife's brow flushed with excitement.

"My love, my sweet, my dear love," exclaimed we, soothingly, "do not get angry.
I'm sure it's very good, if it is bread pudding."

"But, sir, I say it ain't bread pudding."

"And, madam, I say it is bread pudding."

"You mean, low wretch, fondly replied my wife, in a high tone, 'you know it is plum pudding.'"

"Then, ma'am, it is so meanly put together, and so badly burned, the devil himself would not know it. I tell you, madam, most distinctly and emphatically, and I will not be contradicted, that it is bread pudding, and the meanest kind at that."

"It is plum pudding!" shrieked my wife, as she hurled a glass of claret in my face, the glaze itself 'clapping the claret' from my nose.

"Bread pudding!" gasped we, pluck to the last, and grasping a roasted chicken by the left leg.

"Plum pudding!" I rose above the din, as I had a distinctive perception of feeling two plates smash across my head.

"Bread pudding!" we groaned in rage, as the chicken left our hand, and flying with swift wing across the table, landed in madam's bosom.

"Plum pudding!" resounded the war cry from the enemy, as the gravy dish took us where we had been depositing the first part of our dinner, and a plate of beets landed upon a white vest.

"Bread pudding, for ever!" shouted we in defiance, dodging the soup tureen, and falling beneath its contents.

"Plum pudding!" yelled the amiable spouse, as, noticing our misfortune, she determined to keep us down by piling upon our heads the dishes with no gentle hand.

Then in rapid succession followed the war cries. "Plum pudding!" shrieked she with every dish.

"Bread pudding!" in smothered tones, came up from the pile in reply. Then it was "plum pudding!" in rapid succession, the last cry growing feeble, till just as I can distinctly recollect, it had grown to a whisper.

"Plum pudding!" resounded like thunder, followed by a tremendous crash, as my wife leaped upon the pile with her delicate feet, and commenced jumping up and down—when, thank Heaven, we awoke, and thus saved our life.

We shall never dream on wedding cake again—that's the moral.

SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY MORNING

What a relief to the hardy sons of toil and poverty is the closing of Saturday night and the breaking forth of the Sunday's light. The joys of such a season cannot be appreciated by the dapper children of wealth and idleness.
To them the weary days succeed each other in continuous monotony, their only solace being how the heavy-winged flight of time shall be accelerated. But, to the children of labor, Saturday night and the succeeding Sabbath, bring unspeakable delights. The week's labors are ended—the week's earnings have been received, and round the humble fireside the cheerful little family group are assembled to relate in turn the adventures of the week.—
to partake of the healthful meal, and to confide to each other their plans for the future. The painful memory of past toils gives place to sweet visions of future hope—the lively anecdote, the smart repartee, and the exhilarating song are resorted to in succession to enliven the evening, and perchance the promises and the soothings of Christianity are not forgotten.
And what a day is the Sabbath to them! The early morning air is breathed ere the glorious sun has shed his beams athwart the blue can-opy—a cheerful breakfast reinvigorating the physical frame, and the industrious parents, with a bevy of rosy children, dressed with neatness and simplicity, saunter forth to gaze upon the thronging streets, or to pass beyond them into the neighboring forests, to look upon the things which God has made. Anon, the slow deep toned bell announces the hour of prayer and supplication. Hastening to the house of God, the simple minded family listen in awe to the words of divine truth and join in songs of divine praise. In the evening, friends are visited and received—tokens of friendship or of kindly sympathy renew the warm attachment of social life, and the younger members of the family enter gleefully into innocent pastimes, or plight their faith to each other. Happy, indeed, are the children of honest labor. They need no stimulus, or pungent condiments to give them an appetite; nor the soothings of narcotics to bring sweet sleep to their eyes.
Their simple food tastes sweeter than the fancies of the confectioner, and happy dreams fill up the watches of the night. Would that the solid and sober pleasures of such an existence could be realised by us all. We should then have more of health and less of crime—more of harmony and less of care.—Madison Banner.

CURIOUS CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.

We find in Upham's Outline of Disordered Mental Action, a curious case of somnambulism, which was published in the newspapers at the time the case occurred. A farmer in one of the counties of Massachusetts, had employed himself for some weeks in winter threshing his grain. One night, as he was about closing his labors, he ascended a ladder to the top of the great beams in the barn, where the rye he was threshing was deposited,
to ascertain what number of bundles remained unthreshed, which he determined to finish the next day. The ensuing night, about two o'clock, he was heard, by one of his family, to arise and go out. He repaired to his barn, being sound asleep and unconscious of what he was doing, set open his barn doors, ascended the great beams of the barn where the rye was deposited, threw down a flooring and commenced threshing it. When he had completed it, he raked off the straw, and shoved the rye to one side of the floor, and again ascended the ladder with the straw, and deposited it on some rails that lay across the great beams. He then threw down another flooring of rye, which he threshed and finished as before. Thus he continued his labors, until he had threshed five floorings; and on returning from throwing down the sixth and last, in passing over part of the hay-mow, he fell off, where the hay had been cut down six feet, on the lower part of it, which awoke him. He at first imagined himself in a neighbor's barn; but after groping about in the dark, ascertained that he was in his own, and at length found the ladder, on which he descended to the floor, closed his barn doors, which he found open, and returned to his house. On coming to the light, he found himself in such a profuse perspiration that his clothes were literally wet through. The next morning on going to his barn, he found he had threshed during the night, five bushels of rye; had raked the straw off in good order, and deposited it on the great beams, &c.—carefully shoved the grain to one side of the floor, without the least consciousness of what he was doing until he fell from the hay.—Boston Mercantile Journal.

SELF EDUCATION.

Knowledge is its own exceeding great reward. It is not the gift of a College particularly. It is what the mind produces wherever it acts. Great schools are chiefly appliances for the lazy, to furnish substitutes for knowledge by which to make their way in the world.
A youth who has a noble thirst for science, is not so much benefited by a "liberal education" as he is apt to imagine that he will be, before trying it. If your parents are rich, and have nothing better to do with their money, let them board you at Cambridge or Yale for four years.
But if they are poor laboring people, stay with them and labor too. But don't the less strive for a liberal education. Be liberal in supplying yourself with books and time. Journey
on foot and study nature and men. Ask questions of every body and every thing. Thus doing you will probably acquire more satisfactory and useful knowledge, and what is more,
sounder character and finer health—you will be more of a man than if you distress your parents
by idleness and labor too. But don't the less strive for a liberal education. Be liberal in supplying yourself with books and time. Journey
on foot and study nature and men. Ask questions of every body and every thing. Thus doing you will probably acquire more satisfactory and useful knowledge, and what is more,
sounder character and finer health—you will be more of a man than if you distress your parents
by idleness and labor too. But don't the less strive for a liberal education. Be liberal in supplying yourself with books and time. Journey
on foot and study nature and men. Ask questions of every body and every thing. Thus doing you will probably acquire more satisfactory and useful knowledge, and what is more,
sounder character and finer health—you will be more of a man than if you distress your parents
by idleness and labor too.

A STATE OF HAPPINESS.

Nature and nature's God, smile propitiously upon a union that is sweetened by love and sanctified by the law. The sphere of our affections is enlarged, and our pleasures take a wider range. We become more important and respected among men, and existence itself is doubly enjoyed with our safer self. Misfortune loses half its anguish beneath the soothing influence of her smiles, and triumph becomes more triumphant when shared with her. Without her what is man? A roving and restless being, driven at pleasure by romantic speculation, and cheated into misery by futile hopes, the mad victim of untamed passions, and the disappointed pursuer of fruitless joys. But with her he awakens to a new life. He follows a path wider and nobler than the narrow road to self aggrandizement—that is scattered with more fragrant flowers and illuminated by a clearer light.

LIVING WITHIN THEIR MEANS.

Is it not remarkable that China, with a nationality of 4,000 years, and a population for 2,000 years, has never had cause to complain of the misery or distress of her people? Virtually she has no paupers—no poor. Her infirmity or unfortunate have been generally provided for by the state; while her masses have been,
and are, the happiest and most independent people on earth. The reason of this lies in the habits of industry and love of peace of the Chinese. They till the earth in every available spot; they drain marshes and earth over waste places; they turn all the riches of the earth to the most practical account; and living peacefully and simply they have comfort and plenty.
No people on earth live so completely within their own means. They have never sought the trade of any country; never have interfered with any other country; but minding their own business, have grown rich and wise, when more boasting nations were steeped in poverty and ignorance. Surely the nations and people of Europe, and the West, have yet to learn the true art of living and governing.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

We would again call attention to the musical notice of Mr. Newell to be found in another column. Mr. N. will commence his school, at the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening next, at 7 o'clock, P. M. for particulars we would refer to his small bills. We were happy to see Professor B. F. Baker and Mr. Southard at the Hall last Wednesday Evening; it was a fine musical treat, and we hope he will have a large school and receive that encouragement which we think his merits so justly entitle him to.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

There will be a Meeting for Discussion, in the Lyceum Room, next THURSDAY EVENING—commencing at 7 o'clock.

Question for discussion—Is the Fugitive Slave-Bill recently passed by Congress constitutional—if so, ought it to be repealed.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

The members of the New England Protective Union, Division No. 180, are hereby notified that their Annual Meeting for the choice of officers, will be held on SATURDAY EVENING—this Evening—at 7 o'clock, at the Franklin Hall.

A punctual attendance is respectfully requested.

Per order,

WILLIAM S. GLOVER, Secretary.

On TUESDAY EVENING next, 10th inst. an Anti-Slavery Address will be delivered at Weymouth Landing, at the invitation of the Weymouth Female Anti-Slavery Society, by George Thompson, M. P. of England.

The services will commence at half past six o'clock.

A Meeting of the Quincy Charitable Society will be held at the house of Mr. Jonathan Marsh, on WEDNESDAY, the eleventh instant, at seven o'clock in the Evening.

A general attendance is requested.

By order of the Directors,

SUSAN S. MARSH, Secretary.

New Year's Ball.

All citizens, who may feel disposed to make arrangements for a Ball, New Year's Night, are requested to meet at the Hancock House, MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 10th, at seven o'clock, to adopt preliminary measures.

MARRIED.

In this town, Nov. 27th, by Rev Dr. Lund, Mr. Martin W. Wood of South Boston, to Miss Frances, daughter of Henry Wood, Esq. of this place.

We were well remembered. A long life of health, peace and prosperity to our friends.

DIED.

In this town, on the 6th inst. Miss Emily F. Chamberlain, aged 18 years, &c. on the 27th inst. The friends of the deceased are invited to attend the funeral at the house of Mr. Johnson, on Granite street, at 10 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, or immediately after divine service.

Apples and Potatoes.
B. B. RUSSETT and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds.
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850.

SKATES.
40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850.

CROCKERY WARE.
A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE,
just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy.
Blue Stone China Tea Sets 1.75
Blue Stone " " 1.75
Faint Blue " " 1.25
White " " 1.37
—AND—
A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & LAMP GLASS.
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850.

Hats and Caps.
C. CASES, Fall styles, just received, and for sale at the price for cash, by Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Adams and Redfern,
Importers of WATCHES,
and Dealers in FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Plated
WARE,
No 1. Washington Street, Corner of Dock Square,
BOSTON.

Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.
D. K. ADAMS,
Boston, Dec 6

Messenger's Notice.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
Norfolk ss. Roxbury, Nov. 29th, 1850.
FRANCIS HILLARD, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of JARVIS VINING.

of Weymouth, in said County of Norfolk, Trader, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by Law.
A meeting of his creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Court Room, in Roxbury, in said County, on the Thirtieth day of December next, at eleven o'clock, forenoon, for the proof of Debts and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Dec 6 1w

Musical Notice.

MR. NEWELL will open a School for the study and practice of Vocal Music, at the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Dec. 4th, at seven o'clock.

Mr. B. F. Baker will be present on that evening, and it is proposed to have a Social Song. The Singers are generally invited to be present and take part in the exercises of the occasion.

Mr. Newell will give his attention to the rudimental exercises in his course of instruction; also, devote a portion of time during each lesson to the more improved style of performing Church Music. If desirable, occasional Lectures will be given by a competent teacher on the use and correct manner of performing upon various instruments.

Gentlemen, $1.50—Ladies, $1.00.
Quincy, Nov. 30. 1w

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends
and the public an ENLARGED
STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care
—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT
DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain,
ivory and silver, with and without valves; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India-
Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Legal's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on Kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Diastizing Paper and Tissue Dressing; European
Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving
the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. if

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making
the sales room twice as large as formerly,
where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS,
COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring
styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers use.
Quincy, April 13. if

Red Ash Coal—Wood, Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Southern's Wharf by
the subscribers.

Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.

JOHN L. GLOVER.

JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29. if

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS,
Mantles and scarfs.

in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls,
will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity,
at the lowest price. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State shawls bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.
Orders sent from all sections of the country,
and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2 Milk Street,

BOSTON. 3mos

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schöner Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral; or medicated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustale; Bachelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Hautes vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. if

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers
twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are Whittell's Vegetable Syrup;
Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy);
Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Hol-
den's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whittell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.

Quincy, July 30. if

Judd's Medicated Liquid-Cuticle
FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a
smooth coating over them, impervious to air and
water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. if

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. November 26, 1850.

TAKE notice, that the premises, on MONDAY, December 30th, 1850, at 4 o'clock P. M. all the right in Equity which CHARLES DUNMORE, late of Dorchester, in said County, Gentleman, deceased, had,
and the same which his Heirs and Administratrix, now have to redeem the following described Real Estate, to wit:

A certain piece of land lying at the Lower Mills, Village, in said Dorchester, containing one fourth of an acre more or less, with a dwelling house and stable thereon standing, bounded northeasterly by the Old Tavern Estate, of the late Benj. Bass Leeds, deceased eastly by Washington street, (so called) southerly by land late of said Leeds and westerly or northwesterly by a passageway leading from Baker's Chocolate Mill to H. Crane's Blacksmiths Shop, with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.
GEORGE H. FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff.
Quincy, Nov. 20. 3w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribers has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of ZACHARIAH KINGMAN,
late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, yeoman
deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to KINGMAN TERRELL, Executor
Weymouth, Nov. 30, 1850. 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Good and Estate of

DAVID LITTLEFIELD,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, yeoman,
deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

FREEMAN LITTLEFIELD Administrator.
South Weymouth, Nov. 30. 3w*

Wood at Auction.

WILL be sold at public auction, on THURS-DAY next, Dec. 5th, at nine o'clock in the afternoon, all the Wood standing on the Babel Pasture, belonging to the Adams School Fund. The Wood is near the Town Road, very easy of access, and about one-fourth of a mile from William Task's house.
Those who wish to purchase their fuel cheap will do well to attend the sale.

By order of the Supervisors.

L. G. HORTON, Auct.

Quincy, Nov. 30. 1w

Potatoes.

500 BUSHELS of Irish Red Potatoes of extra quality and free from rot. For sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Nov. 30. 4w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of HEZEKIAH BASS,
late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Cordwainer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to LEMOUEL BRACKETT, Executor.
Quincy, Nov. 30, 1850. 3w

Magazines.

FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's Petersons, Godey's Lady's Book, &c., for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851. 3w

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for Baking, viz:—
Peach water; Rose water, etc., etc. Essence of Roses, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.
Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory,
Thyme, &c.
Quincy, Nov. 16. if

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed up by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for-
CASH.
Quincy, March 16th. J. & H. H. FAXON. if

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50
cts per bushel by
D. BAXTER Co.
Quincy, March 9th. if

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly,
Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free
from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. 3w Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, in extra article, just received, and for sale as
cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—CROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. if

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, up
Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17. if

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very
cheap for CASH.
Quincy, March 9th. D. BAXTER Co. if

Quincy Washing Mixture.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called
it equal to anything of the kind which they have
used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and
sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart,
full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this
will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

Quincy, August 3. if

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from
some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe.
Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS
and comes very cheap.

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding
Suits. Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!
of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of
the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market.
Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valen-
cias, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.
Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL
SHIRTS and DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS
CLOTH CAPS.
Quincy, Nov. 9th. if

Dr. C. S. Mann,

MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,
HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,
Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.
Nov. 2. 6w

CASH

PAID FOR
OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBBLAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.
—BY—
A. B. PACKARD.

To Let.

HALF of a house in front of Mr. Alden French's.
Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels
Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21

House For Sale.

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about
three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of
ALPHEUS HUNT.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

Black Writing Ink.

AT the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found
a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers.
Nov. 16. 3w

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House,
very pleasantly situated, on Common
Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to
SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Nov. 9th. if

Estate of Simeon Williams

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend
to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street
in said Braintree, on the third Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS.
Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n166w

Watch and Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully
informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C.
Redfern, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons
Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear
Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens; Breast Pins, Specta-
cles, &c.
Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy
Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No 1
Washington Street.

N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. WM. B. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

D. R. ADAMS.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 2w

BOSTON MUSEUM,
Tremont Street, Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS, to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, swelling the already immense collection to upwards of HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFE LIKE as to

Mock Reality,

lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Talbott's.

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that One of THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;
a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE.

ON MUSEUM,
Street, Boston.
OPEN DAY AND EVENING.
It is the largest, most valuable, and best filled State. It comprises to see them
different MUSEUMS,
and the present year, besides the constant exhibition, One Half of the collection
PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, valuable collection to upwards of MILLION ARTICLES, of objects of interest to be found together in one place, and an entire OF WAX STATUARY,
in length, filled to its utmost capacity with
of the size of life, and in its groups, of TWO HUNDRED, which for the last two years by a corps of artists to be found in either the old comso NATURAL and LIFELIKE
lock Reality,
no doubt whether the figures do not actually among the most prominent will be found of them.

THE LAST SUPPER represents the conversation and of the moment when he took these words: "This is my body."
FRODOG SON,
in rage, and received by his forgiving
of the CRUCIFIXION, four figures; a correct representation of the last moments of the of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE
the Christian and Satan contending for the SIAMANESE TWINS,
American boys,
five figures, of the CRE BY PIRATES
a merchantman in the India Seas. After a of the survivors.

PICTURES OF SLAVERY
seven figures, being actual illustrations of a of slaves, and their victims.

PICTURES OF MISS MCCREA
the Revolutionary war, a thrilling group, of the Red Men.

PICTURES OF TEMPERANCE illustrated in three groups, the last a cor-
of the survivors.

ORDERED BY her Husband.
School—Milliner's Shop—Shoemaker's Shop—Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as figures of distinguished men, &c., with up-to date of Cabinet Size, highest collection of Wax Figures in America, above, and the immense collection of PICTURES, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES, of the world, together with numerous of Artificial Curiosities.

Engravings and Statuary,
OIL PORTRAITS
A GOOD of all nations—Naval and Military Subjects, and Pictures—Rare Coins and Jewels, and Engravings.

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES
about 3000 Years old; and an entire
of Peruvian Mummies;
of PLASTIC, the most perfect draught, without facility to fill up, and are easily kept clean.
Nearly one hundred of this have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-
INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment
of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and
Japaned Ware.
CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter.
DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31

Beef and Pork.
A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, May 5.

French Call Boots.
MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate FIT WARRANTED.
By W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy.
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

Place of Amusement
A single visit will prove the truth of this admission is only Cents to the Whole!!!

Brooks' Railroad Express.

subscribers return thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage
at, and respectfully announces that he still considers to convey passengers to and from the Railroad to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 cents each.
Orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton and Sons, Quincy Point, or at Miss E. Brooks' very Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Bries-will be promptly attended to.
—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick dispatch.
THOMAS BROOKS.
Quincy, Sept. 14.

Apples.

BALDWIN AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850.

Onions.

BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850.

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favorably received their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a large assortment of English, West India goods and varieties of all kinds.
Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought anywhere for cash or credit.
Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.
B. Goods delivered as usual
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th.

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM.
ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in
Quincy, Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10
Exchange Street, Boston.
West Woods'ock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenient
for a large family. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 7th.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Norfolk ss. Probate Office, November 4th, 1850.
An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of
HEZEKIAH BASS,
of Quincy in said County, Cordwainer deceased being presented for Probate by Lemuel Brackett
the Executor therein named, ORDERED, that said Lemuel Brackett notify persons interested therein, that they may appear to be heard concerning the same, at a court of Probate to be held at Roxbury in said County, on the twenty-third day of November, A. D. 1850, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Nov. 9. 3w

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming. Apply
to JOHN WHICHER.
Quincy, Oct. 5th.

THE subscriber has built
method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved into the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more comfortable and better adapted to his business; and also,
would tender his sincere
thanks for the liberal share of
patronage which he has received during the past year.
His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves
among which is the

New England Air-Tight,
embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with
just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a choice and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility
and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction, and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without facility to fill up, and are easily kept clean.
Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the
past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-
INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment
of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and
Japaned Ware.
CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

W. Porter.
DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31

Beef and Pork.
A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free
expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, May 5.

French Call Boots.
MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate FIT WARRANTED.
By W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy.
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5.

LADIES
Of Quincy and Vicinity.
A. JONES & CO.,
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,
NEW GOODS

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the
AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.
Every variety of
SHAWLS,
from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS
of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.
FRENCH THIBETS
and GERMA MERINOS
Of all Grades.
FALL AND WINTER
DRESS GOODS,
Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.
Together with the Immense Variety of all other
Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present
Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our
intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers
who daily throng our Establishment, show.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by
the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.
Every variety of goods, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular,
where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles
of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance
of that patronage which now enables us to refer you
to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than
at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that
at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7. Gmos

N. B.
Geo. Savil & C.,
Dealers in
READY-MADE CLOTHING
OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT
ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.

—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!
Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 179.
JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors
below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.
The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin
board.
Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY
WARE, &c.
All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.
No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be ofered for sale.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

A CARD!!
J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the
FALL AND WINTER
OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths!!!
of various colors and qualities.
A great variety of
PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of
VESTINGS, &C.
He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments
for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS,
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING
DEPOT,
ON THE
Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN
WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very
choice and select Stock of
Fall and Winter Goods!!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN,
OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored
Cloths, of
ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN
Manufacture.
Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy
Doc-Skins
for Pants.

VESTINGS
of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN
and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS
&c.
Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty
Garment of any description, are respectfully invited
to call and see for themselves.
Garments made to order at very short notice, and
by
THE BEST OF WORKMEN.
READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.
ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.
Quincy, August 31. if

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,
No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.
IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED
For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our known Establishment, and have secured an assortment
of
NEW SHAWLS,
SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,
that will distance all competition, without exception.
We accordingly ask the attention of
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS
to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris
Cloaks and Sacks, latest pattern; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and Velvets; Crapes Shawls; Bombazines; Alep-
pines; and a large variety of similar goods.
To those who answer our call, we guarantee that
the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.
JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2, Milk Street.
Boston, August 31. 3mos

NEW FALL & WINTER
MILINERY GOODS.
MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful
acknowledgements to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBONS, FLOW-ERS, etc etc, can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.
Also—A good variety of Misses and Childrens
trimmings
SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made
to order.
Bonnets altered, bleached and colored.
For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.
For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work
be added—if so, price accordingly.
Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on
hand.
WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone
Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Flour Barrels.
200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by
J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

Cider Vinegar.
FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. if

Pure Cider Vinegar.
BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

Dyer's Washing Fluid.
A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale
by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. if

NEW DRY GOODS
Establishment!
REMOVAL.
GEOGRE HILL & CO.
Have removed to their new and splendid
Wholesale and Retail Establishment
Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON,
Which is the largest sales-room in the United States
being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;
And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their
large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

HAWLS
Of every description, in entire new designs, both long
and square.
Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,
Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS
Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.
BLACK SILKS,
Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.
Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.
DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.
Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs
and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.
Merinos, Thibets and Cashmires, with Velvets,
Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.
Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens,
Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doilies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Pintos.
BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.
EMBROIDERIES,
The largest assortment in the city.
HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,
Ladies', Gents' and Children's;
Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.
In fact, all articles usually found in different stores
may be found in this Establishment.
The Goods will be freely shown, and customers
may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention
and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.
GEORGE HILL & CO.
NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON.
Oct 5. 3m

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.
THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of
DRY GOODS,
well adapted to the wants of the community.
At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doc-skins, Prints, De Laines, Cash-
meres, Alpaccas,
and a great variety of
DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS, Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and
Blankets,
With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected
Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a tendly sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all
wishing to examine them.
GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy.
A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy, October 5. if

Particular Notice.
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced
prices for cash only.
All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to
call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

New Goods.
D NIEL BAXTER & CO.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Moulin De Laine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Gingham in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters;
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts. per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31. if

To Let.
A Convenient Dwelling House, very
pleasantly situated on Common Street,
recently occupied by the Widow Driver,
with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10. if

Let the Public Call.
THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied
by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.
By attention to business and promptness to order a liberal share of support is solicited.
Quincy April 13th.

Old Colony Railroad.
Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets
FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10,
1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—
For Plymouth, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3/4, 8 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4,
4 1/2, 9 1/4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1/2 A. M.; 3, 6
P. M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3/4 A. M.; 1, 2 3/4, 5 1/2,
P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1/4 A. M.; 3 1/4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1/2 A. M.;
3 1/2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3/4, 8 A. M.; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4,
4 3/4, P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7 15, 8 1/2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M.
2 45, 4 1/2, 5 13, P. M.
The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth,
will not stop short of South Braintree.
JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. if

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—
7 34, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 10
P. M.

Thirty dollars Reward.
THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House.
N. B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. Fellows.
CHARLES HARWOOD, } Parish
CHARLES SPEAR, } Committee
HEZEKIAH PRINCE, }
Quincy, July 13th. if

Musical Notice.
MR. BARNEKOY from Sweden, respectfully announces to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he will begin a course of lessons on the Piano, Organ, Guitar and Singing. Terms—For the Piano $15; for the Guitar, $12. Orders left at Mr. Geo.
H. Merriam's, will be promptly attended to. If a number of voices could be got together, I should like to form a Society for producing Oratorio's, such as Stabat Mater, and the Creation.
I shall begin the lessons week after next.
M. BARNEKOY—
Quincy, Oct. 26. if

Apples for Sale.
A few barrels of very good BALDWIN, RUS-SETT & GREENING Apples, for sale by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 26. 3w

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!
AT THE OLD STAND,
Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co.
(who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St
No. 224 WASHINGTON,
Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEORGE W. PETTES
Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of
DRY GOODS,
WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE.

The prices for all articles shown will be very low.
No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.
Please call and examine the elegant Stock of SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS
DE LAINES
PRINTS
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY
TRIMMINGS
And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.
Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.
No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST.,
BOSTON.
GEORGE W. PETTES.
Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mos

Letter Paper.
FOOLSCAP, Note & Bill Paper, Envelopes, Steel Pens and Holders, Black and Blue Ink, all of the best quality, now selling at the lowest prices for Cash, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov. 24. 3w

Beautiful
FAMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
The public attention is invited to this new and excellent lot of BIBLES, being the best ever offered in this town, and sold on favorable terms.
Quincy, Nov. 24. 3w

For Sale.
SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH HAY, by CHARLES P. TIRRELL.
Nov. 2 if 1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy Nov. 24. 1850. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid
Gloves.
A good assortment for sale low
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

New Fall and Winter Goods.
IN great Variety, for sale at the very low est prices
by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

BAY STATE
Long and Square Shawls,
OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices.
Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5. if

POETRY.

THE BRIEFLESS BARRISTER.

A BALLAD.
BY JOHN G. SAGE.

An attorney was taking a turn,
In shabby habiliments dressed;
His coat it was shockingly worn,
And the rust had infested his vest,
His breeches had suffered a breach,
His linen and stockings were worse;
He had scarce a whole crown in his hat,
And not half a crown in his purse.

And thus as he wandered along,
A cheerless and comfortless elf,
He sought relief in a song,
Or complainingly talk to himself.

'Unfortunate man that I am!
I've never a client but grief;
The case is, I've no case at all,
And in brief, I've ne'r had a brief!

I've waited and waited and waited in vain,
Expecting an opening to find,
Where an honest young lawyer might gain
Some reward for the toil of his mind.

'Tis not that I am wanting in law,
Or lack an intelligent face,
That others have cases to plead,
While I have to plead for a case.

'O, how can a modest young man
E'er hope for the smallest profession—
The profession 's already so full
Of lawyers so full of profession!

While thus he was stroiling around,
His eye accidentally fell
On a very deep hole in the ground,
And he sighed to himself, 'It is well!

To curb his emotions he sat
On the curb-stone the space of a minute;
Then cried, 'her's an opening at last!
And in less than a jiffy was in it!

Next morning twelve citizens came,
(Two the coroner bade them attend.)
To the end that it might be determined
How the man had determined his end!

'The man was a lawyer, I hear,
Quoth the foreman who sat on the corse.
'A lawyer? Alas!' said another,
'Undoubtedly died of remorse!

A third said, 'He knew the deceased,
An attorney well versed in the laws,
And as to the cause of his death,
'Twas no doubt from the want of a cause.'

The jury decided at length,
After solemnly weighing the matter,
'That the lawyer was drowned because He could not keep his head above water.'

Burlington Sentinel.

OUR DOUBTS ARE TRAITORS.

BY O. C. WHITTELEY.

Whatever reason designates to thee,
From all encumbrances of folly free,
With the complexion of utility,
And the same will be promptly attended to.

Clad in the costume of philanthropy,
Trimmed with the trappings of fidelity,
Through the arena of consistency,
Pursue it.

Let not the lasso of a doubt 'er be Thrown o'er the neck of vital energy—
But with invincible alacrity
Pursue it.

Our doubts are traitors—let us firmly chain
In faith those reptiles of the brain,
For true we must, if we a prize would gain,
Pursue it.

Flag of our Union.

THE FAITHFUL SEVEN.

BY ABEL.

In days gone by, when Time was young,
The world went bounding on its course;
The sun of light came down among
And wooed the daughters of the earth.

Confusion reigned mid spirits bright,
And calmness left their placid brow;
The lustre left their pupils light,
And turned with scorn their plighted vow.

But mid these troops of erring ones,
A band of radiant stars were found
Who never from allegiance ran,
Who never swerved from holy ground.

And brightly shone those faithful seven,
On glowing thrones of brilliant hue;
And they unto their vows were true,
And envy was shut from their view.

Days, months passed by, yet there they were,
On undimmed thrones, these faithful seven,
Mortals marked they did not err,
This band of fairest stars in heaven.

ANECDOTES.

An editor out west complains that he has lost a suit in court, was kicked by his lady-love, received a general flugging from a brother editor, had a tooth drawn, lost twenty dollars at faro, and had his note protested, all on the same day.

Your uncle has a brother, who is not your uncle—what relation is he to you?—Your father.

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patrons she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care.

—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS, Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, Ivory and silver, with and without Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do.; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Distressing Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions.

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH. She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., near of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodeled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

HATS AND CAPS,

Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloth, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use.
Quincy, April 13.

Red Ash Coal—Wood Lime and Sand.

NOW landed, and for sale on Souther's Wharf by the subscribers.

Just Landed—A Supply of FRESH LIME.
JOHN GLOVER,
JOHN L. SOUTHER.

Quincy, June 29.

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS,

Mantles and scarfs.

in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls, will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State shawls bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.

Orders solicited from all sections of the country, and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2 Milk Street,
BOSTON.

Boston, August 24.

Preparation of the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Dressing, Camlin's Spanish Lustre, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorine Quinine; Barchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Hautes vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

WILL be sold by order of the Probate Court, on MONDAY, the ninth day of December, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the Premises, so much of the Estate of Charlotte G. Coleman, late of Braintree, deceased, as will produce the sum of Five Hundred and Thirty Seven Dollars and Seventeen Cents—for the payment of her just Debts, Legacies and charges of Administration, with incidental expenses.

Said Estate consists of about 3 Acres of LAND, with a DWELLING HOUSE and other Buildings thereon.

Also—About five acres of PASTURE LAND, all situated in Braintree, near the head of Navigation, on Monaquot River, and the East Braintree Depot, on the South Shore Rail Road; and formerly the residence of William Coleman, late of said Braintree, deceased.

The said DWELLING HOUSE is partly new and can be occupied by two Families—and the whole Estate is very valuable, from its location being in the vicinity of an excellent SCHOOL, the MEETING HOUSE, and the Rail Road Depot. Also—Two PEWES in the Episcopal Church in Quincy.

The Conditions of the Sale will be twenty per cent. of the purchase money to be paid at the Sale, and the remainder in thirty days, at the delivery of the deed.

NOAH FIELD, Executor.

Weymouth, Nov. 18, 1850.

Wood at Auction.

WILL be sold by public auction, in lots to suit purchasers, on FRIDAY, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, a large quantity of excellent wood, of very large growth, (principally oak) standing on land of heirs of Captain Josiah Bass, about one-half mile west of Ebenezer Harmon's—adjoining land of the heirs of Dea. Jedidiah Adams.

Inquire of JOSIAH or LEWIS BASS, L. G. NORTON, Auctioneer.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

P. LOW'S UNION HOT-AIR

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler heats so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE, it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 4, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

AS A SUMMER APPARATUS, it is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it, altogether, the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price being within the means of all families who want a good stove. A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALONERS!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

SHEPPARD'S PATENT

HOT AIR

PARLOR STOVES!

THESE STOVES, WHICH ARE PRONOUNCED BY ALL THE

Best judges to be far superior to any others ever invented,

Are for Sale at the TIN PLATE and SHEET IRON WARE STORE in this Town.

They are all of entirely new and approved construction—all having hot-air arrangements which will cause all parts of the room to be equally warmed, the same as by a furnace—creating a circulation of air, which is absolutely necessary, not only for comfort but for health—will give a great amount of heat from a small quantity of fuel—have a strong draft—are durable, convenient, and can be easily regulated so as to retain fire ten or twelve hours—are of very handsome appearance, and are sold at lower prices than any other stoves of the same capacity.

One construction of these stoves embraces the greatest improvement, in PARLOR STOVES ever made. It consists of a large air heating chamber, situated within the Stove, which will give a sufficient amount of heat to warm an ordinary room, exclusive of the heat from the exterior of the stove, and which can be used as an oven, that will bake evenly and with less fuel than any other oven whatever, it being placed directly above, and entirely surrounded by the fire.

Quincy, Oct. 19th, 1850.

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Redfern, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hoops, Gold Pencils and Pens, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 1 Washington Street.

N. B.—The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. WM. B. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

Bacon & Beef.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

Quincy, March 24.

For Cash Only.

Wood, Wood, Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th.

Whitney Blankets and Comforters.

ALL sizes for sale by

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850.

THE subscriber (having) method to inform customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year, his former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan. 12.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31.

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or small quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy March 9th.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—FRESH BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, March 24th.

Paper Hangings.

rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Ric

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

Boston, Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.

75 TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap for CASH.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

French Coat Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Hancock St., Quincy.

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST RATE article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, March 16th.

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.

Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKING ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29.

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

By WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17.

PUBLISHED EV

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 50.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1856.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereover the paper has been ordered, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates. Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention. Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BRIGHAM,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

"THE AUTO DE FE."

A LEGEND OF THE WASHINGTONIANS.

"Things is coming to a crisis, sure," said Ned Sprague, pacing up and down the floor of his bar-room, at the time the Washingtonian excitement had arrived at its highest pitch.

Ned was a Western man, "to the manner born," and despised any thing originating in the East. He had kept a small grocery for twenty years in his native city. Truly might it be said of him that he "filled the measure of his country's glory." To these causes, then, may we attribute Ned's antipathy to this new-fangled doctrine, as he called it. He said it because it originated in the East—he despised it because it interfered with a business which he had peaceably followed for twenty years.

As I have said, he was pacing up and down his bar-room, talking to himself in broken sentences. Two of the "original six" were lecturing in the city, and thousands were flocking to their standard, and among others nearly all Ned's customers had gone over to the enemy. True, Ned, in his long career of whiskey dealing, had never accumulated any thing; still it afforded him a living. He had one class of customers who never failed him—habitués of his establishment, whose custom he could calculate upon with unerring certainty, rain or shine. Two demijohns of gin and brandy, and a barrel of Monongahela contributed to the bulk of his stock at any time; and out of them he could supply the wants of his customers as well as his own.

The morning was wearing away, and not a soul darkened Ned's door! At least a dozen times had he imbibed and twice had often cursed the capricious customers. At length an old and steadfast customer entered.

"Ah! Tom, my boy, they hav'n't got you yet?"

"No, sir—er not like to either."

"But they are going it very strong, I'm told."

"Well, they are," replied Tom. "Last night they took in—lemme see, Ben Lewis, Tom Styles, Abe Green, and that greatest of all brewers, old Lemon, whose liquor they bought and burnt, and this morning his shop's is shut up."

Ned mused a moment when a bright smile illuminated his countenance, so lately clouded in doubt.

"Well, Tom, I presume its all right—so let's take a horn, and I suppose we'll have to come in, too."

The drink was taken, and Ned put up his shutters, and wended his way to his cellar, where he spent the day in some occupation to the world unknown.

Night came, and the congregation was immense; songs were sung with loud and animated chorus, and the crusaders were in the highest possible spirits. The crack speaker mounted the rostrum, and poured forth a torrent of eloquence resplendent as the malestom. At one time he made his auditors weep—anon he made them laugh. Who does not recollect their new and effective style of oratory? At length, when the speaker thought the proper moment had arrived, he invited all who wished to sever themselves from Alcohol's thrall, to come forward and sign the pledge.

Great was the rush that followed, and loud were the cheers that greeted each taper as he came forward. One loud prolonged cheering that made the welkin ring announced to the astonished multitude that Ned Sprague was moving towards the stand. Ned mounted the rostrum, however, before signing, and as soon as the cheering subsided sufficiently to be heard, he delivered himself somewhat as follows:

"Fellow citizens—(Cheers)—I came here this evening merely as a spectator; but the convincing arguments have knocked the resolution out of me. (Loud cheers.) Yes, I find there is no use, as Shakespeare says, of kicking ag'in the bricks, and I too, am determined to sign the pledge. (Great applause.) But there is one thing I wish to impress upon you. You all know I'm a poor man, notwithstanding I have sold whiskey for twenty years. I have in my cellar twenty-five barrels of whiskey, which cost me two hundred and fifty dollars. I cannot afford to lose that amount; and if I sign the pledge, in course I could not sell it; so as soon as I can dispose—"

"We'll buy it, and destroy it," said a voice in the crowd.

"Let's do it right away," shouted another.

Straightway the wallets were drawn forth, and X's and V's showered in until the treasurer announced the requisite sum, which was handed over to Ned.

On motion of some person, the concourse formed a procession, and marched to Ned's grocery. Loud swelled the chorus, while stalwart arms rolled the barrels on the pavement, until all were brought forth. One of them had the head quickly staved in, the blazing torch was applied, and the blue flame ascended—a very funeral pyre of "Old Alcohol."

The excited throng were for burning the rest, but Ned and his friends were too quick for them; with vigorous strokes of axes they "beheaded" the remainder of the barrels, and the juice of the rye ran down the gutter in a stream. Three terrific cheers announced the destruction complete, and the meeting adjourned.

Time wore away, and the Washingtonian excitement ended; and, in another part of the city, Ned again branched out in his old business. The secrets connected with the destruction of his "whisky" leaked out thro' an old soaker, whose smell could not be deceived, and to this day it is only necessary to say to Ned, "Twenty-four barrels of water!" and the response is, "what'll you take?"

THE DEATH WARNING.

BY FREDY R. ST. JOHN.

Of all the great centres to which strange characters are attracted, Paris is perhaps the most remarkable, very much, apparently, because of the encouragement given in it to original talent. Clever and enterprising Americans are often met there. One whom I lately encountered proved to be a pleasant and conversible man. We chanced to get upon the subject of superstition, or rather, to speak more fairly, on matters pertaining to what has been called the night-side of nature.

"I expect you love a yarn; I'll just give you one that is genuine. I'm not a superstitious man, but the contrary. But I'll give you an item of new country fancies which will amuse you."

I shall not preserve the energetic words of my American friend, as some of them would be difficult of comprehension in our part of the world—but give the facts of his narrative exactly as they were told.

Saco is a small town at a very short distance from the sea, in the State of Maine, famous only within a circumference of a few miles, in connection with the Labrador fishery, and also as the nursery of an industrious, hard working set of shipwrights and fishermen. In the early history of the State of Maine, mention is made of Saco Island as the site of an Indian Village; but local tradition gives more ample details relative to the ejection of the Red Skins from the place. But with this I have nothing to do, except incidentally, as will be seen in the course of my narrative.

Abel Jacks, my informant, was the son of a working ship-builder of Saco, a pushing industrious man, who, in times of thriving business, and when a pressing job was on hand, would work eight days without taking off his clothes. He lived in a house just above the town, the front of which faced the island that parted the river, variously known as Cuth and Saco Island. Abel was his youngest son—at the time we speak of, a young man of twenty. About a dozen yards distant from their residence, was an old, tumble down shanty, that had been abandoned for many years. A murder had been committed within its walls a long time ago, and people said that ever since, noises were heard at midnight among its ruins—a troubled cry of conscience from the criminal. No man was ever found bold enough to reside in it again, until a widow, Curtis by name, obtained leave to make it her home.

Widow Curtis was as superstitious and fearful as her neighbors, perhaps even more so—for she firmly believed in death-warnings. The once glad mother of nine children, she had lost eight, and before the real news reached her, she always had a warning. It is true, that her signs and tokens came very much oftener than had news; but as bad news did sometimes follow her hints from the other world, she had sufficient reason for her belief. She found herself at last with only one child, a daughter of eighteen, who was at service on Cuth Island, in the house of Squire Sheen—and to be near this beloved child, the widow took up her quarter in the haunted shanty; which to her sacred heart had now no terrors.

Mr. Jacks was kind to the poor widow—gave her some furniture, and assistance in various other forms—and she was grateful. A greater part of her time was spent in the house of the shipwright, whose son Abel was warmly attached to her daughter Martha, who was induced to be his wife that very fall. For some months the widow had been quiet and happy, the thought of her child's advantageous marriage had driven gloomy thoughts from her head, and her cheerful state of mind the assiduous kindness of the Jacks had also tended to promote.

One afternoon, a tremendous storm startled her good people of Saco, and filled them with alarm! Saco river was lined with saw mills, the owners of which floated their timbers and planks down its waters. But just above the town a huge boom lay across the stream, to check the rafts, and to protect the bridges which connect Cuth island with the two shores. Once in the memory of man a freighter had carried away the boom and given passage to the vast weight of timber, which coming with terrific violence against the bridges, had utterly destroyed them. The storm on this occasion was followed by the rapid swelling of the river, and about four o'clock the boom gave way; the mountains of planks and logs brought down by the inundation rushed madly through, and all communication was cut off. The timber plumed with irresistible force over the falls below the island, carrying the bridges away with it.

The roar of the blast, the rushing of the wild waters, the crash of logs, the plunging of masses of wood over the two cataracts, the running to and fro of the people, all roused in poor widow Curtis feelings of terror and alarm; about sunset she came into the house of old Jacks, and told him she had received a death warning relative to her last child. Tears ran down her pallid cheeks, and her whole mien was that of a broken-hearted woman. Both old Jacks and Abel sought to comfort her in every possible way. They tried ridicule—they tried reason—but all in vain; the widow still declared she had heard the never failing warning.

"And what was it like?" suddenly cried old Jacks.

"A low screech, like the cry of one in pain," replied the widow.

"Tush, woman, you heard the squaw of Cuth island. She never fails to howl with the tempest."

"And who pray was the squaw of Cuth island?"

Old Jacks drew the widow to the table, lit his pipe, poured out a glass of beer, and after a vigorous hem, began his story. Before the Saco river, the island was inhabited by a whole tribe of Indians. An old fellow by the name of Cuth, wishing to establish himself a saw and flour mill in the place, bought the site of the Indians, who, on the receipt of the purchase money, decamped in accordance with their word. Old Cuth then crossed over to the island to select the spot whereon he wished to build; but to his astonishment he found an aged squaw who refused to depart. She declared that in the general distribution she had been left out, and demanded a share of the purchase money of the white man himself.

Cuth gave her a bottle rum, which she eagerly tasted, and then leaping into her canoe, hurried across to join her tribe. But whether the rum had effected her head, or whether age had rendered her limbs too weak to contend with the current, could not be known, but she was drawn into the rapids, and over the falls, where of course she was drowned. From that day the island point was believed to be haunted by the squaw spirit; and there was scarcely a man, woman, or child in Saco but would declare having heard the moaning of the old crone before and during the storms.

"May be," said Widow Curtis, when old Jacks had concluded, "may be 'tis the squaw has given me every warning."

"Nonsense, Mother Curtis; all nonsense and flummery. And yet I am bound to believe in ghosts, too. I ain't a superstitious man, no how, but I've been tried too. One night I was at work till late at the Lower Ferry, and after work I joined a merry making. It was past twelve when I started for home. Every thing was square and straight until I got to the road near the churchyard; then I distinctly heard the rustling of a silk dress close beside me. 'Come out of that,' said I, 'and no poking fun at me!' I got no answer, and away I slashes in the bushes with a big hickory stick; all to no good. The rustling of silk was still close to me as ever. I was in a precious rage with myself, I do own; but I heard it plain enough. At last I came to the bridge; and you know the ends of the planks stuck out beyond the rail to save the sawing off. What do I see but an old fellow walking along these ends, beside me, in an old silk morning gown. 'Good night to you, Sam Jacks,' said he. I returned his politeness; and then he began to ask news of Saco town, and of people dead and gone these twenty years. He seemed surprised when I told him they were all departed; and at the end of the bridge we separated. Now, Widow Curtis, I know I did see all this, and yet old Sam Jacks knows precious well there was no body there. It was nothing but fancy and dact, and so was the cry you heard. Cheer up old girl Martha! all's right!"

But the widow was not to be satisfied. The old man's stories rather excited her imagination, and she declared that every instant she felt more sure that Martha was gone. About midnight she started towards home, and Abel went along the water side walk with her, to say a few words of comfort.

"Did you hear that?" suddenly said the poor mother; "if that was not Martha's voice, it was her spirit."

Abel had heard the cry; it was a shriek of despair; so clear, so distinct, no man could hesitate or doubt. The night was now calm and still, and the moon shone brightly over the whole scene. A boat lay moored within an indentation of the river at the young man's feet. He gazed rapidly round. Just above the point of the island he saw a small canoe, and a person standing upright in it—a woman with her hands clasped, as if in prayer. The canoe was hurrying down the stream, though not yet in the rapids. A lover's glance is not easily deceived. It was Martha! To leap into the boat to push it towards the canoe, and to begin rowing with the energy of mingled love and despair, was the work of a single instant. The widow sank down upon her knees on the bank.

"The river was wide, and the current strong, while just below was the rapids. Abel was almost within their influence, and soon found it necessary to pull up stream to prevent being sucked in. When again he turned the bow of his boat across, the canoe was not more than fifty yards above the spot where he lay, and was coming with extreme velocity.

"Courage, dear Martha," cried the young man; "Abel is at hand!"

"I dropped my paddles, Abel, while getting away from a snag."

"Check the canoe with your hands, dear girl. Put them in the water. Every inch gained is valuable."

"I am going too quickly, Abel. You never can save me. Is that my dear mother on the bank?"

"It is, Martha," replied Abel, solemnly, at the same time pulling vigorously. "But silence now."

The two boats were drawing near, while both were setting down with great velocity on the rapids. Martha was in a light bark canoe, which lay almost on the surface of the water. A few minutes more, and Martha and Abel were parallel to each other, at a distance of about a dozen yards. Abel leaped to his feet and looked around. They were within thirty feet of the rapids, and two hundred of the falls, in the very middle of the stream. All hope of Abel's catching the canoe was now gone. She, it seemed, could not be saved. They could only be lost together. The young man gazed at the moonlit isle, the shore, his father's home, the aged mother kneeling on the shore, while old Jacks and his mother stood motionless near the threshold of their house.

"Martha," cried Abel, in a voice calm and collected, though husky, "act with courage and spirit. One minute, and we part, perhaps forever. Rouse all your courage, think of your mother and your future husband, and let the thought give you the energy of a man. Lie down quickly in the canoe; lie still and move not. The fall is swelled by the rain, and the white rock is hidden. That is a dear girl! Move not for your life! Adieu."

No more words were spoken. Martha as she was bid, lay at full length at the bottom of the slight bark canoe, and the next instant was sucked into the rapids. Round and round went the frail boat, and then, entering the very centre of the quick-flowing stream, it darted along, and was lost sight of over the falls. Abel pulled like a madman for the shore, guiding his boat slightly up stream.

"My child! my child!" cried the agonized mother, as he leapt out upon the bank.

"Boy," said his father severely, "what have you done with Martha?"

"Father, stay me not! Martha is in the hands of Providence. Follow me, and a few minutes will decide her fate!"

The mother and Abel's whole family ran with the young man along the shore, following the portage of the falls. They soon reached the nook in which lay the boat used by the Jacks for fishing under the cataract. As Abel expected, the high tide, and the great volume of waters considerably lessened the height of the fall, which was also wider than usual.

"Where is my child?" cried Widow Curtis, once more.

Abel made no reply, but leaping into the boat, pulled across the stream. The two falls one on each side of Cuth island, made of course a very strong current in this part of the river, but where the two currents met, the one counteracted the other, and the volume of water, being very great three back waters ensued, one going back to the point, the other two along ashore. Abel pulled for the still water in the centre, and in a few moments had the intense satisfaction of seeing the frail bark canoe lying motionless on the very edge of the eddy.

"Martha!" he cried, in a low, agonized voice.

No answer was given, and in a few minutes more he was alongside. There she lay in the pale moonlight, as calm as an infant on its mother's bosom, but to all appearance lifeless. Abel lifted her hurriedly into his boat, and sprinkled her marble face with water. A deep sigh, a low wailing sound of pain, and then a burst of mingled tears and laughter, proclaimed the victory of youth and nature over death.

"O Abel, how have I been saved?" said the trembling and agitated girl, clasping her lover's hands.

"By thy courage and trust in Providence, dear Martha," replied Abel in a low tone; and these two simple, unsophisticated children of nature knelt, and with the roaring cataract on each side, and the placid sky above, prayed that to the God of their hearts.

"Let us go to my mother," said Martha after an instant's pause, and Abel, without another word, struck out for the shore.

then the whole party returned to old Jack's house.

It appeared that Martha, knowing her mother's character and aware of the influence of a storm upon her mind, had determined, as soon as the moon rose, to cross over and reassure the widow as to her own safety. She took her mother's bark canoe, and starting a good way above the site of the bridge, began pulling across. When well in the stream, a beam of wood checked her progress. Eager to push it from her path, she let go her paddles which she had forgotten to fasten on the rail-locks and they fell into the stream. She had caught desperately at the snag, but in vain; and then she gave the wailing cry which—

Old Jacks warmly commended Abel's presence of mind in giving the advice he had; but far more the calm courage of Martha in following it, while all felt that, under all circumstances, the escape was next to miraculous. Old Jacks said Martha's not leave them again; and so taking upon himself the duties of patriarch, decided that the marriage should be celebrated two months sooner than was originally intended. A week later Abel and Martha were man and wife, and to judge from their present solid affection and genuine happiness, they had never forgotten their one terrible trial. Abel loves to tell the story, but says that now it is in my hands, he stands a good chance of hearing. "We have seen that in print," a prophecy which I hereby prove to be correct. Old Jacks and the widow are now dead, and Saco is a large place; but though our worthy couple have been now fourteen years married, they remember, as it were yesterday, their own legend of Saco island.

KILLING MICE.

Joe Bumstead was one of those uneasy, restless, beings, who are never quiet a minute whether awake or asleep. He was always twisting and turning, and turning and twisting, always uncomfortable, and he was universally known among his companions as uneasy Joe. Sometimes we used to play off practical jokes upon him for the fun of the thing, but generally speaking, if we let him have his own way, he made mirth enough by "selling himself." Among his numerous dislikes, Joe despised rats and mice. Indeed he said they seemed born into existence only to tease and annoy him. When a child he was bitten by a mouse, and severely, too, for which reason he always dreaded them. If Joe had occasion to visit any new house, or to sleep in a strange room, he never failed to give the premises a careful inspection to assure himself that there were no mouse-holes about. We roomed together one night in New York, and I laughed at Joe for his watchfulness and close examination before retiring.

"Is it all right, Joe?" we asked, after he had peeped behind the furniture, and in every corner of the room.

"Yes, there can be no mice here, that's sure," he said at last.

"Well, blow out that light, and go to bed then, will you, Joe?"

"Yes, here you go," and Joe suited the action to the word, and leaped into bed.

It must have been very near morning when Joe awoke us with:

"Hist! hist! don't you hear that noise there?"

"Not a bit of it, Joe. You are dreaming," we replied, turning over to get a fresh nap.

"There it is again."

"What?"

"Why the noise?"

"You are making all the noise. You uneasy thing you, can't you let a fellow sleep quietly?"

"Look here," said Joe; "it is all well for you who don't care a farthing for mice or rats, but you know I have a natural horror of the varmin, therefore—there, didn't you hear that?"

"Joe, lie down, and be quiet; you took that punch too strong last night, and haven't more'n time enough to sleep it off before morning."

"Fough! You hav'n't any feeling for my nerves."

"Nor you for mine to wake me out of such a sound sleep for nothing."

Joe slipped noiselessly out of bed, and seized one of his patent leather boots, which he felt for some time upon the floor before he got it.

"What are you up to now?" said we.

"Be quiet, is on the table; don't you hear it? pit pat, pit pat."

"Well, it does sound like a mouse."

Joe balanced his boot in one hand so as to bring the heel to bear as the weapon, and felt his way to the table by the head of the bed, where the noise was heard.

"Hist! the little rascal is nibbling something he has found here."

"Lethim have it, Joe, and then keep quiet for Heaven's sake."

Following the sound, Joe soon got within striking distance, and poised his weapon, he brought down the heel with unerring aim and precision upon his victim. Sure enough the little pit pat was stopped, and after congratulating himself he crept to bed again.

Next morning, Uneasy Joe found that he had smashed his valuable gold repeater into the shape of a paucalide.

A Texas feather bed is said to be made of corn-cobs and shucks! In Mexico their beds are sometimes made of prickly pears and centipedes, with an occasional tarantula.

THE subscriber wishing to inform as cue to the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of which he has received during the past year, customers and the public generally are informed, where will be found a variety of Stoves

new England Air-Tight,

in the highest degree of perfection, every requisite for any latitude. This is itself externally in a plain dress, with suitable proportions, giving it the appearance and tastefully made price of Cabinet. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of number is such as to remove effectually the hot made in Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for The Oven proves itself to be precisely what the proprietors intended it should be, viz., the most perfect ever constructed in a family. Hence, upon which the great responsibility of a stove depends, differ from any used, and are of such construction, and to ensure the most perfect draught, without to fill up, and are easily kept clean, hundred of this stove have been sold, the all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Society of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDERS, together with a good assortment of IRON, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Jan 12.

W. Porter.
DEALER IN Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
BOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
EDGAR POSTS, &c.,
the new Wharf near Brackett's.
July 31

Salt Pork.
GREAT article of Salt Pork, packed in barrels, for sale by the barrel or small cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivery to any part of the town free.
D. BAXTER & Co.
March 9th.

Beef and Pork.
Not put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Beef and PORK, constantly on hand, delivered to any part of the town free.
H. A. RANSOM & Co.
March 24th.

Paper Hangings.
100 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
March 24th.

Watches and Silver Ware.
THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. POSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of Gold and Silver

WATCHES,
Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.
All will be given personally, at all times, REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING of all which his long experience in that department Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, enables confidence of his friends and customers. Friends and acquaintance when in Boston call.
THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Feb. 23.

Seed Barley.
100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very cheap.
D. BAXTER Co.
March 9th.

French Calf Boots.
Order, in the newest and most fashionable, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED.
UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy,
at door to the Quincy Bookstore.
May 5.

Beef and Pork.
GREAT article of PORK and BEEF, packed in barrels, for sale by the barrel or small cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivery to any part of the town free.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
March 16th.

Potatoes.
BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by
D. BAXTER Co.
March 9th.

Periodical Agency.
& Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscription and forwarding the Numbers free of charge for Postage or transportation. All subscribers for any Magazine can be supplied with all the numbers for the time being. For Terms please apply at the BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be exchanged for new ones at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking.
TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as possibly be purchased elsewhere. ROCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Sept. 29.

Wood, Wood.
A constant supply of Hard and Soft, on a wharf, Quincy Point, August 17.

By WHITTON & ADAMS.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1850

John A. Green, Editor.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—At the annual meeting of the Washington Society of this town, held at the Lyceum Hall, Nov. 24, the following gentlemen were elected its Officers:

President—George Baxter,
Vice Presidents—Urban Cadworth, and George W. Basley.

Corresponding Secretary—James M. Wade.
Recording Secretary—Theodore Kellogg.

Treasurer—Lyander Richards.
Directors—George Follet, Thomas Hardwick, Albert Pratt, Ezra Badger, Ebenezer Ford, Joseph Avery, Ebenezer Field, George L. Gill, Lloyd G. Horton, Albert H. Osgood, Harrison O. Whitney, John Page, William R. Brown, Elijah Baxter, Thomas Brooks, Columbus Larr, Charles Van Carver, Nathan Ames, George W. Barrett.

LAMENTABLE FIRE.—The Insane Hospital at Augusta, (Me.) has been destroyed by fire, and it is supposed, that 59 of the unfortunate lunatics perished in the flames. The fire, it is thought, arose from a defect in the chimney. Some of the lunatics gave the alarm as soon as the fire was discovered, but the keepers supposing them to be the accustomed ravings, gave no heed until the building was filled with a smoke. This looks exceedingly like carelessness on the part of the attendants.

LARGE HOG.—We were the recipient of a liberal portion of the spoils of a hog, slaughtered a few days since, and which was raised by Mr. Joseph Hardwick of this town. It weighed six hundred and fifteen pounds. We are not much of a judge of a good hog, but we relished our dinner that day, and desire our thanks to the kind donor who so generously contributed.

ON HAYS.—The sale of property at Liberty Hall, commenced on Tuesday, and will last until the 14th inst. The property is a well-bred and valuable horse, and is sold at a bargain, the sale being positive there is no mistake. See buyers' advertisement for terms here.

MUSIC.—Mr. Nowell, well known for his great interest in the excellent branch of innocent gratification and talent, announces as his intention to open a school of instruction in the several branches of vocal music in this town. He is too well known to our readers to admit of a doubt as to his abilities, and as a teacher of a well conducted musical school.

CONGRATULATIONS.—From all indications, it is apparent that the "congratulations" which he sustained and received on his return from his expedition may be regarded by the nation of the slavery question as a victory for the cause of the oppressed. Other laurels, however, progress, in a general sense, seems to be manifested by the Union and the Constitution.

J. C. BARRETT.—The last arrival from California confirms the melancholy intelligence of the death of our friend, whose name is noted at the head of this article. In the expectation of hearing from him again, we are disappointed. He is too well known to our readers to admit of a doubt as to his abilities, and as a teacher of a well conducted musical school.

WILLIAM G. ALLEN, a colored young man, law student in the office of E. H. Gay, Esq., of Boston, has been appointed to the Professorship of Greek and Rhetoric in Central College, Mt. Gambell, N. H.

A long-looked-for husband, says that instead of her and his wife being one, they are ten for she is 1 and he is 9.

The late election in Georgia turned upon the question of union or disunion, and resulted in the utter rout of the disunionists.

The figures expressing the number of the United States have at last changed. The old "13" is turned round into 31.

The Washington National monument has now reached an elevation of eighty feet.

By the recent United States census of this State, the number of inhabitants born in foreign countries is a little more than 180,000, or about eighteen per cent of the whole population of the State.

The people of Michigan at the recent election adopted the new State Constitution by a majority of five or six to one—but rejected the "equal or negro suffrage" proposition by a vote of about three to one.

It is stated that Major William H. Bissel, who has been returned to Congress from the first district in Illinois, received every vote cast in the district; in all, 12,244.

Hon. Joel R. Poinsett formerly Minister to Mexico, has published a letter in the Charleston Mercury, against the secession of South Carolina, which he thinks wild and suicidal.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

GIBBS F. TRAXER, Esq. will deliver the eight lecture before the Society the present season, on THURSDAY EVENING next, commencing at seven o'clock.

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION.
Is War justifiable between Christian nations?
H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

DIED.

In this town the 6th inst. of consumption, Miss, Emily F. Chamberlain, aged 18 years, 3 months and 20 days.
Sister's seventeen summers had faded the brow of our faithful friend, ere disease had marked her for its victim. Surely and successfully did she accomplish her mission. To this were all the hopes and suggestions of devoted friendship and of a mother's anxious love and anxiety. A change of climate was resorted to, but of no avail; the angel could not resign to the spiritual mission without carrying back the one for which the Father in Heaven and Mercy sent him.

There is a sadness that steals over the heart, when we see the young, the intelligent and virtuous, selected from the bosom of human existence, and just in the evening of life, with the buoyancy of hope and bright anticipations, how truly has it been said,

"Death loves a shining mark."
Oh! how much must an only daughter be missed by parents and brothers; youthful associates and acquaintances must long miss her; and were there not a brighter side to this picture, the heart would indeed cease to be comforted. But the snow clad tomb cannot contain that which is most precious! It can only contain the casket! The weedy spirit had long struggled for a more genial and healthy clime, and as it passed from its earthly tenement of clay, it left an impress upon her fair brow of peace and repose.

The post will bring many happy recollections of her society—of her cheerful disposition and resignation; the present can realize that her sufferings are ended; and the future is radiant with inspiration, pointing a glorious immortality. The Seraph called and angels whisked her to the Spirit land—
"Where everlasting Spring abides
And never fading flowers."

And were it yours to summon her back to the charmed scenes of former life, could you wish it? Oh! no, you could not! Although she will be much missed here, and her loss long and deeply felt—yet there she is free from sickness, change and perplexity; and her progress and happiness more heavenly and serene.

Then back to Earth, we would not call thee,
Although the form we sadly miss—
We would not from the Spirit draw thee,
In whose abode is perfect bliss.

"But, yet in Heaven we hope to meet thee,
When the dream of life is fled;
Yes! in Heaven we hope to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed."

In this town, on the 12th inst. George G. son of Alonzo G. and Mary A. Davis, aged 3 years and 4 months.
New Hampshire papers are desired to copy.

Singing School.
The members of the Singing School, recently commenced by Mr. T. Reed, and all others interested, are requested to meet in the Vestry of the Orthodox Church, on TUESDAY EVENING next, (the 17th inst.) to take measures to reorganize the School under the charge of Mr. Randolph, of West Cambridge.
Quincy Dec. 11th. 3w

Christmas and New Year's PRESENTS.
THE attention of the people of Quincy and vicinity is respectfully invited to the large and beautiful collection of

ANNALS
AND GIFT BOOKS
Specially bound and illustrated.

JUVENILE AND TOY BOOKS.
FANCY STATIONERY AND GOODS.
Specially designed for Presents, and adapted to the taste of the community—being a larger and more complete assortment, than which will be found elsewhere. Call on or write to the publishers, in this place, now exhibiting at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
The Proprietors of the Bookstore, take the present opportunity to express their thanks to the citizens of Quincy for the large number of former subscribers, and will feel great joy to receive visits from them this season, being confident all will be satisfied with our Assortment, and while we assure them that nothing shall be wanting on our part, to supply the demand, we trust that our endeavors will be appreciated.

CABLE GILL & CO.
Quincy, Dec. 11 1850. 4w

Messenger's Notice.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
Notariable. Roxbury, Dec. 12th, 1850.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esquire, Commissioner of the Court of Probate in and for the County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

FRANCIS M. LINCOLN, 3d.
of Colchester, in said County of Norfolk, Cordwainer, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debt, and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Court Room, in Roxbury, in said County, on the Ninth day of January next, at ten o'clock, forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the election of an Assignee or Assignees.
SHAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Dec. 14. 2w

Executrix's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribes has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

SIMEON FAXON,
late of Randolph, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, and his executor and assigns. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

HANNAH R. FAXON, Executrix,
Randolph, Dec. 7th 1850. 3w

Auction
AT LIBERTY HALL.
WILL be sold by Public Auction, at Liberty Hall (over H. A. Ransom & Co's Store) on MONDAY next, Dec. 16th, at 1 o'clock, P. M.—the following articles, viz:

Feather Beds,
Cotton Pillows,
Mattresses,
Bed Covers,
Linen Table Cloths, Canvas do.

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE
Also, many other articles too numerous to mention.
GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.
Quincy, Dec. 12 1850.

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.
VARIOUS SIZES: good for 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

FRANCIS M. LINCOLN, 3d.
of Colchester, in said County of Norfolk, Cordwainer, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debt, and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Court Room, in Roxbury, in said County, on the Ninth day of January next, at ten o'clock, forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the election of an Assignee or Assignees.
SHAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Dec. 14. 2w

Executrix's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribes has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

SIMEON FAXON,
late of Randolph, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, and his executor and assigns. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

HANNAH R. FAXON, Executrix,
Randolph, Dec. 7th 1850. 3w

Auction
AT LIBERTY HALL.
WILL be sold by Public Auction, at Liberty Hall (over H. A. Ransom & Co's Store) on MONDAY next, Dec. 16th, at 1 o'clock, P. M.—the following articles, viz:

Feather Beds,
Cotton Pillows,
Mattresses,
Bed Covers,
Linen Table Cloths, Canvas do.

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE
Also, many other articles too numerous to mention.
GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.
Quincy, Dec. 12 1850.

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.
VARIOUS SIZES: good for 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 50

POETRY.

THE ADMISSION.

A star in the West, rising over the ocean,
Moves eastward and up the broad arch of the sky,
And gleaming, as with a glow of devotion,
Unites with its sisters that circle in high.

A flag is unfurled to the breeze of the West,
Where the ocean rolls through a gateway of gold,
And its blazonry tells of a Nation's behest,
That a New star shall beam on that banner unfurled!

Behold! a young bride, in her nuptial glory,
With beauty and worth, and with treasures untold,
Like a bride of the East, to be read of in story,
With her mountains of silver and valleys of gold,

The clouds that grow black, from the South to the North,
Portending the tempest, are over and past,
And the gladness of a Nation goes forth,
California comes in to the Union at last!

California Courier.

THE COMING WINTER.

BY T. B. REED.

Autumn's sighing,
Mourning, dying,
Clouds are flying
On like steeds;
While their shadows
Over the meadows
Walk like widows
Dressed in weeds.

Red leaves trailing,
Fall unfurling,
Drooping, sailing,
From the wood,
That upland,
Stands defiant,
Like a giant,
Drooping blood.

Winds are swelling
Round our dwelling,
All day telling Us their woe;
And at vesper
Frosts grow crisp,
As they whisper
Of the snow.

From the unseen land,
Frozen inland,
Down from Greenland,
Winter glides,
Shedding lightness,
Like the brightness
When noon whiteness
Fills the tides.

Now bright pleasure's
Sparkling measures,
With rare treasures
Overflow!
With this gladness
Comes what sadness?
Oh, what madness!
Oh, what woe!

Even merit
May inherit
Some bare gullet,
Or the ground;
Or, a worse ill,
Beg a morsel
At some door sill!
Like a bound!

Storms are wailing,
Winds are trailing,
Howling, railing,
At each door,
Midst this trailing,
Howling railing,
List the wailing
Of the poor.

BEAR ON, BEAR BRAVELY ON.

O, never from thy tempted heart
Let thine integrity depart;
When disappointment fills thy cup,
Undaunted, nobly drink it up;
Truth will prevail, and Justice show
Her tardy honors, sure though slow,
Bear on, bear bravely on!
Bear on: our life is not a dream,
Though often such its mazes seem;
We were not born to lives of ease,
Ourselves alone to aid and please.
To reach a duty task is given,
A labor which shall fit for heaven;
When duty calls, let love grow warm,
Amid the sunshine and the storm,
With faith life's trials boldly breast,
And come a conqueror to thy rest.
Bear on, bear bravely on.

ANECDOTES.

A POOR ENDORSEMENT.—A worthy but poor minister, with a friend from the country, requested a few days since the loan of fifty dollars from the cashier of our bank; and in the note requesting the favor, he said that the cashier would oblige him, he would "pay him in ten days, on the faith of Abraham!" The cashier returned word that by the rules of the bank, the endorser of a note must reside in the State!

MAKING A BOOK.—Dr. Parr, said a young student once to the old linguist, "let's you and I write a book." "Very well," replied the doctor; "put in all I know, and all that you don't know and we'll make a big one."

MILITARY OFFICER.—"Well, captain," replied Cuff wiping his mouth with the necker of his shining coat-sleeve, "I see berry dry, so I won't be ugly 'bout it." Some niggers is too proud to drink with a milish officer—but, I tink a milish officer—when he's sober—is as good as a nigger—specially if de nigger's dry.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—What is your age miss? asked a gallant marshal of a young lady, about SIXTY, in the—discreet the other day. "What that's to you, Mr. Imperious?" said the fair one, drawing up and exhibiting a formidable chignon de frize of broken teeth. "It is very unpleasant question but it must be asked. What age shall I place you at—twenty I should think." "Yes," said the old girl, completely mollified, "I think it was twenty last spring—and the grateful damsel invited our friend to take a glass of wine and call again before he left town. The lady who was forty years old at the taking of the census in 1841, reports herself at thirty seven this year.

NEW DRY GOODS Establishment! REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid Wholesale and Retail Establishment Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON.

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide; And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills, Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS. Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and styles, from the lowest to the most costly. Merinos, Tibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirtings, Damasks, Danish Table Covers, Napkins, Doyles, Sheets, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES.

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, NOS. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBBLAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Tin Ware & Stove Store.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves, among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to render it effectually the objection often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction. Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan 12. 3m

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their

Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Muslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;

Prints and Ginghams in great variety;

Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters;

Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;

Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached

Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and

12 1/2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other

Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31. 3m

Quincy Washing Mixture.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty

families during the past week, and all have called

it equal to anything of the kind which they have

used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and

sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods

market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this wash wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

Quincy, August 3. 3m

QUINCY PATRIOT.

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE.

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

AS A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Store, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. 3m

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE TOWN HALL CLOTH AND CLOTHING

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF FANTALONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &c.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Quincy, March 23. 3m

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum), informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver WATCHES, Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 3m

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

Quincy, Sept. 23. 3m

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 51.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE—TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS IF NOT PAID TILL THE END OF SIX MONTHS—THREE DOLLARS IF DELAYED TILL THE EXPIRATION OF THE YEAR.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereover he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates. Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, Five CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and request to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	"Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVELY,	Shington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

HOW COAL WAS MADE.

Geology has proved, at one period, there existed an enormously abundant land vegetation, the ruins of which, carried into seas, and there sunk to the bottom, and afterwards covered over with sand and mud beds, became the substance which now recognize as coal. This was a natural transaction of vast consequence to us, seeing how much utility we find in coal, both for warming our dwellings, and for various manufactures, as well as the production of steam, by which so great a mechanical power is degenerated. It naturally excites surprise that the vegetable remains should have so completely changed their apparent character and become black. But this can be explained by chemistry; and part of the marvel becomes clear to the simplest understanding when we recall the familiar facts that damp hay, thrown closely into a heap, gives out heat and becomes of a dark color.

When a vegetable mass is excluded from the air and subjected to great pressure, a bituminous fermentation is produced, and the result is the mineral coal, which is of various characters, according as the mass has been originally intermingled with sand, clay, or other earthly impurities. On account of the change effected by mineralization, it is difficult to detect in coal the traces of a mineral structure; but these can be made clear in all except the highly bituminous cooking coal, by cutting and polishing it down and thin transparent slices, when the microscope shows the fabrics and cells very plainly. From distinct isolated specimens found in the sandstones amidst the coal beds, we discover the nature of the plants of this area.

They are almost all of a simple cellular structure, and such as exist with us in small forms, (horse tails, club mosses, and ferns) but advanced to an enormous magnitude. The species are long since extinct. The vegetation generally as such now grows in clusters in tropical islands; but it must have been the result of high temperature obtained otherwise than that of the tropical regions now is, for the coal strata are found in the temperate and even in the polar regions.

The conclusion, therefore to which most geologists have arrived is, that the earth originally an incandescent or highly heated mass, was gradually cooled down, until in the carboniferous period it fostered a growth of terrestrial vegetation all over its surface, to which the existing jungles of the tropics are mere barrenness in comparison. The high and uniform temperature, combined with a greater proportion of carbonic acid gas in the atmosphere, could not only sustain a gigantic and prolific vegetation, but would also create dense vapors, showers and rains; and these again gigantic rivers, periodical inundations, and deluges. Thus all the conditions for the extensive deposits of wood, in entanglements would arise from the high temperature, and every circumstance connected with the coal measures, points to such conditions.—Chamber Edinburgh Journal.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE.

We find related in a late number of the Courier des Etas Unis, a mysterious affair which recently created quite an excitement in the usually quiet city of Bordeaux, and which puts entirely in the shade the 'mysterious knockings' at Rochester, and the diabolical doings in Connecticut. Believing that anything that may tend to throw some light on these dark fantastical proceedings, and open the eyes of the too credulous, as to the absurdity of attaching the slightest importance to those supernatural doings. We translate the ghost story, omitting however some of the less important details.

About the middle of the Rue Naujac, stands

a small white house, with green blinds, and a garden and small yard in the rear. Only two tenants occupy the house.

During the last fortnight events of the most extraordinary character have occurred in the garden, in the rooms, and especially in the kitchen chimney of the ill-fated dwelling, and the whole neighborhood has been thrown into the highest state of excitement. People talked of nothing but ghosts and hobgoblins. Fear took possession of every heart and crowds congregated day and night, in front of the little house with green blinds, anxious to solve the awful mystery.

Now, these facts which occurred at the little house, with green blinds, throwing the honest tenants into dismal consternation.

One day, at sundown, at the hour when the soup kettle is placed on the fire, to warm up the soup for dinner, a stone suddenly fell through the chimney, smashing the earthen pot, scattering the coals about the room, and spilling the broth over the hearth.

The first time this thing happened, it was supposed that some fragment of brick or mortar having become detached from the chimney, had fallen down into the fire-place. This was a sufficiently natural supposition, and had we been the tenants, we would certainly have indulged it ourselves.

A new kettle, however, had scarcely been replaced upon the fire, when another big stone came like a thunderbolt, through the window, dashing the panes to atoms, and striking right in the middle of the kitchen, to the utter astonishment of the honest tenants, who could scarcely believe their own eyes. The inside shutters were instantly closed, and the family gathered around the hearth, to inquire the meaning of these mysterious attacks, and what invisible hand could have thus smashed the soup kettle, and broken the window glass. Courage returned after a while. Perhaps, suggested one, it was only some boys at play, who threw stones on the roof, and against the window.

We would have thought just so. This suggestion seemed to dispel the fears of the good tenants, and they set about to prepare anew their supper, when, oh, horrors! the hearth is inundated, the fire is extinguished, a dense smoke fills the room, and a considerable quantity of water is seen running down the chimney!

A general rush is instantly made towards the garden, in search of the evil spirits who dared thus to disturb the peace of inoffensive citizens. But at the same moment the back and front windows flew open, the glass was smashed to atoms, and in every room the stones came in like hail, striking several of the little children, and inflicting severe wounds upon them.

The family were in consternation, and shut themselves up, carefully closing all the inside shutters, which resounded with a constant hail of stones. Nobody went to bed that night.

The next morning, a complaint was made to the commissaire de police, who is supposed to have the power to rout all evil spirits.—The commissaire came, accompanied by the Deputy Sheriff, the Judge of Instruction, the clerk, and in fact, whole judiciary. Every one was submitted to a severe cross-examination, careful search was made in the garden, in the yard, in the rooms, the neighboring houses, adjoining houses and yards, the roof and the chimney, but to no purpose. Nothing was found, not the slightest trace of spirits, ghosts, hobgoblins, witch or conjurer.

The magistrates returned, believing it perhaps a mystification or a hallucination. But how could it be possible? There were the stones piled up in the chimney, and scattered about the rooms. There were the windows pasted up with paper, in place of broken glass, and a child was laid upon the bed, with the wound in its head bound up. These facts could not be denied.

During this, and the following days, in broad daylight as well as night, it rained stones from the garden and the yard, and torrents of water poured down the chimney, and inundated the kitchen in such a manner that it was impossible to cook the dinner; and yet the evils spirits, so extremely subtle and cunning, succeeded to escape the most minute search, and escaped all possible investigation.

One evening, their wickedness went even so far as to throw down the chimney, a dead cat! This it was supposed would be the finishing stroke, as a truce of some days tended to confirm the hope. But alas! the respite did not last long. The spirits resumed their infernal racket, and that too, under the very eyes of the police, who spared no effort or means to surprise them. They carried their audacity to the last extremity, but we must here remark, that they seemed to address themselves only to one of the tenants a man named Landon, an officer of the excise. It was at first thought to be some grudge against him, but afterwards he began himself to be suspected of making the disturbance. It was not so, however as it was proved afterwards.

About 8 o'clock, night before last, says a paper of March 6th, the Naujac street affair became more complicated. An evil spirit in the shape of a bulky some six feet in his boots, succeeded in gaining admittance to the house, under the pretence of being a law officer.—Once in the house, this spirit administered to officer Landon, a lesson in physical pugilism which would have done honor to a professional knight of the ring. Landon was not discouraged, however, and believing that this time, he had at last got hold of the real witch, he defended himself bravely, and snarled the face of the ghost with his sharp nails, leaving marks of the bloody conflict upon the face of the evil spirit.

This event, as wonderful and unaccountable as the dead cat which fell through the chimney upon the soup kettle, produced the deepest sensation in the neighborhood. 'It cannot be denied,' all said, 'that it's the devil in person who appeared and taken possession of the house with green blinds.'

The police remained on the spot night and day, and made the most thorough search in the recesses, presses, closets, under the beds, in the bedticks, the cupboards, and finally they explored the chimney and the cellar, but nothing, nothing, nothing!

In short, the police were completely at fault and dumbfounded, when a sudden inspiration of the victim of the devil, led to a discovery of the mystery.

The devil had taken another short respite, and his victim, Landon was walking quietly in his garden, entirely off his guard, when the infernal game was again renewed in the house. All of a sudden, a stone came from the direction of the window, then two, then three, to the utter dismay of the good lady, and the discomfiture of the soup kettle, which she was busily cooking. Alarmed, she ran out, and carried the stones to her husband, who could hardly believe his own eyes, for he had thick gratings put on the outside of his windows, and the stones which must of come through the gratings, were twice as large as the interstices!

This was witchcraft, magic, or the doings of the devil. Landon now convinced the idea of hiding himself under his bed, but he discovered nothing. At last, not knowing what to do, he said to himself, 'Who knows but my servant girl is a witch? for according to all laws of nature, these stones could never have come through the gratings. Either the girl or the devil must have thrown them.'—Thereupon the victimized tenant undertook to examine carefully the girl's eyes, for it is well known that there is something peculiar in the eyes of witches.

However he could discover nothing satanic in them. He then questioned her. At first she replied calmly; but afterwards suspicions having been expressed, she was angry, screamed, wept, sobbed, called Heaven to witness that she was not a witch, and the accusation was shameful and infamous.

The anger of the young girl, far from convincing the exciseman of her innocence, only strengthened his suspicions. 'I have it,' said he, rubbing his hands. He then spoke to her in a kind manner, declaring that he had seen all, threatened exposure to the police, and obtained a complete confession.

'The young girl,' says a Bordeaux paper, 'has made a full confession. She is the sole witch, who, for a whole month, has disturbed her diableries the house with green blinds and the whole neighborhood.'

This kitchen magicienne, improving a moment when her master could not see her, took a stone and let it fly. It was this which broke the glass and fell inside the window. There was a large vessel filled with water and laid in the corner of the chimney, and when all eyes were turned in another direction, a large quantity was thrown by her up the chimney, to come down again, laden with soot inundating the hearth and the kitchen floor. The dead cat made its appearance through the same process. These tricks, learned of a fortune-teller, in whose employment she once was, the girl had played off, week after week, without being detected by the most cunning; and she carried with her to prison, where she is now safely locked up, the consolation that the discovery was not made, at last, by the Police.'

THE FOOLS' PENCE.

In the year 183—, in a handsomely furnished parlor which opened out of that noted London gin shop called 'The Punch Bowl,' sat its mistress, the gaudily dressed Mrs. Crowder, conversing with an obsequious neighbor.

'Why, Mrs. Crowder, I really must say you have things in the first style! What elegant papering! what noble chairs! what a pair of fire-screens! all so bright and fresh! Then, the elegant stone-copings to your windows, and those beautiful French window-frames! And you have been sending your daughters to the genteel boarding-school; your ship is the best furnished, and your cellars are the best filled in all this part of Lunnun. Where can you find the needful for all these grand things? Dear Mrs. Crowder, how do you manage?'

Mrs. Crowder smiled, and cast a look of smiling contempt through the half open door, into the shop, filled with doughty customers. 'The fool's pence!'—'tis the fool's pence that does it for us,' she said. And her voice rose, more shrill and loud than usual, with the triumph she felt.

Her words reached the ears of one customer—George Manly, the carpenter, who stood near the counter. Turning his eyes upon those around him, he saw pale, sunken cheeks, inflamed eyes, and ragged garments. He then turned them upon the stately apartments: he looked through the door into the parlor, and saw looking-glasses, and pictures, and gilding, and fine furniture, and a rich carpet, and Miss Lucy in a silk gown, at her piano; and he thought to himself, how strange it is! how curious that all this wretchedness on my left hand should be made to turn in all this rich finery on my right.

'Well, sir—and what for you?' said a shrill voice which had made the fool's pence ring in his ears.

'A glass of gin, ma'am, is what I was waiting for; but I think I've paid the last fool's pence that I shall put down on this counter for many a long day.'

Manly hastened home. His wife and his two little girls were seated at work. They were thin and pale, really for want of food.—The room looked very cheerless, and their fire was so small as hardly to be felt: yet the dullest observer would have been struck by the neatness that reigned.

It was a joyful surprise to them, his returning so early that night, and returning sober, and in good humor.

'Your eyes are weak to-night, wife,' said George, 'or else you have been crying. I'm afraid you work too much by candle light.'

His wife smiled and said, 'working does not hurt my eyes;' and she beckoned to her little boy, who was standing apart, in a corner—evidently as a culprit.

'Why, John, what's this I see?' said his father. 'Come and tell me what you have been doing.'

John was a plain spoken boy, and had a straight forward way. He came up to his father, and looked full in his face, and said, 'The baker came for his money to-night, and would not leave the leaves without it; but though he was cross and rough, he said mother was not to blame, and that he was sure you had been drinking away all the money; and when he was gone, mother cried over her work, but she did not say anything. I did not know she was crying till I saw her tears dropping on her hands; and then I said bad words; and mother put me in the corner.'

'Tell me what your bad words were, John,' said his father; 'not swearing I hope?'

'No,' said John coloring; 'I said you were a bad man! I said, bad father!'

'And they were bad words, I am sure,' said his mother; 'but you are forgiven; so now bring me some coal from the box.'

George looked at the face of his wife; and as he met the tender gaze of her mild eyes now turned to him, he felt the tears rise in his own. He rose up, and putting money into her hands, he said, 'There are my week's wages. Come, come, hold out both hands, for you have not got all yet. Lay it out for the best, as you always do. I hope this will be a beginning of better doings on my part, and happier days on yours.'

George told his wife, after the children were gone to bed, that when he saw what the pence of the poor could do towards keeping up a fine house, and dressing out the landlord's wife and daughters, and when he thought of his own hard working, uncomplaining Susan, and his children in want, and almost in rags, while he was sitting drinking night after night, destroying his health and strength; he was so struck with sorrow and shame, that he seemed to come to himself at last. He determined, from that hour, never again to put the intoxicating glass to his lips.

More than a year afterwards, one Sunday afternoon, as Mrs. Crowder, of the Punch Bowl, was walking with her daughters to the tea gardens, they were overtaken by a violent shower of rain; and had become at least half-drenched, when they entered a comfortable looking house, distinguished by its comforts and tidiness from all others near it. Its good-natured mistress and her two girls did all they could to dry and wipe away the rain drops and mud-splashes from the ladies' fine silk gowns, all draggled and soiled, and to repair, as far as possible, every mischief done to their dresses and persons.

When all had been done that could be done and, as Miss Lucy said they began to look themselves again, Mrs. Crowder, who was lolling in a huge arm-chair, and amusing herself by a stare at every one and everything in the room, suddenly started forward, and addressing herself to the master of the house, whose Bible and whose face had just caught her eye.—'Why, my good man, we are old friends; I know your face I'm certain; still there is some change in you, though I can't exactly say what it is.'

'I used to be in ragged clothes and out of health,' said George Manly, smiling; 'now, thank God! I am comfortably clad, and in excellent health.'

'But how is it,' said Mrs. Crowder, 'that we never catch a sight of you now?'

'Madam,' said he, 'I'm sure I wish you well: nay, I have reason to thank you; for words of yours first opened my eyes to my own foolish and wicked course. My wife and children were half-naked and half-starved, only this time last year. Look at them, if you please, now—for sweet, contented looks, and decent clothes, I'll match them with any man's wife and children. And now, madam, I'll tell you, as you told a friend of yours one day last year,—'tis fool's pence that have done all this for us. The fool's pence!—I ought rather to say, the pence earned by honest industry; and spent so that we can ask the blessing of God upon the pence.'

Mrs. Crowder never recovered the customer she had lost.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A WIFE.

A New York editor says he had an introduction last week, to the heroine of the following sketch:

Mr. —, a merchant, now residing in Philadelphia, who formerly lived in rather an extravagant style, was in the habit of every Monday morning, of giving his wife a certain sum of money for the table and other household expenses of the week; he never mentioned his business to his wife, and she deemed him sufficiently capable of attending to his own affairs, never inquired into them. About five years after their marriage, through some slight mismanagement, and the rascality of his confidential clerk, Mr. — suddenly broke, and his fall was mentioned 'sympathizingly' on change, and, like all such matters, there all sympathy ended. The merchant kept the affair a secret, and the first intimation his lady had of it, was a news paragraph in the 'Ledger.' Shortly after dinner was over, on the discovery of the startling fact, Mrs. — requested her husband to remain in the parlor for a few moments, as she had something to say to him. She then left the room, hurried up stairs, and shortly after returned, with a splendidly bound Bible in her hand. Handing it to her husband, she said, 'George, the day after our marriage you gave me this precious book as a token of your love, and as a rich fountain to look to in the day of trouble. Its pages have been precious to me; and as your brow looks sad to day, I now return it to you, that you may glean from it some consolation in the hour of gloom.'—She then left the room.

The merchant opened the book carelessly, and a bank bill fell out. He picked it up, and glanced at his face—it was a $10 bill. He opened the book again, and another note of the same amount was before him. He opened it at the first page, and continued to find and X between every two leaves, till he arrived at the commencement of the book of Revelation. He was saved—could commence business, and had a capital of $9,000 to begin with.

He rang the bell—a servant appeared.

'Request your mistress to come to me immediately,' said the merchant.

The lady obeyed, entered the room with something between a tear and a smile.

'Kate! Kate! where did you procure all this money?'

'This is the weekly saving of our household expenses for the last five years,' was the modest reply. 'Every week I put ten out of the twenty dollars which you gave me in our Bible bank, that when a day of trouble came upon us, we should have something to save us from the wolf.'

'But why put them in the Bible, Kate?'

'Because it is a good bank, one which will not suddenly break,' replied the lady.

'You are an angel, Kate,' cried her delighted husband, clasping her to his heart.

And so she is. Does any one doubt it? There are thousands of such angels, despite the railings of miserable women-slandering bachelors.

CLAIRVOYANCE.

The following experiment will be an innocent bit of fun for the young folks, the coming winter evenings:

For the purpose of showing how, in reality, human nature may be misused by a simple contrivance, we will relate a little incident that occurred at Peale's Museum one rainy evening, several years ago. Ma'y, a well known clairvoyant, had just been 'put to sleep' when a gentleman at the father end of the exhibition room requested that she would tell him who made the hat he then wore. Her attendant, took the hat, and having read the maker's name inside, put the hat behind him. The following conversation then ensued between the attendant and the clairvoyant:

'Ma'y, can you see the name in this hat? If so tell what it is.'

'I can't see it plain. It looks misty and dim.'

'Perhaps you can spell it. Will you try?'

'Yes, sir, I'll try.'

'What is the first letter?'

'W.'

'And the next?'

'A.'

'Right. The next?'

'K.'

'Next?'

'N.'

'O. K. M. Now the next?'

'O.'

'Correct.'

'C.'

'Keep 'em.'

'K.'

'That will do,' said her interlocutor. 'She has spelled out warlock,' he continued, turning to the astonished audience, and that you perceive (showing the hat) is the name written here.'

Of course the reader has observed that the initials letters of the questions propounded were those which commenced the word, Warlock. And yet this bit of trickery, so simple when explained, was a great mystery to many present.

Aristotle, when censured for giving alms to a bad man, replied, 'I did not give to the man, I gave it to humanity.'

Never fret over the errors of the past but regard them as the dress of life and the monitors to the future.

Speaking without thinking, is like shooting without taking aim.

A wagon can run without greasing, and business can be done without advertising—but it is slow work.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. POSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

Attention will be given personally, at all times, to REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF

THESE, which his long experience in that department, and his friends and customers, can be found and acquaintance when in Boston

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Swenson. Also a good house and

Greatly Reduced Prices

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.

Source to their friends.

Public generally, that they compelled either to abandon

the "one price" system, or

to submit to a

MEATSACRIFICE

of their stock.

HAVING

and themselves to the Public,

"One Price" should be as LOW as the same goods could be bought on circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY

HEAVY LOSS!

THAN WOULD THEIR SYSTEM TO

BE PRESENTED AT THE HOUR

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX.

—AND—

ARKDOWN

OUR STOCK

ES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL

WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.

PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.

Wery and Glass Ware.

and to our previous assortment, new and

and Dining Sets, Washbowls,

and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Sept 1.

Brown's

AC Packet Memorandum and Account

in 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Nov. 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

and his wife, at two single gentleman have pleasant rooms and board, at the House of J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on Presidents street, opposite the depot.

Nov 16.

2m

FRY R. BRACKETT,

MISSION MERCHANT.

10. 40 STATE STREET,

(Up Stairs)

BOSTON.

Sept 21.

3m

Velvet Trimmings

received, an assortment of Velvet Trimming Colors, and for sale by GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Sept 21.

4f

Paper Hangings.

00 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

March 2

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1850

John A. Greer, Editor.

Singing School.—It is hoped that the Singing School commenced by Mr. Read at the Vestry of the Orthodox Church, and recently recognized under the care of Mr. Hanford will be borne in mind by all who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of a good School.

Mr. H. comes to us highly recommended as a man, and as a teacher of Sacred Music.

The next School will be on Monday evening (Dec. 24th), commencing at half past 6 o'clock. For terms see Patriot of last week.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Closing Mails.—The Mail for Boston will close at fifteen minutes before eight A. M.

The Fall River Mail will close at half past seven o'clock A. M.

Receiving Mails.—The morning Mail from Boston will be received at half past eight o'clock A. M.

The evening Mail from Boston will be received at five o'clock P. M.

The Fall River Mail will be received at half past five o'clock P. M.

On Sunday the Post Office will be open from eight until ten A. M. and from one o'clock until two o'clock P. M.

The Office will not be open Sabbath Evenings.

Wm. B. RUGGEE, P. M.

Quincy, December 21st, 1850.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—The Coroner was yesterday called to hold an inquest at 83 Avenue A. of the body of a child one month and 21 days old, named Madrie Hockrien, who was murdered on Monday night by its uncle John Schmidt, while in a deranged state of mind—verdict to this effect given by the jury. The Coroner also held an inquest on the body of Schmidt, who was a German, 31 years of age, who it appears, after murdering the child of his sister-in-law, blew his own brains out with a revolver. The testimony adduced before the Coroner went to show that Schmidt, on Monday night, refused his wife admission to the room and locked her out. She was then requested by a Mrs. Miller, who occupied a part of the house, to occupy one of her rooms for the night. Early yesterday morning the deceased was found lying in a closet of the room, dead, with a pistol lying beside him. The child was also found dead in the cradle, from the effect of a blow on the side of its head.

Mrs. S. testified that since her marriage with the deceased, he had been troubled with periodical fits of insanity, and was a very passionate man; that on Sunday he had threatened to take her life, and she had been fearful of his executing the threat. She could assign no reason for his murdering the infant, but the fact that its parents were indebted to him for its board. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by shooting himself through the head with a pistol, while in a state of insanity.—N. Y. Tribune.

Jenny Lind, it is said, received a letter from Abby Folsom inviting her to attend an anti-slavery meeting, and sing between the speeches.

Maria Mitchell, the female astronomer, was admitted to the honors of membership by the American Scientific Society at their recent session.

A type-setter out West, setting up the editor's obituary, says:

"He died, alas! Unwept, unlamented, and unknown!"

The Kennebec has closed over with ice at Hallowell, and the Penobscot, at Bangor. Navigation is probably suspended for the season.

A man named John Charbonneau, who resided in Detroit, Michigan, was on the 9th inst., murdered whilst asleep in his bed, and afterwards robbed. It is supposed that he had a large amount of money in his possession, and that the murder was committed for the purpose of getting it.

ANTI-SLAVERY MEETING.

The Anti Slavery Meeting at Weymouth, on Tuesday, of last week, was literally a perfect jam. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, by an intelligent and fashionable audience. The eloquent speaker, Hon. George Thompson, by his classical language and logical deductions interested all who were within the reach of his voice. We select from the proceedings on the occasion the following

H. Y. M. N. S.
BY OLIVER JOHNSON
Ain— Zion.

I.
Hark! a voice from Heaven proclaiming,
Comfort to the mourning slave;
God has heard him long complaining,
And extends his arm to save;
Proud Oppression
Soon shall find a shameful grave.

II.
See, the light of Truth is breaking
Full and clear on every hand;
And the voice of Mercy speaking,
Now is heard through all the land;
Firm and fearless,
See the friends of freedom stand.

III.
Lo! the nation is arousing
From its slumber, long and deep;
And the friends of God are waking,
Never, never more to sleep,
While a bondman
In his chains remains to weep.

IV.
Long, too long, have we been dreaming,
O'er our country's sin and shame;
Let us now, the time redeeming,
Press the helpless captive's claim,
'Till, exulting,
He shall cast aside his chain!

RIGHT ON!
Ain— "Lonez."

I.
Ho! children of the brave—
Ho! freemen of the land,
Who hurled into the grave
Oppression's bloody band;
Come on! come on! and joined be we
To make the fettered bondman free.

II.
Let coward vassals sneak
From Freedom's battle still;
Poltroons that dare not speak
But as their masters will;
Come on! come on! and joined be we
To make the fettered bondman free.

III.
On parchment, scroll, and creed,
With human life-blood red,
Entangling at the deed
Plant firm your manly tread!
The bench may frown, the pulpit rave,
But we will free the fettered slave.

IV.
The tyrant's scorn is vain,
In vain the slanderer's breath;
We'll rush to break the chain,
E'en on the jaws of death.
Hurrah! hurrah! right on go we;
The fettered slave shall yet be free!

V.
Right on, in freedom's name,
And, in the strength of God,
Wipe out the damning stain,
And break the oppressor's rod!
Hurrah! hurrah! right on go we;
The fettered slave shall yet be free!

TESE—O. M. Handed.

I.
From all that dwell below the skies,
Let the Redeemer's praise arise;
Let the Redeemer's name be sung,
Through every land, by every tongue.

II.
Eternal are thy mercies, Lord,
Eternal truth attends thy Word;
Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore,
'Till sun shall rise and set no more.

Communicated.
FRIEND GREEN.—Nothing stirring in Boston at present. The collected wisdom of the State will soon be at the state-house. Will the allied forces quiver? The White hope so. A few Democrats, like Gen. Cushing—a semi-Wing elected by Whigs in part—hope so. But the general opinion is that the opposition parties will unite in the legislature as they did last year.

The programme seems to be: Democratic Governor Free Soil Senator, Democratic Speaker of the House, Free Soil President of the Senate. The remainder of the spoils to be equally shared by two men.

Some fears are entertained respecting the nerves of Mr. Boutwell. Will he be lusty on the Sheriff and other officers who hold their offices at will? Has he the Jacksonian spirit? The Democrats and Free Soilers have languished and thirsted long enough. One would think there was a law prescribing them as ineligible for office. But there is a good time coming, we verily believe. Harvard College must be ransacked. Austrians must be left out of professorships. The University must be popularized, (what that means I don't know.) At least something must be done to secure the ascendancy of the victors in future elections.

Miss Kimberly, a Hartford lady, will make her first appearance on the boards in Boston next Monday. Her reading of Shakspeare were admirable, evincing fine taste and beautiful conceptions of the author's meaning. The success in the character of Julia Juliet and Rosalind at the Broadway in New York has set the theatrical world agog.

You must not fail to see and hear her during her engagement. She is a beautiful woman aside from her artistic merits and genius.

ISMAEL.

Boston Dec. 18th, 1850.

FOR THE QUINCY PATRIOT:

HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

The following resolutions, after a calm and candid deliberation were passed at a meeting of the Medical Class held at the Medical College of Harvard University, Tuesday Dec. 10th, 1850.

WHEREAS—It has been ascertained that permission has been granted to a Female to attend the Medical Lectures of the present Winter.

1st, Resolved.—That we deem it proper both to testify our disapprobation of said measure and to take such action thereon as may be necessary to preserve the dignity of the school and our own self-respect.

2d, Resolved.—That no woman of true delicacy would be willing to listen to the discussion of subjects that necessarily come under the consideration of the student of medicine.

3d, Resolved.—That we object to having the company of any Female forced upon us who is disposed to unsex herself and to sacrifice her modesty by appearing with men in the medical Lecture room.

4th, Resolved.—That we are not opposed to allowing women her rights, but do protest against her appearing in places, where her presence is calculated to destroy our respect for the delicacy and modesty of her sex.

5th, Resolved.—That the Medical Professors be, and hereby are, respectfully entreated to do away forthwith with an innovation extremely at variance with the spirit of the Introductory Lecture, with our own feelings, and preservation of the prosperity of not the very existence of the school.

6th, Resolved.—That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the Medical Society.

WHEREAS—Blacks have been admitted to the Lectures of the Medical Department of Harvard University.

1st, Resolved.—That we deem the admission of Blacks to the medical Lectures, highly detrimental to the interests and welfare of the institution of which we are members, calculated alike to lower its reputation in other parts of the country, to lessen the value of a diploma from it and to diminish the numbers of its students.

2d, Resolved.—That we cannot consent to be identified as fellow students with Blacks, whose company we would not keep in the streets, and whose society as associates we would not tolerate in our houses.

3d, Resolved.—That we have no objection to the elevation and Education of Blacks, but we do decidedly remonstrate against their presence in College with us.

4th, Resolved.—That we feel our grievances to be but the beginning of an evil, which, if not checked will increase, and that the number of respectable white students, will be in future in an inverse ratio to that of the Blacks.

5th, Resolved.—That we earnestly request the medical Faculty of the College to listen to this our remonstrance against the presence of such persons, and spare us the necessity of being in such company, or of our completing our medical studies elsewhere.

6th, Resolved.—That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the medical Society.

NORFOLK COUNTY TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION.

The sixth Semi-annual Meeting of this Association will be held in Dedham, at Temperance Hall, on Monday and Tuesday, the 23d, and 24th, of December, inst.

The association will meet at the above mentioned place on Monday, the 23d, inst, at half past ten o'clock.

Lectures will be delivered as follows:—

On Monday, at 11 o'clock, by D. B. Hagar, Esq., of Roxbury.

On Monday, at 3 o'clock, by Rev. Increase S. Smith, of Dorchester.

On Monday at 7 o'clock, by Rev. W. W. Dean, of Quincy.

On Tuesday at 3 o'clock, by Wm. H. Wells, Principal of the Putnam School, Newburyport.

Discussions will be held on subjects of general interest to the Teacher, and having a practical bearing upon the immediate duties and labors of the profession.

In accordance with a vote passed at the last meeting, the Secretary would invite teachers to write communications on subjects appertaining to the duties of the Schoolroom, wherein easy and efficient Methods of imparting Instruction, or of securing good Discipline, and of maintaining Studios Habits, Attention, Neatness, Punctuality, Regular Attendance, &c., in Schools, may be explained, and through this means generally disseminated.

It is believed that, if this new feature be adopted at our meetings, renewed interests will be awakened on the part of the Teachers, and that, from it, much practical utility will result. It is, therefore, hoped that the Teachers of Norfolk County will use their highest efforts to make it successful. Lady Teachers, especially, are invited to avail themselves of this medium in putting their views.

Communications may be addressed to the President, George Newcomb, Esq., of Quincy, or to the Secretary.

It is expected that accommodations will be provided for these Lady Teachers who may attend the Convention free of expense.

The School Committees of the various towns in the County, are earnestly requested to allow their Teachers sufficient time to attend the meeting.

CHAS. J. CAPEN, Secretary.

Dedham Dec. 5th, 1850.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

HON. MYRON LAWRENCE of Belchertown will deliver the ninth lecture before this Society the present season, on THURSDAY EVENING next, commencing at seven o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Village Ball.

The managers of the Village Ball are hereby notified that their next meeting will be held at the Hancock House, on Monday evening, Dec. 23d, at 7 1/2 o'clock a full attendance is requested.

Per Order.

W. B. LEARNED, Secretary.

Temperance Meeting.

The Ladies of Quincy, favorable to the temperance cause are requested to meet at Temperance Hall in Copeland's building near of Wm. S. Morton's Office) on Tuesday evening Dec. 24th, at half past six o'clock to see what measures they will take regard to the Temperance Levee to be held in this place on the 8th, of January.

Per order of the Committee of Arrangements.

WILLIAM NASH, Chairman.

E. H. STARBUCK, Secretary.

Grand Temperance Festival.

The Quincy Stone Division, No. 73 Sons of Temperance will hold a Social Levee in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening January 8th, 1851. This being the first affair of the kind that has been attempted in Quincy, it is hoped Temperance people will do all in their power to help the cause along. Addresses may be expected from some of the best speakers in the State. Good singing will be provided, and excellent music will be furnished by the Mechanics Brass Band of Braintree.

The chance box will not be forgotten, and the Postmaster General will be on hand for the accommodation of the million. In short, no pains will be spared to make the evening pass off as agreeably as possible.

The evening will conclude with a social dance. Doors open at 6 o'clock, exercises to commence at 7.

Tickets twenty-five cents, to be had at the hook-store, or either of the Committee of Arrangements, or at the door.

Per order of the Committee of Arrangements.

WILLIAM NASH, Chairman.

E. H. STARBUCK, Secretary.

Quincy, December 21st, 1850. 3w

W. B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by H. C. Redfern, and recently by D. R. Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. 1f

Hingham & Quincy

BRIDGE & TURNPIKE CORPORATION.

THE Proprietors of this Corporation, are hereby notified that their Annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the 6th day of January next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the choice of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may then come before them.

By order of the Directors.

LEMUEL BRACKETT, Clerk.

Quincy, Dec. 21st, 1850. 3w

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

COMBS,

FANCY ARTICLES,

PERFUMERY

AND.....HAIR WORK,

141 Washington Street, Boston.

SELLING OUT.

ON account of forming a new connection in business on the 1st of January next, the Subscriber will sell his present stock of

COMBS, PERFUMERY, FANCY ARTICLES & HAIR WORK at the lowest possible cash prices.

An opportunity is therefore afforded to those who design making CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS, to make a choice selection from a most extensive assortment at greatly reduced prices.

E. E. DYER, 111 Washington Street.

(Nearly opposite the Old South.)

Boston, Dec. 21, 1850.

His assortment of Combs is believed to be equal in quantity, quality and variety to any other establishment.

Needles of the best quality, manufactured expressly for the Subscriber, will be sold at four cents the paper. 4c

Boston Dec. 21st, 1850. 2w

Social Assembly.

THE first of a course of Assemblies, to be given at Laborer Hall, South Quincy, on CHRISTMAS EVE, Dec. 24th, 1850.

MANAGERS—Charles C. Brackett, Isaiah White, Jr., Peter Keating, &c.

Tickets $1.25, including Refreshments.

Dancing to commence at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Music by E. French's Band.

Deed Missing.

THE public are hereby informed that a Deed from Josiah French to Ovis Will for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no consideration was given, has been missed and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of this instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josiah French, Braintree, Dec. 21st, 1850. 3w

Christmas and New Year's

PRESENTS.

THE attention of the people of Quincy and vicinity are respectfully invited to the large and beautiful collection of

ANNUALS

AND.....GIFT BOOKS

Splendidly bound and Illustrated.

JUVENILE AND TOY BOOKS

FANCY STATIONERY AND GOODS.

especially designed for Presents, and adapted to the trade of this community—being a larger and more complete assortment, and which will be sold at lower prices for Cash than ever before known in this place, now exhibiting at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

The Proprietors of this Bookstore, take the present opportunity to express their thanks to the citizens of Quincy for the patronage in former similar occasions and will feel grateful to receive visits from them this season, being confident all will be satisfied with our Assortment, and while we assure them that nothing shall be wanting on our part, to supply the demand, we trust that our endeavors will be appreciated.

CALEB GILL & CO.

Quincy, Dec. 11 1850. 4w

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBBLAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

BY

A. B. PACKARD.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making it the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

HATS AND CAPS,

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. 1f

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Redfern, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Hooks, Gold Pencils and Pens, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Also, a good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy Goods.

Articles that cannot be obtained at the Store in Quincy, can be had at his store in the city, at No. 1 Washington Street.

N. B. The Store in Quincy will be under the Superintendence of Mr. W. B. LEARNED, who will give his personal attention to the repairing of Watches and Jewelry.

D. R. ADAMS.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 2w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

HEZEKIAH BASS,

late of Quincy, in the county of Norfolk, Cordwainer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to LEMUEL BRACKETT, Executor.

Quincy, Nov. 20 1850. 3w

Messenger's Notice.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK ss. Roxbury, Dec. 12th, 1850.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

FRANCIS M. LINCOLN, 31

of Colchester, in said County of Norfolk, Cordwainer, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Court Room, in Roxbury, in said County, on the Ninth day of January next, at ten o'clock, forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SHAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.

Dec. 14. 2w

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

SIMEON FAXON,

Watch & Jewelry Store.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the Public, that he has taken the Store recently occupied by E. C. Reardon, where he will keep constantly on hand a good assortment of Watches, Silver Spoons, Gold Chains, Finger Rings, Ear Pins and Pins, Breast Pins, Spectacles, &c.

Good assortment of fine Cutlery and Fancy that cannot be obtained at the Store in which he has taken the Store in No. 1

the Store in Quincy will be under the

of Mr. W. M. LEARNED, who will draw attention to the repairing of Watches.

D. R. ADAMS.

Oct. 12th, 1850.

2m

3m

4m

5m

6m

7m

8m

9m

10m

11m

12m

13m

14m

15m

16m

17m

18m

19m

20m

21m

22m

23m

24m

25m

26m

27m

28m

29m

30m

31m

32m

33m

34m

35m

36m

37m

38m

39m

40m

41m

42m

43m

44m

45m

46m

47m

48m

49m

50m

51m

52m

53m

54m

55m

56m

57m

58m

59m

60m

61m

62m

63m

64m

65m

66m

67m

68m

69m

70m

71m

72m

73m

74m

75m

76m

77m

78m

79m

80m

81m

82m

83m

84m

85m

86m

87m

88m

89m

90m

91m

92m

93m

94m

95m

96m

97m

98m

99m

100m

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston. West Woods, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Sept. 7th. 4m

To Let.

HALF of a house in front of Mr. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

House For Sale.

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, enquire on the premises of ALPHREUS HUNT. Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND. Quincy, Nov. 9th. 4m

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Sept. 28. 4m

To Let.

A convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND. Quincy, Aug. 10. 4m

Brooks' Railroad Express.

THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage thus far and respectfully announces that he still continues to receive passengers to and from the Railroad Station to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 1/2 cents each. All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whiton & Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Brooks' Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Brooks', will be promptly attended to. ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick despatch. THOMAS BROOKS. Quincy, Sept. 14. 3m

Black Writing Ink.

AT THE QUINCY BOOK STORE, will be found a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers. Nov. 16. 3m

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & CO. Washington Street Quincy. Quincy, Sept. 21. 3m

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds. Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit. Also, Flour by the barrel, or bag, as low as can be bought for cash. N. B. Goods delivered as usual. DANIEL BAXTER & CO. Quincy, Oct. 5th. 4m

W. Porter.

DEALER IN Pine, Spruce and Hemlock LUMBER, CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES, LATHS, PICKETS, CEDAR POSTS, &c., At his new Wharf near Brackett's. Quincy, July 31. 4m

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to JOHN WHICHER. Quincy, Oct. 5th. 4m

Apples.

BALDWIN and RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM. Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. 4m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 4m

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere. Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. 4m

French Call Boots.

MADE to order, in the newest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD, Hancock St., Quincy. Next door to the Quincy Bookstore. Quincy, May 5. 4m

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850. 3m

LADIES OF Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO. No. 1 TREMONT ROW, BOSTON.

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of NEW GOODS which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.

Every variety of SHAWLS, SILKS, of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES. FRENCH THIBETS and GERMAN MERINOS Of all Grades. FALL AND WINTER DRESS GOODS, VELVETS, FRENCH CLOAKS AND JACKS, New Patterns and Trimmings. Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business, to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the most fashionable and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW. Silk and Shawl Store. F. A. JONES & CO. NO. ONE TREMONT ROW, Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON. 6m

N. B. Geo. Savil & Co. Dealers in READY-MADE CLOTHING OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, AT ROUGH & READY HALL, WASHINGTON STREET, Quincy.

—O— A LARGE ASSORTMENT Constantly on Hand!! AND FOR SALE At the Very Lowest Prices!!! Also, A GOOD SELECTION OF GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS. Quincy, Sept. 25. 4m

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE Union, Division No. 179. JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams. The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board. Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c. All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost. No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale. Quincy, Oct. 5. 4m

A CARD!

J. A. Holden, Has just received the Fashions for the FALL AND WINTER OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN Broadcloths!!! A great variety of PANT GOODS, together with good styles of VESTINGS, &c.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them. Quincy, Sept. 14. 4m

FALL AND WINTER Just Received at the QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT, ON THE Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN BINEGEN WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of Fall and Winter Goods!!! Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DABLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN Manufacture. Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy Doe-Skins for Pants. VESTINGS of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIANES, &c. Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves. Garments made to order at very short notice, and by THE BEST OF WORKMEN. READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties. ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED. Quincy, August 31. 4m

Jewett & Prescott's SILK AND SHAWL STORE, No. 2 Milk Street, Boston. IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of NEW SHAWLS, SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS, that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of WHOLESALERS AND RETAIL PURCHASERS to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Suits, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marchese Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Gape Shawls; Bombazines; Alpines; and a large variety of similar goods. To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations. JEWETT & PRESCOTT, No. 2, Milk Street. Boston, August 31. 3m

NEW FALL & WINTER MILLINARY GOODS. MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgements to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Those wishing Straw BONNETS, RIBBONS, FLOWERS, etc., etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine. Also—a good variety of Misses and Childrens trimmings SATIN, FLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order. BONNETS altered, bleached and colored. For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts. For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work be added—if so, price accordingly. Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand. WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of Stone Temple Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Flour Barrels. 200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by J. & H. H. FAXON Quincy, Sept. 7th. 4m

Cider Vinegar. FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by DANIEL BAXTER & CO. Quincy, August 17. 4m

Singing School. THE members of the Singing School, recently commenced by Mr. T. Reed, and all others interested, are requested to meet in the Vestry of the Orthodox Church, on TUESDAY EVENING next, (the 17th inst.) to take measures to reorganize the School under the charge of Mr. Hanford, of West Cambridge. Quincy Dec. 14th. 3m

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of DRY GOODS, well adapted to the wants of the community. At all times can be found a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets, and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas, and a great variety of DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS, Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets. With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected Stock of Dry Goods. Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them. GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Washington Street, Quincy. A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House. Quincy, October 5. 4m

Let the Public Call. THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment. By attention to business and promptness to order at liberal share of support is solicited. Quincy April 13th. 4m

Apples for Sale. A few barrels of very good BALDWIN, RUSSETT & GREENING Apples, for sale by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 26. 3m

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS! AT THE OLD STAND, Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co. (who have moved to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St. No. 224 WASHINGTON, Corner of Summer Street, Boston. GEO. W. PETTES. Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of DRY GOODS, WHICH CAN BE EXPECTED FOR SALE. The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store. Please call and examine the elegant Stock of SHAWLS of all kinds, SILKS, DE LAINES, PRINTS, HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds, CLOTHING AND HOSIERY, TRIMMINGS, And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES. Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and purchase your goods, if you would consult your own interest. No. 221 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON. GEO. W. PETTES. Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3m

Letter Paper. FOLIO, Note & Bill Paper, Envelopes, Steel Pens and Holders, Black and Blue Ink, all of the best quality, now selling at the lowest prices for Cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE. Quincy, Nov. 21. 3m

Beautiful FAMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE. The public attention is invited to this new and excellent lot of Bibles, being the best ever offered in the town, and sold in favorable terms. Quincy, Nov. 24. 3m

For Sale. SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH Hay, by CHARLES P. TURRELL. Nov. 2. 4m

1851. THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE. Quincy Nov. 24. 1850. 3m

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves. A good assortment for sale low by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 5. 4m

New Fall and Winter Goods. IN great Variety, for sale at the very lowest prices by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 5. 4m

Magazines. FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's Petersons, Godey's Lady's Book, &c., for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE. Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851. 3m

Pies, Puddings, Cakes, &c. MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Citron, Lemon, etc. Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c. Quincy, Nov. 15. 4m

Dr. C. S. Mann, MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY, HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET, Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq. Nov. 2. 6m

Potatoes. 150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by D. BAXTER Co. Quincy, March 9th. 4m

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M. For Bridgewater, 8 1/2 A. M.; 4 1/2 P. M. For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3/4, 8 1/2 A. M.; 134, 3 4, 4 1/2, 9 1/4 P. M. For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1/2 A. M.; 3, 6 P. M. For Milton, U. M., 9 3/4 A. M.; 1, 2 3/4, 5 1/2, P. M. Plymouth for Boston, 7 1/4 A. M.; 3 1/4 P. M. Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1/2 A. M.; 3 1/2 P. M. Cohasset for Boston, 6 3/4, 8 A. M.; 4 P. M. Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1/2 A. M.; 1 3/4, 4 3/4, P. M. Braintree for Boston, 7 18, 8 1/2, 9 3/4, 11 04, A. M. 2 45, 4 1/2, 5 13, P. M. The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree. JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't. 7oston, July 25. 4m

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:— 7 34, 8 35, 9 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 32 5 16 P. M.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c. MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c. Among which are Whittman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy); Billings' Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jacon's Germantown Balm; Anti Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases. Quincy, July 20. 4m

Judd's Medicated Liquid Ointment. FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, preventing air and much superior to its leading properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle. Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, August 31. 4m

Wood at Auction. WILL be sold at public auction, on THURS. DAY next, Dec. 5th, at nine o'clock in the afternoon, all the Wood standing on the Babal Pasture, belonging to the Adams School Fund. The Wood is near the Town Road, very easy of access, and shows one-fourth of a mile from William Fisk's house. Those who wish to purchase their fuel cheap will do well to attend the sale. By order of the Supervisors. L. G. HORTON, Auct. Quincy, Nov. 30. 1w

Potatoes. 500 BUSHELS of high Red Potatoes of extra quality and free from rot. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Nov. 30. 4m

Estate of Simon Williams. NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the estate of the said Simon Williams, late of Braintree in said County, Bostonmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 15th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed under the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same, the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesday of February, March and April next, from two to four o'clock P. M. JONATHAN FRENCH, DAVID N. HOLLIS. n166w

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Good and Estate of DAVID LITTLEFIELD, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to FREEM

POETRY.

THE EARLY DEAD.

Communicated.

'Blest the dead, the early dead,
Tears for them shall not be shed—
Mercy gives a gentle doom,
Leads them to the sheltering tomb.
While the sky of life is bright,
Ere the coming on of night;
Those that linger long shall know
Storm and darkness, cold and snow;
But secure in peaceful rest,
Lie the early dead—the blest!

From the spring time bowers they flee,
Ere one glossy leaf was dead;
While the bee was in the flower,
While the bird sang in the bower;
Fragrance floating all around,
Mingled with delicious sound—
We shall know them melt away,
They shall mourn not their decay;
Birds shall sing and roses bloom
O'er the early envious tomb.

Gone! with buoyant, hearty and young,
But to tones of rapture strung!
Ere the jarring notes of care
Mingle discord with despair—
They shall feel no power decline,
See not strength nor beauty pine;
Know no friends to death depart,
Never mourn for treachery's smart—
Happy dead escaped from pain
All must feel who yet remain!

Better than the best of life
Is a respite from its strife;
Those that live shall sigh for death,
Draw in pain their lingering breath;
But no pang shall ever grieve
Sleep of yours—too sweet to leave,
When the "life of life" is o'er,
Life has only death in store;
Joy for those and triumph high,
Blessed dead, who early die.

CHURCH SCANDAL.

That tall young fellow's here to-day!
I wonder what's his name?
His eyes are fixed upon our pew—
Do look at Sally Dame.

Who is that lady dressed in green?
It can't be Mrs. Leach;
There's Mr. Jones with Deacon Giles—
I wonder if he'll preach?

Lend me your fan, it is so warm
We both will sit at prayers;
Mourning becomes the widow Ames—
How Mary's bonnet flares.

Do look at Nancy Shoper's veil!
It's full a breadth too wide;
Is it odder if Susannah Ayres
Appears to day a bride?

O, what a voice Jane Rice has got!
Why, how that organ roars!
I'm glad we've left the singer's seats—
How hard Miss Johnson snores.

What ugly shawls are those in front!
Did you observe Ann Wild?
Her new straw bonnet's trimmed with black,
I guess she's lost a child.

I'm half asleep—that Mr. Jones,
His sermon's so long;
This afternoon we'll stay at home
And practise that new song.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

FROM A FORTH-COMING WORK—NOW IN PRESS.

'Thus shines the present, safe from war's alarms—
You'll find in peace your old ancestral farms,
Bathed with the Spring the busy task begin,
And feast at Autumn, when the harvest's in.
Crowned is the board with all that man desires,
Bright blush the ceilings with your ruddy fires—
But brighter eyes are beaming round the board,
With mirth and fun, with love and frolic stored.
For who is sad when old Thanksgiving comes,
With all its wealth of sweetmeats, pies and plums?
Behold the farm house!—at the old farm gate,
A merry group in high expectation wait.
The happy farmer, and the welcome guest,
The city cousin—very nicely dressed!
The village beauty in her bran new hood,
The happy children—most discreetly good;
The mother waiting for her eldest son,
Who brings the bride, he has but lately won;
The village lovers, who have come to share
The evening revel and the generous fare;
The little boys, with collars white as snow,
Who all the good things in the larder know;
The little girls,—their hair with ribbons tied,
Who wait to welcome the expected bride;
The trusty house dog, with his knowing face,
Who seems to think that something will take place,
'Though what that something is, he does not know,
Walks gravely round with steps serenely slow.
But see they come, the jingling bells are heard,
Forth flies to meet them, many a welcome word;
The mother holds within her warm embrace,
The new found daughter, with her smiling face;
The boys and girls around their brother crowd,
With eyes all welcome, and with greetings loud.
Oh! happy group; and oh! most happy day!
Ne'er shall New England see its fame decay,
It shall live, and all the future yet—
Shall never once Thanksgiving day forget.

ANECDOTES.

"Figgers won't lie, will they?" muttered a seedy genius, holding on to a lamp post. "Well, perhaps they won't; but I'm a figure as won't stand anyhow!"

Mrs. Parrington says nothing displeases her so much as to see people who profess to expect salted eggs, go to church without their purses, when a recollection is to be taken.

Useful Recipes—For keeping your temper—Never get into a passion.
For getting on—Never be in a hurry.
For avoiding mistakes—Don't express opinions.
For improving the memory—Never forget anything

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES, Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. J. B. BRACKETT, certifies him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO., ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR

TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE.

OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING

Pledged themselves to the Public, that their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,

—AND—

MARKDOWN

OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.

FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.

Nov. 2.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account

Book, for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

Jeffrey R. Brackett,

COMMISSIONER MERCHANT

NO. 40 STATE STREET,

(Up Stairs.)

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 21.

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th.

Bay State Long Shawls.

A Assortment just received of the different sizes

Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St. Quincy, Sept. 21.

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24.

For Cash Only.

Wood, Wood, Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th.

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 9th.

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL, for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds

Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver.

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 5, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasant effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would pa

ticularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH AND AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF FANTASY CLOTHING.

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

Mrs. E. Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage

she has received for more than

twenty years, offers to her friends

and the public an ENLARGED

STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the

sick, among which are, SPOUT

DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses;

Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain,

ivory and silver, with and without

Shells; India Rubber Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and

Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans;

Metal and Glass Syringes;

Crain's, Jugg's and Chapin's Supporters;

Horse Hair Mittens;

English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;

Spread Plasters, on Kid, cloth and paper;

Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;

Distressing Paper and Tissue Dressing; European

Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving

the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST RATE article of PORK and BEEF, packed

ed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel

or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for

CASH.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, March 16th.

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE

just received and for sale at the Union Store, on

Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone China Tea Sets

1.75

Mulberry " " "

1.75

Light Blue " " "

1.37

White " " "

1.37

—AND—

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL

FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 1850

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

Of the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices

Ladies are invited to examine them before pur

chasing.

JOSHUA BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5.

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from

some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe.

Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS,

and comes very cheap.

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding

Suits. Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!

Of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenades or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market.

Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valenciennes, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that has ever been our pleasure to present

to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL

SHIRTS and DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS

CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th.

Particular Notice.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of

OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced

prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to

call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept. 7th.

BAY STATE MILLS

BAY STATE SHAWLS, Mantles and scarfs.

in the latest and most approved styles.

Also, Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls,

will be furnished by the subscribers in any quantity,

at the lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice that the genuine Bay State shawls bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other woolen shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.

Orders solicited from all sections of the country,

and the same will be promptly attended to.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2 Milk Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, August 24.

3mos

REMOVAL.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of

Y STATE SHAWLS, Hankies and Scarfs.
in the latest and most approved styles.

Gentlemen's Travelling Shawls,
furnished by the subscribers in any quantity, lowest prices. Purchasers will please notice the genuine Bay State shawls bear tickets corresponding with the above cut, and they will also be distinguished from all other shawls by their superior finish, fine texture, and brilliancy of colors.
Orders solicited from all sections of the country,
and will be promptly attended to.

NEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No. 2 Milk Street,
BOSTON.
Mon, August 24 3mo

REMOVAL.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Cupland, it being more convenient and better adapted to his business; and also,
would tender his sincere
thanks for the liberal share of
patronage which he has received during the past year, and promises to continue to do so, and to keep the public generally as well as individuals, where will be found a variety of Stoves, and which is the

New England Air-Tight,
living, in the highest degree of perfection, every and quality requisite for any latitude. This patent is made of iron, and is of a most admirable construction, giving it the appearance of a stove and tastefully made piece of cabinet work. Internally, the location and capacity of the Chamber is such as to remove effectually the fumes often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely as projected, intended it should be, viz. the best and most perfect ever constructed in a family stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility
and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any before used, and are of such construction and arrangement as to ensure the most perfect draught, with safety to fill up, and are easily kept clean, and are so constructed as to have been sold the year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.
A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan 12.

QUINCY WASHING MIXTURE.

This article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called to any of the kind which they have heretofore used. The subscriber will manufacture and sell 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, in quantities accompanying it.
This improvement, it is expected the dry goods will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this mixture longer and be whiter; consequently, not so will now be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, Jan 12.

Wood, Wood.

OR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, no
Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITTON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17.

Seed Barley.

TO 100 BUSHELS of first quality seed Barley, which will be sold very
cheap for CASH.
D. BAXTER Co.
Quincy, March 26th.

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly,
Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions and furnishing the Numbers free of any expense for postage or transportation. A list of the names of the Magazines can be sent supplied with all the numbers for the time which they pay. For Terms please apply at the NEW BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be exchanged or single numbers purchased at the lowest price.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

RE celebrated "Der Schen Glanz," or Jenny Laud Hair Gloss, (Common's) Schen Lustral, or other hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorine oil; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules de vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.

RE received, and for sale by the subscribers
wholesale and retail.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Wool Frocking.

TO 200 yds of all wool FROCKING, an
extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Wool-FROCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Austin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
and Goughams in great variety;
nature Patterns, some very low, for Comforters;
and Cotton Flannels, of all colors;
all Yarn, of all colors;
and Assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Linen and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 10 cents per yard;
either with a GREAT VARIETY of other goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31st.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 52.

QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1850.

VOLUME 14.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two Dollars and FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped
previous to the payment of all arrears unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereover
he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted
at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and
charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements
for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales,
sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.
Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.
Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive
pay and requested to procure subscriptions:
JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE, "Stone Quarries."
ORIN P. BACON, "Dorchester."
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, "Weymouth."
JOSEPH CLEVELY, "Barnstable."
SAMUEL A. TURNER, "South Scituate."
N. B. OSBORNE, "Salem."
FREMANT HUNT, "New York City."

MISCELLANY.

THE LOST PAPER.

BY W. B. P.

"John, what has become of last week's paper?" inquired Mr. C., of her husband.

"Surely, wife, I cannot tell. It was brought from the office, I think."

"Yes, James brought it home on Saturday evening; but neighbor N.—and his wife being here, he laid it on the parlor table."

"O, N.—has got the paper. I remember, now, of lending it to him."

"I am very sorry for that. I think you do wrong, husband, in lending the papers before we have read them. He who takes a paper, and pays for it, is certainly entitled to the first perusal of it."

"Yes; but N.—asked me to lend it, and how could I refuse so kind and obliging a neighbor. I am sure he would lend me his, if he took one, and I should want to borrow."

"Don't N.—take a paper?" inquired Mrs.
C., with surprise.

"No."

"Why not? He is, as he says, always fond of reading."

"Yes; but he seems to think himself unable to pay for one."

"Unable? He is certainly able as we are.
He pays a much larger tax; and he is always bragging of his superior estate, and—"

"Hush, wife! It is wrong to speak of our neighbors' faults behind their backs. He promised to return the paper to-day."

"I hope he will. It contains an excellent story that I desire much to read."

Mrs. C. was an excellent lady, and probably possessed as liberal feelings as her peace-loving husband; but she could not believe it to be their duty to furnish a free paper for their more wealthy, yet covetous neighbor.

N.—had formerly taken a paper, but thinking it too expensive, to the no small discomfort of his wife and children, he had ordered its discontinuance. He, however, dearly loved to read, and had, for a year or more, been in the habit of sending "little Joe" on the disagreeable errand of borrowing old papers of his neighbors.

Mrs. C., waited patiently through the day, expecting soon to see little Joe coming with the paper; but the day passed as likewise did the evening, and no paper came.

The next morning, she was heard to say,
"Well John the paper has not been returned yet."

"Ah, indeed, I guess neighbor N.—has either forgotten his promise, or is absent from home," replied Mr. C.

"I think," she continued, "we had better send James down after it."

"Would it not be best, wife to wait until afternoon? N.—may return before that time."

"As you think best," was the submissive reply.

They waited until nearly dark, but no paper made its appearance. James, a smart lad of ten years, was now instructed to proceed to neighbor N.—'s, and get the paper. He soon arrived and made known his errand. He was very politely informed that it was lent to R.—
the blacksmith, who lived about half a mile further on. James, unwilling to return home without it, resolved, notwithstanding the lateness of the hour, to continue on to the blacksmith's.

It was quite dark when he arrived, but he soon made his business known, and was informed by Mr. R.—that "little sis got hold of the old, ugly paper, and tore it all up." "I'll take the fragments," said James who was for having nothing lost.

"The fragments, Jim?" exclaimed Mrs. R.,

"Old Donk, the pedler, come along here to-day, and I sold 'em with the paper rags."

James, somewhat dispirited by his unsuccessful mission, and not being very courageous in the dark, silently beat a hasty retreat for home, where in due season he arrived and reported the result of his errand. "Ah!" very com-posedly remarked Mr. C., "I suppose R.—asked neighbor N.—to lend him the paper, and he did not like to deny him. We cannot, I think, justly accuse either of doing intentionally wrong; and one paper," continued he "is of little value."

"You may argue N.—'s case as you please," replied Mrs. C., "but be assured of one thing."
"What is that?" asked Mr. C., with evident fear.

"Nothing, only neighbor N.—will not long be at the inconvenience of troubling people for old papers."

In about three weeks after this conversation, N.—was informed by the Post Master that he had a paper in the office. He was highly pleased at the announcement, but he could not think who was so very kind as to send him the paper. After many conjectures however, he came to the conclusion that it was some friend whom he had assisted in former years.

One year had passed; the papers continued to come, and N.—was still ignorant from whence they came; but being one day at a "hauling," he informed his neighbors of his good fortune, and expressed some fear that he should have to do without a paper soon.

"No you won't!" said James C., in a loud tone of voice; "for mother sent on two dollars more for you, last week."

"Well, done, Jim!" shouted a dozen voices, while a simultaneous roar of laughter rang along the line of teamsters. N.—, who had, previous to this announcement, been remarkably cheerful and talkative, became suddenly silent, while a deep red color, the emblem of shame, mantled his brow. This was a good lesson for N.—. Early the next morning he went and paid Mrs. C. the four dollars, acknowledging his error, and he was never after known to take less than two weekly papers.—Maine Farmer.

A FENCY COUNTRY.

"Tis really astonishing what a monstrous sight of mischief there is in a pint of rum.—
If one of 'em' was to be submitted to an analysis, as the doctors call it, it would be found to contain all manner of devilment that ever entered the head of man, from cussin and steal-in up to murder, and whipping his own mother, and nonsense enough to turn all the world out of their senses. If a man's got any badness in him, it'll bring it out just as sassafras tea does the measles; and if he's good for nuthin sort of a feller, without no bad traits in perticular, it'll bring out all his greenness. It affects different people in different ways—it makes some men monstrous brave and full of fight, and some it makes cowards—others makes feel rich and happy, and some poor and miserable; and it has a different effect on different people's eyes—some it makes see double, and some so blind that they can't tell themselves from a side of bacon. One of the worst cases of rum-follery that I've heard of for a long time, took place in Plinville last fall.

Bill Sweeney and Tom Culpepper are the two greatest old coveys in our settlement for counterfeiting. The fact is, they don't do much of anything else, and when they can't catch nothing you may depend coons is scarce. Well, one night they had everything ready for a regular hunt, but owing to some extra good fortune, Tom had got a pocket-pistol, as he called it,
of regular old Jimmakey, to keep of the rumatics.
After taking a good start in their hunt, they went out on their hunt, with their litewood torch blazin, and the dogs barkin and yelpin like forty thousand. Every now and then stoppin to wait for the dogs, they would drink one another health's till they began to feel very comfortable, and chatted away about one thing and another, without mindin much which way they were gwine. Bimeby they came to a fence.
Well over they got, 'bout much difficulty.

"Who's fence is this?" ses Bill.
"Taint no matter," says Tom, "lets take suthin to drink."

After taking a drink they went on, wonderin what on yearth cum of the dogs. Next thing they cum to was a terrible muddy branch.—
After pullin through the briars, and gettin on toter side, they took another drink, and after gwine a little further they came to another fence—a monstrous high one this time.

What upon yearth have we got too, Culpepper?" ses Bill, "I never seed such a heap of branches and fences in these parts."

"Why," ses Tom, "it's all old Sturlin's doins
—you know he is always bilin fences and making infernal improvements, as he calls 'em.
But never mind—we's through them now."

"Guess we is," ses Bill; "here's the alder-doo fall fences yet."

Shure enough they were right agin another fence. By this time, they began to be considerably tired and limber in the joints, and it was sash a terrible high fence—Tom dropped the last piece of the torch and that they were in the dark.

"Now you is done it," ses Bill.
Tom know'd he had, but he thought it was not used to grieve over spilled milk, so snit re, "Never mind, old hoss—cum ahead, and I will take you out," and the next minit kerlash he went into the water.

Bill hung on to the fence with both hand-like he thought it was slewin round to throw him off.

"Hellow, Tom," ses he, "whar in the world is you got to?"

"Here I is," ses Tom, spouting the water out of his mouth, and coffin like he'd swallowed something. "Look out, thar is another branch here."

"Name o' sense, whar is we?" ses Bill. "If this is't a fency country, dad fetch my buttons."

"Yes, and a branchy one too!" ses Tom;
"and the highest and thickest that I ever seed in my born days."

"Which way is you?" ses Bill.

"Here, rite over the branch."

The next minit in Bill went up to his middle in the branch.

"Cum ahead," ses Tom; "let's go home."
Cum thunder! in such a place as this,
whar a man ham't more'n got his coat tail hitched from a fence, fore he's over his head and ears in the water."

After getting out and feelin about in the dark a little, they got together again. After taking another drink, they set out for home, denouncing the fences and branches, and helpin one another up now and then; but they hadn't got more'n than twenty yards fore they brung up all standin in the middle of another branch.
After gettin through the branch and gwine about ten steps, they were brung to a halt by another fence. "Dad blame my picture," ses Bill, "if I don't think we is bewitched. Who upon yearth would build fences all over creation this way?"

It was bout a hours job to get over this one, but after they got on the top they found the ground on toter side 'thout much trouble.—
This time the bottle was broken, and they came monstrous near having a fight about the cistern. But it was a very good thing, it was, for after crossin two or three more branches, and climin as many more fences, it got to be daylight, and they found out that they had been climin the same fence all night, not more'n a hundred yards from whar they first cum to it.

Bill Sweeney ses he can't account for it no other way but that the licker sort o' turned their heads, and he says he does reely believe if it had'n gin out they been climin that same fence, and wadin that same branch till yet.—
Bill promised his wife to join the Temperance Society, if she won't never say no more about the Coon Hunt."

BRIDAL QUARRELS.

A trifling disagreement about a trifling matter may destroy a life of enjoyment. And it usually happens that when the married pair do quarrel, the occasion is so despicable they are ashamed to think of it. Yet that silly circumstance, like a drop of ink discoloring a whole vessel of water, often spreads its influence over the whole life. Just as

"A pebble in the stream scant
Has turned the course of many a river;
A dew drop on the baby plant
Has warped the giant oak forever."

I find an exceedingly painful illustration of these ideas in an English publication, for the truth of which its author pledges his word.

A young couple had passed the first weeks of their marriage at the house of a friend.—
Having at length occupied their new home, they were taking their first breakfast, when the following scene occurred:

"The young husband was innocently opening a boiled egg in an egg-cup. The bride observed that he was breaking the shell at what she thought was the wrong end." "How strange it looks," said she, "to see you break the egg at the small end, my dear! No one else does so; and it looks so odd."

"O, I think it's quite as good, in fact better than breaking it at the large end, my love, for when you break the large end, the egg runs over the top," replied the husband.

"But it looks very odd, when no one else does so," rejoined the wife.

"Well, now, I really do think it is not a nice way that you have got of eating an egg. That dipping strips of bread and butter into an egg certainly is not tidy. But I do not object to your doing as you please, if you will let me break my egg at the small end," rejoined the husband.

"I am quite sure my way is not so bad as eating fruit pie with a knife, as you do, instead of using the fork; and you always eat up the syrup as if you were not accustomed to have such things.—You really do not see how very bad it looks, or I am sure you would not do so,"
added the wife.

"The syrup is made to be eaten with the pie, and why should I send it away in the plate?" asked the husband.

"No well bred persons clear up their plates as if they were starved," said the bride; with a contemptuous toss of her little head.

"Well, then, I am not a well bred person," replied the husband angrily.

"But you must be, if we are to be comfortable together," was the sharp answer of the fastidious lady.

"Well, I must break my egg at the small end, so it does not signify; and I must also eat the syrup."

"Then I will not have either fruit pies or eggs at the table."

"But I will have them," petulantly exclaimed the husband.

"Then I wish I had not been married to you," cried the young wife bursting into tears.
"And so do I," added the now incensed husband, as he arose and walked out of the room.

This domestic quarrel was followed by others equally trifling in their origin and disgraceful in their character; until the silly couple made them so disagreeable to each other that their home became unendurable, and they separated.

Now, I doubt not, the reader is ready to pronounce this quarrel about opening an egg, a foolish affair. It was so; and yet I seriously question if the first quarrel between a newly married pair ever has a much more elevated beginning. Little things do great mischief, and are to be watched with suspicious care.—
Bridal Greetings.

THE PARTIAL CAT.

The story of "The religious Dog" in the Congregationalist of September 27th, brought to our remembrance a scarcely less remarkable cat, that recently belonged to an aunt of mine, from whose lips I had the following, and many other interesting details. Now my aunt is one of the best of women, the widow of a clergyman, not a hundred miles from Boston, who would not for the world state what was not strictly true, and if her cat, if not "religious,"
was a great favorite in the family, and endowed with some qualities not usually credited to her humble species.

Puss, at one time, had a very interesting family of kittens. They were all bright and active, but one of them was observed to have a greater resemblance of its mother than the rest, and was the prettiest kitten of the whole, and the mother showed a peculiar attachment to it. A neighbor begged one of them of my aunt—and being allowed her choice, selected this favorite and carried it home. All this occurred in the absence of the feline mother, who, on her return, evidently observed with concern the absence of her pet. She immediately commenced searching the house and out-buildings, insisting on having the doors opened for her admission to all the rooms in the house, and when satisfied that it was not on the premises, she instituted a similar search through the neighborhood. Occasionally she would return to her remaining little ones for the purpose of meeting their demands on her for nourishment, and then she would renew the search for her lost favorite. Having explored the premises of all the near neighbors, she at length entered the last house in the village, when she found the object of her long and persevering pursuit. She carressed it with every manifestation of maternal fondness and delight, fed it, and then, much to the surprise of the lady of the house, took her departure, leaving the kitten behind. She was not, however, long absent. In a few hours she returned,
bringing one of her other kittens in her mouth, which she placed on the floor beside the newly found. Ah! thought the lady—so I am to have the mother and all her progeny quartered upon me. This, however, was not the intention of the cat, for after carressing the kitten she had just brought, for a few moments, she took the other in her mouth and carried it to its former home, and never afterwards visited the one she had given in exchange for it.— Congregationalist.

A SCENE IN JUSTICE'S COURT.

BY AN ARKANSAS LAWYER.

In the country of Dallas, and not a great way from the court house, lives one Robert Rudon, familiarly known on account of his bombastic deportment as "the Chief of Justice." Notwithstanding this individual has long since distinguished himself by his peculiar fact of making pocket change, he managed about two years ago to get a commission as justice of the peace. At his third or fourth sitting, I was retained to defend a client, in one of the chief justice courts. Upon examining the papers, and finding that they had no sort of connection whatever with the case, I concluded to make a buncombe speech, (being a stranger in the digressions,) dismiss the case and be off. Accordingly, when called, I rose with all the dignity I could command, and made the motion. In doing so, I spoke "loud and long" of the chivalrous days of '76, recounted the scenes of Bunker Hill and Saratoga, I dwelt upon the liberties of the people, and their sovereign will; I talked of the bone and sinew of the country, and particularly the hardiness of the west. When I thought that enough had been said for myself and the crowd, I closed as I began, by asking the court to dismiss the case.

The chief Justice, after pausing a few moments, began—"Well, squire, you made a bully speech by jingo; you talked like Bill Yancy did when he got me out of that scrape forward; but they don't know anything about that here, and you told the law too; squire, that's just as it reads in Alkin's law book, what I brought with me from Alabama ten years ago; I've got it in my very chest at this very time, covered in deer skin, dressed with the hair on; by golly, to think of old Alabama when General Harrison was a candidate, makes me want to liquor."— Sheriff, (calling to the constable,) stop the court till we take a drink; but, never mind, we'll soon be through."

"As I was goin' to say squire, you fairly made me shiver when you talked about fightin' for liberty and our forefathers, &c., and I tell you, you told the law too, right out, but they didn't send this court to the legislature when it wanted to go, and as this court didn't help make the laws, it be of opinion that it aint bound to go by um; I talked it all over last night to the old woman and I wrote a judgment this morning while she was making coffee and milkin' the cows."

"Very well," said I, "I am bound by the opinion of your honor, but seeing the court pause I had not thought your honor's opinion made up." "Ah," says the court, "I was just studying whether to add in a treat with the cost.
Being satisfied, from what had been done, that I could have no sort of showing in that court I withdrew to one side to see how other matters would go on."

The court soon called another case, but had not progressed far in the investigation when he stationed himself in his seat and called out,
"Colonel Rotch, this court is in session." "I know," replied the Colonel, "but I have no business in court." The infuriated justice again called out, "Colonel Rotch, it is court is in session." The chagrined colonel again replied,
"May it please your honor, I have no business in court;" but, says the justice, "you whistled; this court don't want its dignity whistled at. I fine you five dollars. Col. Rotch is an old gentleman, who claims to be one of the first families of—, and prides himself upon what he has seen, heard, and done. At the mention of the five dollars the colonel seemed to be much hurt; it was degrading and mortifying to him to be fined by an Arkansas court.
Feeling, however, that he was caught in a tight place, his next move was to get off—Placing himself in a rhetorical attitude before the court he began: "May it please your honor, this is a big fine. When

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1850.

John A. Green, Editor.

CALIFORNIA—The news from the "Gold Regions," is, upon the whole, favorable. It is true, there have been instances of individual suffering. It could not have been otherwise. That is in the nature of things and was foreseen. There has been no greater hardships encountered by adventurers in California, than have been by pioneers in all new countries. Of the hundred and more men who have left Quincy during the last two years only one has died to our knowledge. Two have returned with snug fortunes. There are others from whom we have had favorable accounts. This is evidence to our minds that California is not a dangerously unhealthy country, and that it affords favorable opportunities for the acquisition of wealth. Some of our readers remember the perils to health and life which the first settlers in New Orleans and St. Louis encountered. So to, in Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, when they were first inhabited. We must not forget how prone to carelessness and imprudence, respecting their health, are seekers of gold. We must not charge nature with consequences which flow from the rashness and folly of men.

California must inevitably become a powerful state. San Francisco is already the third city in the Union, in the amount of duties paid into the Treasury. The mineral wealth of the country may be, and probably soon will be, exhausted. What if it should be? All the elements of a thriving state will remain. There will always be found a genial and healthy climate; more than fifty thousand square miles of arable and fertile land; harbors unsurpassed by any on the globe; a communication with India and China, most safe and speedy; a close connection with Oregon—and, what is of importance, and will contribute easily to its wealth and power; a position pre-eminently calculated to make San Francisco, or some other of its cities, the terminus of a Rail Road, that shall have its counterpart in New York city—over which will be transported the productions and wealth of India, China and the Islands of the Pacific. This is not all imaginary. The work is begun. The Statesman, Col. Benton, who has seldom, if ever, made a mistake with respect to the wisdom or folly of a great public measure, has set the ball in motion—and it will not cease to roll until the work is done.

QUINCY POINT SUBSCRIBERS.—We have had several complaints from our good paying subscribers at Quincy Point, that they do not receive their papers of the carrier, who regularly takes the requisite number from the office. What he does with them we are yet unable to discover. We have now employed a son of Mr. Nathaniel S. Spear, who has before carried them, we believe, without any complaint; and therefore trust that hereafter our patrons will be regularly and promptly served.

TO PATRONS AND FRIENDS.—We hope that you enjoyed a Merry Christmas; and we wish you, in advance, the long-remembered salutation of a Happy New Year. May each and every one of us endeavor to make still further efforts at advancement in the race before us, so as to approach as near to the mark of our high calling as in us lies. Let us so live in coming time, that we may be prepared to go hence, when the summons shall be sent.

Readers! Health, peace and prosperity to you all!—No enemies—all friends.

GOODY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The January number is already issued. The engravings are most magnificent—the reading matter of a high moral and interesting character—and the mechanical execution exceedingly neat and beautiful. It is not only of the best, but it is the best magazine of its character published in the country. All the eminent literary writers contribute to its pages, and the editor, Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, has long been distinguished as one of that number. The interest exhibited by Mr. Goody, the proprietor, who is an excellent writer, to enhance the value of his magazine and make it what its name implies, is richly deserving abundant harvest, and now is a good time to give him one by subscribing for his magazine.

Subscriptions received at the Quincy Bookstore, where the January issue may be examined.

REMOVAL.—Dr. William B. Duggan of this town, we learn, has been removed from the office of Inspector of the Customs for Dorchester, Quincy, Milton and Weymouth; and Augustus Richards of Braintree, appointed in his place, who will assume the office on the first of January.

THE LATE SNOW STORM.—The snow in the State of Maine now lies from 25 to 30 inches deep through the whole State. The highways in New Hampshire are so blocked up as to be nearly impassable. The storm extended west and north to Montreal, Buffalo and sections more remote. In Buffalo (N. Y.) the roofs of several buildings were broken in by the snow.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Christmas evening, as the quarter past nine o'clock train on the Old Colony Railroad was passing through Harrison Square, Dorchester, it ran over the legs of Peter Mahoney, who was lying on the track, and crushed them in a horrible manner.

STATE PRISON BURNED.—Last Sunday afternoon, nearly the whole of the Taunton State Prison in Maine, was accidentally destroyed by fire. The prisoners were all rescued. This building was of stone, and erected by some of the Granite dealers of this town.

COURT AT DEDHAM.—The Court of Common Pleas commenced a session on the 17th, inst.—Judge Byington, presiding. One hundred and sixty-eight actions were continued on the old docket, of which but a few were put on the trial-list. One hundred and six new entries were made—a very small docket.

Patrick McArdle, indicted for entering the house of Richard White, of Roxbury, and attempting his life with a pistol, pleaded guilty to the assault with intent to kill, and was sentenced to the House of Correction for nine months.

Nathan Curtis has been convicted on the charge of burning a barn in Randolph. Not yet sentenced.

"Jack Wade" pleaded guilty to the charge of robbing the Dorchester and Milton Bank, and has been ordered to find bonds in the sum of thirty thousand dollars, for his appearance next April.

John H. Brooks has been convicted of receiving a portion of the money stolen from the Dorchester and Milton Bank in June last. He has not been sentenced.

COLLECTING DUES.—Desirous of devoting more time to the character of the paper and its general appearance, we shall place in the hands of Mr. Seth Crane after the first of January our bills for collection, and he will give an early opportunity to all indebted to pay. We hope our friends will be ready when he calls. Our payments due in January amount to a small sum, and many of them must be settled. So help us along.

NORFOLK COUNTY SENATORS.
The following is the official vote of the Senators elect from the District of Norfolk.

Whole number of ballots	9614
Necessary for a choice	4809
Samuel Warner, Jr., has	4963
Alva Morrison	4961
Edward L. Keyes	4834

Thirty-three Senators are elected, and there are seven vacancies—three in Essex, two in Bristol, and two in Hampden—11 whigs, 22 opposition.

ECLESIASTICAL.—The Boston Atlas states that the Rev. John T. Burrill of this town, and the Rev. David F. Lunson, are about to take orders in the Episcopal church. Mr. Burrill has been a clergyman in the Methodist denomination, and was chaplain of the Massachusetts Senate some two or three years since. Mr. Lunson is of the Baptist denomination.

Many have expressed a wish that the Rev. Mr. Burrill might be called to supply the place made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Dr. Clark, at the Episcopal Church, in this town; and have stated that they would there attend divine services on the Sabbath.

The candidate having the fourth highest number of votes for Governor of Massachusetts is Francis Cogswell, a Democrat of Bedford.

The population of New York city, according to the United States census, is 517,843. By the State census of 1840, it was 371,253.

W. E. P. Haskell, Esq., the able editor of that excellent paper the Chelsea Telegraph, has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for the County of Suffolk.

Judge Perkins fined twenty-four individuals, in the municipal Court of Boston, in sums varying from twenty to seventy dollars, to the amount of about one thousand dollars and costs, for violating the license law.

A strong Maj. General Scott party is organizing among the Whigs for the next Presidential election.

The estimates for the War department for the year 1852, just submitted to Congress, amounts to the enormous sum of $13,000,000, being more than the entire expenses of the National Government during the administration of John Quincy Adams.

In the town of Pembroke, in this State, there were one hundred and forty-nine votes cast at the recent election for representative to Congress, all of which were for Orrin Fowler.

An editor in the Western part of the State of New York is in a bad fix. He donated a subscriber for his subscription, which he refused to pay, and threatened to flog the editor if he stopped the paper.

The New Hampshire Constitutional Convention has abolished the religious qualifications, requiring a person to be of the Protestant faith before he could hold office, and also the property qualification.

One pair of rats with their progeny, will in three years produce as many as 64,680 rats, which will consume day by day, as much food as 64,680 men, leaving eight rats to starve.

There are in the United States eighty-one women holding the office of Postmaster. Thirty-one of the number are in Pennsylvania. Some of these are important officers and especially that of Northumberland, Pa., which is a distributing office.

Negotiations are now pending in Boston, for the purchase of real estate on which to erect one of the largest and best Hotels in the country—equal in size at least to the St. Charles at New Orleans. It is to occupy the present site of the Albion, Pavilion, Chocomauch Hall, and Phillips-place, and will cover an immense area.

It appears from the census that there are 215,738 free negroes in the slave states, and 170,780 negroes in the free states.

The Indiana Constitutional Convention has determined that every Legislature bill shall embrace but one subject, and that expressed in its title, but if any subject is embraced in a law not expressed in its title, it shall be void only so far as that surplus subject is concerned. It has also been determined that it shall require a majority of the members elected to both houses to pass a law.

The Arkansas Legislature has passed a bill to change the mode of voting in that State from the ballot to the viva voce system.

Gen. W. L. Chaplain, who has been in prison at the South, for assisting in runaway, slaves has been liberated on bail—the whole amount in both cases being twenty-five thousand dollars.

The New York Sun, the influence of which paper is so extensive, with its immense circulation, with much earnestness, names Gen. Samuel Houston of Texas for the Presidency. His patriotism—love of liberty—brilliant exploits, and more especially his devoted attachment to the Union and the Constitution, would rally around the standard of this hero and statesman an enthusiastic and powerful party.

The board of Aldermen of Boston, after hearing the evidence, have unanimously requested that faithful an energetic public officer, Francis Turkey Esq., the City Marshal, of any blame for the tumultuous proceedings at Faneuil Hall on the occasion, of the reception of George Thompson of England.

LETTER FROM BOSTON.

December 26th, 1850.

Fine weather just now, for the promotion of health and all sociable feelings. What is more conducive to both than a drive over the neck in one of Williams' best teams? Although the sleighing is not good. All men and women of spirit and gallantry in Boston are seen passing and repassing over the broad avenue every afternoon, borne along by winged steeds. The Roxbury roan has proved the fastest nag of the season thus far. You may remember him he has half a dozen different guits, between a walk and a dead run.

The theatres are in a flourishing state. Miss Davenport at the Howard, Miss Kimberly at the National and Booth at the Museum. The latter has been the pride and glory of the stage. It is probable no actor never surpassed him in impersonating Duke of Gloster in Richard III. Age and other causes have impaired his physical powers and dimmed the fire of his genius although there are moments when Richard is himself again. Miss Davenport is a favorite of the Bostonians and draws large houses.

Miss Kimberly's reception has been on the whole quite favorable. Old Theatre goers reserve their opinions respecting her merits as an actress in accordance with that affected in Boston. She is a woman of taste and feeling, and genius. Her pathos is natural and irresistible. In some passages she comes up to the beautiful ideal of the sternest critic.

The storm of Sunday night seems to have extended over New England, New York, the Lakes and as far South as Washington. We have not heard of any great damage done or many lives lost. A fishing schooner was sunk at India Wharf. Many vessels were eluded. But there are no reports of shipwrecks on either of the coasts.

There has been an arrest of a supposed fugitive slave in Philadelphia. The Commissioner was satisfied that the claimant had identified the person therefore gave him up to be taken back to his master. The latter on seeing him declared that he was not his property.

In New York a fugitive was arrested and the evidence of his identity in accordance with the provisions of the late Fugitive Slave recovery bill was complete. But singularly enough the Supreme Court of New York issued a writ of Habeas Corpus and the Commissioner deemed it best to heed it by giving up the fugitive.

It would seem that late act of Congress for the extradition of fugitives does not suspend the right of Habeas Corpus in New York.

But we must wait for further developments. If all the eloquence of Free Soilers and Whigs have been spent for nothing on the laws of our liberties by late Congressional action it will be a sorry affair. Let us hope for the best.

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

A Lecture may be expected before the SOCIETY, next THURSDAY Evening, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

"New England Protective Union."

The Directors of the "NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE UNION," Division No. 180—will receive proposals for a Store Keeper, to take charge of the "Union Store" on Franklin Street. All proposals to be in writing. Either of the Directors will receive proposals until Wednesday, 6 o'clock P. M.

NATH. HAYDEN, Jr.,
WILLIAM ELLISON,
DANIEL LANE,
Quincy, Jan. 6, 1851.

"Catholic Association Lectures."

The Second Course of Lectures, before the "CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION" of Quincy, will begin at the Town Hall—beginning on FRIDAY Evening, Dec. 27.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21st.—SUBJECT—Duties and Responsibilities of Catholics in America.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7th.—SUBJECT—Character. The Course will consist of EIGHT LECTURES. Tickets admitting a Lady and Gentleman—$1.00 Single Admission, 12 1-2 cents.

Grand Temperance Festival.

The Quincy Stone Division, No. 73 Sons of Temperance will hold a Social Levee in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening January 8th, 1851. This being the first affair of the kind that has been attempted in Quincy, it is hoped Temperance people will do all in their power to help the cause along. Addresses may be expected from some of the best speakers in the State. Good singing will be provided by the Mechanics Brass Band of Braintree.

The chance box will not be forgotten, and the Postmaster General will be on hand for the accommodation of the million. In short, no pains will be spared to make the evening pass off agreeably as possible.

The evening will conclude with a social dance. Doors open at 6 o'clock, exercises to commence at 7.

Tickets twenty-five cents, to be had at the bookstore, or either of the Committee of Arrangements, or at the door.

Per order of the Committee of Arrangements. The friends of the cause are solicited to aid us in furnishing our tables.

The public generally are invited to attend, E. H. STARBUCK, Secretary. Quincy, December 21st, 1850. 3w

Village Ball.

THE Managers would respectfully announce that a VILLAGE BALL will be given at the Hancock House, on NEW YEAR'S EVE, Dec. 31st—A general invitation is hereby given to all citizens of Quincy.

Music—NIMS' celebrated Band from Boston.

LP DANCING to commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

MANAGERS:

Francis Williams, B. C. White,
Joseph F. Eaton, Franklin Curtis,
Joseph W. Robertson, William B. Leonard,
Henry A. Ransom, F. Bartlett White,
Alison D. Brown, Horace Ambrosecomb,
Ezra B. Newcomb, John D. Witcher,
Quincy, Dec. 28th, 1850.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE.

December, 20th A. D. 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of JAMES T. LORING,

late of Braintree, in said County, vicinallor, deceased,

having presented his account in his capacity for allowance,

Ordered, that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A. D. 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the TENSON or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by EBEN SMITH, JR.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Boston Almanac.

FOR 1851. For sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

Notice.

THIS is to certify that my wife, Nancy H. Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 28, 1851. 3w

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N. on the rump. Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. 1f

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON.

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States

being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Tibets, and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linen, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case, Linens, Shirtings, Damasks, Table Covers, Napkins, Doilies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASHMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customer may select upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET

BOSTON. 3m

Oct 5.

Potatoes.

500 BUSHELS of Irish Red Potatoes of extra quality and free from rot. For sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Nov. 30. 4w

Apples for Sale.

A few barrels of very good BALDWIN, RUSSETT & GREENING Apples, for sale by

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 26. 3w

W. B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by H. E. Redfern, and recently by D. R. Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. 1f

Hingham & Quincy

BRIDGE & TURNPIKE CORPORATION.

THE Proprietors of this Corporation, are hereby notified that their Annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the 6th day of January next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the choice of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may then come before them.

By order of the Directors

LEUEL BRACKETT, Clerk.

Quincy, Dec. 21st, 1850. 3w

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

COMBS,

FANCY ARTICLES,

PERFUMERY

AND.....HAIR WORK.

141 Washington Street, Boston.

SELLING OUT.

ON account of forming a new connection in business on the 1st of January next, the Subscriber will sell his present Stock of

COMBS, PERFUMERY, FANCY ARTICLES & HAIR WORK

at the lowest possible cash prices. An opportunity is therefore afforded to those who design making

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS,

to make a choice selection from a most extensive assortment at greatly reduced prices.

E. E. DYER, 141 Washington Street.

(Nearly opposite the Old South.)

Boston, Dec. 21, 1850.

His assortment of Combs is believed to be equal in quantity, quality and variety to any other establishment.

Needles of the best quality, manufactured expressly for the Subscriber, will be sold at four cents the paper.

Boston Dec. 21st, 1850. 2w

Deed Missing.

THE public are hereby informed that a Deed from Josiah French to Otis Wild for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no consideration was given, has been lost and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of this instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josiah French,

Braintree, Dec. 21st, 1850. 3w

Christmas and New Year's

PRESENTS.

THE attention of the people of Quincy and vicinity are respectfully invited to the large and beautiful collection of

ANNUALS

AND.....GIFT BOOKS

Splendidly Bound and Illustrated.

W. B. Learned

Having taken the Store formerly occupied by C. Redden, and recently by D. R. Adams, the method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a large stock of

WATCHES
JEWELRY
—AND—
Fancy Goods.

For Christmas and New Year's Presents. Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited and examine before purchasing elsewhere. Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Clocks and Jewels.

Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. if

Bingham & Quincy

GE & TURNPIKE CORPORATION.

The Proprietors of this Corporation, are hereby notified that their Annual meeting will be held at Hancock House, in Quincy, on MONDAY, 1st day of January next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may then come before them.

Witness the hands of the Directors

LEMMUEL BRACKETT, Clerk.

Quincy, Dec. 21st, 1850. 3w

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

CORNS,

AND ARTICLES,

PERFUMERY

AND HAIR WORK,

Washington Street, Boston.

SELLING OUT.

Account of forming a new connection in business on the 1st of January next, the Subscriber will have present stock of Watches, Jewels, FANCY ARTICLES & HAIR WORK, at prices that will be a great inducement to those who design making CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS, and a choice selection from a most extensive assortment at greatly reduced prices.

E. D. DYER, 141 Washington Street,

(Nearly opposite the Old South)

Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850.

His assortment of Combs is believed to be equal in quantity, quality and variety to any other establishment.

Needles of the best quality, manufactured expressly for the Subscriber, will be sold at four cents per dozen.

Quincy, Dec. 21st, 1850. 2w

Deed Missing.

Public are hereby informed that a Deed from Joseph French to Ous Wild for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no consideration was given, has been missed and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be given for the recovery of this instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ALISHA HOBART, Guardian to Joseph French,

Braintree, Dec. 21st., 1850. 3w

Christmas and New Year's

PRESENTS.

The attention of the people of Quincy and vicinity are respectfully invited to the large and beautiful assortment of

ANNALS

AND GIFT BOOKS

Splendidly Bound and Illustrated.

JUVENILE AND TOY BOOKS

FANCY STATIONERY AND GOODS

Individually designed for Presents, and adapted to the taste of this community—being a larger and more complete assortment, and which will be sold at prices for Cash than ever before known in this city, now exhibiting at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

The Proprietors of this Bookstore, take the present opportunity to express their thanks to the citizens of Quincy for the patronage in former similar occasions. They will feel gratified to receive visits from them this season, being confident all will be satisfied with our assortment, and while we assure them that nothing is being wanted on our part, to supply the demand, we trust that our endeavors will be appreciated.

CALEB GILL & CO.

Quincy, Dec. 11, 1850. 4w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

HEZEKIAH BASS,

deceased, in the County of Norfolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to LEMMUEL BRACKETT, Executor.

Quincy, Nov. 30, 1850. 3w

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PUTTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Shutters and Luk Bottles, Junk,

COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

By

A. B. PACKARD.

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

20 RIGGS' FINE good finish; selling low at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850. 2w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

SIMEON FAXON,

deceased, in the County of Norfolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to HANNAH R. FAXON, Executor.

Randolph, Dec. 7th 1850. 3w

For Sale.
THE late residence of the REV. WM. T. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy, Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

To Let.
A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Sept. 7th. if

House For Sale.
A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, enquire on the premises of ALPHEUS HUNT. Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

For Sale, or To Let.
A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND. Quincy, Nov. 24th. if

To Let.
ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of good Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER. Quincy, Sept. 28. if

To Let.
A convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several new trees, an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND. Quincy, Aug. 10. if

Brooks' Railroad Express.

THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage thus far and especially announces that he still continues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad Station to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 1/2 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton & Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs E. Brooks' Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Bussell's, will be promptly attended to.

ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick despatch.

Quincy, Sept. 14. THOMAS BROOKS. 3mos

Jack Writing Ink.

At the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found

A new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers.

Nov. 16. 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. 3w

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel, or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO. Quincy, Oct. 5th. if

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31. if

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to JOHN WICKER.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. if

Apples.

BALDWIN and RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. if

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. if

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO. Quincy, Oct. 12th, 1850. if French Cal Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate Fit WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Hancock St., Quincy.

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. if

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES.

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale

Quincy, Sept. 14. H. A. RANSOM & CO. if

LADIES
of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of NEW GOODS which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.

Every variety of SHAWLS, from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS and GERMA MERINOS Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER DRESS GOODS, Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS, All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND JACKS, New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS AT LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OR

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

A CARD!

J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the FALL AND WINTER OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN Broadcloths!!!

A great variety of PANT GOODS, together with good styles of VESTINGS, &c.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept. 14. if

FALL AND WINTER
Just Received at the

QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN
WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DALLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy Doe-Skins for Pants.

VESTINGS of the very latest designs, SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS, &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. if

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS, SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chine; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Trilled Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marcelline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Craple Shawls; Bombazines; Alpines; and a large variety of similar goods.

POETRY.

SINCE YOU AND I WERE YOUNG—

I'm standing by the window sill,
Where we have stood of yore!
The button wood is waving still
Its branches near the door;
And near me creeps the wild-rose vine,
On which our wreaths were hung;
Still round the porch its tendrils twine
As when we both were young.

The little path that used to lead
Down by the river shore,
Is overgrown with briar and weed—
Not level as before—
But there's no change upon the hill
From whence our voices rung;
The violets deck its summit still,
As when we both were young.

And yonder is the old oak tree,
Beneath whose spreading shade,
When our young hearts were light and free;
In innocence we played—
And over there, the meadow gate,
On which our playmates swung,
Still standing in its rustic state,
As when we both were young.

I see the little moss-grown spot,
Beneath the tree's shade,
Where early friends—perchance forgot,
In earth's embrace are laid;
The early friends of hope and trust,
Round whom our being clung,
All slumber "in the dust,"
Since you and I were young.

LIFE IS SWEET.

"Oh, life is sweet!" said a merry child;
"And I love, I love to roam
In the meadows green, 'neath the sky serene—
Oh! the world is a fairy home.
There are trees hung thick with blossoms fair,
And flowers gay and bright;
There's the moon's clear ray, and the sunlit day—
Oh, the world is a world of light!"

"Oh, life is sweet!" said a gallant youth,
As he combed the storied page;
And he pondered on the days by gone,
And the fame of a former age.
There was hope in his bright and beaming eye,
And he longed for riper years;
He clung to life—he dared its strife—
He felt not dread nor fears.

"Oh, life is sweet!" came merrily
From the lips of a fair young bride;
And a happy smile she gave the while
To the dear one by her side.
"Oh, life is sweet!" for we will live
Our country to prove;
Thy sorrows mine, my trials thine,
Our solace in our love."

"Oh, life is sweet!" said a mother fond,
As she gazed on her helpless child,
And she closer pressed to her glad breast
Her babe, who unconscious smiled,
"My life shall be for thee, my child,
Pure, guileless, as thou art;
And who shall dare my soul to tear
From the tie that forms a part?"

"Oh, life is sweet!" said an aged sire,
Whose eye was sunk and dim;
His form was bent—his strength was spent—
Could life be sweet to him?
Oh, yes; for round the old man's chair
His children's children clung;
And each dear face and warm embrace
Made life seem ever young.

Thus life is sweet, from early youth
To weak, enfeebled age;
Love twines with life, through care and strife,
In every varied stage.
Thou' rough, perchance, the path we tread,
And dark the sky above,
In every state there's something yet
To live for and to love.

DUTY AND BEAUTY.

I slept and dreamed that life was Beauty;
I woke and found that life was Duty;
Was my dream then a shadowy lie?
Toil on, sad heart courageously,
And thou shalt find thy life to be
A boundless light and truth to thee.

GOOD ADVICE TO EVERY BODY.

If wisdom's ways you wisely seek,
Five things observe with care:
Of whom you speak—in whom you speak—
And how, and when, and where.

ANECDOTES.

"What are you about, my dear?" said his grand mother to a little boy who was shiding about the room, and casting furtive glances at a gentleman who was paying a visit.
"I am trying, grandma, to steal his hat out of the room," said he, pointing to the gentleman, "for pa wants him to think that he's out."

"I don't like to patronize this line," said a culprit to a hangerman. "O never mind this once," said the reply, "it will soon suspend its operation."

"Well, Joe, have you ground all the tools that I told you to do in the morning?" "Yes, massa," said the green apprentice, "all except the handsaw; I couldn't get all the gaps out of that!"

"Please take a half of this poor apple?" said a pretty damsel to a warty swain the other evening.
"No, I thank you," I would prefer a better half.
Eliza blushed, and returned him to "papa."

"I am afraid I shall come to want," said an old lady to a young gentleman, "I have come to want already," was the reply, "I want your daughter!"
The old lady opened her eyes.

Watches and Silver Ware.

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23.

GREATLY
REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.
ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS,
AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABAN-DON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR
TO SUBMIT TO A

GREAT SACRIFICE.

OF THEIR STOCK.
HAVING
Pledged themselves to the Public,
that their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY
SUBMIT TO A

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING
WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,MARK DOWN
OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL
THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.
GEO. W. WARREN & CO.
FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.
Nov. 2.

Crochery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and
choice patterns of
Tea and Dining Sets, Washbowls,
and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy Sept. 1.

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account
Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. E. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

JEFFREY R. BRACKETT,
COMMISSION MERCHANT

NO. 40 STATE STREET,
(Up Stairs.)
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 21.

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and
New Year.
For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850.

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds.
Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER
Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850.

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall style, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by
A. B. PACKARD.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

Apples and Potatoes.

50 BUSHEL RUSSET AND GREENING APPLES
200 BUSHEL POTATOES of various kinds.
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850.

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodelled his Store, making
the sales room twice as large as formerly,
where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS
COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring
styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Gingham, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers use.
Quincy, April 13.

CASH

PAID FOR
OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.
—BY—
A. B. PACKARD.

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers, from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,
it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS
is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleas-
ing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient
Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial, will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and DURABILITY, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis
to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory of E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECON-OMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—
SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPENING,
NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE
Town Hall Cloth and Clothing

Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made it go additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would like particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect their STOCK before buying elsewhere, for no confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PAN-
TALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.
Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &c.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of very article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—
Quincy, March 23.

Mrs. E. Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage
she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends
and the public an ENLARGED
STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT
DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses;
Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain,
ivory and silver, with and without
Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India
Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Craik's, Logall's and Chapin's Supporters; House Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Distressing Paper and Tissue Dressing; European
Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving
the New and Popular Medicines of the day.
Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20.

Salt Pork and Beef.
A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel
or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH. J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 16th.

CROCKERY WARE
A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE
just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy.
Blue Stone China Tea Sets - 1.75
Mulbury " " " " 1.75
Light Blue " " " " 1.37
White " " " " 1.37

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL
& FLUID LAMPS
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850.

BAY STATE
Long and Square Shawls,
Of the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices
Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5.

Particular Notice.
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced
prices for cash only.
All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to
call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th.

Hosiery.
Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.
GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.
A complete assortment of MEN AND BOYS
CLOTH CAPS.
Quincy, Nov. 9th.

READY MADE CLOTHING
of a superior quality, to suit all in want.
Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that has ever been our pleasure to present
to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

French and German Broadcloths!
of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.
SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of
the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market.
Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valen-
cias, and other styles.

PANTALON GOODS.
A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

NEW GOODS.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Mouslin Delaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 5 and 12 1/2 cts per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31.

Salt Pork.
A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by
the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Velvet Trimmings.
JUST received, an assortment of Velvet Trim-
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Paper Hangings.
3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th.

Bay State Long Shawls.
A N Assortment just received of the different sizes
in Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

PORK & BEEF.
SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first
quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at
Any Store in Town for Cash.
Quincy, March 24.
D. BAXTER & Co.

For Cash Only.
Wood. Wood. Wood.
FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.
Apply to
WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, April 20th.

REMOVAL.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more convenient and better adapted to his business; and also,
would tender his sincere
thanks for the liberal share of

patronage which he has received during the past year.
His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves,
among which is the

New England Air-Tight,
embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with
just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a classic and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz., the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family
Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, in the nature of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean.
Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the
past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-
INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment
of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and
Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan. 12.

QUINCY WASHING MIXTURE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called
it equal to anything of the kind which they have
used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and
sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart,
full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this
will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 17.

Wood, Wood.
FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17.

Periodical Agency.
C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly,
Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. A person who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time
for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schöner Glanz," or Jenny
Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Liquid, of
mediated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chloro-
genestral; Bachelors' instantaneous hair dye; Jakes Haukes vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers
twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Wool Frocking.
TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an
extra article, just received, and for sale as
cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKS ready made.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

New Goods.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
HAVE recently made large additions to their
Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Mouslin Delaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached
Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 5 and 12 1/2 cts per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other
Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31.

Salt Pork.
A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by
the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 9th.

Velvet Trimmings.
JUST received, an assortment of Velvet Trim-
mings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Paper Hangings.
3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th.

Bay State Long Shawls.
A N Assortment just received of the different sizes
in Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

PORK & BEEF.
SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first
quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at
Any Store in Town for Cash.
Quincy, March 24.
D. BAXTER & Co.

For Cash Only.
Wood. Wood. Wood.
FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.
Apply to
WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, April 20th.

REMOVAL.
THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more convenient and better adapted to his business; and also,
would tender his sincere
thanks for the liberal share of

patronage which he has received during the past year.
His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves,
among which is the

New England Air-Tight,
embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with
just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a classic and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrinsically, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz., the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family
Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, in the nature of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean.
Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the
past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL-
INDER STOVES, together with a good assortment
of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and
Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Quincy, Jan. 12.

QUINCY WASHING MIXTURE.
THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty
families during the past week, and all have called
it equal to anything of the kind which they have
used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and
sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart,
full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods
market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this
will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so
often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.
Quincy, August 17.

Wood, Wood.
FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point,
by WHITON & ADAMS.
Quincy, August 17.

Periodical Agency.
C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly,
Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free
from any expense for Postage or transportation. A person who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time
for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices.
Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schöner Glanz," or Jenny
Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Liquid, of
mediated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chloro-
genestral; Bachelors' instantaneous hair dye; Jakes Haukes vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers
twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850.

Wool Frocking.
TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an
extra article, just received, and for sale as
cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKS ready made.
D